Today, Tuesday, November 2 is another election day. This is considered an "off-year" election. No really important state or national positions are being decided upon today. Last year we were in the middle of a Presidential election. Remember the media zoo? Remember the guessing about who would win the election based on pre-election polls? Remember the relief most of us felt when the elections were finally over and we could return to normal television and radio programming—normal being programming that was not interrupted by infomercials from all political viewpoints.

A year has passed since that Presidential election. A year that has seen our country and the world try to adapt to our new President and his leadership style. A year that has seen our world struggle in seemingly no-win situations. A year that has seen a handshake between lifetime political rivals. A year that has seen the beginning of the struggle for health care for all of us. A year that has passed quickly, and has also seemed to last a lifetime.

Today, though, is another election day. Many of us will probably say "why vote"? Many of us just won't take the time to vote. There really isn't too much to be decided on the local ballot. But, whether we decide to vote, or whether we decide not to vote, this election in spite of it's ho-humness is essential to our existence as a community.

If we compare the election of town officials and school board members to the grandoise election of last year, our local officials will wane in comparison. But, without our local boards made up of citizens like you and me, our community and our school would be without direction.

When we consider, for instance, the beginnings of the health plan that is being proposed by our President, we realize that the plan and the problems to implement any such plan are enormous. We realize that any benefit we all might receive from this plan is a long way down the road of legislation.

Now, compare that plan which will affect the entire nation eventually, to any of the items on the local school board or county board or city board agendas. Long before any health plan is implemented, we will have a beautiful new elementary school for our children. Long before any health plan is implemented, we *will have streets paved and side*walks restored. Long before any health plan is implemented, we will be protected and cared for by our local boards made up of our friends and neighbors.

For those of you who will be winning the local elections this year you have a mighty job before you. You might not have a nation to run, but you do have neighbors and businesses and friends to satisfy. You will never please all of us. But, we do look for you whom we elect to guide our community to be the best it can be. We know that there are limitations on what you can do for us. We know that the governing rules and regulations must be fulfilled. We know that the dollars allotted won't stretch to meet all of our needs or wants. But, we also know that we have put our trust in you to do your best.

As you do your best, all of us benefit. We forget to say thank you for your time and energy and sleepless nights. We tend to voice our opinions only when we don't agree with you. We should say thank you often, for without our local elected officials the things that make our community the place we call home would not have come into existence. You have and will work hard for us. You affect the daily lives of many—maybe even more directly than the President of the United States! Blessings on you as you fulfill your elected responsibilities.

Crookston man killed Saturday in head-on collision

Sixty-nine-year-old Walter Miron Smith of Crookston was killed in a head-on accident Saturday afternoon near Red Lake Falls.

Smith was driving a 1991 Buick Century west on Red Lake county 11 when his vehicle collided head-on in the west bound lane with a vehicle driven by Warren Daniel Soden, 19, Red Lake Falls. Smith was dead at the scene. His wife, Delores Mina Smith, 64, was transported to United Hospital in Grand Forks in serious condition. Their vehicle was considered a total loss. Soden, who was driving a 1993 Toyota Tercel, was taken to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls in fair condition. A passenger in his vehicle, his sister Rebecca Faye Soden, age 14, was in fair condition at a hospital in Crookston. The Soden vehicle was also totaled in the accident.

The accident was reported to the Minnesota State Patrol at 2:30 p.m. on October 30 and was located about one-quarter of a mile west of Red Lake Falls on Red Lake county 11. It is under investigation by the Minnesota state patrol and the Red Lake County sheriff's department.

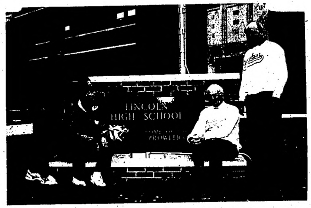
INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

Informational materials were distributed by Shellie Roshau following the "Newspapers in Education" session held during the North Star Reading Council's fall workshop at Franklin Middle School in Thief River Falls last Thursday. Roshau, an employee of the Grand Forks Herald, showed a packed first session how the newspaper is the "ultimate living textbook for motivating and stimulating students. It's current, concise and presents a real-life view of the world," she said, "filled with pertinent information you can use across the curriculum."



Don Snyder, Lincoln High School graduate of 1930, came back to town to visit classmates and teachers and see what changes had been made to his old alma mater. He was given the royal treatment around the school and had such a good time that he plans to come back again in 1996. Don is shown above with his tour guides (far left) Helen Anderson and Glen Peters, physical education teachers, and (far right) assistant principal Tom Hunt.

Reviewing materials available in the bookstore set up in the Franklin Middle School library during the North Star Reading Council's fall workshop in Thief River Falls Thursday were Chad Grassel and Peggy Dunn, teachers at Crestwood elementary in East Grand Forks.

A "most productive student" pays a visit to his old stomping ground

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Times Reporter

Don Snyder recently came from his home in Boston to Thief River Falls for a visit. He especially wanted to visit his old stomping ground, Lincoln high school. He did, and he had a grand time seeing how much it had changed. Don graduated from Lincoln 63 years ago, in 1930.

At the high school he was treated like visiting royalty and squired through the building by assistant principal Tom Hunt and phy ed teachers Helen Anderson and Glen Peters. They thought he was such a prince of a guy and so interesting that Helen called The Times to see if someone couldn't come and take his picture.

That's when I met Don. I must say, after I heard this fellow was 82 years old, I went to the school expecting to take a picture of a stodgy, wizened old codger. Imagine my surprise when I saw this fine fellow dressed in a "Lincoln High School " sweatshirt telling jokes in the midst of a group of laughing students and teachers.

Since Don doesn't drive a car, I offered to drive him downtown to a luncheon date with his former algebra teacher, Blanche Larson. He slipped out of his sweatshirt, folding it carefully, and dressed in a natty tweed coat, scarf and cap. I thought the only thing he lacked to look like a proper English gentleman was a walking stick, and he probably had one of those back at the motel. I knew then that he was definitely not a stodgy old codger.

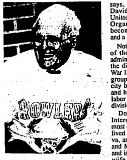
We detoured on our way to the restaurant, tooling around the downtown area to see how much it had changed, and then we ended up at The Times office. Don knows a thing or two about the newspaper business because he and some cronies started a newspaper in Thief River Falls called "The Forum," in 1931. "But we were nothing like The Times," he said. "No one could compete with The Times back then."

Blanche Larson made a rather unusual statement to me about Don Snyder. She said he was one of her "most productive students." What did she mean by that?

I found out what she meant. It turned out that Don was quite the international gentleman and had a very interesting career in government.

After graduation, he said, he "hung around" Minnesota until 1940. He was then asked to go to New York City to be a part of President Roosevelt's New Deal.

How did Donald Snyder, 1930 graduate of Lincoln High School in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, come to be a part of history? "Oh, I was just able to fill some needs (they had) at the right time," he said.



A 1930 graduate of Lincoln high school, Don Snyder appeared to enjoy his recent visit at the school, as well as the gift he received, a Lincoln High School Prowlers sweat shirt.

When World War II began, Don entered the service and was sent to London to work with labor and employment. His commanding officer and a gentleman who, Don says, "did so much for me," was David A. Morse, director of the United Nation's International Labor Organization who went on to become under-secretary of labor and a Pulitzer Prize winner.

Not only was Don Snyder a part of the history of the Roosevelt administration, but he was a part of the division of Berlin after World War II. He was one of the second group of people escorted into the city by Russian soldiers, where he and his team worked to establish a labor force in connection with the division of Berlin.

Don worked overseas in the International Labor Organization most of his life. He and his family lived in London, Rome and Geneva, as well as in the South Pacific and Malaysia. He has now retired and is living in Boston. He and his wife have been married for 52 years and have three sons.

Now, is it any wonder that Mrs. Larson called Don her most productive student?

If you were a friend of Don Snyder's and missed seeing him when he was here, he informed me that he is planning to come back to Thief River Falls for the centennial in 1996. Then he is going to persuade his wife to come with him and show her what a great time can be had in his old home town.

Agassiz auto drive closes

Lost Bay auto drive at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge will close Wednesday, November 3, and remain closed until the spring of 1994

The refuge staff hopes that everyone who visited the refuge during this year enjoyed the wildlife and scenery along the drive and notes that an announcement will be made next spring when the drive is reopened for the season.

Visitors to the refuge may still observe wildlife along Marshall County Road 7, which bisects the southern portion of the refuge. Some of the species observed during the winter months are moose, deer, ravens, magpies, northern shrikes and several other species of birds, refuge personnel report.

Investigate death of bald eagle

Officials are investigating the shooting of a bald eagle. Minnesota department of natural resources and the U.S. Wildlife Service were notified Saturday, October 3, that between 9 and 10 a.m. someone shot an immature bald eagle.

Tony Arhart of the Minnesota department of natural resources, said an investigation into the incident is continuing. Anyone who knows anything about the shooting is asked to contact Arhart at 449-3711 or call the TIP hotline, which is completely anonymous at 1-800-652-9093. A cash reward is being offered.

The bald eagle was discovered about three miles east of Elm Lake along Ditch 200.

Informational meeting on Alzheimer's and dementia

Dr. Wes Ofstedal will speak and informational materials provided by the West Central Minnesota Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association will be available. All interested persons are welcome to attend.

IRS gives tip on day-care providers

The Internal Revenue Service encourages parents to get ready for the upcoming tax filing season early by obtaining taxpayer identification numbers (TIN's) from their day-care providers and making sure their dependents have social security numbers.

Anyone claiming the credit for child and dependentcare expenses must include on their return the name, address, and TIN of each care provider. If the provider is a non-profit charitable, religious, or educational organization, only the name and address are required.

A TIN is a social security number if the provider is an individual. It's an employer identification number of the provider is a partnership or corporation. The same requirement applies to a person who receives benefits through their employer's dependent care assistance program.

Form W-10 can be used to request this information from the provider. To get a free copy of this form, call the IRS toll-free at 1-800-TAX-FORM (829-3676).

In addition, anyone claiming a dependent age one or over on their 1993 return must enter that person's social security number. For low and moderate income families taking the Earned Income Credit, a similar rule applies to qualifying children ages one and over. For help getting a number, call the Social Security Administration toll-free at 1-800-772-1213.

Postal insepctors issue warning about phony bills

This summer it was phony bills for ads in the yellow pages.

More recently, customers who advertised in the classified section of their local newspaper not only received a bill for the ad they placed, but also received "solicitations" for as much as $1,000 for other classified ads in mysterious publications in California.

Then, just last week, hundreds of restaurants began receiving letters from two separate individuals asking for reimbursement for dry cleaning expenses because the writers claimed, a member of the restaurant staff spilled something on their clothing.

U.S. Postal Inspectors warn that companies and individuals should scrutinize bills as false billing schemes (and their not-so-distant cousins, solicitations disguised as invoices) increase.

"We've seen a number of these schemes pop up in the last couple of months," said U.S. Postal Inspector John Bruggrer. "We have begun investigations on these schemes, and the Postal Service has begun legal action against the companies and individuals involved."

Recently, Postal Inspectors issued a warning about the phony yellow pages scheme, which includes a $147 bill for a yellow pages ad, complete with the Yellow Pages logo and "Walking Fingers."

Then, Postal Inspectors began receiving complaints from newspaper publishers that their classified advertisers were receiving bills from various companies in California asking for hundreds of dollars to run the very same ad that had been run in the local paper.

Publishers said some customers are paying the exorbitant amount, thinking they have received a bill from the local newspaper in which they placed their ad. The fact that the bill comes with a tear sheet from the local newspaper only serves to confuse the advertiser even more.

The bills have a disclaimer stating "This is not a bill. This is a solicitation. You are under no obligation to pay the amount stated above unless you accept." However, the disclaimer does not comply with postal regulations because it is difficult to read.

If those scams weren't enough, Postal Inspectors' phones began ringing off the hook last week when restaurant owners nationwide were targeted by two scam artists. It appears that Michael Fitzpatrick of New York and John Walker of Florida are two of the most unfortunate restaurant patrons in the nation.

Both men have sent letters to hundreds of restaurateurs across the country, asking the restaurants to pay a phony cleaning bill because, supposedly, a restaurant staff member spilled something on their clothing.

Mr. Walker is asking for a $9.20 reimbursement to clean his "purple silk blazer," and Mr. Fitzpatrick is claiming $17 for his three-piece suit.

Advise from Postal Inspectors: "Make sure that what you're being billed for is something you've ordered or agreed to pay for," Brugger said. "If you didn't order the merchandise or service, don't pay the bill. Forward it to a postal inspector, in care of your local postmaster."

Now teaching Japanese culture, language and art to students at St. Bernard's school in Thief River Falls is Nina Higashi, who has been assigned to St. Bernard's by the Japanese School Internship Programs in Tokyo, Japan. She was guest of honor at a welcoming breakfast prepared by Ione Gonsorowski and Diane Bulger, school food service personnel, last Wednesday morning. Higashi is shown with teacher Pauline Schmalz and student council member Jacqueline Mooney. The student council presented the morning program.

Mina Higashi, Japanese intern teacher at St. Bernard's school in Thief River Falls, was welcomed at a breakfast at the church last Wednesday morning. She is shown with Rev. Joe DeCrans, pastor; Pauline Schmalz, classroom teacher; and Sen. LeRoy Stumpf.

Business conference on recycling at Bemidji

"Business Opportunities Using Recycled Materials" is the title of a conference scheduled for Tuesday, November 9, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn of Bemidji. Registration fee of $15 includes lunch.

The conference is sponsored by the Headwaters Regional Development Commission, the Minnesota Project, the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund and the Ecopreneurs program of the Minnesota Environmental Initiative.

"Can you be a 'green business' and save money on operations at the same time? Absolutely!" states Leon Heath, executive director of the Northwest Regional Development Commission in Thief River Falls. "A number of Minnesota businesses are doing just that using newly-available recycled materials as raw materials in manufacturing and construction."

Heath said the conference will provide business people and area entrepreneurs with concrete examples of business opportunities that make use of recycled products. Assistance with financing and other aspects of starting a new business or business expansion will also be available.

Business speakers will talk about how they use recycled materials, how they financed their business, how they market their products and how use of recyclables has benefitted their operation. A variety of product samples and company literature will be available throughout the day.

Financial resources available to recycling related businesses will be featured. One local resource is the Recycling Technical Assistance Program, operated by the Headwaters Regional Development Commission.

Those who are business owners, entrepreneurs, inventors or work in product development are encouraged to attend. Others who should find the event helpful include people working in economic development, elected officials and solid waste staff.

Most counties are eligible for emergency loans

All but four counties in Minnesota are eligible for Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) emergency loans due to the severe weather Minnesota has experienced this year, according to David .W. Altenbernd, Pennington county supervisor for FmHA. The only ineligible counties are Cook, Lake, Koochiching and Isanti.

"FmHA is prepared to assist eligible farmers and their operations as much as possible to recover from this disaster," Altenbernd said. He encourages all interested farmers to contact their local FmHA office to have questions answered or to apply for a loan.

The FmHA office in Thief River Falls serves Pennington, eastern Marshall and Northwest Beltrami counties and is located at 1305 North Dale Street. The telephone number is 681-2843.

Altenbernd explained that farmers have eight months from the time their county was declared a disaster area to apply for the loans to help cover part of their actual losses. The current interest rate for emergency loans is 4.5 per cent. To be eligible, farmers must have suffered a physical loss or a 30 per cent loss of normal production, be unable to get credit elsewhere, be able to repay the loan and any other loans and have adequate security.

Strandquist News

F. Myrtle Vagle

The Strandquist Senior Citizens met at the Center on Thursday with 13 members, and Marian Pederson was a guest. A business session was held and a Thanksgiving dinner was planned for the 18th of November at Irene's Cafe. On Friday 19 members took the bus to Thief River Falls and had dinner at the Heritage Center, and after a time of shopping, they all went to visit Carl and Gladys Johnson, who had moved to 125 North Kneale Avenue. After touring the home, Carl and Gladys treated them all to a delicious lunch. Next Thursday they will be playing bingo and tying a quilt.

Jeff, Peggy and Jarad Lindstrom of Akeley spent the weekend with Morris and Marcelyn Lindstrom. Lloyd and Lois Lindstrom joined them for supper on Thursday evening.

Jennifer Anderson was home from Hamline University in St. Paul from Thursday until Sunday. Saturday evening Jenny visited the Everett and Kathy Englund family.

Ernest Holmstrom of Thief River Falls visited Frank and Judy Kleinvachter Sunday afternoon.

On Saturday Nelson LaDoux had dinner with Isaac and Betsy Thompson after they finished threshing the sunflowers. In the evening LeRoy and Pearl Lundell of Minnetonka and the Robert Thompsons were supper guests there.

Marcelyn Lindstrom visited Lois Carrico on Sunday. She had spent time helping Elsie Lefrooth during her illness.

Saturday Kristopher and Kenrick Anderson accompanied Eva Bernard and Bill Nelson to Bemidji State University's football game. Dale Bernard is one of the football coaches at BSU this year.

June Kasprowicz stopped in at the Frank and Judy Kleinvachters home on Thursday.

Sunday Jennifer, Kristopher and Kenrick Anderson and Eva Bernard spent the day in Fargo, and attended the Garth Brooks concert in the evening. Following the concert Jennifer returned to Hamline University Via Amtrak.

Guests at Isaac and Betsy Thompson's for potato dumplings on Sunday evening were LeRoy and Pearl Lundell from Minnetonka, Peter and Pearl Thompson, Robert, Cathy, Andrew and Lisa Thompson. Roy and Myrtle Vagle joined them later after having attended three church dinners that afternoon at the Assembly of God church, to welcome the new pastor, Rev. Ernest Freeman, they also attended the Gospel Tabernacle Harvest Festival and at the Salem church where Neil Vagle was one of the "Overtones" that was featured there. Needless to say we could only put away the pie and coffee that Betsy served as a late snack and took our dumplings home for breakfast.

Becky, Michelle and Jeremy Johnson and Pearl Thompson spent Friday shopping in Grand Forks.

Saturday Shirley and Jennifer Anderson attended the Cathy Homstad and Mark Haakinson wedding at the Baptist church in Karlstad.

LeRoy and Pearl Lundell stopped in on Monday morning to visit Elsie Lefrooth before returning to Minnetonka. Elsie is doing fine after a time in the hospital and so many have been visiting and helping her that now she is back to her knitting to let us know she's OK. Thanks everyone!

Several animals in TRF animal control pound

Several cats and dogs are being held at the animal pound in Thief River Falls.

The following described animals will be held at the animal pound for a minimum of five days from the date of impoundment: a black cat impounded October 26 from the 800 block of South Kendall; a brouwn terrier impounded October 30 from Greendale Manor; two black and white kittens impounded from St. Hilaire on October 30; and a black and white collie impounded October 30 from a trailer court.

The animals may be claimed by their owner or adopted. Pound fees, license fees and any other expenses incurred by the department will be assessed prior to release.

For more information contact the Thief River Falls police department at 681-6161.

Unemployment in region down during August

Region I unemployment edged down to 5.9 per cent in August from 6.2 per cent in July and 6.8 per cent in August a year ago, according to the Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training.

Every county in the region had a lower jobless rate in August than in July of this year and August a year ago. Percentage of unemployment by county is as follows with the August of 1992 percentage in parentheses:

Kittson, 5.7 (7.5); Marshall, 8.5 (10.2); Norman, 5.6 (7.0); Pennington, 5.4 (5.7); Polk, 6.7 (7.1); Red Lake, 11.8 (15.1); and Roseau, 3.1 (4.0).

Statewide seasonally adjusted unemployment in Minnesota was 4.6 per cent in August, down from 5.0 per cent in August of 1992.

Musical activities formed the basis for many of the "Move to Music" games played by fourth, fifth and sixth grade Girl Scouts attending the Junior Adventure Day Saturday at Franklin Middle School in Thief River Falls. Troops attending the Adventure Day demonstrated and/or learned dances from other countries. The scouts also sang songs and had a chance to swim in the Franklin pool. There were 175 scouts from 17 troops in attendance.

Farm price index increases during month of October

Mid-October index of prices received by Minnesota farmers at 131 was up one point from September and three points from a year ago, mainly due to higher crop prices, according to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics Service. Most meat animal prices moved lower during the month; the preliminary beef cattle price for October was at the lowest level since July of 1988.

The crops index was up two points to 114 during the month. This was nine points above the index a year earlier. Mid-October prices and changes from last months are as follows:

All wheat, $3.12 per bushel, up 34 cents; corn, $2.10 per bushel, up eight cents; oats, $1.34 per bushel, up three cents; barley, $1.54 per bushel, up 14 cents; soybeans, $5.77 per bushel, down 13 cents; potatoes, $4.70 per hundredweight, down five cents.

All hay was down $3 a ton to $92; alfalfa hay was down $3 to $98 per ton; and other hay at $70 per ton was also down $3. All dry beans were up $1.60 to $23.40 per hundredweight; navy beans at $15.70 per hundredweight were up 30 cents; pinto beans at $26.10 were up $4.20; and kidney beans at $31.80 were up $1.50. The four-state all sunflower price at $12.20 per hundredweight was down $2 from the revised September price.

Meat animal index at 153 was down from last month by four points and down two points from a year ago. All hogs at $48 per hundredweight were down 30 cents from a month earlier. Sows were $37.20 per hundredweight, up 40 cents; barrows and gilts at $48.50 per hundredweight were down 30 cents from the revised September price.

Beef cattle averaged $60.30 per hundredweight, down $2.60; calves were down $1 to $99 per hundredweight; cows were down $1.50 to $46.40 per hundredweight; steers and heifers were down $2.70 to $62.20 per hundredweight. Sheep brought $22.50 per hundredweight, down $1.30. Lambs were up 20 cents to $65.50 per hundredweight.

Dairy index increased four points during the month to 151. This was one point above the index last year. Preliminary milk price at $13.30 per hundredweight was up 38 cents from the revised September price.

MN Agriculture Department collects tons of pesticides

Minnesota Department of Agriculture collected 123,000 pounds of unusable herbicides, insecticides and other pesticides from 1,100 farmers and others in the state this year, according to Elton R. Redalen, Minnesota Commissioner of Agriculture.

"More waste pesticides were collected and destroyed in 1993 than in any year since waste pesticide collections began," Redalen said. "We applaud the efforts of farmers and others to rid farms, businesses and home of unusable pesticides and dispose of them safely and properly."

Collections were concentrated in southern Minnesota this year. Next year the targeted areas will be northern Minnesota and the metro counties.

Since 1990 when the program began, 235,000 pounds of waste pesticides have been collected. The chemicals were typically 10 years old. The program assists pesticide users in removing and disposing of waste pesticides properly, eliminating the potential danger that waste pesticides pose to public health and the environment.

The state agriculture department hires a licensed hazardous waste handler to package and transport collected wastes to a licensed hazardous waste incinerator for destruction. Most participants dispose of pesticides at no cost to themselves since registration fees paid by companies selling pesticides in Minnesota fund the program.

Minor injuries in accident near Viking Saturday

Minor injuries were reported in a two-vehicle accident near Viking Saturday evening. Charges are pending.

According to Marshall County sheriff's department spokesperson, Robert Audette, 21, Viking, was driving a 1982 pickup out of a private drive one and one-half miles east of Marshall county 11 on a township road, when Jeremy Berg, 19, Newfolden, was driving west on the township road. The vehicles collided. There was severe damage to the vehicle driven by Audette. The vehicle driven by Berg was a 1984 Sky Hawk and owned by Robert Engen. It was considered a total loss. There were minor injuries in the accident.

Country music

Country music lovers are urged to attend the monthly country music jam session to be held Sunday, Nov. 7, beginning at 1 p.m. and continuing through the pot luck supper at 5:30 p.m. and on into the evening at the Embassy Community Center, Third and North Eaton, Fosston.

All who play musical instruments are invited to participate. The afternoon will be spent on individual and small group music. Following the supper, there will be time for playing together in larger groups.

Those who enjoy listening to country music are also invited to attend. There is no admission charge. For more information, contact Rodney Myhrum evenings at 435-6913.

Several dance demonstrations, such as this presentation by a troop from Grand Forks, ND, were given when the Girl Scout Junior Adventure Day was held Saturday at Franklin Middle School in Thief River Falls. Also presenting dance demonstrations were troops from Newfolden, Roseau, Wannaska and Thief River Falls.

Finseth named to task force on MN welfare

State Representative Tim Finseth of Warren has been appointed to a legislative task force examining Minnesota's welfare system.

The task force was formed to seek ways to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of the state's welfare system. During the next two months it will hold meetings in various parts of the state to hear testimony in order to formulate reform proposals for the 1994 legislative session.

"The most effective way to comprehensively reform welfare in our state is to know and understand the problems and conflicts with the current system," Rep. Finseth said. "We will be examining ways to prevent long-term dependency and emphasizing work and self-sufficiency. We need to further support families' movement toward self-support."

One of the meetings will be held at the Northwest Technical College conference center in East Grand Forks from 1 to 3 p.m. on Thursday, November 4. The meeting is open to the public and testimony from social service agencies and individuals involved with the existing welfare system is welcome.

"I strongly encourage anyone with questions or comments regarding the task force to contact me," Rep. Finseth said. "Our area is currently experiencing problems with people crossing the state border to receive our welfare benefits. We need your input in order to develop legislation that best benefits the entire state of Minnesota."

Rep. Finseth can be contacted by writing to him at 253 State Office Building, St. Paul, MN 55155 or calling (612) 296-9918.

NWTC serves as test center

Northwest Technical College (aviation campus) in Thief River Falls has been selected as an official Drake Authorized Testing Center. Drake Training and Technologies is a leading provider of computerized written examinations for the Federal Aviation Administration.

Computerized testing provides immediate test results at the testing site, therefore there is no need to wait weeks for results by mail. Although delivered by computer, the Drake-administered exam requires no previous computer experience.

Testing hours are from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday at the aviation center at the Thief River Falls regional airport. To schedule an exam or obtain further information, call the technical college at 681-5424 or Drake offices at 1-800-359-3278.

Northern State Bank awarded highest rating

Northern State Bank in Thief River Falls has been cited by Bauer Financial Reports, Inc.—a bank research and rating firm—for having been awarded its five-star rating for 18 consecutive quarters since the award was established.

Only 792 banks out of 11,333 banks nationwide have received this rating for continuity of safety, strength and performance. The rating is based on the analysis of March 31, 1993 financial data as filed with federal regulators.

To receive the recognition, banks must have tangible capital exceeding nine per cent of tangible assets, a risk-based capital ratio exceeding 10.5 per cent, manageable delinquencies and repossessed assets, continually soundly invested and consistently profitable.

Community survey response excellent

goods and services they need in the community.

A total of 87.7 per cent of the respondents found shopping hours in Thief River Falls convenient. Of those responding negatively or taking the time to respond, 57 thought stores should stay open later and have more evening hours than just Thursday; 10 thought they should be open earlier in the morning; seven thought more stores should be open on Sunday; four thought there should be later banking office hours; three thought clinics should be open Saturday mornings; and three thought stores were open for too many hours during December and before Christmas.

In response to a question about the prices of goods and services, 46.9 per cent of respondents thought prices and services were about average. A total of 44 per cent said prices were slightly higher in Thief River Falls.

In response to how they rate the selection of goods and services, 43.9 per cent said there was a good selection. A total of 40.2 per cent said the selection was fair.

Prospective merchants should find the question about what types of goods or retail outlets respondents would like to have available in Thief River Falls that are not now available interesting. A total of 161 of the 654 who took time to write out answers, said they would like to see a major department or discount store such as a Target, Wal-Mart or Menards. A total of 98 thought the community needed better sporting goods stores. A total of 95 said the community needed a larger variety of family restaurants. Other responses included (in order): more women's clothing outlets; a bookstore, petite sizes/large sizes/"Big 'N Tall", children's clothing store/children's shoes; more men's clothing outlets/large selection; good craft stores/hobby shops/fabric stores/ceramic stores; more grocery stores; stores that stock more inventory; it's okay they way it is now; a shopping mall; a Payless shoe store; an appliance store with repair service; a pet store with pet supplies; a religious items store; auto sales and service to include better and more selection; a factory outlet store; a downtown restaurant; import stores, western clothing stores, a fashion discount outlet with a discount jewelry store, and more evening dining restaurants.

The next question pertained to availability of services and what respondents would like to see available. A total of 85 want to see a good family-style restaurant, such as a Bonanza or Perkins. A total of 53 want to see a bus service to other parts of the state and country. A total of 48 want to see extended medical services and specialists. A total of 18 want to see public transportation in the community. The remaining responses, in order, were as follows: recycling stations, nice formal restaurant, athletic complex, such as a YMCA or community recreation center; a youth activities center; a marine sales and service business; a 24-hour cafe; seven said services were okay; a health club; a high quality auto repair shop for speciality and foreign auto repair and a Jiffy Lube; services for physically impaired or elderly; child-care facilities, more daycare; a convention and civic center; public restrooms downtown; boat and pontoon rentals; a downtown restaurant open on Sunday; railroad passenger service; a convenience-gas station on the west side of the city; a shoe repair store; and more laundry service.

The next question asked what types of entertainment or recreational opportunities respondents would like to have in Thief River Falls that are not now available. Most (150), responded that they wanted a swimming pool (mostly outdoor). It is interesting to note that in the same survey, most of the respondents said they would not support a plan to finance an outdoor swimming pool with a sales tax. Other responses to the question were as follows: activities for high school students under 21; a YMCA type facility; a young adult activities center; mini-golf; more theater and performing arts; more restaurants; a public golf course; a downtown theater; bike lanes, rollerblade trails, cross-country ski trails and snowmobile trails; a roller skating rink; improvements to rivers; a waterslide; a family amusement park; a bandstand and community theater in a park; a new theater or drive-in theater; go carts; paddle boats or other watercraft rentals; a race track; a riding stable; another bowling alley that operates year-round; a heritage week, folk-rama and fourth of July celebration; a rollerblade hockey league; a casino inside town; indoor tennis courts; alcohol-free dances; a ballroom or dance hall; four said we have enough recreation and entertainment; year-round ice at arena; a non-smoking bar; an improved swimming beach; and an all-weather track.

Economic Development:

The third section dealt with economic development and planning. The first question pertained to the perception that most people in the community don't want to see change. It asks, "Assuming that the area social-economic factors were favorable and that the public governmental policies could induce change, what should be the character of Thief River Falls 10-20 years in the future?" A total of 36.1 per cent said the ideal population should be between 11 to 14,000; 27.6 per cent said it should be 14 to 16,000; 26.6 per cent said it should be 9 to 11,000.

The majority of respondents, 85.3 per cent, agreed or strongly agreed, with the next question or statement that employment opportunities in the immediate area are limited.

A total of 90 per cent of the respondents agreed or strongly agreed with the statement that the county and city government should support economic development and job creation and job retention efforts.

The next two questions dealt with the issue of how much assistance should be directed from community leaders to the private sector in attracting business and industry from outside northwest Minnesota. Stewart said the two questions were intended to see if lay persons agree with the strategy followed by local economic development leaders for the past few years and/or if they are becoming more aware that most new jobs are created by existing, local business. The comparative results would seem to indicate that most people still believe that "economic development" means attracting outside industry. The 27 per cent of respondents who disagree or strongly disagree and the number of narrative comments are interesting, Stewart noted. He said there seems to be an air of suspicion about providing assistance to local business.

Readers of The Times may have already noted that some aspects of the survey have already been reported on. In one section, respondents were asked to check five community development improvements they felt were most needed in the community. Results already reported on, listed the top five as a new bridge or railroad underpass, improvements to the river, demolishing dilapidated buildings; industrial development; and improvements in water treatment.

The survey also asked whether respondents would support higher real estate taxes and/or vote in favor of bonding for the following: economic development, downtown revitalization, an outdoor swimming pool, improvements to the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center, a multi-purpose community recreation and events center, and handicapped accessibility improvements to the county courthouse and city auditorium. Stewart said it was interesting to note that the two least talked about items, handicapped accessibility and a multi-purpose recreation and events center, received the highest positive response. The combined response of yes and maybe for handicapped accessibility was 67.7 per cent. The combined "yes" and "maybe" response for the multi-purpose center was 58.3 per cent.

The next section dealt with the use of a local sales tax to finance economic development, downtown revitalization, an outdoor swimming pool, improvements to the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center, a multi-purpose center, restoration and preservation of the Soo Line railroad depot, river beautification and management, tourism facilities park and recreation facilities, new fairgrounds grandstand, new commercial-retail-service developments, and various housing units. Stewart said, "Overall, there appears to be a fairly solid 30 per cent of respondents who are opposed to the local sales tax concept and about 20 per cent who are 'Maybe's'."

The next section attempted to gauge the subjective opinions of respondents' feelings about the community. On a scale of one to five with five being the highest or best, a total of 68.5 per cent of the respondents rated the city as a four or five (very good). Over 60 per cent rated city government and services as a three or four. About 55 per cent of the respondents rated traffic flow - congestion at three or four. Over 70 per cent ranked educational facilities as a four or five. Over 65 per cent ranked educational programs as a four or five. Over 75 per cent of the respondents ranked banking and financial services as a four or five. Over 50 per cent of the respondents ranked medical services as a four or five. Legal and accounting services were clearly ranked from three to five, as was "other personal services".

The condition of most housing was ranked between three and four. Most ranked variety of eating places between two and three. Most ranked the variety of retail stores between two and three. Most ranked entertainment choices for adults between two and three. Most ranked entertainment choices for youth between two and three. Most ranked outdoor recreation programs and facilities between three and four. Most ranked the quality of indoor recreation programs and facilities between two and three. Most ranked parks between four and five. Most ranked facilities and attractions for visitors at three. Most ranked quality and selection of radio and television at four. Most ranked local news media at three and four. Most ranked the movie theatre at between two and three.

According to the survey, what people like most about Thief River Falls is the fact that it is small, safe, has a lack of crime and is peaceful. A total of 269 respondents wrote virtually the same answer for this question. Rated second was "Friendly and industrious people". The third highest rated answer was "clean, attractive town, nice trees, good environment (air)". The fourth highest rated answer was "services, and educational facilities and opportunities, good schools, most everything we need." The fifth highest rated answer was "good place to raise a family."

What people least like about Thief River Falls was also asked of respondents. The highest ranked answer was "few number of good stores downtown/limited choice for shopping/limited shopping hours". The second highest ranked answer was "limited adult entertainment". the third highest answer was "limited employment opportunities". The fourth highest rated answer was "limited choice of eating places." The fifth highest rated answer was "weather - cold/length of winters, short summers."

The most important factor to respondents remaining in Thief River Falls in the next five years was their job. The second highest reason was quality of life. The third highest answer was family.

Of the respondents, 296 rated economic development and jobs and the most important issue facing the community in the next 10 years. Jobs and economic development was followed by: "retraining our younger population, population itself, lack of opportunities for youth; high taxes, broaden tax base; housing; and health care, cost of medical care, medical staffing and equipment."

Two very interesting answers were recorded from the last question: "How the city raised $1 million for a private golf club in nine months and can't raise $200,000 in five years for a public pool; and at the age of 85 you don't plan 10 years ahead, you just take life as it comes!"

goods and services they need in the community.

A total of 87.7 per cent of the respondents found shopping hours in Thief River Falls convenient. Of those responding negatively or taking the time to respond, 57 thought stores should stay open later and have more evening hours than just Thursday; 10 thought they should be open earlier in the morning; seven thought more stores should be open on Sunday; four thought there should be later banking office hours; three thought clinics should be open Saturday mornings; and three thought stores were open for too many hours during December and before Christmas.

In response to a question about the prices of goods and services, 46.9 per cent of respondents thought prices and services were about average. A total of 44 per cent said prices were slightly higher in Thief River Falls.

In response to how they rate the selection of goods and services, 43.9 per cent said there was a good selection. A total of 40.2 per cent said the selection was fair.

Prospective merchants should find the question about what types of goods or retail outlets respondents would like to have available in Thief River Falls that are not now available interesting. A total of 161 of the 654 who took time to write out answers, said they would like to see a major department or discount store such as a Target, Wal-Mart or Menards. A total of 98 thought the community needed better sporting goods stores. A total of 95 said the community needed a larger variety of family restaurants. Other responses included (in order): more women's clothing outlets; a bookstore, petite sizes/large sizes/"Big 'N Tall", children's clothing store/children's shoes; more men's clothing outlets/large selection; good craft stores/hobby shops/fabric stores/ceramic stores; more grocery stores; stores that stock more inventory; it's okay they way it is now; a shopping mall; a Payless shoe store; an appliance store with repair service; a pet store with pet supplies; a religious items store; auto sales and service to include better and more selection; a factory outlet store; a downtown restaurant; import stores, western clothing stores, a fashion discount outlet with a discount jewelry store, and more evening dining restaurants.

The next question pertained to availability of services and what respondents would like to see available. A total of 85 want to see a good family-style restaurant, such as a Bonanza or Perkins. A total of 53 want to see a bus service to other parts of the state and country. A total of 48 want to see extended medical services and specialists. A total of 18 want to see public transportation in the community. The remaining responses, in order, were as follows: recycling stations, nice formal restaurant, athletic complex, such as a YMCA or community recreation center; a youth activities center; a marine sales and service business; a 24-hour cafe; seven said services were okay; a health club; a high quality auto repair shop for speciality and foreign auto repair and a Jiffy Lube; services for physically impaired or elderly; child-care facilities, more daycare; a convention and civic center; public restrooms downtown; boat and pontoon rentals; a downtown restaurant open on Sunday; railroad passenger service; a convenience-gas station on the west side of the city; a shoe repair store; and more laundry service.

The next question asked what types of entertainment or recreational opportunities respondents would like to have in Thief River Falls that are not now available. Most (150), responded that they wanted a swimming pool (mostly outdoor). It is interesting to note that in the same survey, most of the respondents said they would not support a plan to finance an outdoor swimming pool with a sales tax. Other responses to the question were as follows: activities for high school students under 21; a YMCA type facility; a young adult activities center; mini-golf; more theater and performing arts; more restaurants; a public golf course; a downtown theater; bike lanes, rollerblade trails, cross-country ski trails and snowmobile trails; a roller skating rink; improvements to rivers; a waterslide; a family amusement park; a bandstand and community theater in a park; a new theater or drive-in theater; go carts; paddle boats or other watercraft rentals; a race track; a riding stable; another bowling alley that operates year-round; a heritage week, folk-rama and fourth of July celebration; a rollerblade hockey league; a casino inside town; indoor tennis courts; alcohol-free dances; a ballroom or dance hall; four said we have enough recreation and entertainment; year-round ice at arena; a non-smoking bar; an improved swimming beach; and an all-weather track.

Economic Development:

The third section dealt with economic development and planning. The first question pertained to the perception that most people in the community don't want to see change. It asks, "Assuming that the area social-economic factors were favorable and that the public governmental policies could induce change, what should be the character of Thief River Falls 10-20 years in the future?" A total of 36.1 per cent said the ideal population should be between 11 to 14,000; 27.6 per cent said it should be 14 to 16,000; 26.6 per cent said it should be 9 to 11,000.

The majority of respondents, 85.3 per cent, agreed or strongly agreed, with the next question or statement that employment opportunities in the immediate area are limited.

A total of 90 per cent of the respondents agreed or strongly agreed with the statement that the county and city government should support economic development and job creation and job retention efforts.

The next two questions dealt with the issue of how much assistance should be directed from community leaders to the private sector in attracting business and industry from outside northwest Minnesota. Stewart said the two questions were intended to see if lay persons agree with the strategy followed by local economic development leaders for the past few years and/or if they are becoming more aware that most new jobs are created by existing, local business. The comparative results would seem to indicate that most people still believe that "economic development" means attracting outside industry. The 27 per cent of respondents who disagree or strongly disagree and the number of narrative comments are interesting, Stewart noted. He said there seems to be an air of suspicion about providing assistance to local business.

Readers of The Times may have already noted that some aspects of the survey have already been reported on. In one section, respondents were asked to check five community development improvements they felt were most needed in the community. Results already reported on, listed the top five as a new bridge or railroad underpass, improvements to the river, demolishing dilapidated buildings; industrial development; and improvements in water treatment.

The survey also asked whether respondents would support higher real estate taxes and/or vote in favor of bonding for the following: economic development, downtown revitalization, an outdoor swimming pool, improvements to the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center, a multi-purpose community recreation and events center, and handicapped accessibility improvements to the county courthouse and city auditorium. Stewart said it was interesting to note that the two least talked about items, handicapped accessibility and a multi-purpose recreation and events center, received the highest positive response. The combined response of yes and maybe for handicapped accessibility was 67.7 per cent. The combined "yes" and "maybe" response for the multi-purpose center was 58.3 per cent.

The next section dealt with the use of a local sales tax to finance economic development, downtown revitalization, an outdoor swimming pool, improvements to the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center, a multi-purpose center, restoration and preservation of the Soo Line railroad depot, river beautification and management, tourism facilities park and recreation facilities, new fairgrounds grandstand, new commercial-retail-service developments, and various housing units. Stewart said: "Overall, there appears to be a fairly solid 30 per cent of respondents who are opposed to the local sales tax concept and about 20 per cent who are 'Maybe's'."

The next section attempted to gauge the subjective opinions of respondents' feelings about the community. On a scale of one to five with five being the highest or best, a total of 68.5 per cent of the respondents rated the city as a four or five (very good). Over 60 per cent rated city government and services as a three or four. About 55 per cent of the respondents rated traffic flow - congestion at three or four. Over 70 per cent ranked educational facilities as a four or five. Over 65 per cent ranked educational programs as a four or five. Over 75 per cent of the respondents ranked banking and financial services as a four or five. Over 50 per cent of the respondents ranked medical services as a four or five. Legal and accounting services were clearly ranked from three to five, as was "other personal services".

The condition of most housing was ranked between three and four. Most ranked variety of eating places between two and three. Most ranked the variety of retail stores between two and three. Most ranked entertainment choices for adults between two and three. Most ranked entertainment choices for youth between two and three. Most ranked outdoor recreation programs and facilities between three and four. Most ranked the quality of indoor recreation programs and facilities between two and three. Most ranked parks between four and five. Most ranked facilities and attractions for visitors at three. Most ranked quality and selection of radio and television at four. Most ranked local news media at three and four. Most ranked the movie theatre at between two and three.

According to the survey, what people like most about Thief River Falls is the fact that it is small, safe, has a lack of crime and is peaceful. A total of 269 respondents wrote virtually the same answer for this question. Rated second was "Friendly and industrious people". The third highest rated answer was "clean, attractive town, nice trees, good environment (air)". The fourth highest rated answer was "services, and educational facilities and opportunities, good schools, most everything we need." The fifth highest rated answer was "good place to raise a family."

What people least like about Thief River Falls was also asked of respondents. The highest ranked answer was "few number of good stores downtown/limited choice for shopping/limited shopping hours". The second highest ranked answer was "limited adult entertainment". the third highest answer was "limited employment opportunities". The fourth highest rated answer was "limited choice of eating places." The fifth highest rated answer was "weather - cold/length of winters, short summers."

The most important factor to respondents remaining in Thief River Falls in the next five years was their job. The second highest reason was quality of life. The third highest answer was family.

Of the respondents, 296 rated economic development and jobs and the most important issue facing the community in the next 10 years. Jobs and economic development was followed by: "retraining our younger population, population itself, lack of opportunities for youth; high taxes, broaden tax base; housing; and health care, cost of medical care, medical staffing and equipment."

Two very interesting answers were recorded from the last question: "How the city raised $1 million for a private golf club in nine months and can't raise $200,000 in five years for a public pool; and at the age of 85 you don't plan 10 years ahead, you just take life as it comes!"

Lincoln high school Class of 1943 held its 50th class reunion in Thief River Falls this summer with 100 people, including 61 graduates from as far away as Alaska, Hawaii and France, in attendance. The reunion started with a picnic at Oakland Park and included a tour of Lincoln high school and a banquet at the Best Western Inn. INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

Pioneers will start playoffs at Rochester

Minnesota Community College Conference state football playoffs start Saturday with semifinal matchups that will find Northland at Rochester and Fergus Falls at Itasca.

Both games start at 1 p.m.

Championship game will be played Saturday, Nov. 13, at 1 p.m. at St. Cloud State University.

Top two finishers in the MCCC regular season Northern and Southern Division standings earn the playoff spots, with the two divisional winners gaining up the home field edge for the semifinals.

Northland and Itasca shared the 1993 Northern Division crown, but the Vikings head into the playoffs as the top seed from the north because of a 16-0 regular season win over the Pioneers.

Rochester wrapped up the Southern Division title Saturday with a 60-36 win over Normandale. Fergus Falls beat Worthington 44-6 that same day to secure the No. 2 spot in the south.

In other regular season-ending Saturday games, Vermilion defeated Hibbing 21-11 and University of Minnesota-Crookston knocked off Brainerd 16-7. Northland and Itasca finished their schedules last Thursday when the Pioneers shut out the Mayville State junior varsity 6-0 and the Vikings handled Mesabi 34-7.

Final MCCC Standings

■ Northern Division - (conference/overall) Itasca 5-1/5-3; Northland 5-1/6-2; Vermilion 4-2/6-2; University of Minnesota-Crookston 3-3/4-4; Brainerd 3-3/4-4; Mesabi 1-5/3-5; Hibbing 0-6/0-8.

■ Southern Division - (conference/overall) Rochester 5-0/8-0; Fergus Falls 4-1/7-1; Normandale 3-2/4-4; Willmar 2-3/3-5; Worthington 1-4/3-5; North Hennepin 0-5/1-7.

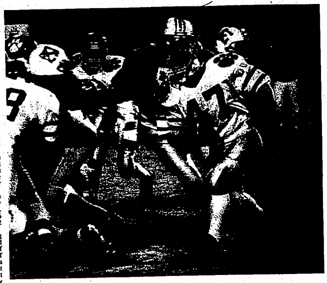
Sports Boosters to meet on Thursday

Northland Community College football coach Gene Klinke and volleyball coach Deb Jacobson will be the guest speakers Thursday at the 12-noon Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club meeting at the Elks.



Tony Halsa looked for running room as the Thief River Falls fullback carried the ball against East Grand Forks Saturday in the Section 8A high school football playoff semifinals. Halsa carried 18 times for 105 yards, but the Prowlers lost to the host Green Wave 19-12.

Green Wave wins 19-12 Section 8A football semifinal...

EGF ends TRF season

East Grand Forks was seven points than Thief River Falls this year – twice. The Green Wave posted its second seven-point win over the Prowlers in an 11-day span Saturday and in the process advanced to the Section 8A high school football playoff finals.

Wide receiver Gabe Valtierra caught eight passes for 173 yards to lead the 7-2 Green Wave to a 19-12 win that ended a 6-4 season for the Prowlers.

The two teams met in the final game of the regular season when a 13-6 East Grand Forks decision gave the Green Wave the No. 2 Section 8A playoff seed while dropping the Prowlers to No. 3.

East Grand Forks then proved the first-game result was no fluke with the post-season decision.

"They (EGF) have a nice football team," said Thief River Falls coach Jeff Mumm. "We played hard, we just came up seven points short. Any time a team beats you twice – they're a better team than you are. I thought we played well. You can't ask the kids to play any harder than they did."

Thief River Falls had a 12-6 halftime lead, but with the acrobatic Valtierra snaring passes from quarterback Jon Bushy, East Grand Forks held the upper hand over the final 24 minutes.

The Green Wave wasted little time erasing the first half deficit when the teams returned to the field after intermission – covering 71 yards in just six plays and 1:48 to go ahead 13-12. The Bushy/Valtierra tandem hooked up on plays covering 13, 44 and 11 yards during the sprint down the field, with the 11-yarder to the goal line putting the Green Wave ahead 13-12.

"We felt pretty good being up at halftime," said Mumm, "but any time a team has a played like Valtierra, you wonder how they will put the football in his hands, and what he's going to do when he gets it. He's as good as they come."

Valtierra was beating single coverage for his yards. Mumm said the Prowlers never considered double-teaming the 6-0, 145-pound senior. "Our philosophy is that if one kid is going to beat us – we just didn't that that would happen."

Obviously Valtierra wasn't doing it on his own. Bushy, a 6-3, 190-pound junior, kept the defense honest with his option running and avoided the heavy pass rush with a short drop before putting the ball in the air.

"We had a good pass rush, but their quarterback was getting rid of the ball in a hurry," explained Mumm.

It stayed 13-12 until the Green Wave put together a 12-play, 68-yard fourth quarter drive that resulted in a 2-yard Jerrod Riske touchdown run with 3:14 remaining. Big play during the possession was a tackle-breaking 32-yard burst through the middle by Riske that took the ball to the Thief River Falls 16.

Just like they did in the earlier setback on the same field, the Prowlers put together a late-game threat when a pass interference turned a fourth-and-seven into a first down at the Thief River Falls 43; a diving catching by Nathan Anderson netted 23 yards on a fourth-and-15; and a 7-yard Eric Bjorgaard toss to runningback Lee Lund carried the Prowlers to the Green Wave 32 in the final minute.

However, history repeated itself when Bjorgaard's next pass sailed over the head of the receiver and into the chest of East Grand Forks defensive back Jason Demlow at the Green Wave 10 with 35 seconds to play. Thief River Falls' belated first-game rally also ended on an interception deep in East Grand Forks territory.

Scoring started back in the first quarter when a 26-yard sweep by Kaine Martell keyed a 10-play, 62-yard Thief River Falls scoring drive that ended on a 1-yard Tony Halsa touchdown run off left tackle with 3:05 remaining.

East Grand Forks tied it on a 60-yard punt return by Riske, who ran down a 49-yard kick by Bjorgaard, broke through a crowd and then sprinted down the right side with 4:04 to play in the first half.

It took Thief River Falls just 2:14 to regain the lead as Halsa went through the middle for 17 yards and Martell got outside for 25 more to spark a 6-play, 65-yard scoring drive – leading to a 9-yard charge through the middle by Halsa with 1:50 showing.

Halsa, a 5-9, 160-pound junior, led all runners with 105 yards on 18 carries. Martell, a 5-10, 155-pound sophomore, netted 76 yards on 9 tries. Riske was the top Green Wave runner with 55 yards on 10 carries.

The Prowlers' offense, already missing previously injured fullback Brian Howe and quarterback Jeff Twomey, was hampered further when starting tight ends Joby Looker (foot) and Eric Dahl (knee) both went down in the first half.

Bushy wound up 10-for-22 for 195 yards, which included a 6-for-12 second half for 135 yards – all to Valtierra.

Swimmers end season with dual

Regular season schedule ends Thursday for the Lincoln High School girls swimming team when the Prowlers will host Crookston in a 5 p.m. dual at the Franklin Middle School pool.

The Section 8 swimming and diving championships will be held Friday and Saturday, Nov. 12 and 13, at the University of North Dakota.

Thief River Falls was at the Crookston Invitational Friday, where Detroit Lakes collected 152 points, Crookston 140, Thief River Falls 135, and Park Rapids Area 126.

"Everybody swam well," said Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken. "It was a fun meet for us. We concentrated on qualifying a few more girls for sections, and we'll do that again Thursday."

Seventeen Prowlers have already met sectional qualifying standards – the largest group Lokken has ever taken into post-season competition.

Thief River Falls senior Lisa Ulrich won both the 50 and 100-meter freestyle races at the Crookston Invitational, while junior Theresa Glauque took the 500 freestyle and sophomore Jennifer Olin finished first in the diving competition. The Prowlers also won both the 200 and 400 freestyle relays.

Spuds visit TRF for volleyball semifinal

Moorhead and Fergus Falls were first round winners Monday as the 1993 North Sub-Section 8AA high school volleyball tournament got underway.

The No. 3-seeded Spuds swept No. 6 Detroit Lakes 15-4, 15-5, 15-10, while the No. 4-seeded Otters beat No. 5 Bemidji 13-15, 15-13, 15-10, 15-12.

That sets up the Thursday semifinals when Fergus Falls will be at No. 1-seeded Alexandria and Moorhead visits No. 2-seeded Thief River Falls.

Championship match will be played Saturday at the site of the highest seeded semifinal winner.

All North Sub-Section 8AA matches start at 7 p.m.

The Prowlers and Spuds met once this fall, with Thief River Falls winning a 3-2 match in the Lincoln gym back on Oct. 5.

"We're looking forward to playing them again," said Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "We hope there is a big crowd. It should be a lot of fun."

North Sub-Section 8AA

■ Quarterfinals Monday, Nov 1 - Moorhead def. Detroit Lakes 15-4, 15-5, 15-10; Fergus Falls def. Bemidji 13-15, 15-13, 15-10, 15-12.

■ Semifinals Thursday, Nov. 2 - No. 4 Fergus Falls at No. 1 Alexandria, 7 p.m.; No. 3 Moorhead at No. 2 Thief River Falls, 7 p.m.

■ Championship Saturday, Nov. 5 - at site of highest seeded semifinal winner.

Section 8A Sub-Section 4 volleyball

Northland hosts semifinals, final

Tri-County, Lake of the Woods, Marshall County Central, and Roseau moved into the semifinals of the 1993 Section 8A Sub-Section 4 high school volleyball tournament with Monday quarterfinal wins.

The Friday semifinals at Northland Community College will match the Wildcats and Bears at 6:30 p.m., followed by the Nordics vs. the Rams at 8.

Finals Saturday include the third place match at 6:30 p.m. and championship match at 8.

Marshall County Central went to 23-2 for the year with a 15-8, 15-8, 15-4 quarterfinal win over rival Badger/Greenbush-Middle River at Northland. The Gators stopped the Nordics' 18-match winning streak during the regular season, but couldn't duplicate that effort in post-season play. A 12-15, 15-10, 15-12, 15-5 first round winner over Stephen Friday at Northland, the Gators finished the year at 10-17.

"Things went pretty well," reported Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson after the quarterfinal victory. "Going into the match we said serving would be a key, and we served well (95 percent). And our bench (Missy Lund, Darlene Nelson, Wendy Inman) did a nice job. They came in and played their roles well."

A 1-18 season ended for Grygla/Goodridge Friday with a 15-6, 15-3, 15-4 first round loss to Roseau at Northland.

Champions in Section 8A Sub-Sections 1, 2 and 3 will also be named this week in finals at Bemidji State University and the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

NCC volleyball team ends 1993 schedule

A 1-3 showing at the University of Minnesota-Morris Halloween Classic Saturday closed out the 1993 season for the Northland Community College volleyball team.

The Pioneers finished 10-23 overall and 0-6 in the Minnesota Community College Conference Northwest Division.

Bismarck Junior College emerged a third game rally-point winner over Northland in the round-robin tournament opener 15-5, 14-16, 15-12.

The Pioneers bounced back to beat the Concordia College junior varsity 15-5, 15-3, but then lost to the North Dakota State School of Science 15-6, 15-11 and fell to the host University of Minnesota-Morris junior varsity 15-13, 15-5.

NDSCS won the tournament. Bismarck was second.

"It was a fun tournament," reported Northland coach Deb Jacobson. "There were a lot of good teams there. I thought we played well."

Two Crookston blockers couldn't stop this spike by Thief River Falls' Toni Chiodo during Friday's volleyball match in the Lincoln High School gym. The Prowlers closed out their regular season with a 3-0 sweep over the Pirates.

Prowlers sweep Pirates 3-0

Thief River Falls started strong, then coasted to a 15-6, 15-13, 15-6 regular season-ending high school volleyball win over visiting Crookston Friday.

The Prowlers' hitters had a field day in producing an 11-1 first-game lead before the intensity level dropped off against the over-matched Pirates.

Crookston came back from an 11-4 second-game deficit to gain an 11-11 tie, but the Prowlers regrouped, finished off the Game 2 win and ran up an 8-1 third game spread to seal the sweep.

"A win is a win," said Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson, who admitted it wasn't the Prowlers' sharpest outing of the year. "We did get a chance to play everybody, which is a real plus heading the into the tournaments."

Thief River Falls will take a 12-13 record into North Sub-Section 8AA play.

It was a 15-13, 15-8 Thief River Falls win in the junior varsity match.

Agassiz Refuge open to deer hunting

The 1993 deer hunting season at the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge will be held November 6-14 in accordance with Minnesota Department of Natural Resources regulations.

Fall population is estimated at 3,300 deer within the 130 square miles of Area 203. Area 203 (Zone 2) consisting of Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, and the Elm Lake, Eckvoll and Mudlac Wildlife Management Areas will be open to bucks and antlerless deer (by permit).

Antlerless permits have already been mailed to all who submitted a valid application. There were applicants who applied for the 1,000 antlerless permits, with 660 eligible applicants receiving them. An additional 465 deer management permits were issued to all applicants who checked the bonus box on their application. Deer management permits may be purchased over the counter from licensed vendors at any time during the deer season. A total of 1,085 antlerless permits were issued for Area 203.

Except for two closed areas around the headquarters and maintenance center, the entire refuge will be open to deer hunting. The closed areas are posted with "Closed Area" signs and are clearly marked on refuge hunting leaflets. Entrance into these areas is not permitted.

Within Agassiz Refuge pre-season scouting will be allowed, Friday, Nov. 5 from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Gates will be closed at 4 p.m. that day. Hunters are reminded that construction of, or hunting from, permanently constructed tree stands is illegal. Portable stands are legal and can be placed at any height, but cannot be left overnight to pre-empt a hunting area. Spotlighting is also illegal on the refuge all year long. Casting spotlights or vehicle lights from the a public road onto the refuge is considered spotlighting. Camping is not permitted on the refuge. Camping opportunities are available on adjacent state wildlife management areas.

During the deer hunting season hunters may enter the refuge at 6 a.m. and must leave the refuge as soon as possible after sunset. Deer hunting signs have been installed at six locations on the refuge showing open roads and listing refuge regulations. Hunting leaflets are also available at refuge headquarters. All other refuge roads, trails and dikes will be restricted to foot traffic, bicycles and non-motorized carrying devices for transporting deer. Non-motorized watercraft may be used on ditches and pools. The use of snowmobiles, 3 and 4--wheelers, trail bikes and other off-road motorized vehicles is prohitited on the refuge. For information on the use of off-road motorized vehicles on state wildlife management areas during the firearms deer hunting season see the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources 1993 hunting regulations.

Deer taken in Permit Area 203 must be registered in Zone 2. There is no check station at refuge headquarters, but most nearby towns have at least one. A total of 761 deer were harvested in Area 203 in 1992, including 313 adult bucks.

Hunter safety is always of special concern. Increased hunter numbers make accidents more probable and make it a must that hunters be sure of their target. The potential for hypothermia and heart attack also exists. Because of the wet conditions access will be limited to the drier areas until safe ice is formed. Most ditches in the area are filled with water and are deep. Hunter caution and awareness is advised. All hunting accidents on Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge must be reported immediately at headquarters. The staff at Agassiz wishes all a safe and enjoyable hunt.

Ninth grade has matches against Schroeder, W-A

Recent volleyball matches for the Lincoln High School freshmen included an Oct. 26 visit by Grand Forks Schroeder and an Oct. 28 trip to Warren-Alvarado.

Against Schroeder, the Thief River Falls A team won 15-13, 15-8, while the B team wound up with a 9-15, 16-14 tie.

Warren-Alvarado swept Thief River Falls 15-10, 15-5 in the A match and 15-8, 15-3 in the B match.

Bergland scores goal

It was reported in this column Friday that forward Tim Bergland of Thief River Falls had been called up from Atlanta in the International League by the National Hockey League Tampa Bay Lightning, and that night the former Prowler and Gopher scored the first goal of the game in a 4-2 Tampa Bay loss to the New York Islanders.

The game was played in front of 22,332 fans at the Thunder Dome in Florida.

Tree stand safety during deer hunt is a DNR concern

Deer hunters who climb into tree stands should be on the lookout for unsafe situations.

Tree stand accidents occur every year, according to the Department of Natural Resources. This is due, in part, to the popularity of portable tree stands and the high number of permanent tree stands, according to Gary Guida, DNR regional training officer for the Division of Enforcement at Brainerd.

"Tree stands help the hunter, Guida said, "but they can be dangerous. When you mix cold, windy and slippery conditions, lethal weapons, and heights, you're setting the stage for something unpredictable to happen."

DNR reminds hunters to play it safe with the following tips:

■ Don't sacrifice safety for cost. When buying a portable tree stand, choose one that's solid, safe, and fits your needs. Don't be penny-wise and pound foolish.

■ Inspect your stand. Check for missing parts or defects every time you use it. Make sure bolts are tightened and that ropes or chains are in good condition.

■ Use a safety harness. Don't attempt to climb a tree or hunt from a three stand without using a climbing belt, safety belt, or harness.

■ Rope that weapon. Never carry your bow or gun while climbing. Use a haul line. Unload your gun before lifting or lowering it.

■ Go down slowly. Many accidents occur while hunters are climbing down from trees. This could be due to fatigue, weather conditions, or the excitement of the hunt. Take your time; take it easy.

■ Repair permanent stands. A 'permanent' tree stand won't last forever. That's because wood deteriorates and tree movement throughout the year tends to bend or loosen bolts, nails and boards. Inspect and repair your permanent stand before the first day of hunting.

■ Minimize damage to trees. Nails left in a tree can damage a chainsaw or a sawmill saw and cause serious injury or death to an operator. Nails also reduce wood value.

In Minnesota, portable tree stands can be used at any height. Maximum height for a permanent tree stand is 16 feet. The DNR encourages hunters to cut only "reasonable" shooting lanes. Those cutting excessive shooting lanes on public land can be cited with a misdemeanor.

Hunter safety is stressed by DNR

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources wants another safe hunting season for the nearly 650,000 Minnesota hunters who will take to the forests and farmlands this fall. For hunting to maintain public support, hunters need to conduct themselves in a safe and ethical manner, according to Roger Grosslein, DNR Advanced Hunter Education coordinator.

Grosslein said Minnesota hunters have a long tradition of safe and ethical behavior, championed by their own organizations. Nonetheless, even though hunters are about as likely to be infured in vehicle accidents on the way to their hunt as during the hunt itself, some hunting accidents do occur. Grosslein offered the following suggestions to help insure a safe hunt:

- Unload firearms before reaching camp or car, and before getting into or out of deer hunting tree stands.
- Wear blaze orange clothing (at least from the waist up) when in deer hunting areas during the deer hunting season.
- Exercise safe tree stand installation procedures, use a safety harness, and use a haul line to lift and lower firearms or bows from tree stands.
- Get into good physical condition before the hunt in preparation for the many miles of walking and other tasks related to the hunt.
- Never leave home without telling somebody where you are going and when you will return.
- Wear layed clothing that wicks water away from the skin (not cotton) for the hours present afield, to be prepared for rapid weather changes.
- Sight-in every firearm before the season opens to check if the firearm is working properly and to familarize yourself with the equipment.
- Before firing, identify your target, and check beyond your target to make certain a missed shot is still a safe shot.
- Carry a small survival kit and compass in the event you get lost or stranded in the woods. Kits should include two large plastic bags for warmth and shelter from rain; candy for nourishment; 15 feet of nylon string to help construct a shelter; waterproof matches; a plumber's candle to start fires; and a whistle to signal for help.

These and other tips are among the information hunters learn in clinics and seminars offered through the DNR by experienced volunteer instructors. Advanced Hunter Education, Bowhunter Education, and Firearms Safety courses have helped thousands of hunters become safer and more competent. "There is something for every level of experience, from novice to experienced, offered in these courses," Grosslein said.'

"The seminars offer a unique setting for participants to learn and share information that not only makes hunting easier and more successful, but truly a more satisfying experience," Grosslein said.

The courses incorporate a level of professional experience into each learning situation, Grosslein said. Baced by DNR expertise, volunteer instructors guide the program, with technical knowledge from wildlife managers, conservation officers, and wildlife biologists.

Advanced Hunter Education and Bowhunter Education seminars are held throughout the state. The Advanced Hunter Education courses are open to those 14 years of age and older. The Bowhunter Education courses are open to those 12 years of age and older. (Those 12 to 17 years old must have previously earned a Firearms Safety Certificate.)

Firearms Safety courses are also offered statewide. Those who successfully complete the course earn a Firearms Safety Certificate. Youths must meet all license and certificate requirements. In addition, anyone born after Dec. 31, 1979, must have earned a Firearms Safety Certificate (or equivalent), have a previous hunting licence, or other evidence of successfully completing a hunter safety course to obtain a license to hunt or trap in Minnesota.

For information about attending a course, contact the local DNR conservation officer; or call toll free 1-800-766-6000.

Middle School

Franklin Middle School eighth grade volleyball teams closed out their 1993 season with a pair of title-winning performances at the East Grand Forks Invitational Saturday.

The A team beat Warren-Alvarado 15-6, 15-10; Crookston 15-7, 15-8; and East Grand Forks 15-3, 10-15, 15-9.

It was a similar sweep for the B team with wins over Warren-Alvarado 15-10, 12-15, 15-7; Crookston 15-11, 3-15, 15-5; and East Grand Forks 15-7, 15-7.

The Franklin seventh graders closed out their season at the Crookston Invitational Saturday, where the A team went 1-2 and the B team had a 3-0 championship showing.

Seventh grade A team beat Crookston 15-11, 15-4, while Warren-Alvarado beat them 15-13, 15-10 and East Grand Forks won 10-15, 15-10, 15-12.

The seventh grade B team defeated Crookston 15-2, 15-8; East Grand Forks 15-3, 11-15, 15-11; and Warren-Alvarado 15-6, 15-10.

Blaze orange best for hunting safety, according to DNR

Full blaze orange is best for hunting safety, according to Minnesota Department of Natural Resource officials. Research has shown that traditional bright red hunting clothes are not easily seen in early morning or evening, on cloudy days, when it is raining or snowing, or in heavy cover.

Being seen is a key to hunting safely, according to DNR Safety Training Coordinator Mike Hamm. Hunting accidents, usually occur when the victim is out of sight of the shooters, or when a shooter covered the victim while swinging a gun toward an intended target. Hamm said that hunters may focus so intently on their targets that they see nothing in between or beyond. "This is what happens when a hunter swings on game and does not see another hunter in the line of fire," he said.

Hamm noted that it is easy for a hunter to mistake another hunter for game in some circumstances. "People sometimes see what they want to see," Hamm said. "Add a sound or visual cue from past experience, and a hunter can imagine game where none exists. A bright, unnatural color such as blaze orange helps to reduce visual errors because it commands attention and shatters any illusions."

DNR officials have published four recommendations concerning the use of blaze orange:

■ Wear blaze orange when hunting upland game such as grouse, pheasant, squirrel, and rabbit.

■ Wear Blaze orange when moving to and from a blind to hunt ducks during the open firearms deer season.

■ Don't wear faded or poor quality substitutions for blaze orange clothing. Wearing camo blaze orange is not recommended because it increases the risk of not being seen in heavy cover, Hamm said.

The 1993 Minnesota Legislature passed a law that requires all hunters to wear blaze orange during the Minnesota firearms deer season beginning with the 1994 season.

Deer numbers reported strong

The bad news: The number of antlerless deer permits available is down 27 percent from last year.

The good news: That is still the second highest ever given out by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources. According to state wildlife officials, Minnesota deer hunters can anticipate seeing good to excellent deer numbers in the state when firearms hunting season opens Nov. 6.

According to DNR wildlife officials, the record number of permits given out in 1992 was just that—a record. It won't happen again anytime soon, according to DNR big game specialist Dave Schad. "It was a one-time correction, because deer herds in portions of the state were above population goals," Schad said. "In the state's forested areas, antlerless deer permit quotas have returned to 1990 and '91 levels."

East-central Minnesota hunters will see the largest drop in permits. In that part of the state deer numbers had climbed to twice the DNR's population goal upper limit by 1990, prompting the agency to take aggressive action to reduce deer numbers. Antlerless deer permit quotas were raised to give hunters more opportunities to harvest deer. That action, coupled with an unprecedented Halloween blizzard in 1991 has brought the east-central deer herd back down to population levels similar to the 1980s.

"In the mid-1980s, the number of antlerless deer permits we're offering this year would have been considered a lot of permits," said Hinckley area wildlife manager Kent Solberg.

Nevertheless, there have been grumblings in east-central Minnesota about the drop in deer numbers since the 1991 population peak. Last autumn, rumors popped up like mushrooms about deer that were supposedly stricken by a mysterious disease or died from eating poison acorns. The reports were unfounded. Solberg and other DNR biologists who investigated numerous reports of deer kills found no evidence of disease or poisoning.

"The few dead deer we found died from either illegal activity or vehicle collisions," Solberg said. In many instances, the die-off stories grew each time they were repeated, and like a game of "password," embellished versions reported to Solberg often differed first-hand account he'd eventually track down.

Throughout the rest of Minnesota's forested region, the number of antlerless deer permits issued this year will be similar to 1991 levels. Permit quotas had been raised in 1992 because the deer herd had risen above DNR population goals.

"We felt we had to bring the population down and stabilize deer numbers," said Mark Lenarz, who leads the forest wildlife populations and research group in Grand Rapids. "We have now reached our goal levels in virtually all areas of the forest."

Deer population goals are based on a number of factors, not just the number deer hunters desire nor the amount of whitetails the habitat can support. In forested areas, high deer numbers can harm forest regeneration and some plant communities. In agricultural areas, population goals must also consider the amount of deer-caused crop depredation landowners will tolerate. In many areas, the damage caused by collisions between deer and vehicles is also a concern.

In Minnesota's farmland and transition areas, antlerless permit quotas are actually up about 10 percent from 1992, despite an extended shotgun season held in southern Minnesota last year. The deer harvest during the regular shotgun season had been significantly reduced because the deer found refuge in standing crops. Though hunters were concerned that the extended season would lead to an excessively high buck harvest, it didn't happen.

"The 1992 buck kill was still below recent years," said Jay McAninch, farmland wildlife research biologist, "but the antlerless deer kill was good. In southeastern Minnesota, we are basically within the deer population goal range. Now we'll see if our goals are satisfactory to residents.

"In the farmland and transition areas, the economic livelihood of many residents is at stake," McAninch adds. "We need to balance the economic concerns of farmers, orchard owners, Christmas tree growers, and vegetable growers when we set deer population goals."

Wildlife managers are developing ways to deal with localized deer overpopulation problems. For example, in an area of southeastern Minnesota where orchard owners have suffered excessive deer depredation, the DNR formed the 50-square-mile Orchard Sub-Permit Area. There, hunters are allowed to take a second, antlerless-only deer during what is normally a bucks-only season in order to reduce the local whitetail population.

Allowing hunters to shoot two or more deer in certain areas is another tool deer managers can use to control local deer populations. Legislation passed in 1993 allows the DNR to set higher whitetail bag limits. McAninch said hunters in some metro area hunts will be allowed to bag up to five deer in a season. The reason for the multiple-deer limits is that some urban areas have high deer numbers and few hunters because of limited access to private lands and restrictive shooting ordinances.

"In many special hunts, hunter access is limited," McAninch said. "The higher bag limits will give hunters who do have access the opportunity to shoot more deer. This can save cities and expense of using sharpshooters to control deer."

Other new legislation passed in 1993 allows hunters under age 16 to shoot a deer of either sex. Schad said deer managers had to take this into account when they decided how many permits to allow, and eventually lowered the total slightly. Nonetheless, the DNR is still offering 236,055 antlerless deer permits for the 1993 firearms deer season, the second highest number ever.

With some hunters' perceptions that deer numbers are way down and this year's relatively high number of permits offered, some skeptics wonder if the agency is issuing extra permits to sell more hunting licenses. Schad said that's nonsense.

"Our first interest is in maintaining deer population goals that balance what hunters want with landowner tolerance and forest regeneration," he said, explaining that deer can damage crops and hamper young forest growth by browsing on saplings. "Our goals are not influenced by a desire to sell licenses. Our first charge is to manage the deer population, and we won't do anything in the short term that will cause long-term damage to that population."

Do healthy deer population and high numbers of antlerless deer permits indicate that hunters can expect good hunting this fall? Perhaps. As McAninch points out, standing corn, early snows, and poor weather early in the firearms season—conditions Minnesota hunters have faced in recent years—can make for tough hunting and lower the deer harvest.

"We go into each year hoping to have 'business as usual,' but we have to stay flexible," McAninch said. "We keep waiting for a 'normal' deer season, but I'm not sure we know what 'normal' is anymore."

DNR News

A ringnecked duck painted by Edward DuRose of Roseville has been chosen as the design for the 1994 Minnesota Migratory Waterfowl Stamp.

DuRose's painting was selected from among 71 entries by a panel of judges representing expertise in ornithology, wildlife management, art and publishing. Thirty-four paintings reached the semifinals, and 11 were finalists in the judging at Wood Lake Nature Center in Richfield Sept. 2.

Twelve Mississippi Flyway species are eligible as subjects for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources' 1994 stamp. A pair of ringnecks painted by Ron VanGilder of Cedar placed second in the competition. Tied for third were Jim Hautman of Plymouth with green-winged teal, and David Rottinghaus of Columbia Heights with a painting of oldsquaw. Other finalists were Eric Bjorlin of Brooklyn Center and John Friberg of Mounds View, tied for fourth; James Schablitsky of Kasson and Bruce Miller of Mound, tied for fifth; Eugene Budroot of Minnetonka; sixth; Darrell Bush of St. Louis Park, seventh; and Thomas Gross of Maplewood, eighth.

REST INSURED

by Carol Nelson

ARE YOU A CAREFUL SHOPPER?

A new car is one of those big, important purchases that requires some research before you sign on the dotted line. At the same time you are comparison shopping for a new car, talk with your insurance agent about auto insurance.

In addition to your age and driving record, the type of car you buy plays a large role in the insurance premium you will pay.

Some car buyers forget to add the cost of insurance when figuring how much car they can afford. Car insurance premiums are based on the design and accident history of the car.

When shopping for a car, in addition to price, most people choose one for its safety record and for what suits their needs and taste. The same holds true for auto insurance. Don't just shop for the lowest price. Choose the policy that suits your needs and provides the best value.

NORTHERN STATE AGENCY is available to assist you with your insurance needs. We represent several companies which allows us to find the right one to suit your specific needs. NORTHERN STATE AGENCY is located in the Northern State Bank building. Office hours are 8:30-4:30 Mon.-Fri.; 8:30-6:00 Thurs.

Several thefts among reports to law enforcement officials

Several thefts have taken place in the last two weeks.

Thefts. On October 19 at 11:29 a.m. Aaron Halvorson, route 2, Thief River Falls, reported that tools were taken from the back of his pickup. The theft loss was estimated at $78.

On October 20 at 12:15 p.m. Kmart reported that someone took two multi-plier sets valued at $98.

On October 20 at 8:08 p.m. Dr. Ernest Thorsgaard, route 4, Thief River Falls, reported that his wallet, which contained $140 in cash, was taken from the Franklin Middle School swimming pool locker room while he was swimming. The total theft loss was estimated at $160.

On October 21 Hugo's reported that someone had not returned a video valued at $20. Denise Beito, Thief River Falls, age 22, was cited for theft under $200.

On October 14 The Queen reported two games had been rented and not returned. The loss was estimated at $109.98. Joel Pritchett, 25, Thief River Falls, was cited for theft under $200.

On October 21 three movies had been rented from Hugo's and not returned. The theft loss was estimated at $60. Andrew Paul Dennis, 21, route 1, Thief River Falls, was cited for theft under $200.

On October 21 a movie was rented from Hugo's and not returned. Heather Borgen, 18, Thief River Falls, was cited for theft under $200.

On October 24 at 9:02 a.m. Chad Erickson, Fargo, reported that someone had taken his 1982 Buick Skylark, which had been parked behind Swede's Bar. He said the keys had been left in the ignition. Later, friends contacted Erickson reporting that they had found the car three miles north of the city on Highway 32 and it would not start. Upon investigation, police learned that a man had given another man a ride into town because his car was stalled. The description of the hitchhiker was that of the owner of the vehicle. Chad Lee Erickson, 20, Fargo, ND, was charged with falsely reporting a crime.

On October 26 at 5 p.m. police received information about a shoplifter at Corner Drug. A young man had been observed leaving the store with a package, which he put in a trash container outside of the store. The young man and his companion later returned and picked up the package. One 15-year-old male from route 3, Thief River Falls, was charged with shoplifting. A second 15-year-old male from Thief River Falls was charged with receiving stolen property. An electric toothbrush valued at over $120 was recovered. The youth who allegedly took the electric toothbrush also allegedly confessed to taking a phone recorder from a store in Grand Forks.

On October 29 police cited Linus Wayne Berberich, Brooks, age 51, with theft under $200 following an investeigation into the theft of a scanner from a local residence.

On October 31 at 2:36 a.m. Crookston police requested the assistance of the Thief River Falls police in locating a vehicle stolen from the Crookston area. Thief River Falls police located the vehicle in Riverview trailer court and had it impounded. The incident is still under investigation.

Accidents. Icy roads caused several small accidents on Thursday, October 28. Police recorded six accidents, including a hit-and-run still under investigation, Thursday evening. There was one in the high school parking lot, one at Third and LaBree, two at Third and Main, one in the 300 block of North Tindolph and one at Nora and Markley.

On October 19 at 7:35 a.m. police received a report of an accident on 10th street just west of Main Avenue. According to the accident report, Denis Rathcke, route 2, Sebeka, was going east on 10th street when he struck a light pole causing about $850 damage to the light pole.

Police investigated an accident that happened at Duluth and First that was reported at 3:11 p.m. on October 19. According to the report, Anita Marie Hamm, route 5, Thief River Falls, was going south on Duluth and turning east onto First street and a Blazer driven by Rhonda Noel, Thief River Falls, was going west on First. Upon collision, the Hamm vehicle slid aound and collided with a car driven by Jeffrey Issendorf, route 1, Thief River Falls, which was traveling west on First but had stopped in traffic because of the accident. The Hamm vehicle continued sliding and struck a parked car owned by Scott Heatherington, which was parked facing west. Damages were estimated at $200 to the Hamm vehicle, over $500 to the Noel vehicle, $100 to the Issendorf vehicle, and over $500 to the Heatherington vehicle. There were no injuries in the accident. Hamm was cited for failure to yield.

Police investigated an accident at First and Highway 59, which was reported at 10:36 a.m. October 20. According to the report, Danile Johnson, Viking was driving a car north on Highway 59 and in the left turning lane, waiting for a light to change. Virgil Burger, Thief River Falls, was also going north in the left turning lane when his vehicle struck the rear of the Johnson vehicle. Damage was estimated at $600 to the Burger vehicle.

An accident at Seventh and Arnold was reported to police at 5:08 p.m. October 19. According to the police report, Vanja Mable Anderson, Thief River Falls, was going west on Seventh and turning south onto Arnold when her vehicle was struck by a van driven by Rhonda Kimball, which was also going north on Arnold. Damages were estimated at $1,000 to the Anderson vehicle and $800 to the Kimball vehicle.

Vandalism. Incidents of windows being broken with rocks or pellets were reported to police last week. Police also received numerous reports of pumpkins being smashed.

On October 26 police received a report from Jane Shafland that someone had broken out the back window of her car with a rock. Damage loss was estimated at $200.

On October 26 a local resident reported that someone had broken a window at her residence with a B-B or pellet. Damage loss was estimated at $100.

On October 19 at 10:16 a.m. a local citizen reported that a sign and post had been damaged at the corner of Taft and Merriam. The citizen observed someone in a pickup attempt to pull the sign over. Damage to the sign was estimated at $50.

On October 29 at 10:47 a.m. Florence Faiman, Thief River Falls, reported damage to the foundation of her house. She believes someone backed into the foundation with a vehicle knocking one block out and damaging some siding. Damage loss was estimated at $400.

Alcohol. Following the investigation of a loud party complaint, officers observed street signs hanging on the wall of the apartment. The rentors were spoken to and Shannon Berger, Badger, was cited for possession of highway signs.

On October 20 at 10:26 p.m. police responded to a complaint of a loud party in the 400 block of South Duluth. Upon investigation of the complaint, the following were cited for consumption under age: John Kenneth Nelson, 20, Erskine; Darren Ufford, 20, route 5, Kelliher; Trevor Monson, 19, route 2, Fertile; David Moran, 19, route 2, Erskine; Benjamin Hagen, 19, Fertile; Ethan Weiby, 19, Erskine; Travis Finseth, 19, route 1, Trail; Shawn Marie Simon, 19, route 4, Waubun; and Michael Lindberg, 18, Fertile.

On October 22 at 1:40 a.m. police investigated a loud party complaint in the 100 block of North State. Citations for contributing to the delinquency of minors and consumption under age were issued to Bobbie Jo Scholin, 19, Thief River Falls. Citations for consumption under age were issued to the following: William Patrick Hughes, 18, Thief River Falls; Darin James Adams, 19, route 2, Goodridge; and Tina Marie Poole, 18, Thief River Falls; Nichole Emmons, 18, Thief river Falls; a 15-year-old female from Thief River Falls; and a 17-year-old female from Thief River Falls.

On October 26 at 10:58 p.m. police received a request to investigate a problem at the Best Western. A young person allegedly entered the lounge and didn't appear to be old enough. Jeremy Scott York, 19, Newfolden, was cited for misrepresentation of age and using a driver's license of another individual. The driver's license was confiscated.

On October 31 at 1:58 a.m. police received a complaint about a loud party at a residence in Riverview trailer court. The following individuals were cited for consumption under age after police investigated the complaint: Brent Kurtti, route 1, Mylo, ND, age 19; Lynn Samuelson, Sarles, ND, age 19; Trent Anderson, Cando, ND, 19; Jeffrey David Brown, Hannah, ND, age 18; Paul Beck, New London, MN, age 20; Jason Lee Anderson, Thief River Falls, age 19; and Timothy Biby, Wales, ND, age 20. Shawn Arthur Jensen, Lakeville, 21, was cited for furnishing alcohol to minors.

Assaults. On October 21 police received a report of a fight between two juvenile boys. One had been struck on the chest and had scratches and cuts on his arms where he had fallen. A 14-year-old youth was charged with fifth degree assault.

On October 21 at 5:30 p.m. police received a report of an assault in the 200 block of North LaBree. David Sorum, 41, was cited with fifth degree assault after allegedly refusing to leave a car he was riding in and striking a woman with his fist.

On October 22 at 12:28 a.m. police received a request to go to the Best Western because of a fight at the back door of the motel. Police found a man lying on the sidewalk who was bleeding from a cut on his head. Three men are alleged to have jumped him as he came out of the building. The man fell in the attack and struck his head on the bumper of a vehicle.

On October 17 at 5:26 p.m. an officer on patrol was flagged down by a person in a local parking lot. There had been a disagreement between him and another man who he alleged, hit him in the face and side of the head. Thomas James Whelan, Roseville, age 49, was cited with fifth degree assault.

On October 28 police cited a 16-year-old female from Thief River Falls for fifth degree assault following a report from a man who alleged that the young girl struck him in the face with a shoe.

Bad checks pose problem for community and law enforcement

Bad checks are a problem. The Pennington County sheriff's department has been trying a number of different approaches to solving this problem.

In 1991, the sheriff's department received 1,506 checks for collection. They recorded a 90 per cent collection rate. The number of checks received for collection in 1992 was about the same, and a sheriff's department spokesperson estimates that there will be over 1,400 checks turned in for collection in 1993.

It's not only a problem for the sheriff's department and the check writer. It's a problem for local merchants and shoppers. The loss is often passed on to other shoppers in higher costs, and to taxpayers who pay salaries of individuals needed to collect on those bad checks.

For the past few years, the sheriff's department has aggressively pursued bad check writers. Letters warning the responsible parties of the obligations and consequences have been sent. Eventually, the sheriff's department has been prosecuting those bad check writers who have failed to comply with the warnings.

More recently, the sheriff's department and the courts have been scheduling separate court dates to handle the large number of checks turned over for collection. They have also reduced the number of warnings to one letter and have given writers of the bad checks five days to make good on the check.

The next court date set to handle the large number of citations for issuance of dishonored checks has been scheduled for 3 p.m. November 8. Below are some of the individuals facing charges of writing bad checks and the amounts owed on those checks.

The following have been charged with issuance of dishonored checks by the Pennington county sheriff's department: Jon Avery Kverno, 31, Kelliher, $36.26; Richard Herman Jadeke, 21, Bemidji, $42.23; Debra Robin Lerol, 28, Thief River Falls, $233.90; Jonathan Jonas McHam, 30, Thief River Falls, $137; Brian Clifford Olson, 35, St. Hilaire, $37.60; James Evert Manning, 32, Gary, $658.63; John Richard Schell, 26, Fargo, $50; Louella Mae Hanson, 23, Thief River Falls, $252.25; Sherry Lynn Woods, 38, Grygla, $75; Jeremy Scott York, 19, Karlstad, $132.99; David Jon Wallenberg, 34, Goodridge, $149.50; Christie Rita Volk, 20, Thief River Falls, $160.51; Carol Ann Strand, 22, Red Lake Falls, $31.20; Elaine Rose Stately, 28, Redby, $150; Steven Blair Solom, 36, Roseau, $78.20; Kelly Lee Sande, 21, Bemidji, $38.16; Dale Arthur Knutson, 44, Red Lake Falls, $289.19;

Aaron James Golle, 23, Edin Prarie, $37.60; Jeffrey Kent Holter, 23, Grand Forks, ND, $57.80; Michael Warren Griffin, 29, Grand Forks, ND, $30; Tiffany Dawn Engelsrud, 19, Thief River Falls, $30; Todd Arlin Hagen, 27, Grand Forks, ND, $50; Susan Beth Keefe, 27, Grand Forks, $50; Susan Beth Keefe, 27, Thief River Falls, $82.55; Rebecca Lea Landrus, 27, Hampden, ND, $38; Brock Damon Newland, 25, Thief River Falls, $35; Jacquelin Ann Hernandez, 38, Brooks, $154.36; Patrick Lynn Robinson, 25, Thief River Falls, $300; Cindy Janette Sorenson, 36, Roseau, $35; John Phillip Riski, 24, Grafton, ND, $56; Jeffrey George Hyduk, 34, Michigin City, Indiana, $391.06; April Louise Story, 19, Grand Forks, ND, $36.70; Terril James Wallace, 27, Goodridge, $211.

Second grade Brownie Scouts from Troop 690 in Thief River Falls got an assist from Police Sgt. Mark Haugen during a study of fingerprints as part of the "My Body" badge work. The scouts studied the different shapes of fingers and how each person's fingerprints are different from others. Each girl took a copy of her own fingerprints home. Pictured (left to right) with Sgt. Minnesota leads U.S. in making compost

Eight of the 19 municipal solid waste (MSW) composting plants in the United States are operated in Minnesota—including the Future Fuel, Inc. plant in Thief River Falls, according to Tom Halbach, soil scientist at the University of Minnesota.

The other seven Minnesota composting plants operate in Baudette, Benson, Buffalo, Mora, St. Cloud, Preston and Truman.

Along with reducing, reusing and recycling solid waste, composting is identified as an alternative to landfills by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

"Landfills are closing because they have reached capacity or because of more stringent pollution control, "Halbach said, "and new ones have become difficult to site. That's why researchers with the university's agricultural experiment station are reviewing economic and environmental aspects of composting garbage—more accurately termed municipal solid waste.

"Until recently," he said, "composting MSW has been much more expensive than other systems such as landfilling and incineration. Disposal of garbage in landfills is four to seven times more expensive than it was 10 years ago. Composting now appears to be more feasible than it was in the past, although it is not cheap. In 1992, Minnesota composting costs averaged $69 per ton compared with $64 for incineration and $48 for landfilling."

Soil scientist Carl Rosen and horticulture researcher Bert Swanson study vegetable, greenhouse, landscape and nursery crops grown on MSW compost. "Nursery and floriculture crops are a logical use for MSW composts," Swanson says. "They are not used for human or animal consumption and their production practices require large quantities of high quality organic matter.

"We're producing trees and shrubs in containers with these mixtures and having considerable success. Our biggest concern is variability of the compost, and consistency from year to year. Unlike compost added to an open field, it is the major part of the growing media for container-grown plants. It must have consistent quality."

Rosen has also grown lettuce and corn in soil mixed with compost from the St. Cloud plant. That compost included "four times the amount of diapers, compared to normal," he says. This was to determine the effect of one specific waste stream component in the final product.

A higher than normal concentration of diapers was tested because municipal waste contains fecal matter from pets and diapers. "A safety precaution that needs to be considered is potentially harmful pathogens in compost," Halbach says. "the composting process itself is a useful treatment to control fecal pathogens; provided that high enough temperatures are attained during the composting process."

Leaf scorching, a symptom of salt toxicity, was apparent in both corn and lettuce. "Corn is more tolerant than soybeans and small grains are the most tolerant," Rosen

Forums on dealing with stress relating to farming planned

"Meeting the Challenge of a Difficult Year" is the title of a series of forums being planned in the Warren/Alvarado high school as a response to the farm problems caused by an unusually wet summer.

The events are being planned by a "Community Response" committee comprised of pastors, church representatives and state extension service representatives formed to respond to the current farm situation, according to Rev. Shawn MacDonald of Warren, who chairs the committee.

"The financial and emotional stress of the situation impacts all areas of our agriculturally-base communities, including farm families, merchants, schools, churches and other organizations," Rev. MacDonald said. "These forums will address topics of dealing with the disaster on an emotional level and coping with the added stress on the farm and in the community."

Forums identical in format will be held Saturday, November 13, at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, November 14, at 2 p.m. in the high school in Warren. Both are free and open to the public. Speaker will be Dr. Val Farmer, clinical psychologist and columnist for "Farm and Ranch Journal" and "The Fargo Forum Green Sheet." Each forum will include a time for questions from the audience for Dr. Farmer and refreshments will be served by Warren area churches.

A seminar for resource persons from various organization and agencies will also be held on Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m. with Dr. Farmer as the speaker. It will include a panel discussion by several local resource persons and opportunity for area professionals and resource persons to discuss ways of responding to the crisis.

"Pastors, social workers, mental health workers, teachers, agricultural lenders, extension agents, law enforcement officers, elected officials, doctors and any others who work with farmers, their families and others impacted by the situation are encouraged to attend this seminar," Rev. MacDonald said. "There is no cost, but pre-registration is encouraged."

Grain farmers more likely to get asthma

A new study has found that grain farmers are more likely to develop asthma because of their exposure to grain dust, according to the American Lung Association of Minnesota.

"Grain farmers are exposed to potential allergies in grain dust and other dusts, as well as chemicals resulting from pesticide and fertilizer usage," states Richard C. Woellner, M.D., president of the association. "This study shows that grain farming and cigarette smoking are significant risk factors for asthma and asthma-like symptoms."

Previous studies have shown that grain workers may develop asthma from grain dust, but the latest study, published in the September issue of "American Review of Respiratory Disease," is the first to demonstrate the problem among grain farmers.

An air-purifying respirator and goggles will decrease the amount of hazardous dust inhaled. Using vacuum cleaning equipment rather than dry sweeping will also decrease dust exposure. Good cleaning practices and maintenance will help keep dust levels down.

Several thefts among reports to law enforcement officials

Several thefts have taken place in the last two weeks.

Thefts. On October 19 at 11:29 a.m. Aaron Halvorson, route 2, Thief River Falls, reported that tools were taken from the back of his pickup. The theft loss was estimated at $78.

On October 20 at 12:15 p.m. Kmart reported that someone took two multi-plier sets valued at $98.

On October 20 at 8:08 p.m. Dr. Ernest Thorsgaard, route 4, Thief River Falls, reported that his wallet, which contained $140 in cash, was taken from the Franklin Middle School swimming pool locker room while he was swimming. The total theft loss was estimated at $160.

On October 21 Hugo's reported that someone had not returned a video valued at $20. Denise Beito, Thief River Falls, age 22, was cited for theft under $200.

On October 14 The Queen reported two games had been rented and not returned. The loss was estimated at $109.98. Joel Pritchett, 25, Thief River Falls, was cited for theft under $200.

On October 21 three movies had been rented from Hugo's and not returned. The theft loss was estimated at $60. Andrew Paul Dennis, 21, route 1, Thief River Falls, was cited for theft under $200.

On October 21 a movie was rented from Hugo's and not returned. Heather Borgen, 18, Thief River Falls, was cited for theft under $200.

On October 24 at 9:02 a.m. Chad Erickson, Fargo, reported that someone had taken his 1982 Buick Skylark, which had been parked behind Swede's Bar. He said the keys had been left in the ignition. Later, friends contacted Erickson reporting that they had found the car three miles north of the city on Highway 32 and it would not start. Upon investigation, police learned that a man had given another man a ride into town because his car was stalled. The description of the hitchhiker was that of the owner of the vehicle. Chad Lee Erickson, 20, Fargo, ND, was charged with falsely reporting a crime.

On October 26 at 5 p.m. police received information about a shoplifter at Corner Drug. A young man had been observed leaving the store with a package, which he put in a trash container outside of the store. The young man and his companion later returned and picked up the package, One 15-year-old male from route 3, Thief River Falls, was charged with shoplifting. A second 15-year-old male from Thief River Falls was charged with receiving stolen property. An electric toothbrush valued at over $120 was recovered. The youth who allegedly took the electric toothbrush also allegedly confessed to taking a phone recorder from a store in Grand Forks.

On October 29 police cited Linus Wayne Berberich, Brooks, age 51, with theft under $200 following an investeigation into the theft of a scanner from a local residence.

On October 31 at 2:36 a.m. Crookston police requested the assistance of the Thief River Falls police in locating a vehicle stolen from the Crookston area. Thief River Falls police located the vehicle in Riverview trailer court and had it impounded. The incident is still under investigation.

Accidents. Icy roads caused several small accidents on Thursday, October 28. Police recorded six accidents, including a hit-and-run still under investigation, Thursday evening. There was one in the high school parking lot, one at Third and LaBree, two at Third and Main, one in the 300 block of North Tindolph and one at Nora and Markley.

On October 19 at 7:35 a.m. police received a report of an accident on 10th street just west of Main Avenue. According to the accident report, Denis Rathcke, route 2, Sebeka, was going east on 10th street when he struck a light pole causing about $850 damage to the light pole.

Police investigated an accident that happened at Duluth and First that was reported at 3:11 p.m. on October 19. According to the report, Anita Marie Hamm, route 5, Thief River Falls, was going south on Duluth and turning east onto First street and a Blazer driven by Rhonda Noel, Thief River Falls, was going west on First. Upon collision, the Hamm vehicle slid around and collided with a car driven by Jeffrey Issendorf, route 1, Thief River Falls, which was traveling west on First but had stopped in traffic because of the accident. The Hamm vehicle continued sliding and struck a parked car owned by Scott Heatherington, which was parked facing west. Damages were estimated at $200 to the Hamm vehicle, over $500 to the Noel vehicle, $100 to the Issendorf vehicle, and over $500 to the Heatherington vehicle. There were no injuries in the accident. Hamm was cited for failure to yield.

Police investigated an accident at First and Highway 59, which was reported at 10:36 a.m. October 20. According to the report, Danile Johnson, Viking was driving a car north on Highway 59 and in the left turning lane, waiting for a light to change. Virgil Burger, Thief River Falls, was also going north in the left turning lane when his vehicle struck the rear of the Johnson vehicle. Damage was estimated at $600 to the Burger vehicle.

An accident at Seventh and Arnold was reported to police at 5:08 p.m. October 19. According to the police report, Vanja Mable Anderson, Thief River Falls, was going west on Seventh and turning south onto Arnold when her vehicle was struck by a van driven by Rhonda Kimball, which was also going north on Arnold. Damages were estimated at $1,000 to the Anderson vehicle and $800 to the Kimball vehicle.

Vandalism. Incidents of windows being broken with rocks or pellets were reported to police last week. Police also received numerous reports of pumpkins being smashed.

On October 26 police received a report from Jane Shafland that someone had broken out the back window of her car with a rock. Damage loss was estimated at $200.

On October 26 a local resident reported that someone had broken a window at her residence with a B-B or pellet. Damage loss was estimated at $100.

On October 19 at 10:16 a.m. a local citizen reported that a sign and post had been damaged at the corner of Taft and Merriam. The citizen observed someone in a pick-up attempt to pull the sign over. Damage to the sign was estimated at $50.

On October 29 at 10:47 a.m. Florence Faiman, Thief River Falls, reported damage to the foundation of her house. She believes someone backed into the foundation with a vehicle knocking one block out and damaging some siding. Damage loss was estimated at $400.

Alcohol. Following the investigation of a loud party complaint, officers observed street signs hanging on the wall of the apartment. The rentors were spoken to and Shannon Berger, Badger, was cited for possession of highway signs.

On October 20 at 10:26 p.m. police responded to a complaint of a loud party in the 400 block of South Duluth. Upon investigation of the complaint, the following were cited for consumption under age: John Kenneth Nelson, 20, Erskine; Darren Ufford, 20, route 5, Kelliher; Trevor Monson, 19, route 2, Fertile; David Moran, 19, route 2, Erskine; Benjamin Hagen, 19, Fertile; Ethan Weiby, 19, Erskine; Travis Finseth, 19, route 1, Trail; Shawn Marie Simon, 19, route 4, Waubun; and Michael Lindberg, 18, Fertile.

On October 22 at 1:40 a.m. police investigated a loud party complaint in the 100 block of North State. Citations for contributing to the delinquency of minors and consumption under age were issued to Bobbie Jo Scholin, 19, Thief River Falls. Citations for consumption under age were issued to the following: William Patrick Hughes, 18, Thief River Falls; Darin James Adams, 19, route 2, Goodridge; and Tina Marie Poole, 18, Thief River Falls; Nichole Emmons, 18, Thief river Falls; a 15-year-old female from Thief River Falls; and a 17-year-old female from Thief River Falls.

On October 26 at 10:58 p.m. police received a request to investigate a problem at the Best Western. A young person allegedly entered the lounge and didn't appear to be old enough. Jeremy Scott York, 19, Newfolden, was cited for misrepresentation of age and using a driver's license of another individual. The driver's license was confiscated.

On October 31 at 1:58 a.m. police received a complaint about a loud party at a residence in Riverview trailer court. The following individuals were cited for consumption under age after police investigated the complaint: Brent Kurtti, route 1, Mylo, ND, age 19; Lynn Samuelson, Sarles, ND, age 19; Trent Anderson, Cando, ND, 19; Jeffrey David Brown, Hannah, ND, age 18; Paul Beck, New London, MN, age 20; Jason Lee Anderson, Thief River Falls, age 19; and Timothy Biby, Wales, ND, age 20. Shawn Arthur Jensen, Lakeville, 21, was cited for furnishing alcohol to minors.

Assaults. On October 21 police received a report of a fight between two juvenile boys. One had been struck on the chest and had scratches and cuts on his arms where he had fallen. A 14-year-old youth was charged with fifth degree assault.

On October 21 at 5:30 p.m. police received a report of an assault in the 200 block of North LaBree. David Sorum, 41, was cited with fifth degree assault after allegedly refusing to leave a car he was riding in and striking a woman with his fist.

On October 22 at 12:28 a.m. police received a request to go to the Best Western because of a fight at the back door of the motel. Police found a man lying on the sidewalk who was bleeding from a cut on his head. Three men are alleged to have jumped him as he came out of the building. The man fell in the attack and struck his head on the bumper of a vehicle.

On October 17 at 5:26 p.m. an officer on patrol was flagged down by a person in a local parking lot. There had been a disagreement between him and another man who he alleged, hit him in the face and side of the head. Thomas James Whelan, Roseville, age 49, was cited with fifth degree assault.

On October 28 police cited a 16-year-old female from Thief River Falls for fifth degree assault following a report from a man who alleged that the young girl struck him in the face with a shoe.

Bad checks pose problem for community and law enforcement

Bad checks are a problem. The Pennington County sheriff's department has been trying a number of different approaches to solving this problem.

In 1991, the sheriff's department received 1,506 checks for collection. They recorded a 90 per cent collection rate. The number of checks received for collection in 1992 was about the same, and a sheriff's department spokesperson estimates that there will be over 1,400 checks turned in for collection in 1993.

It's not only a problem for the sheriff's department and the check writer. It's a problem for local merchants and shoppers. The loss is often passed on to other shoppers in higher costs, and to taxpayers who pay salaries of individuals needed to collect on those bad checks.

MacDonald said. "These forums will address topics of dealing with the disaster on an emotional level and coping with the added stress on the farm and in the community."

Forums identical in format will be held Saturday, November 13, at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, November 14, at 2 p.m. in the high school in Warren. Both are free and open to the public. Speaker will be Dr. Val Farmer, clinical psychologist and columnist for "Farm and Ranch Journal" and "The Fargo Forum Green Sheet." Each forum will include a time for questions from the audience for Dr. Farmer and refreshments will be served by Warren area churches.

A seminar for resource persons from various organization and agencies will also be held on Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m. with Dr. Farmer as the speaker. It will include a panel discussion by several local resource persons and opportunity for area professionals and resource persons to discuss ways of responding to the crisis.

"Pastors, social workers, mental health workers, teachers, agricultural lenders, extension agents, law enforcement officers, elected officials, doctors and any others who work with farmers, their families and others impacted by the situation are encouraged to attend this seminar," Rev. MacDonald said. "There is no cost, but pre-registration is encouraged."

Grain farmers more likely to get asthma

A new study has found that grain farmers are more likely to develop asthma because of their exposure to grain dust, according to the American Lung Association of Minnesota.

"Grain farmers are exposed to potential allergies in grain dust and other dusts, as well as chemicals resulting from pesticide and fertilizer usage," states Richard C. Woellner, M.D., president of the association. "This study shows that grain farming and cigarette smoking are significant risk factors for asthma and asthma-like symptoms."

Previous studies have shown that grain workers may develop asthma from grain dust, but the latest study, published in the September issue of "American Review of Respiratory Disease," is the first to demonstrate the problem among grain farmers.

An air-purifying respirator and goggles will decrease the amount of hazardous dust inhaled. Using vacuum cleaning equipment rather than dry sweeping will also decrease dust exposure. Good cleaning practices and maintenance will help keep dust levels down.

Whole Wheat BIBLE STUDY

Are we doing enough?

After you read through this Bible study, go back and look up the Scriptures and highlight them in your Bible.

It is common for people who have just started doing the Will of God to say, "I don't feel like I'm doing enough!" These people are actually fulfilling the Scripture that commands us to work out our salvation with fear and trembling (Phil. 2:12). They are very concerned that they are pleasing God in all they are doing, yet they know they have not attained their goal. In reality, it would be sick if they said, "I think I'm doing too much for God!"

The first attitude is beautiful because it gives the incentive to want to do more. In order to do more, we must not remain foolish. We must find out completely what the Will of God is, so we can grow in respect to godliness (Eph. 5:17). We are no longer to live the way the world lives, conforming to this world; but we are to renew our minds by finding out and proving what the Will of God is. Then, we must perform God's Will in our daily lives (1 Peter 4:2; 2:12, 15). This is what transforms us into godly people, which we are practicing to be and we desire to be. This is how we become godly people who imitate God in our daily behavior (Eph. 5:1).

If we are going to be perfect, as our heavenly Father is perfect, then we are going to have to practice (Matt. 5:48; John 3:21). We know practice makes perfect, especially when God is causing the growth and doing the perfecting (1 Cor. 3:7; Col. 2:19; 1 Peter 5:10).

We are to be pleasing to God from now on, walking in newness of life (2 Cor. 5:9; Rom. 6:4). We must consider our old way of life as dead and be alive to God in Christ Jesus by being happy slaves of righteousness (Rom. 6:11, 18). All things will become new as we become new creatures (2 Cor. 5:17; Gal. 6:15). We cannot become weary in doing good if we want to have Christ's nature formed in us (Gal. 6:9; 4:19; 2 Thess. 3:13). We will suffer a little until God perfects us (1 Peter 5:10).

Think only good thoughts, say only good things and be filled with the knowledge of God's Will (Phil. 4:8; 1 Peter 4:11; Col. 1:9-10). In due time, if we are rich in good works and if we study to show ourselves approved to God, the Lord will give us understanding in everything (1 Tim. 6:18; 2 Tim. 2:7, 15; 1 John 2:27).

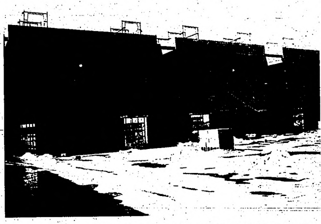
Steel rafters await being lifted into place at the Challenger elementary school south of Thief River Falls. Most of the concrete block walls are up, many of the rafters are in place, some roof decking has been installed and roof insulation was being installed last week. Some of the concrete floors were also being poured as workers attempt to get the building enclosed before much snow flies. Interior work will continue throughout the winter.



Gymnasium walls tower above the visitor to the Challenger elementary school project south of Thief River Falls. Much of the concrete floor has been poured in this area of the building.

Minnesota leads U.S. in making compost

says. "I feel there will be more applications with field crops than vegetable crops because they are further away from humans in the food chain."

Some plants were given additional fertilizer containing nitrogen (N), phosphorus (P) and potassium (K). "While lettuce growth increased with both composts, results clearly show the need to apply fertilizer to compost-amended soil to obtain adequate growth," Rosen says.

"We analyzed the N-P-K, trace elements, heavy metals, carbon to nitrogen ratios, and physical structure of the compost, Rosen says. "We found variability is a problem for both the plant operators and the end user."

Batch variability of compost is a major problem. While one load can be high in nitrogen and make an ideal fertilizer, the next batch may actually take nitrogen away from a crop.

Variability comes about in many ways. "Think of your own garbage," Halbach suggests. "Most of the time you may have average stuff, but then you have a party, or clean out the garage or attic and throw out a huge load of different junk. Yet it all goes in to be composted."

The speed at which materials compost varies by the type of garbage it starts as. Sugar products decay in two or three days, carbohydrates in three or four weeks. Paper takes months, and wood chips take years. Plastics take centuries, so some composting plants try to remove them before composting.

Minnesota is the national leader in compost research. Much of the University of Minnesota's work is funded by the Minnesota Office of Waste Management. Information from this project will be used to develop standards governing uses of the end products.

The standards may end up similar to those for sewage sludge that is used as fertilizer. For over 20 years, university researchers have monitored the effects of sewage sludge on cropland at the Rosemount Agricultural Experiment Station.

Halbach has completed a 16-page publication entitled "Municipal Solid Waste Composting: Is It Right for Your Community?" It provides an objective framework to help public officials considering composting as a means of municipal waste disposal.

"The ability to market, or even give away, MSW compost will depend on producing a uniform and safe product," Halbach says. Safety considerations include eliminating pathogens, toxic heavy metals, glass and other sharp debris."

The publication is available for $3.95 from the Distribution Center, Room 20, Coffey hall, 1420 Eckles Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55108-6069. Order item NR-BU-6179-ME2 and make checks payable to the University of Minnesota. A 10 per cent discount is available on orders of 10 or more copies. Minnesota residents must add state sales tax of 6.5 per cent to their orders.

"Find Out What Quality Care Is Really About!"

If You're Considering Refractive Eye Surgery, Here Are Five Reasons Why You'll Want to Talk to Northwest Eye Centers:
1. EXPERIENCE
2. EXPERIENCE
3. EXPERIENCE
4. EXPERIENCE
5. EXPERIENCE
Setting the Standard for Refractive Surgery Excellence, Quality Eye Care, and Patient Safety. No other eye clinics in Northwestern Minnesota have more extensive clinical experience than Northwest Eye Centers. So it comes as no surprise that we're the preferred choice among families for: comprehensive eye care, quality optical services, and refractive eye surgery.
Richard L. Lindstrom, M.D.
Consultative Ophthalmology
Refractive & Laser Surgery
A World-Renowned Refractive Eye Surgeon in the North Country. Dr. Richard L. Lindstrom is widely regarded as a leader in corneal, cataract, refractive, and laser eye surgery. And now, we are able to offer Dr. Lindstrom's world class corneal and refractive surgery services to our patients.
Over 3,000 Refractive Surgeries Performed. Since 1980, Dr. Lindstrom has performed more refractive procedures to correct nearsightedness, farsightedness, and astigmatism in patients than anyone else in Minnesota. The 20 minute outpatient procedure can correct vision to 20/40 or better in 90% of the cases. It's virtually painless, and most patients return to work in a couple of days.
Committed to Achieving the Best Clinical Outcome for Our Patients. Dr. Lindstrom and our eye care specialists provide the full spectrum of diagnostic and refractive surgical procedures - not just the radial keratotomy procedure. So we're able to offer patients the best refractive surgical procedure based upon their needs and lifestyle and job limitations.
A Unique Association of Optometry and Ophthalmology, Serving Northwestern Minnesota. With offices throughout Northwestern Minnesota, we're able to provide for your total eye care needs. And, our offices accept Medicare assignment for most procedures. So, whether you're interested in a new pair of glasses or contact lenses, or learning more about refractive eye surgery, stop in one of our seven convenient eye care centers today.
"Richard Lindstrom, M.D., I used to take allergy medication for itchy, watery eyes — which made my contact lenses very uncomfortable and blurred my vision significantly. Now it's great not to have to hassle with contact lenses. When I awake in the morning, I am still amazed at being able to see clearly the moment I open my eyes. Thanks!"

Some Regulations Have Bear-ly Any Sense

You can use it on a dead bear,
You can use in on bear stew,
But don't use it on a live bear
If the bear is after you.

That is our way of lyricizing the comments of U.S. Sen. Frank H. Murkowski, who was commenting on the removal of a bear repellent from the shelves of Alaska stores. His actual words were, "It seems like you can use it on a dead bear, you can use it in a bear stew, but you cannot use it on a live bear if the bear is after you."

A few years ago the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) got caught in a bureaucratic snafu when it banned the use of Red Dye #2 in rat poison....because it had been shown to cause cancer in laboratory rats.

Now it has banned BearGuard, one of several pepper sprays used by Alaskans to ward off unwanted bears—not entirely unlike the way in which Mace is used by citizens in the 48 contiguous states to discourage muggers. Smell of the pepper spray usually encourages a bear to move on to other quarters.

Bears are serious business in Alaska where state officials estimate there are some 100,000 of the animals—black bears, grizzly and brown bears and polar bears. Although Alaska is sparsely populated, bears and people come into conflict not infrequently as they find themselves in the same territory, such as along the rivers during the salmon runs or when bears wander into villages seeking food. Last year two people, including a six-year-old boy, were eaten by bears in Alaska.

Alaskans living in bear country don't always want to carry high powered rifles with them for protection against bears, nor do many Alaskans want to kill bears they consider to be a nuisance or even a threat. So the pepper sprays have become popular choices to keep bears at a distance.

Earlier this year the EPA ordered BearGuard removed from store shelves because it had not been registered as a pesticide nor tested for effectiveness against bears. Many Alaskans apparently attest to the effectiveness, but the law requires EPA to base its regulations on scientific tests, not personal recommendations.

We don't know how a company would go about testing its product in a case like this. To use confined bears in a controlled setting would probably bring down the wrath of the Humane Society, SPCA, FATE and any number of other animal rights organizations. To give a person a can of spray and send him or her out by a salmon stream to provoke an attack by a bear so he or she could give it a shot of BearGuard and see if it prevents a mauling doesn't seem real smart, and the number of people willing to take on that kind of research would be rather limited.

The irony here is that the EPA has no objection to pepper spray sold as a defense against human attackers, because the agency has no jurisdiction over sprays used on humans. The obvious solution, it would appear, given the creativity of U.S. business, would be to produce the same product and label it as a repellent for human attackers.

That simple solution is thwarted by the more practical Canadians, since much of what is shipped into or out of Alaska must go through Canada. Canadian law prohibits sale of any aerosol pepper labelled as generic self-defense spray, but if it is labelled as a defense against bears or other animals, that makes it okay.

Sen. Murkowski noted that while the EPA is obliged to enforce the law, the agency admits that the spray is probably safe to eat, if not to smell, hence his comment on how it could be legally used as seasoning rather than repellent. All of which doesn't make a whole lot of common sense, but is rather indicative of the way we can expect government to look our for our best interests, no matter where we live.

When Donating To Charity, Use Your Head As Well As Your Heart

Many organizations do much of their fund-raising during the last couple of months of the year when people have a tendency to be in a more festive and charitable frame of mind and some potential donors are looking at how contributions might apply to their income tax situation.

While many organizations seeking contributions are worthy of support, there are others willing to take your money with little interest in using it for truly worthy causes. Quite frequently these organizations use names similar to the established and legitimate ones in an effort to capitalize on the confusion.

Before you make any substantial donation, be sure you are familiar with the recipient. The organization should be legally registered to raise money in this state. Take your time making up your mind; don't let anyone pressure you into an immediate decision. Ask questions; read written material carefully; find out how your contribution will be used. Sometimes it is better to seek out a proven charity rather than donate to one that solicits from you. Any make your donations by check rather than in cash. Cash donations are very vulnerable to fraud.

The Minnesota Attorney General's office also lists the following suggestions:

- Don't be too quick to judge a charity by its impressive name. Copy cat names and logos are common.
- Be wary of pressure to make an immediate contribution. Any charity worthy of your gift is willing to wait until tomorrow to get your money.
- Take time to ask questions. For instance, ask how much of your contribution will actually go to the charity. And keep asking until you're satisfied about the charity's program and activities.
- Find out if the person asking for money is a professional fund-raiser. If so, a large part of your contribution may simply be used to pay the fund-raiser.

Charities are required to register with the Attorney General's office before they solicit for donations in Minnesota. If you have questions about a particular charity, call the Attorney General's office at 1-800-657-3787.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Tuesday, October 12, the "Grand Forks Herald" ran two articles: Page one by David Briggs (Associated Press) entitled "ELCA report on sexuality—Love is what counts" and Page 5-A "Area Lutherans stress report is not church doctrine yet," by Stephen J. Less, "Herald" staff writer.

The first stated "masturbation is healthy, the Bible supports homosexual unions and teaching teens how to use condoms to prevent disease is a moral imperative, says a talk force leading the nation's largest Lutheran body into the sex wars."

It was the statement "the Bible supports homosexual unions" that troubles me. I suppose if you make the lie big enough and repeat it often enough, people will believe it. This has long been the credo of the professional propagandist. We have seen a parade of some "important big name" people coming out of the closet and declaring their homosexuality, we have listened to army officers in Europe declare the same, but does that make it right?

I can say that white is black and black is white but does that change the truth? Solomon in Ecclesiastes 1:9 says, "there is nothing new under the sun." Ever since the fruit eating experience in Genesis, man has been trying to cover his sin, or justify his evil ways by sewing fig leaves together.

I would like to let the Lutheran Task Force know what the Bible really says about homosexuality. Isaiah 5:18 reads, "Woe to those who drag their sins behind them like a bullock on a rope." They even mock the Holy One of Israel and dare the Lord to punish them. "Hurry up and punish us, O Lord," they say. "We want to see what you can do!" They say that what is right is wrong, and what is wrong is right; that black is white and white is black; bitter is sweet and sweet is bitter. Just like the people during the times of the Judges when every man did that which was right in their own eyes (Judges 21:25).

For the Lutheran Task Force to come out and say that the Bible supports homosexuality is a blatant lie. Nowhere in the Bible do we read that God is pleased or confirms the homosexuality of today nor in any other day.

Read if you will Leviticus 18:22, which states homosexuality is absolutely forbidden, for it is an enormous SIN. The verse ends that this is a terrible perversion.

Leviticus 20:13 reads, "The penalty for homosexual acts is death to BOTH parties. They have brought it upon themselves." This doesn't sound to me like God supports homosexual unions. Could it be that this task force is believing what it wants to believe? Certainly it can't find its thinking confirmed in the Bible.

(Here the letter writer quotes Romans 1:21-27, which includes: "So God let them go ahead into every sort of sex sin, and do whatever they wanted to—yes, vile and sinful things with each other's bodies. Instead of believing what they knew was the truth about God, they deliberately chose to believe lies. So they prayed to the things God made, but wouldn't obey the blessed God who made these things. That is why God let go of them and let them do all these evil things, so that even their women turned against God's natural plan for them and indulged in sex sins with each other. And men, instead of having a normal sex relationship with women, burned with lust for each other, men doing shameful things with other men and as a result, getting paid within their own souls with the penalty they so richly deserved.")

Take time to read the account of Sodom and Gomorrah in Genesis 19. Why did God destroy these two cities of the plains? It was because of their homosexuality....There is nothing right about the gay lifestyle. I am not against the persons—it is their lifestyle that is wrong....It is when you endeavor to call wrong right and evil good that it is perversion.

We live in a day when the television networks are so bombarding my home—and yours—with sex so explicit and violence so gory that children aren't even permitted to watch it in a movie theater. Casual sex, deviant sexual behavior, profanity, rape, incest, prostitution and psychotic violence are presented as normal, everyday events!

Look again at Romans I. The abandonment to immorality was the judicial consequence of apostasy. Think about it. Where are we headed today in America?

However, I believe there is still hope. Romans 1:16-17 declares "For I am not ashamed of the Good News about Christ." It is God's powerful method of bringing all who believe it to heaven. Everyone is invited to come to God in this same way....

Let me close with this thought. The evil that a man does has its beginning in the heart. I read the other day about the way worms get into apples. The worm does not burrow into the apple from the outside. According to those who study such things, the worm comes from the inside.

An insect will lay an egg in the apple blossom, and later the egg will hatch. The worm will then begin to eat its way out of the apple.

You see, evil is born in the heart of man and then, like the worm in the apple, makes its way out to cause its damage. Our lives mirror what is in our hearts. The offense of homosexuality is the abandonment of the divinely constituted order in reference to sex. It is the burning of an insatiable lust that has no natural desire, it is lust directed to something that is essentially and under all circumstances illegitimate, and as such, a shameful thing.

God gave His only Son to help the condition of mankind. What have you done with Jesus?

Respectfully submitted by a pastor who is truly concerned for people.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

How important is our choice of words? In one of your recent papers, I read an article about "bibs" for nursing homes. Several years ago, most hospitals and nursing homes quit using adult "diapers" because of the infantile connotations associated with them. My wishes are that "bibs" may be replaced with "aprons."

I have known many dignified people in nursing homes, including my mother. Like many others, she did not choose to be in a nursing home, but we had no other choice. However, her mind was good, and I'm sure that she was grateful for everything that was done to help her preserve her self-respect.

Someday, you and I may have to reside in a nursing home, and I'm quite positive that we, too, will appreciate being treated with dignity; but for now, let's support those who sew the "aprons," or maybe, we could even help sew them.

Sincerely,
Lucy Aasland

From The Times Files of Fifty Years Ago

Schools Give Out 10,875 Ration Books

"During the recent registration for Ration Book IV conducted in the schools of Pennington county, a total of 10,375 books were issued, it was announced this week by Miss Barbara Votava, chief clerk of the local ration board. Of the total, 6,134 books were issued in Thief River Falls schools and 4,241 in the village and rural schools of the county."

Few Acts of Vandalism Reported

"Although a few scattered instances of Hallowe'en vandalism were reported in the city Saturday night, the offenses, according to Police Chief L. W. Knadle, were much less numerous than years before the custom of holding community Hallowe'en parties was instituted. The decline in the activities of the pranksters also is ascribed in part to a prevalent feeling that such acts constitute a form of sabotage in wartime. Major offense reported to police consisted of the tipping over of several of the few remaining outhouses in the city."

Gustafson Corn Day Program Set

"Entries in the seed corn contest and exhibit sponsored by C. Gustafson & Son will be received at the company's office on Main av. up to next Wednesday noon, with the program to be held in the evening in the spacious display room, C. D. Gustafson, proprietor, announced today. Local growers wishing to compete for $50 in prizes, as well as blue, red and white ribbons, are invited to submit ten samples of their best ear corn."

Schools in City to Observe Education Week

"With 'Education for Victory' as the theme, the 23rd annual American Education Week November 7 to 13 will be appropriately observed in the Thief River Falls public schools, Supt. Philip L. Fjelstad announced today. Open house will be held in each of the three grade school buildings. Light refreshments will be served in each school at the close of the last class. Parents are also invited to visit classes in the Lincoln senior-junior high school any day next week."

Mantoux Testing Opens in Lincoln

"The tuberculosis Mantoux testing program, now well underway in the rural areas of the county, will start Monday in Lincoln high school under the direction of Dr. Baldwin Borreson, assisted by Mrs. Clara G. Paulson, school nurse, and Miss Ann Sward, county nurse. It was announced that parents and pre-school children are invited to take the test at the time in any of the grade schools."

County to Share in Planning for Post-War Needs

"A post-war planning meeting will be held November 18 in Crookston when representatives of Norman, Polk, Marshall, Kittson, Roseau, Pennington and Red Lake counties will gather and discuss proposed projects. The meeting was arranged when E. W. Moeller of the Minnesota public works planning project held a conference at Crookston with representatives of several nearby cities. Post-war planning boards will be set up in each of the northwestern Minnesota counties and six sub-divisions arranged for the furtherance of projects."

The Times' Editorial Opinion

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Some Regulations Have Bear-ly Any Sense

You can use it on a dead bear,
You can use in on bear stew,
But don't use it on a live bear
If the bear is after you.

That is our way of lyricizing the comments of U.S. Sen. Frank H. Murkowski, who was commenting on the removal of a bear repellent from the shelves of Alaska stores. His actual words were, "It seems like you can use it on a dead bear, you can use it in a bear stew, but you cannot use it on a live bear if the bear is after you."

A few years ago the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) got caught in a bureaucratic snafu when it banned the use of Red Dye #2 in rat poison....because it had been shown to cause cancer in laboratory rats.

Now it has banned BearGuard, one of several pepper sprays used by Alaskans to ward off unwanted bears—not entirely unlike the way in which Mace is used by citizens in the 48 contiguous states to discourage muggers. Smell of the pepper spray usually encourages a bear to move on to other quarters.

Bears are serious business in Alaska where state officials estimate there are some 100,000 of the animals—black bears, grizzly and brown bears and polar bears. Although Alaska is sparsely populated, bears and people come into conflict not infrequently as they find themselves in the same territory, such as along the rivers during the salmon runs or when bears wander into villages seeking food. Last year two people, including a six-year-old boy, were eaten by bears in Alaska.

Alaskans living in bear country don't always want to carry high powered rifles with them for protection against bears, nor do many Alaskans want to kill bears they consider to be a nuisance or even a threat. So the pepper sprays have become popular choices to keep bears at a distance.

Earlier this year the EPA ordered BearGuard removed from store shelves because it had not been registered as a pesticide nor tested for effectiveness against bears. Many Alaskans apparently attest to the effectiveness, but the law requires EPA to base its regulations on scientific tests, not personal recommendations.

We don't know how a company would go about testing its product in a case like this. To use confined bears in a controlled setting would probably bring down the wrath of the Humane Society, SPCA, FATE and any number of other animal rights organizations. To give a person a can of spray and send him or her out by a salmon stream to provoke an attack by a bear so he or she could give it a shot of BearGuard and see if it prevents a mauling doesn't seem real smart, and the number of people willing to take on that kind of research would be rather limited.

The irony here is that the EPA has no objection to pepper spray sold as a defense against human attackers, because the agency has no jurisdiction over sprays used on humans. The obvious solution, it would appear, given the creativity of U.S. business, would be to produce the same product and label it as a repellent for human attackers.

That simple solution is thwarted by the more practical Canadians, since much of what is shipped into or out of Alaska must go through Canada. Canadian law prohibits sale of any aerosol pepper labelled as generic self-defense spray, but if it is labelled as a defense against bears or other animals, that makes it okay.

Sen. Murkowski noted that while the EPA is obliged to enforce the law, the agency admits that the spray is probably safe to eat, if not to smell, hence his comment on how it could be legally used as seasoning rather than repellent. All of which doesn't make a whole lot of common sense, but is rather indicative of the way we can expect government to look our for our best interests, no matter where we live.

When Donating To Charity, Use Your Head As Well As Your Heart

Many organizations do much of their fund-raising during the last couple of months of the year when people have a tendency to be in a more festive and charitable frame of mind and some potential donors are looking at how contributions might apply to their income tax situation.

While many organizations seeking contributions are worthy of support, there are others willing to take your money with little interest in using it for truly worthy causes. Quite frequently these organizations use names similar to the established and legitimate ones in an effort to capitalize on the confusion.

Before you make any substantial donation, be sure you are familiar with the recipient. The organization should be legally registered to raise money in this state. Take your time making up your mind; don't let anyone pressure you into an immediate decision. Ask questions; read written material carefully; find out how your contribution will be used. Sometimes it is better to seek out a proven charity rather than donate to one that solicits from you. Any make your donations by check rather than in cash. Cash donations are very vulnerable to fraud.

The Minnesota Attorney General's office also lists the following suggestions:

- Don't be too quick to judge a charity by its impressive name. Copy cat names and logos are common.
- Be wary of pressure to make an immediate contribution. Any charity worthy of your gift is willing to wait until tomorrow to get your money.
- Take time to ask questions. For instance, ask how much of your contribution will actually go to the charity. And keep asking until you're satisfied about the charity's program and activities.
- Find out if the person asking for money is a professional fund-raiser. If so, a large part of your contribution may simply be used to pay the fund-raiser.

Charities are required to register with the Attorney General's office before they solicit for donations in Minnesota. If you have questions about a particular charity, call the Attorney General's office at 1-800-657-3787.

Letters To The Editor and Corrections

Letters To The Editor: The Times encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in The Times exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The Times believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will no longer withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by The Times for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, The Times encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention at 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

How important is our choice of words? In one of your recent papers, I read an article about "bibs" for nursing homes. Several years ago, most hospitals and nursing homes quit using adult "diapers" because of the infantile connotations associated with them. My wishes are that "bibs" may be replaced with "aprons."

I have known many dignified people in nursing homes, including my mother. Like many others, she did not choose to be in a nursing home, but we had no other choice. However, her mind was good, and I'm sure that she was grateful for everything that was done to help her preserve her self-respect.

Someday, you and I may have to reside in a nursing home, and I'm quite positive that we, too, will appreciate being treated with dignity; but for now, let's support those who sew the "aprons," or maybe, we could even help sew them.

Sincerely,
Lucy Aasland

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Tuesday, October 12, the "Grand Forks Herald" ran two articles: Page one by David Briggs (Associated Press) entitled "ELCA report on sexuality—Love is what counts" and Page 5-A "Area Lutherans stress report is not church doctrine yet," by Stephen J. Less, "Herald" staff writer.

The first stated "masturbation is healthy, the Bible supports homosexual unions and teaching teens how to use condoms to prevent disease is a moral imperative, says a talk force leading the nation's largest Lutheran body into the sex wars."

It was the statement "the Bible supports homosexual unions" that troubles me. I suppose if you make the lie big enough and repeat it often enough, people will believe it. This has long been the credo of the professional propagandist. We have seen a parade of some "important big name" people coming out of the closet and declaring their homosexuality, we have listened to army officers in Europe declare the same, but does that make it right?

I can say that white is black and black is white but does that change the truth? Solomon in Ecclesiastes 1:9 says, "there is nothing new under the sun." Ever since the fruit eating experience in Genesis, man has been trying to cover his sin, or justify his evil ways by sewing fig leaves together.

I would like to let the Lutheran Task Force know what the Bible really says about homosexuality. Isaiah 5:18 reads, "Woe to those who drag their sins behind them like a bullock on a rope." They even mock the Holy One of Israel and dare the Lord to punish them. "Hurry up and punish us, O Lord," they say. "We want to see what you can do!" They say that what is right is wrong, and what is wrong is right; that black is white and white is black; bitter is sweet and sweet is bitter. Just like the people during the times of the Judges when every man did that which was right in their own eyes (Judges 21:25).

For the Lutheran Task Force to come out and say that the Bible supports homosexuality is a blatant lie. Nowhere in the Bible do we read that God is pleased or confirms the homosexuality of today nor in any other day.

Read if you will Leviticus 18:22, which states homosexuality is absolutely forbidden, for it is an enormous SIN. The verse ends that this is a terrible perversion.

Leviticus 20:13 reads, "The penalty for homosexual acts is death to BOTH parties. They have brought it upon themselves." This doesn't sound to me like God supports homosexual unions. Could it be that this task force is believing what it wants to believe? Certainly it can't find its thinking confirmed in the Bible.

(Here the letter writer quotes Romans 1:21-27, which includes: "So God let them go ahead into every sort of sex sin, and do whatever they wanted to—yes, vile and sinful things with each other's bodies. Instead of believing what they knew was the truth about God, they deliberately chose to believe lies. So they prayed to the things God made, but wouldn't obey the blessed God who made these things. That is why God let go of them and let them do all these evil things, so that even their women turned against God's natural plan for them and indulged in sex sins with each other. And men, instead of having a normal sex relationship with women, burned with lust for each other, men doing shameful things with other men and as a result, getting paid within their own souls with the penalty they so richly deserved.")

Take time to read the account of Sodom and Gomorrah in Genesis 19. Why did God destroy these two cities of the plains? It was because of their homosexuality....There is nothing right about the gay lifestyle. I am not against the persons—it is their lifestyle that is wrong....It is when you endeavor to call wrong right and evil good that it is perversion.

We live in a day when the television networks are so bombarding my home—and yours—with sex so explicit and violence so gory that children aren't even permitted to watch it in a movie theater. Casual sex, deviant sexual behavior, profanity, rape, incest, prostitution and psychotic violence are presented as normal, everyday events!

Look again at Romans 1. The abandonment to immorality was the judicial consequence of apostasy. Think about it. Where are we headed today in America?

However, I believe there is still hope. Romans 1:16-17 declares "For I am not ashamed of the Good News about Christ." It is God's powerful method of bringing all who believe it to heaven. Everyone is invited to come to God in this same way....

Let me close with this thought. The evil that a man does has its beginning in the heart. I read the other day about the way worms get into apples. The worm does not burrow into the apple from the outside. According to those who study such things, the worm comes from the inside.

An insect will lay an egg in the apple blossom, and later the egg will hatch. The worm will then begin to eat its way out of the apple.

You see, evil is born in the heart of man and then, like the worm in the apple, makes its way out to cause its damage. Our lives mirror what is in our hearts. The offense of homosexuality is the abandonment of the divinely constituted order in reference to sex. It is the burning of an insatiable lust that has no natural desire, it is lust directed to something that is essentially and under all circumstances illegitimate, and as such, a shameful thing.

God gave His only Son to help the condition of mankind. What have you done with Jesus?

Respectfully submitted by a pastor who is truly concerned for people.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota November 4, 1943

From The Times Files of Fifty Years Ago

Schools Give Out 10,375 Ration Books

"During the recent registration for Ration Book IV conducted in the schools of Pennington county, a total of 10,375 books were issued, it was announced this week by Miss Barbara Votava, chief clerk of the local ration board. Of the total, 6,134 books were issued in Thief River Falls schools and 4,241 in the village and rural schools of the county."

Few Acts of Vandalism Reported

"Although a few scattered instances of Hallowe'en vandalism were reported in the city Saturday night, the offenses, according to Police Chief L. W. Knadle, were much less numerous than years before the custom of holding community Hallowe'en parties was instituted. The decline in the activities of the pranksters also is ascribed in part to a prevalent feeling that such acts constitute a form of sabotage in wartime. Major offense reported to police consisted of the tipping over of several of the few remaining outhouses in the city."

Gustafson Corn Day Program Set

"Entries in the seed corn contest and exhibit sponsored by C. Gustafson & Son will be received at the company's office on Main av. up to next Wednesday noon, with the program to be held in the evening in the spacious display room, C. D. Gustafson, proprietor, announced today. Local growers wishing to compete for $50 in prizes, as well as blue, red and white ribbons, are invited to submit ten samples of their best ear corn."

Schools in City to Observe Education Week

"With 'Education for Victory' as the theme, the 23rd annual American Education Week November 7 to 13 will be appropriately observed in the Thief River Falls public schools, Supt. Philip L. Fjelstad announced today. Open house will be held in each of the three grade school buildings. Light refreshments will be served in each school at the close of the last class. Parents are also invited to visit classes in the Lincoln senior-junior high school any day next week."

Mantoux Testing Opens in Lincoln

"The tuberculosis Mantoux testing program, now well underway in the rural areas of the county, will start Monday in Lincoln high school under the direction of Dr. Baldwin Borreson, assisted by Mrs. Clara G. Paulson, school nurse, and Miss Ann Sward, county nurse. It was announced that parents and pre-school children are invited to take the test at the time in any of the grade schools."

County to Share in Planning for Post-War Needs

"A post-war planning meeting will be held November 18 in Crookston when representatives of Norman, Polk, Marshall, Kittson, Roseau, Pennington and Red Lake counties will gather and discuss proposed projects. The meeting was arranged when E. W. Moeller of the Minnesota public works planning project held a conference at Crookston with *representatives of several near*by cities. Post-war planning boards will be set up in each of the northwestern Minnesota counties and six sub-divisions arranged for the furtherance of projects."

Orrin Bendickson from Bakke Insurance met with the County Board to discuss the Bid Specs that were received for bidding the County's Insurance Plan and what all they wanted included for bidding. Moved by Commissioner Naplin, seconded by Commissioner Jensen to bid the entire insurance plan including the cafeteria plan. Motion unanimously carried.

Howard Person then discussed the disposal of pesticide containers with the County Board. It is now required that all retailers of pesticides allow customers to return the pesticide containers for the retailer to dispose of. Moved by Commissioner Murphy, seconded by Commissioner Jensen to establish a County Wide Pesticide Container Collection Day for 1993 with the County Educator working with retailers on a plan for what will be done in the following years. Motion carried.

Joe Vene from the Northwestern Minnesota Juvenile Training Center gave the County Board an update on the status of the NWMJTC facility and reviewed the many reasons why a new facility is needed. Also present to hear the concerns about building a new facility for the Northwestern Minnesota Juvenile Training Center were Senator LeRoy Stumpf and Representative Tim Finseth.

County Engineer, Delton Schultz met with the County Board along with Peter Erickson and Ray Olson to discuss their concerns with the County Board cleaning the ditches in Section 14 of Numedal Township along CR #65. Moved by Commissioner Murphy, seconded by Commissioner Comstock to direct the County Engineer to work with property owners affected by the cleaning of these ditches to petition to the Middle River/Snake River Watershed to clean JD#25-2 with Pennington County being one of the petitioners. Motion carried.

The County Engineer then discussed the changes that were needed in the contract with Northern Paving for work to be done at the Pennington County Solid Waste Facility. Moved by Commissioner Naplin, seconded by Commissioner Murphy to accept the amended contract with Northern Paving for work to be done at the Pennington County Solid Waste Facility. Motion unanimously carried.

The following resolution was moved by Commissioner Jensen, seconded by Commissioner Murphy and upon vote was unanimously carried.

WHEREAS, No National Highway System roads have been designated in Northwestern Minnesota and;

WHEREAS, National Highway System roads are vitally important to the economic health of a region and;

WHEREAS, U.S. Highway 59 is an important through route serving international trade important to the region of Minnesota, North Dakota and two Canadian Provinces and;

WHEREAS, This route meets all criteria necessary for National Highway System designation;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Pennington County Board of Commissioners that they request U.S. Highway 59 from US Highway 2 to the International Boarder be included as part of the National Highway System for Minnesota.

The County Board then discussed some complaints that had been received regarding the John Ellison, County Veteran Service Officers actions at a district County nurses meeting and for displaying unprofessional behavior during working hours. Moved by Commissioner Murphy, seconded by Commissioner Naplin that a letter of reprimand be written to John Ellison and placed in his file for his action at a District County Nurses Meeting and displaying unprofessional behavior during working hours. Motion unanimously carried.

Gov. names Levinson to state board

Gov. Arne Carlson has appointed Dr. Steve Levinson of Newfolden to the state Board of Invention from the Seventh Congressional District.

The board was created by the 1993 session of the state legislature to encourage the creation, performance and appreciation of invention in the state. One of 11 members appointed by the governor, Dr. Levinson will represent the Seventh District which extends south and east from the Canadian and North Dakota borders to St. Cloud.

In a letter accompanying the official notice of appointment, Gov. Carlson wrote, "Lieutenant Governor Joanell Dyrstad and I are pleased that you are bringing your knowledge, skill and experience to this important position....There are many things we must do. The challenges are enormous, yet with your determination and dedication we can make Minnesota a leader in our country."

Dr. Levinson, who is director of the mental health division at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls, is the inventor of an electronic medical self-improvement device called the MotivAider. He is also president of Behavioral Dynamics, Inc., a Thief River Falls business he co-founded in 1987 to develop, manufacture and market his invention. The MotivAider is in use world-wide in industries as varied as health care, education, business and sports.

Dr. Levinson said he believes that the promotion and support of home-grown innovation is a vitally important economic development strategy. A member of the Northwest Regional Development Commission's Economic Development Planning Committee and creator of Northwest Medical Center's "We Value Innovation" program, he is actively involved in efforts to inspire children to invent and to help area inventors "stay motivated as they try to find their way through the complex maze that separates a good idea from commercial success."

Dr. Levinson's appointment became effective November 6 and will expire the first Monday in January, 1998.

Principles for NCC and TC merger given

Northwest Technical College board has endorsed four principles it believes should guide the process of preparing a plan to "merge, share or consolidate" with Northland Community College, according to Dr. Ray Cross, president and chief executive officer of the Northwest Technical College.

Last spring the state legislature mandated that all "co-located" technical and community college campuses—such as Northland Community College and the Thief River Falls campus of Northwest Technical College—prepare a plan to merge, share or consolidate common activities and to subsequently redistribute the savings—if any—directly to instruction.

Dr. Cross said the principles adopted are intended to help citizens of the Thief River Falls community understand the position of Northwest Technical College. He explained the principles as follows:

Self-determination—The process of determining what type of higher education institution or institutions should emerge in Thief River Falls should be a "self determination" process involving three groups—faculty and staff from both institutions; students from both institutions; and members of the Thief River Falls community.

"Dr. Jay Noren, chancellor of the Higher Education Board, and many other state officials have affirmed their support for the process of self determination. It must be one of the foundational principles of the process which produces the 'Plan,'" Dr. Cross said.

The Role of Management—Management's role in the process should be to clarify possible options, to facilitate the process, and to serve as a resource during the development of the "Plan."

Christmas programs get elementary schools' OK

Public interest contributes to decision made on Monday

Christmas programs will be held at the elementary schools in Thief River Falls this year in accordance with a decision made Monday, according to Glen Espe, principal at School District 564's four public elementary schools.

Espe said the decision was made in consultation with the elementary school music staff and school administration, including Dr. Robert Duncan, superintendent of schools. Announcement on program dates and times will be made after final arrangements have been completed.

The consultation and decision were precipitated by a public opinion letter in the November 6 edition of the "Northern Watch" by Shelby Sorvig of St. Hilaire and public reaction to the letter. Mrs. Sorvig had expressed concern about elementary Christmas programs not being held this year and encouraged public support to have them reinstated.

School officials said that a number of telephone calls had been received following publication of the letter and that the expressions of public interest in and support for the programs were a major determining factor in the decision to hold programs again this year.

Espe said that two of the four elementary schools in District 564 had not decided prior to Monday whether to hold Christmas programs or not, while the other two schools had planned to not stage Christmas programs but hold spring concerts as final musical events for the schools which will be closing at the end of the 1993-94 school year.

"With the development and implementation of new state music curriculum outcomes in our district and the need for periodic assessment of those outcomes, it has become necessary to move from having two elementary music performances a year to only one," Espe said.

"These additional curriculum changes made by the Minnesota State Music Department require elementary music staff to spend more time teaching the academics of music to achieve the specified standards of the outcome-based curriculum. The demands on instructional time for these academics do not permit practice and rehearsal times for two public presentations."

With the decision to hold the traditional Christmas programs in accordance with public interest also comes the decision to not hold spring concerts as had been initially planned by two of the schools.

Espe pointed out that the new Challenger elementary school now under construction and planned for opening next fall has a music area designed to maximize instruction and provide for a wide variety of performance opportunities. He said it will also enable the music staff to spend more time teaching children music instead of traveling between separate elementary school buildings as they are presently doing.

He also said that the original idea to hold spring concerts instead of the Christmas program was not motivated by any religious questions. "That has never been a problem in our school system," he said.

Espe thanked the many people who called to inquire about the status of the Christmas programs and who volunteered their time to help with preparations for the programs.

"It was very evident that the traditional elementary Christmas program is a highlight among the parents, grandparents and residents of the Thief River Falls community," Espe said, "as evidenced by the number of concerned people making phone calls to board members and school officials over the weekend."

While most of the calls expressed support for the programs, he said, there is concern about the difficulty a number of parents have in attending their children's programs due to their work schedules and the disappointment this may cause for those children.

For Arctco success is business as usual

• With snowfall just beginning in much of the nation's snow belt, some Arctic Cat snowmobile dealers have already sold out their supply of 1994 models.

• Total number of employees of Arctco, Inc. will surpass 1,000 for the first time with nearly 1,000 in Thief River Falls and about 60 at the company's hood manufacturing facilities in Madison, SD.

• Snowmobile production on the 1994 models will end in about a month and full production of five models of the Tigershark personal watercraft will begin a week later. From 30 to 50 per cent of the company's production employees are expected to have year-around employment.

These are some of the highlights for Arctco, Inc. expressed by Chris Twomey, president and chief executive officer, in an interview on Wednesday, following release of the company's second quarter financial results (see separate story in this issue of the Northern Watch.)

Twomey said it has been a long time goal of Arctco to increase its production year to provide full-time, year-around employment for as many of the company's employees as possible. This goal is now being met as the seasonal production of snowmobiles is being followed by the seasonal production of Tigershark personal watercraft.

"Moving of the cold storage building and attaching it to the main plant last summer has more than doubled the size of our fiberglass and Tigershark manufacturing operations," Twomey said. "The additional 40,000 square feet of space was necessary as we will be producing about twice as many watercraft in approximately the same amount of time as last year."

In the first year of Tigershark production a year ago, Arctco manufactured only one model. Encouraged by the acceptance of the design and the fact that personal watercraft was the only segment of the marine industry to show an increase in sales last year (up 16 per cent), Arctco will produce five models in the Tigershark line this year.

Montego and Montego Deluxe will be the entry level or economy models in the line. High performance models will be the single rider Barracuda, two rider Daytona and three rider Monte Carlo. The three-up Monte Carlo is aimed toward the family watercraft market.

Twomey said that Arctco has

Arctco sales and earnings increase 21%

Sales and net earnings of Arctco, Inc., increased by 21 per cent for the second quarter ended September 30, according to the quarterly report of the Thief River Falls-based snowmobile and personal watercraft manufacturer.

Net sales increased to $106,924,000 from $88,382,000 and net earnings to $14,014,000 or 72 cents per share from $11,545,000 or 60 cents per share over the same period last year.

For the six-month period ended September 30, 1993, net sales increased 37 per cent to $144,317,000 from $105,474,000 for the same period last year. Net earnings increased 31 per cent to $16,610,000 or 85 cents per share for the first half of fiscal 1994, compared with net earnings of $12,644,000 or 65 cents per share for the first six months of fiscal 1993.

President and Chief Executive Officer Chris Twomey expressed pleasure at the second quarter results, which he said are consistent with expectations based on dealer orders placed last spring. "Consumer interest in Arctic Cat snowmobiles has been excellent and we are encouraged by the strength of early season retail sales," he added.

Arctco's board of directors also declared a regular quarterly cash dividend of $0.0533 (five and one-third cents) per share, payable on Dec. 2, 1993.

Penny Elaine Kruse weds Robert Schindler

Penny Elaine Kruse and Robert Leo Schindler were united in Marriage August 7 at Black River Lutheran church in St. Hilaire. Rev. Neil Gladen officiated at the 4 p.m. ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Wayne and Elaine Kruse of St. Hilaire and Ray and MaryAnn Schindler of Thief River Falls.

As a special touch, the bride sang "I'll Still be Loving You." Other singers were Lisa and Marilyn Swanson and Craig Folkedahl. Deb Holmgren presided at the keyboard and Don Berggren played acoustic guitar. Ruthie Mosbeck, friend of the bride, was organist.

All floral designs and church decorations were made by the mother of the bride.

Maid of honor was sister of the bride, Ranae Knaffla of Eagen. Bridesmaids were Petie Rolandson, Santa Barbara, CA, cousin of the bride; and Marlys Schindler and Theresa Olson, sisters of the groom; and Lori Nelson, friend of the bride.

Krystle Elaine Cullen, daughter of the bride, served as flower girl. Shane "Kruse" Cullen, son of the bride, and Cody Robert Schindler, son of the groom, were ring bearers.

Bruce Folkedahl served as his friend's best man. John Kruse, brother of the bride, and Brian, Don and Dale Schindler, brothers of the groom, were groomsmen.

Ushers were Rob Rux, brother of the bride, and Shawn Dunne, friend of the groom.

The bride's personal attendants were her friends, Mary Lou Wilson and Debbie Osborne.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Evelyn Nelson, grandmother of the bride; Ann Linnertz, grandmother of the groom; Carol Kurtzman, godmother of the bride; Bud and Betty Kruse, godparents of the bride; Leo and Veronica Hoefer, godparents of the groom; Rick Rux, brother of the bride from Casper, WY; and Michelle Rolandson, cousin of the bride from Santa Barbara, CA.

Following the wedding, a reception was held for the couple. Jim and Janet Strandlie, friends of the groom, were host and hostess. Beverley Kopecky, friend of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Cutting the cake, which was baked and decorated by the mother of the bride, were Betty Kruse, aunt and godmother of the bride, and Veronica Hoefer, aunt and godmother of the groom. Linda Drury and Trisha Anderson, friends of the bride, served coffee. In charge of the punch bowl were Deb Holmgren and Anita Vettleson, friends of the bride.

Flower hostesses were Ardelle Olson and Eunice Rolandson, aunts of the bride. Presiding at the gift table were Patty Weber and Marcy Simmons, friends of the bride. Waitresses were friends of the bride, Lisa Hoaas and Nichole Johnson.

The couple is at home in St. Hilaire. The bride is a 1980 graduate of Oklee high school and a 1982 gradaute of Brooks Barber college. She is employed at Penny's Barber Salon in St. Hilaire. The groom, a 1980 graduate of Lincoln high school, is self-employed.

The First Baptist church at 414 North Horace Avenue in Thief River Falls will host a series of deeper life meetings with Rev. Cully Olson of San Jose, CA, beginning Sunday, November 14, and continuing through Wednesday, Nov. 17. The pubic is invited to attend any or all of the services.

Sunday's service will begin at 11 a.m. and is part of the church's Harvest Festival. Week day services will be at 7 p.m.

Rev. Olson grew up in St. Paul and attended Bethel college and seminary there and the Universities of Washington and Minnesota. He served as youth evangelist for the Baptist General Conference for five years and served as pastor at Lake Spenard, AK, starting the Sand Lake church there and in Mt. Vernon, WA, and in Simi Valley, CA.

He served as executive secretary of the Northern California Baptist Conference from 1970 to 1984 and has been evangelist for the Baptist General Conference from 1984 to the present.

His wife, Ruth, is an accomplished organist and pianist and taught piano for 30 years.

Junior Foresters enjoyed annual Halloween party

Junior National Catholic Society of Foresters, St. Ann's Court 855, of Thief River Falls hosted their annual Halloween party October 31 at St. Bernard's church. Forty-five members, parents and guests attended the festivities. Children were dressed in traditional Halloween costumes and some chose to dress as saints.

In a holiday-decorated hall, children played games, sang songs and enjoyed prize-filled balloons. A luncheon was prepared by director, Shirley Knoff, and served by Linda Hayman, who assisted with the party.

Jeni Gaffaney was the winner of the "Witch's Centerpiece," and others won several other door prizes, including a Madonna, a plant and birds and butterfly plaques. Each person attending the event received a bag of treats and a candy-filled paper hat.

Several businesses donated gift certificates and soft drinks for the event. They included Hardee's, McDonald's, Taco John's and the Pepsi Cola company.

Next meeting of the Junior Foresters will be Saturday, Nov. 20, at 3 p.m. at St. Bernard's church, when members will participate in a fraternal volunteer event.

Christian Women After 5 Club

The Christian Business and Professional Women After Five club will meet Tuesday, Nov. 17 at 6:30 p.m. at the Best Western Inn in Thief River Falls. Cost of the meal is $5.

Theme for the meeting will be "Harvest Time." "Crafts-a-Plenty" will be presented by Kris Loeffler with special music by the Middle River trio, Straight From the Heart.

Arabelle Joudrey, national representative, will speak on "A Basketful of Wisdom."

Reservations may be made by November 12 by calling Evelyn Myrum at 681-2924 or Ruth Sackett at 681-2471. Cancel by noon on November 15.

IMPRESSIONS

Many years ago, a quiet evening at home was interrupted by a telephone call. That's not too unusual. But, the happenings resulting from that phone call are unusual. We were spending a few days with my parents who were visiting us. They had come to visit not only us, but a new grandson. Nothing much seemed to be happening except quiet conversation – until the telephone interrupted us.

On the other end of the line was a woman's voice. She needed help and so had called us for help. Her husband was a veteran of the Viet Nam war. He was prone to having flashbacks. He was having a flashback when she called. But, this flashback was different, as this time he had a gun and was threatening to shoot at the unknowns he was imagining.

Without thinking about individual safety, my husband and father both left the comfort of our quiet evening and went to the aid of this man and his wife. The man's father also came to his aid. Tragedy was avoided.

Thursday is Veteran's Day. It's a day in which we give honor to those who have served our country in the armed services. It's a federal holiday in our country. It's the day set aside to say thank you to all of those who can call themselves veterans.

Not all veterans are plagued with the flashbacks that our friend of years ago was plagued with. Some veterans return to everyday civilian life relatively unscathed by the atrocities of war. Others are far less fortunate. They may not be troubled with flashbacks, but they may be forever plagued with an illness or injury that came to them because of the war. They may not be troubled by flashbacks, but they may be anguishing over friends lost and injured. They may be anguishing over the feeling of helplessness they perhaps had. They may not be physically injured, but they may be injured in their ability to live a "normal" life. The veterans of our wars may be suffering unknown diseases brought to them by the war in which they fought. To be a veteran is not easy.

As veterans return to civilian life, they bring with them their experiences they had as they served in our armed forces. As veterans return to civilian life, they also find that those they left behind have changed – none of us stays stagnant. Returning veterans have to learn to once again mesh their lives with the lives of those they cherish. It's never easy meshing lives, but it's perhaps particularly not easy to mesh lives which have been separated by the atrocities of war. Our veterans and their families have learned to live, in spite of the after affects of war.

This Veteran's Day, a sculpture is being unveiled in Washington honoring the women who served in Viet Nam. They are the ones who comforted and bandaged and suffered along with the suffering soldiers. It is fitting that they should be specially honored.

We currently have soldiers serving in our armed forces around the world. Most in the news are those still serving in Somalia. Some of our veterans never see a war. They are fortunate. But, without them, our country's very safety would be at great risk. For, to maintain our nation's safety, many must work in times of peace as well as in times of war.

This Veteran's Day, say thank you to the veterans you know. They may be a friend or spouse or child or merely an acquaintance. This Veteran's Day, show the honor due our veterans by flying our nation's flag if you have one to fly.

Our nation's veterans have endured much for us. Our nation's veterans have protected us in times of war and in times of peace. Our veterans have ensured our nation's survival. We must not forget to say "thank you".

Asthma program at schools

Respiratory therapists from Northwest Medical Center will be presenting the program, Open Airways for Schools, in the area. The program is aimed at teaching better ashma management to children in grades four through six. Youngsters will learn how to take medications, the warning signs of asthma, and steps to prevent asthma episodes.

The Open Airways for Schools program was created by the American Lung Association and sponsored by Fision Pharmaceuticals. It includes six 40-minute lessons that encourage group discussion and present stories and games that promote child involvement and learning.

Asthma is the leading cause of absenteeism in U.S. schools today. Asthma often results in hospitalizations and, when poorly managed, can lead to death.

The following schools are cooperating in the implentation of Open Airways for School:

•Grygla - will have six one-hour sessions on November 1, 2, 3, 9, 10 and 11, all beginning at 1:30 p.m.

•Newfolden - will have six one-hour sessions on November 15, 17, 22, 24 and 29 and December 1, all beginning at 2 p.m.

•Red Lake Falls - will have three two-hour sessions on November 15, 17 and 19, all beginning at 12:30 p.m.

•Middle River - will have three two-hour sessions on November 18 and December 2 and 9, all beginning at 1 p.m.

SPEAKING OF

Sherry LaCoursiere

. . . Is It Really That Much Fun?

I just can't understand the deer hunters in my family.

Every chance they get, every day they are off of work or school, they sleep until noon, if possible. Not during deer hunting. Those deer hunting days they are up long before dawn and out the door about 4 a.m.

They dress differently for deer hunting. Can I get any of them to wear some sort of warm head gear, even when the temperature reaches 30 below zero? No. But for deer hunting they don bright orange, extra warm hats and caps and wear them all day.

Can I get them to dress properly for winter weather? No. Except during deer hunting they wear multiple layers of warm clothing, beginning with at least two pairs of thermal undies.

What about boots — do they wear boots in the winter? Never, except during deer hunting when they wear heavy, water-proof, toasty warm boots over several pairs of woolen socks.

During deer hunting time they actually eat properly. In the morning they eat large, hot breakfasts of pancakes, sausage, eggs. They hardly ever touch breakfast otherwise.. They pack large lunches of hearty sandwiches and fruit and other energy-packed snacks. But I should know that when it's hunting time they need their energy, of course.

As I said, they disappear about 4 in the morning and do not reappear until after dark. When they reappear, I hardly know them.

Strangers straggle in my door — disheveled, dirty and drooping. They limp and hobble, either because their backs ache, their legs are sore, or their feet are blistered and worn.

Those ragtag strangers peel off layer after layer of clothing until they stand before me clothed in nothing but long underwear and woolen socks. They demand food, substantial amounts of it, preferably hot, although they will take cold, if necessary.

While they eat, I survey the bunch of them. Their hair stands on end, in stiff tails, from sweating in warm hats and caps all day. They and their clothing smell strange, somewhat like the outdoors and somewhat like a locker room after a sporting event.

Their faces are dirty, the boys unshaven and looking like bums, noses and cheeks red and shining from the cold. They shovel the food into their mouths as if they hadn't eaten for weeks, never mind those large breakfasts and lunches they ate so long ago.

After they have eaten, they begin to examine whatever part of them hurts most. Liniment is applied to aching backs and legs, blisters are soaked, and sore fingers are bandaged. Aspirin is consumed in quantities to soothe aching muscles and heads. Showers and baths are taken in succession.

They are barely able to get their wits together to tell me about the hunt, and the deer they got, and the deer that got away, and who shot the deer they were after and how so-and-so ended up walking miles or running through the woods or fell into the ditch or whatever else happened to them during the hunt, when they begin to fall asleep.

There I sit alone at 8 o'clock in the evening, after cooking and cleaning and waiting for them all day. My cooking has disappeared, my clean house is buried under layers of hunting clothes, rifles, shells, thermoses and bags of fast food, and I have barely heard how many deer were shot.

Oh well, at least the hunters were home, safe and sound. But the problem is that they will rise to do it all again tomorrow and probably next weekend, too, I just don't understand them.

Parents of the couple are Wayne and Elaine Kruse of St. Hilaire and Ray and MaryAnn Schindler of Thief River Falls.

As a special touch, the bride sang "I'll Still be Loving You." Other singers were Lisa and Marilyn Swanson and Craig Folkedahl. Deb Holmgren presided at the keyboard and Don Berggren played acoustic guitar. Ruthie Mosbeck, friend of the bride, was organist.

All floral designs and church decorations were made by the mother of the bride.

Maid of honor was sister of the bride, Ranae Knaffla of Eagen. Bridesmaids were Petie Rolandson, Santa Barbara, CA, cousin of the bride; and Marlys Schindler and Theresa Olson, sisters of the groom; and Lori Nelson, friend of the bride.

Krystle Elaine Cullen, daughter of the bride, served as flower girl. Shane "Kruse" Cullen, son of the bride, and Cody Robert Schindler, son of the groom, were ring bearers.

Bruce Folkedahl served as his friend's best man. John Kruse, brother of the bride, and Brian, Don and Dale Schindler, brothers of the groom, were groomsmen.

Ushers were Rob Rux, brother of the bride, and Shawn Dunne, friend of the groom.

The bride's personal attendants were her friends, Mary Lou Wilson and Debbie Osborne.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Evelyn Nelson, grandmother of the bride; Ann Linnertz, grandmother of the groom; Carol Kurtzman, godmother of the bride; Bud and Betty Kruse, godparents of the bride; Leo and Veronica Hoefer, godparents of the groom; Rick Rux, brother of the bride from Casper, WY; and Michelle Rolandson, cousin of the bride from Santa Barbara, CA.

Following the wedding, a reception was held for the couple. Jim and Janet Strandlie, friends of the groom, were host and hostess. Beverley Kopecky, friend of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Cutting the cake, which was baked and decorated by the mother of the bride, were Betty Kruse, aunt and godmother of the bride, and Veronica Hoefer, aunt and godmother of the groom. Linda Drury and Trisha Anderson, friends of the bride, served coffee. In charge of the punch bowl were Deb Holmgren and Anita Vettleson, friends of the bride.

Flower hostesses were Ardelle Olson and Eunice Rolandson, aunts of the bride. Presiding at the gift table were Patty Weber and Marcy Simmons, friends of the bride. Waitresses were friends of the bride, Lisa Hoaas and Nichole Johnson.

SPEAKING OF

Sherry LaCoursiere

...Is It Really That Much Fun?

I just can't understand the deer hunters in my family.

Every chance they get, every day they are off of work or school, they sleep until noon, if possible. Not during deer hunting. Those deer hunting days they are up long before dawn and out the door about 4 a.m.

They dress differently for deer hunting. Can I get any of them to wear some sort of warm head gear, even when the temperature reaches 30 below zero? No. But for deer hunting they don bright orange, extra warm hats and caps and wear them all day.

Can I get them to dress properly for winter weather? No. Except during deer hunting they wear multiple layers of warm clothing, beginning with at least two pairs of thermal undies.

What about boots — do they wear boots in the winter? Never, except during deer hunting when they wear heavy, water-proof, toasty warm boots over several pairs of woolen socks.

During deer hunting time they actually eat properly. In the morning they eat large, hot breakfasts of pancakes, sausage, eggs. They hardly ever touch breakfast otherwise. They pack large lunches of hearty sandwiches and fruit and other energy-packed snacks. But I should know that when it's hunting time they need their energy, of course.

As I said, they disappear about 4 in the morning and do not reappear until after dark. When they reappear, I hardly know them.

Strangers straggle in my door — disheveled, dirty and drooping. They limp and hobble, either because their backs ache, their legs are sore, or their feet are blistered and worn.

Those ragtag strangers peel off layer after layer of clothing until they stand before me clothed in nothing but long underwear and woolen socks. They demand food, substantial amounts of it, preferably hot, although they will take cold, if necessary.

While they eat, I survey the bunch of them. Their hair stands on end, in stiff tails, from sweating in warm hats and caps all day. They and their clothing smell strange, somewhat like the outdoors and somewhat like a locker room after a sporting event.

Their faces are dirty, the boys unshaven and looking like bums, noses and cheeks red and shining from the cold. They shovel the food into their mouths as if they hadn't eaten for weeks, never mind those large breakfasts and lunches they ate so long ago.

After they have eaten, they begin to examine whatever part of them hurts most. Liniment is applied to aching backs and legs, blisters are soaked, and sore fingers are bandaged. Aspirin is consumed in quantities to soothe aching muscles and heads. Showers and baths are taken in succession.

They are barely able to get their wits together to tell me about the hunt, and the deer they got, and the deer that got away, and who shot the deer they were after and how so-and-so ended up walking miles or running through the woods or fell into the ditch or whatever else happened to them during the hunt, when they begin to fall asleep.

Some of them make it to their beds, others fall asleep on couches.

There I sit alone at 8 o'clock in the evening, after cooking and cleaning and waiting for them all day. My cooking has disappeared, my clean house is buried under layers of hunting clothes, rifles, shells, thermoses and bags of fast food, and I have barely heard how many deer were shot.

Oh well, at least the hunters were home, safe and sound. But the problem is that they will rise to do it all again tomorrow and probably next weekend, too. I just don't understand them.

Moccasin Garden club meeting

Sandra Gessler receives 1993 McKnight award

Sandra Gessler

Sandra Gessler of St. Hilaire has been selected as one of 10 recipients of the 1993 McKnight Awards in Human Service. Gessler will receive a $5,000 cash award in recognition of her significant contribution in the area of human services.

Michael O'Keefe, executive vice president of the McKnight Foundation, states, "Through this concrete recognition, we seek to reward those persons, who, with little public visibility or financial remuneration, are providing exceptional service to their communities."

Purpose of the awards is to recognize individuals throughout Minnesota who are directly assisting others to become productive and participating members of the communities in which they reside.

Gessler was selected for her work as a children's advocate and court-appointed guardian ad litem for children who are victims of abuse or neglect. Through the Domestic Violence Project, she supports children's intrests in divorce and custody mediation, helping parents to reduce conflict and reach agreements that are fair.

She is a participant in the Family at Risk network, which is made up of attorneys and professional family service people in northwestern Minnesota. She is currently working with a committee on domestic violence being organized by the district court to learn the importance of reaching out to children who are often the indirect victims of other family members' violence.

Gessler, her family, Gail Haugen, who placed her name into nomination, and some members of her organization, have been invited to attend an award ceremony on December 8 at the Minnesota History Center in St. Paul.

FAMILY HEALTH

Sherry LaCoursiere

The senior nutrition program will celebrate its 20th anniversary Monday with an evening meal and party at the Thief River Falls Heritage Center.

Congregate dining and Meals on Wheels began in the state about 1973. Meals are served at 104 locations in north central and northwestern Minnesota.

The local dining program was begun by Tri-Valley Opportunity Council and, at the present time, is under the direction of Lutheran Social Services. Meals on Wheels is under the direction of Northwest Medical Center.

The Heritage Center in Thief River Falls opened November 11, 1975. Meals cooked there are sent to St. Hilaire, Riverside Terrace and the Skylite Apartments.

The Nutrition Program is funded federally through the Older Americans Act, which is administered by the Northwest Area Agency on Aging. Additional funds are provided by the State of Minnesota, United Way, community dollars, customer meal donations and individual donations. Elaine White, Lutheran Social Services Area Director, is responsible for obtaining yearly funds for the nutrition program from the Area Agency on Aging.

The aim of the Senior Dining Progam and is to provide nutritious meals and a social atmosphere to senior citizens. Many older persons lack the incentive to eat alone and benefit from eating with others.

Meals on Wheels provides seniors with nutritious meals in their own homes, of special benefit to those who are home bound or cannot cook for themselves. Participants must have their doctor's authorization to take part in Meals on Wheels.

Meals on Wheels serves an average of 40 people each day. Volunteer drivers are obtained from service organizations and churches. If you have any questions on Meals on Wheels, contact Betty Hanson at 681-6861.

Both programs provide people age 60 and older with nutritious, healthy meals which provide one-third of a person's recommended daily allowance for food intake.

The Senior Nutrition Program is also a preventative and restorative service. Experts have found that nutritionally balanced meals help prevent or delay some chronic diseases and complications. People may not be aware that nutritional meals can be provided to an older person for an entire year for less than what it costs for them to spend one day in the hospital.

Minnesota Chemical Health Week to be observed Nov. 12-19

Thirteen school districts will observe Minnesota Chemical Health Week November 12-19. Theme for the week is "Alcohol, Tobacco and Other Drug Abuse Costs...Prevention Saves."

A variety of activities is planned including MADD Friday, Wear Red on Wednesday (Nov. 17) and D-Day on Thursday (Nov. 18).

Melanie Mutnansky and Jason Nelson are peer leaders for the Goodridge school. Their teacher is Eric Mickelson. They were trained at the fifth annual TAD (tobacco, alcohol and drug use prevention) camp at Camp Minne-Wa-Kan near Cass Lake in October. TAD peer leaders are responsible for bringing tobacco, alcohol and drug use prevention information to classmates and families.

Task force member from Pennington county is Deb Swanson. The Quin County Community Health Services of Newfolden provides administration for the TAD project.

Tri-Valley to offer wild bird feeder items for holiday gifts

Tri-Valley Opportunity Council, Inc. Child Care Resource and Referral will offer four different holiday gifts geared toward wild bird feeding. Proceeds will go to support quality, affordable, accessible child care for Minnesota families.

Holiday wild bird feeding gift packages include a gift pack, a Cardinal feeder, Finch feeder kit and a Charmer feeder, which is an excellent starter for children or beginners. Bird feeders and seeds range in price from $15 to $25. If gifts are ordered by December 10, they will be ready for holiday delivery.

The local Child Care Resource and Referral agency has assisted close to 200 parents in their search for child care this year. Staff members have worked with hundreds of family child care providers and centers in this area to offer support, training and information to assist them in caring for children.

What better way to do something nice this holiday season than by purchasing a gift that supports a non-profit agency dedicated to promoting quality, afforable, accessible child care for all Minnesota families, as well as supporting nature. Wild bird feeding is Minnesota's second outdoor activity, led only by gardening.

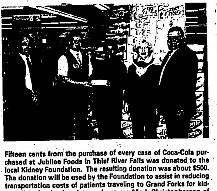
Gish elected to Initiative Fund board

Brent Gish, superintendent of the Mahnomen school district, was recently elected to the board of directors of the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund.

An enrolled member of the White Earth Band of Chippewa, Gish has been with the Mahnomen schools for 21 years as teacher, coach and elementary principal before being named to the superintendency this fall. He has previously served as a member of the White Earth Reservation tribal council and is currently involved with a number of state-wide education associations and committees.

A native of Mahnomen, Gish received his bachelor's degree from Moorhead State University and masters degree from Bemidji State University. He and his wife Gayle and two children have their home in Naytahwaush.



Fifteen cents from the purchase of every case of Coca-Cola purchased at Jubilee Foods in Thief River Falls was donated to the local Kidney Foundation. The resulting donation was about $500. The donation will be used by the Foundation to assist in reducing transportation costs of patients traveling to Grand Forks for kidney dialysis. In the picture above are Mark Christopherson of Coca-Cola, Chad Larson of Jubilee Foods, Ruth Nepper, Marilyn Winters, and Bob Bergan of the Kidney Foundation. Larson said he hopes that Jubilee Foods will be able to continue its support in the future.

Managing diabetes workshop set

"Managing Diabetes for a Healthier Lifestyle" is the topic of a one-day workshop scheduled Wednesday, November 17, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Riverview Healthcare Association in Crookston.

The workshop is open to persons with diabetes, an accompanying family member and, space permitting, area health care professionals.

Goal of the workshop is to build on the participants' current understanding of diabetes and provide up-to-date ideas about disease management, according to Diane Bachmeier, workshop coordinator and Certified Diabetes Educator.

"This workshop will present information about all aspects of daily living with diabetes," she said. Presenters will be Cindy Flannery, registered dietitian; Dr. Bruce Ring, MD; and Bachmeier.

Due to space limitations, preregistration is required by November 12. Registration fee is $20, but family members are invited to attend free of charge. Lunch will be provided. For more information or to register, call Riverview Healthcare Association at 281-4682, extension 413.

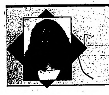
Coin/Antique/baseball card show set

Dealers will have $500 and $1,000 bills and national currency from Thief River Falls and area banks on display and for sale when the 27th annual Thief River Falls Free International Coin/Antique and Baseball Card show is held November 20 and 21 at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls.

Approximately 20 dealers will be on hand to buy, sell or trade items, according to Patrick Klemisch, show chairman for the sponsoring Thief River Falls Coin Club. He may be contacted at 681-1656.

Show hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, November 20, and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, November 21. Admission is free but door prize tickets are sold to support the show and scholarships which it provides. Special hourly drawings will also be held.

RANDOM THOUGHTS



Sara Tyler
Lincoln High School

Family is very important. People say the trend is the break-up of the family. I don't agree. There may not be as many two-parent families as there used to be, but what is left is still a family. I have what is as close to a traditional family as I can imagine. My parents have been married to each other for over 24 years and I have two older sisters.

The oldest child, I consider this child spoiled when it is a baby. Everyone wants a picture of the first born, and its baby book is kept up-to-date past the first year. This child is my sister Karin. Since she was born first, she has more baby pictures than me and my other sister combined. There's a picture of Karin doing everything! As she grew older she got to do things that Aimee, my other sister, and I couldn't do. She could go places without our parents and could stay overnight with a friend. She could have friends over! I suppose there was a downside to being the first child. She had to share everything with her younger sisters. She had to push her way through the barriers of rules that parents set up. She had to be a "good role model." But, she did get to be the first to experience things.

The middle child. My sister Aimee. I feel a little sorry for this kid, not too much though. It still gets plenty of baby pictures. Not as many as the first, but still enough to fill a scrapbook. The baby book is completed to a year, maybe a little more or a little less. This baby's firsts, aren't really firsts. Karin sat, talked, walked, all of that before Aimee had a chance. All the way through school anything the middle child tries to do has already been done by the first. I suppose that is why the middle child is called the "left out child." This kid is trapped by siblings on both sides. Nothing will be the first or the last. It's said this child turns to friends more than the oldest. I suppose it could be true. Aimee has always been very social and is almost constantly with at least one friend. This child can be the first to do things, if they choose to follow a different path than the first-born.

The baby (that's me). "Experts" say this child is spoiled. I don't agree. Well . . . maybe just a little, BUT, the baby deserves to be spoiled after having no baby pictures. "We didn't have money to buy film for the camera" yeah right, and a baby book with maybe five entries in it. Okay, I may be exaggerating, but my sisters did have more baby pictures and more detailed baby books. (I must say I was the cutest baby. As far as I could tell with the few pictures I've actually seen.) As the youngest grows older it realizes its only way to get attention is to play the part of the baby. If provoking your sisters then crying until they get into trouble is the way that works, then go for it. (I'm not admitting I ever did such a thing.) If pouting and putting on puppy dog eyes gets you what you want, why stop? (I'm not accepting this as something I would do either.) Maybe the baby is spoiled by the parents but I think the siblings have something to do with it too. Older sisters don't completely ignore the baby when she is upset. (Again I'm not saying anything about myself.) But the youngest child is trapped. With at least two older siblings at least two roads have been traveled. How many other roads are there to be taken?

Anyway, I guess each child has its problems, and each birth order has its advantages. In the traditional family these roles are all filled, as in mine, and each child lives through their own personal traumas. What I want to know is how the parents live through it.

Mildred Rux, 82

Thief River Falls - Funeral services for Mildred Rux, age 82, will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Mildred Rux died Saturday at her home in Thief River Falls.

Rev. Gary Johnson will officiate at the service, with Ida Nordvall serving as organist and Rev. Dennis and Naomi Raymond providing vocal selections.

Visitation was Tuesday from 1 to 9 p.m. at the Green Funeral Home and will be for one hour prior to the service at the church on Wednesday. There was a 7 p.m. prayer service Tuesday evening at the funeral home.

Casketbearers will be Gary and Jerry Carlson, Mitchell and Jay Mathieu, David Rux and Kari Walton. All grandchildren and great-grandchildren will be honorary casketbearers. Interment will be at Greenwood cemetery in Thief River Falls with the Green Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mildred Whitson was born July 28, 1911, at Hillsboro, ND, the daughter of Enos and Bertha Sorum Whitson. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith. She grew up and attended school in the Hillsboro, ND, area.

She was united in marriage to Palmer Dahle in 1928. The couple moved to the Holt area that year and farmed until his death in 1937.

In 1940, she was united in marriage to Emil Rux at Thief River Falls, and the couple moved to Thief River Falls in 1949. She worked for Land O'Lakes for many years, and also for Northwest Medical Center, where she was working when she retired. She was a member of Zion Lutheran church, the VFW Ladies Auxiliary, the American Legion Auxiliary and the Thief River Falls Cooties.

Mildred Rux is survivied by two daughters, Eleanor (Mrs. James) Halvorson, Karlstad, and Lorraine (Mrs. Bill) Mathieu, Thief River Falls; one son, Jerold (wife: Beverly), Strandquist; 14 grandchildren; 18 great-grandchildren; eight great-great-grandchildren; sisters-in-law, Gina Rux, Thief River Falls, Tillie Brovold, Portland, ND, Donna Whitson, Grand Forks, ND, and Myrtle Brandon, Burr Oak, KS.

Preceding her in death were her husband Palmer; husband, Emil; two brothers, William and Arthur; and two sisters, Florence Knudson and Beatrice Lien.

Charles Lamb, 76

Thief River Falls - Charles Lamb died Friday, Nov. 5, at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls at the age of 76.

Funeral services for Charles Lamb were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at First Lutheran church in Middle River. Interment was at Greenwood cemetery in Thief River Falls, with military honors provided by Middle River American Legion Post 444.

Charles Lamb was born June 30, 1917, in Roseau county, the son of Oliver and Edna Lamb. He grew up and attended school near Gwinner, ND, and served in the United States Army during World War II.

September 3, 1942, he was united in marriage to Billie Harris in St. Louis. The couple moved to Middle River where he was manager of the American Legion club and was the village constable. He drove the Standard Oil Company bulk truck in Middle River and farmed. He was employed by Steenerson Trucking until his retirement in 1970.

Billie Lamb died September 23, 1988. Charles Lamb moved to Thief River Falls in June.

Charles Lamb is survived by three sons, Michael, Moorhead, and Howard and Maxwell, both of Glyndon; seven daughters, Lynnette (Mrs. Joseph) Hasby, Thief River Falls, Nancy (Mrs. Ronald) Boutain, Barnesville, Melinda Lamb and Charlene Godfredson, both of Dilworth, Lauretta (Mrs. Charles) Clements and Melissa (Mrs. Steven) Rood, both of Moorhead, and Bonnie (Mrs. Dale) Sayers, of Fargo; 27 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; four brothers, Leo, Bagley, Edward, Kelso, WA, James, Yakima, WA, and Irire, Townsend, MT; six sisters, Clara Felton, Hamilton, MT, Minerve Nelson and Stella Moen, both of Middle River, Mabel Major, Bono, AR, Etta Erickson, Baudette, and Ruth Otto, Grass Range, MT; and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by three brothers and two sisters.

Clara Gronvold, 85

Middle River - Funeral services were held Sunday, Nov. 7, for Clara H. Gronvold, who died November 3 at Oakland Park Nursing Home in Thief River Falls at the age of 85.

Rev. Todd Peterson officiated at the service, with Katie Toren as pianist and special music provided by Coreen, Cathy and Julie Erickson, Lola Kvalvog, Bernice Klenk and Eleanor Larson.

All attending the service were considered honorary casketbearers. Active bearers were Milton and Glenn Davidson, Lewis and Corrine Swenson, Dale Grondahl and Yvonne Green. Interment was at Holt cemetery with the Collins Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Clara Helen Gronvold was born January 25, 1908, in East Valley township, Marshall county; near Middle River, the daughter of Kerstein and Caroline Moe Gronvold. She attended school and grew to womanhood there and was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith.

She lived with her brothers in the Ringbo community near Middle River for many years and was a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran church in Ringbo, as well as the Ladies Aid for many years. In 1985, she moved to Crestview Boarding Home in Thief River Falls and later to the CNC Unit of Northwest Medical Center. She has resided at Oakland Park Nursing Home since November of 1986.

Survivors include several cousins.

She was preceded in death by her four brothers, Henry, Oliver, Carl and Johnnie.

Brian Keith Balderston, 14

Crookston - Brian Keith Balderston, age 14, Crookston, died Monday, Nov. 8, at the United Hospital in Grand Forks following a snowmobile accident in Crookston early Saturday morning.

Funeral services for Brian Balderston will be held Thursday at Trinity Lutheran church in Crookston at 2:30 p.m.

There will be visitation from 4 to 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Stenshoel-Houske Funeral Chapel in Crookston, with a 7 p.m. prayer service. Visitation will also be at the church for one hour prior to the service.

Interment will be in Oakdale cemetery in Crookston with the Stenshoel-Houske Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Brian Balderston was born in Holcombe, WI, on December 21, 1978, the son of Virgil and Mary Wrobleski Balderston. He lived in Crookston with his family for several years and was presently a freshman at Crookston Central high school. In the past he had participated in the junior high football program.

Survivors include his father, Virgil, of Kasson; mother, Mary, of Crookston; four brothers, Michael John, Mount Clemens, MT, John, Blackduck, and Wayne and Terry, both of Crookston; four sisters, Sandra of Great Falls, MT, Tammy, Bloomington, and Veronica and Lisa, both of Crookston; grandmother, Alta Balderston of Blaine; three nephews; two nieces; and several aunts, uncles and cousins.

He was preceded in death by his grandparents, Lawrence Balderston and Peter and Margaret Wrobleski.

Dear Readers,
We recognize that funeral service is a calling with high responsibilities, requiring strict service standards, and fair and honorable dealing with every family. It requires that all confidential matters of a business or personal nature be held inviolate, and that those entrusted to us shall always be treated with dignity and respect.

Respectfully,
Belmont Funeral Home
Larry Belmont

CAPITOL COMMENTARY

LeRoy Stumpf
State Senator, District 1

Rumors are spreading about a state tax mistake and what it could mean for your property tax bill. As with most rumors, exaggeration is common. The real effect on most taxpayers will be small.

The mistake occurred at the Department of Revenue. The tax experts miscalculated school tax rates on farm property.

The error caused an undervaluation of about $25 million on Minnesota's agricultural land, or less than one per cent of the total value. For some taxing districts, however, the mistake was as large as 25 per cent.

The error caused some school districts in farm areas to underlevy. This in turn affected the taxes for non-farm residents as well.

When this error was spotted by a legislative staff member, corrections started right away. At first, the Department of Revenue resisted making any changes for taxes payable in 1994 because levies are not supposed to be changed after July 1.

Political pressure changed that. The Department of Revenue and Education are now working to send the correct levy figures to school districts. The correct levy figures should get to most areas before the truth-in-taxation notices are sent out.

In northwestern Minnesota, some school districts will see almost no change between the old and new figures. Other districts will see small differences.

Through all these twists and turns, there is a positive note for taxpayers to focus on. The Legislature changed class rates for property taxes a few months ago. This will help hold down increases from 1993 to 1994.

Crookston elects new mayor, three aldermen

Crookston voters returned only one incumbent to office—a fifth ward alderman running unopposed for a second term—as 44 per cent of the city's 4,660 registered voters went to the polls on Tuesday.

Mayor Doug Oman, who did not run for reelection after 12 years in the mayor's office, received 72 write-in votes. Elected was Donald Osborne with 813 votes while Jerry Jackson had 647 and Phil Miller received 517.

Jon Volker received 91 votes in Ward 1 to 75 votes for Lew Hanson and 63 for eight-year incumbent Lester Stradinger.

Gary Willhite in Ward 3 received 174 votes to 112 for 16-year incumbent Gale Regan.

Odine Smulan in Ward 7 received 209 votes to 100 for 24-year incumbent Lynn Thoen.

Only incumbent to survive the election was Harry Manole, Ward 5 alderman who was running unopposed for this second term.

All aldermen are elected for four-year terms while the mayor is elected for a two-year term.

Classical music showcase Sunday

Monthly Classical Music Showcase of talent for and by area young people and children will be held Sunday, November 14, at 3 p.m. at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston.

A video of pianist Andre Watts will be shown on the center's 52-inch television screen. Doris Krogstad of Winger will be mistress of ceremonies and present the day's biography of a classical composer.

Any child, parent or music teacher wishing to take part is invited to do so, whether the participation is vocal, piano or instrumental. No pre-registration is necessary; just arrive at the center a few minutes early on Sunday.

Purposes of the showcase are (1) to increase awareness of classical music in this area; (2) allow young people and children to perform in public in a non-threatening environment; and (3) to allow the young musicians, their parents and teacher and the interested public the opportunity to interact on an informal basis following the performances.

been expanding its Tigershark distributorship in the United States and increasing its export markets in Japan, France, England, South and Central America and to a lesser degree in Scandinavia where it has numerous snowmobile dealerships.

Snowmobile production on 1994 models will be completed by the end of November and response at the retail level has been outstanding, Twomey said. Orders were taken at dealer meetings in March and April and there are reportedly some dealers who have taken down payments on the entire inventory of snowmobiles they had on order.

Arctco continues its policy of manufacturing snowmobiles only on the basis of orders received. It will assist in the movement of snowmobiles between dealers when possible but produces no excess inventory to furnish dealers who sell out their supply.

Twomey said the year is also off to a great start in parts, garments and accessories. He said about half of the company's nylon clothing line is manufactured in Thief River Falls with the other half assembled by a company in Chisholm. Some of the clothing parts are cut on the computerized equipment in the Arctco plant and trucked to Chisholm for assembly and packaging. Leather garments are manufactured in the Orient.

One of the company's actions which has increased local employment has been a decision to manufacture hulls for the Tigershark entirely in Thief River Falls. Last year Arctco relied on an outside supplier for the hulls.

The decision was based on a desire by Arctco to be in control of every part of its manufacturing operation, including quality of components and availability of supply, Twomey said. "When we have a limited amount of time to produce a given quantity of units," he said, "it is imperative that we have control of the timing of our supply of hulls."

In order to be ready for hull production in the local plant for the 1994 Tigershark line, it was necessary to complete the permitting process through the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency in a timely fashion. Twomey said that the cooperation of the MPCA staff in accomplishing its work in the minimum amount of time made it possible to create about 80 jobs at the Thief River Falls plant.

"They didn't do anything they weren't supposed to do," he said. "It is just that they moved the process along on a timely basis and avoided the delays that usually slow down obtaining of the necessary permits. We certainly appreciate that cooperation and understanding of our situation."

Arctco stock has continued to do well on the market following a three-for-two split earlier in the year, trading at $24.50 per share late this week. Twomey said that the low interest rates have resulted in more money being in the market as investors attempt to increase gains.

In a November "Forbes" magazine article on the world's best small companies, Arctco is listed in 71st place among 200 companies selected from among 5,000 studied.

"This year's eclectic crop of dynamic small companies," states the "Forbes" article, " includes a manufacturer of snowmobiles and jet skis (Arctco), a Boston operator of Italian restaurants (Bertucci's) and dozens of medical and computer technology outfits. What do all these firms have in common? Each passed more than a dozen strict tests..."

Principles for NCC and TC merger set

Concept Development—The process of developing the "Plan" should allow for maximum input from all three groups. It should promote multiple iterations of concepts to emerge while providing ample opportunity for dialogue and debate over the issues, problems and concerns associated with each concept draft.

Furthermore, the process should resist external pressures to accelerate the timetable. Something this important should be permitted to evolve in a methodical, planned fashion.

End Product—The new higher education delivery system in Thief River Falls should be greater than the existing systems. Citizens within the Thief River Falls community should be able to pursue upper-level undergraduate and graduate-level education without leaving town.

While it is important to preserve the heritage of both of the existing institutions—Northland Community College and Northwest Technical College, Thief River Falls—the future demands that we create something new....an institution or a combination of institutions which can better serve the citizens of the community in a more efficient and effective manner.

The development of a plan to merely merge the two entities will not meet this challenge. We must extend ourselves and envision something greater.

"With these principles guiding the process," Dr. Cross said, "the Northwest Technical College Board is confident that the 'Plan' will produce a system which will better serve the higher education needs of the citizens of the Thief River Falls community."

Appoint Finseth to committees

Rep. Tim Finseth of Warren, elected to succeed Rep. Wally Sparby of Thief River Falls in a special election this summer, has received his committee assignments for the 1994 legislative session.

Rep. Finseth has been appointed to the Judiciary Committee and its Judiciary Finance Division, Housing Committee and the Local Government and Metro Affairs Committee.

"I am looking forward to serving on these committees," he said. "I also plan to work closely with my fellow representatives who serve on the agriculture and environment committees to see that our concerns in those areas are addressed by the Legislature.

Finseth pointed out that legislative committee meetings are open to the public. During the legislative session the Judiciary Committee will meet at 10 a.m. Monday and Wednesday, the Housing Committee at 12:30 p.m. Monday and the Local Government and Metro Affairs Committee at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

His assigned office is at 253 State Office Building and his phone number there is (612) 296-9918. He invites residents of District 1B to stop by, write or call with their questions or comments.

St. Bernard's principal receives Doctorate

Dixie Eileen Lee Klein, principal of St. Bernard's school in Thief River Falls, received her Doctor of Education degree from the University of North Dakota in August.

A reception was held at the Chester Fritz on campus following the graduation. A party, hosted by friends and family, was later held at the Fairfield Inn in Grand Forks. Friends and family from North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming joined in celebrating the occasion with Dr. Klein and her husband and children.

Dr. Klein's undergraduate work was done both at the University of North Dakota and Valley City State University where she earned a degree in elementary education and music. She earned a Master of Education degree from the University of North Dakota in special education and administration in 1988.

"Transition Outcomes: The Relationship Between Special Education Services and the Quality of Life Experienced by Young Adults with Mental Handicaps who have Left School" is the title of her dissertation. The research for this quantitative study was done in cooperation with the Department of Public Instruction in Bismarck, ND, and the Bureau of Applied Research and Education Statistics at the University of North Dakota.

Dr. Klein plans to remain in Thief River Falls where she is principal of St. Bernard's school. She is also self-employed as an educational consultant to public schools and will continue her research in education for publication in education journals.

Mildred Rux, 82

Thief River Falls - Funeral services for Mildred Rux, age 82, will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Mildred Rux died Saturday at her home in Thief River Falls.

Rev. Gary Johnson will officiate at the service, with Ida Nordvall serving as organist and Rev. Dennis and Naomi Raymond providing vocal selections.

Visitation was Tuesday from 1 to 9 p.m. at the Green Funeral Home and will be for one hour prior to the service at the church on Wednesday. There was a 7 p.m. prayer service Tuesday evening at the funeral home.

Casketbearers will be Gary and Jerry Carlson, Mitchell and Jay Mathieu, David Rux and Kari Walton. All grandchildren and great-grandchildren will be honorary casketbearers. Interment will be at Greenwood cemetery in Thief River Falls with the Green Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mildred Whitson was born July 28, 1911, at Hillsboro, ND, the daughter of Enos and Bertha Sorum Whitson. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith. She grew up and attended school in the Hillsboro, ND, area.

She was united in marriage to Palmer Dahle in 1928. The couple moved to the Holt area that year and farmed until his death in 1937.

In 1940, she was united in marriage to Emil Rux at Thief River Falls, and the couple moved to Thief River Falls in 1949. She worked for Land O'Lakes for many years, and also for Northwest Medical Center, where she was working when she retired. She was a member of Zion Lutheran church, the VFW Ladies Auxiliary, the American Legion Auxiliary and the Thief River Falls Cooties.

Mildred Rux is survivied by two daughters, Eleanor (Mrs. James) Halvorson, Karlstad, and Lorraine (Mrs. Bill) Mathieu, Thief River Falls; one son, Jerold (wife: Beverly), Strandquist; 14 grandchildren; 18 great-grandchildren; eight great-great-grandchildren; sisters-in-law, Gina Rux, Thief River Falls, Tillie Brovold, Portland, ND, Donna Whitson, Grand Forks, ND, and Myrtle Brandon, Burr Oak, KS.

Preceding her in death were her husband Palmer; husband, Emil; two brothers, William and Arthur; and two sisters, Florence Knudson and Beatrice Lien.

Charles Lamb, 76

Thief River Falls - Charles Lamb died Friday, Nov. 5, at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls at the age of 76.

Funeral services for Charles Lamb were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at First Lutheran church in Middle River. Interment was at Greenwood cemetery in Thief River Falls, with military honors provided by Middle River American Legion Post 444.

Charles Lamb was born June 30, 1917, in Roseau county, the son of Oliver and Edna Lamb. He grew up and attended school near Gwinner, ND, and served in the United States Army during World War II.

September 3, 1942, he was united in marriage to Billie Harris in St. Louis. The couple moved to Middle River where he was manager of the American Legion club and was the village constable. He drove the Standard Oil Company bulk truck in Middle River and farmed. He was employed by Steenerson Trucking until his retirement in 1970.

Billie Lamb died September 23, 1988. Charles Lamb moved to Thief River Falls in June.

Charles Lamb is survived by three sons, Michael, Moorhead, and Howard and Maxwell, both of Glyndon; seven daughters, Lynnette (Mrs. Joseph) Hasby, Thief River Falls, Nancy (Mrs. Ronald) Boutain, Barnesville, Melinda Lamb and Charlene Godfredson, both of Dilworth, Lauretta (Mrs. Charles) Clements and Melissa (Mrs. Steven) Rood, both of Moorhead, and Bonnie (Mrs. Dale) Sayers, of Fargo; 27 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; four brothers, Leo, Bagley, Edward, Kelso, WA, James, Yakima, WA, and Irire, Townsend, MT; six sisters, Clara Felton, Hamilton, MT, Minerve Nelson and Stella Moen, both of Middle River, Mabel Major, Bono, AR, Etta Erickson, Baudette, and Ruth Otto, Grass Range, MT; and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by three brothers and two sisters.

Clara Gronvold, 85

Middle River - Funeral services were held Sunday, Nov. 7, for Clara H. Gronvold, who died November 3 at Oakland Park Nursing Home in Thief River Falls at the age of 85.

Rev. Todd Peterson officiated at the service, with Katie Toren as pianist and special music provided by Coreen, Cathy and Julie Erickson, Lola Kvalvog, Bernice Klenk and Eleanor Larson.

All attending the service were considered honorary casketbearers. Active bearers were Milton and Glenn Davidson, Lewis and Corrine Swenson, Dale Grondahl and Yvonne Green. Interment was at Holt cemetery with the Collins Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Clara Helen Gronvold was born January 25, 1908, in East Valley township, Marshall county, near Middle River, the daughter of Kerstein and Caroline Moe Gronvold. She attended school and grew to womanhood there and was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith.

She lived with her brothers in the Ringbo community near Middle River for many years and was a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran church in Ringbo, as well as the Ladies Aid for many years. In 1985, she moved to Crestview Boarding Home in Thief River Falls and later to the CNC Unit of Northwest Medical Center. She has resided at Oakland Park Nursing Home since November of 1986.

Survivors include several cousins.

She was preceded in death by her four brothers, Henry, Oliver, Carl and Johnnie.

Brian Keith Balderston, 14

Crookston - Brian Keith Balderston, age 14, Crookston, died Monday, Nov. 8, at the United Hospital in Grand Forks following a snowmobile accident in Crookston early Saturday morning.

Funeral services for Brian Balderston will be held Thursday at Trinity Lutheran church in Crookston at 2:30 p.m.

There will be visitation from 4 to 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Stenshoel-Houske Funeral Chapel in Crookston, with a 7 p.m. prayer service. Visitation will also be at the church for one hour prior to the service.

Interment will be in Oakdale cemetery in Crookston with the Stenshoel-Houske Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Brian Balderston was born in Holcombe, WI, on December 21, 1978, the son of Virgil and Mary Wrobleski Balderston. He lived in Crookston with his family for several years and was presently a freshman at Crookston Central high school. In the past he had participated in the junior high football program.

Survivors include his father, Virgil, of Kasson; mother, Mary, of Crookston; four brothers, Michael John, Mount Clemens, MT, John, Blackduck, and Wayne and Terry, both of Crookston; four sisters, Sandra of Great Falls, MT, Tammy, Bloomington, and Veronica and Lisa, both of Crookston; grandmother, Alta Balderston of Blaine; three nephews; two nieces; and several aunts, uncles and cousins.

He was preceded in death by his grandparents, Lawrence Balderston and Peter and Margaret Wrobleski.

Dear Readers,
We recognize that funeral service is a calling with high responsibilities, requiring strict service standards, and fair and honorable dealing with every family. It requires that all confidential matters of a business or personal nature be held inviolate, and that those entrusted to us shall always be treated with dignity and respect.

Respectfully,
Belmont Funeral Home
Larry Belmont

CAPITOL COMMENTARY

LeRoy Stumpf
State Senator, District 1

Rumors are spreading about a state tax mistake and what it could mean for your property tax bill. As with most rumors, exaggeration is common. The real effect on most taxpayers will be small.

The mistake occurred at the Department of Revenue. The tax experts miscalculated school tax rates on farm property.

The error caused an undervaluation of about $25 million on Minnesota's agricultural land, or less than one per cent of the total value. For some taxing districts, however, the mistake was as large as 25 per cent.

The error caused some school districts in farm areas to underlevy. This in turn affected the taxes for non-farm residents as well.

When this error was spotted by a legislative staff member, corrections started right away. At first, the Department of Revenue resisted making any changes for taxes payable in 1994 because levies are not supposed to be changed after July 1.

Political pressure changed that. The Department of Revenue and Education are now working to send the correct levy figures to school districts, The correct levy figures should get to most areas before the truth-in-taxation notices are sent out.

In northwestern Minnesota, some school districts will see almost no change between the old and new figures. Other districts will see small differences.

Through all these twists and turns, there is a positive note for taxpayers to focus on: The Legislature changed class rates for property taxes a few months ago. This will help hold down increases from 1993 to 1994.

Crookston elects new mayor, three aldermen

Crookston voters returned only one incumbent to office—a fifth ward alderman running unopposed for a second term—as 44 per cent of the city's 4,660 registered voters went to the polls on Tuesday.

Mayor Doug Oman, who did not run for reelection after 12 years in the mayor's office, received 72 write-in votes. Elected was Donald Osborne with 813 votes while Jerry Jackson had 647 and Phil Miller received 517.

Jon Volker received 91 votes in Ward I to 75 votes for Lew Hanson and 63 for eight-year incumbent Lester Stradinger.

Gary Willhite in Ward 3 received 174 votes to 112 for 16-year incumbent Gale Regan.

Odine Smulan in Ward 7 received 209 votes to 100 for 24-year incumbent Lynn Thoen.

Only incumbent to survive the election was Harry Manole, Ward 5 alderman who was running unopposed for this second term.

All aldermen are elected for four-year terms while the mayor is elected for a two-year term.

Classical music showcase Sunday

Monthly Classical Music Showcase of talent for and by area young people and children will be held Sunday, November 14, at 3 p.m. at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston.

A video of pianist Andre Watts will be shown on the center's 52-inch television screen. Doris Krogstad of Winger will be mistress of ceremonies and present the day's biography of a classical composer.

Any child, parent or music teacher wishing to take part is invited to do so, whether the participation is vocal, piano or instrumental. No pre-registration is necessary; just arrive at the center a few minutes early on Sunday.

Purposes of the showcase are (1) to increase awareness of classical music in this area; (2) allow young people and children to perform in public in a non-threatening environment; and (3) to allow the young musicians, their parents and teacher and the interested public the opportunity to interact on an informal basis following the performances.

been expanding its Tigershark distributorship in the United States and increasing its export markets in Japan, France, England, South and Central America and to a lesser degree in Scandinavia where it has numerous snowmobile dealerships.

Snowmobile production on 1994 models will be completed by the end of November and response at the retail level has been outstanding, Twomey said. Orders were taken at dealer meetings in March and April and there are reportedly some dealers who have taken down payments on the entire inventory of snowmobiles they had on order.

Arctco continues its policy of manufacturing snowmobiles only on the basis of orders received. It will assist in the movement of snowmobiles between dealers when possible but produces no excess inventory to furnish dealers who sell out their supply.

Twomey said the year is also off to a great start in parts, garments and accessories. He said about half of the company's nylon clothing line is manufactured in Thief River Falls with the other half assembled by a company in Chisholm. Some of the clothing parts are cut on the computerized equipment in the Arctco plant and trucked to Chisholm for assembly and packaging. Leather garments are manufactured in the Orient.

One of the company's actions which has increased local employment has been a decision to manufacture hulls for the Tigershark entirely in Thief River Falls. Last year Arctco relied on an outside supplier for the hulls.

The decision was based on a desire by Arctco to be in control of every part of its manufacturing operation, including quality of components and availability of supply, Twomey said. "When we have a limited amount of time to produce a given quantity of units," he said, "it is imperative that we have control of the timing of our supply of hulls."

In order to be ready for hull production in the local plant for the 1994 Tigershark line, it was necessary to complete the permitting process through the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency in a timely fashion. Twomey said that the cooperation of the MPCA staff in accomplishing its work in the minimum amount of time made it possible to create about 80 jobs at the Thief River Falls plant.

"They didn't do anything they weren't supposed to do," he said. "It is just that they moved the process along on a timely basis and avoided the delays that usually slow down obtaining of the necessary permits. We certainly appreciate that cooperation and understanding of our situation."

Arctco stock has continued to do well on the market following a three-for-two split earlier in the year, trading at $24.50 per share late this week. Twomey said that the low interest rates have resulted in more money being in the market as investors attempt to increase gains.

In a November "Forbes" magazine article on the world's best small companies, Arctco is listed in 71st place among 200 companies selected from among 5,000 studied.

"This year's eclectic crop of dynamic small companies," states the "Forbes" article, " includes a manufacturer of snowmobiles and jet skis (Arctco), a Boston operator of Italian restaurants (Bertucci's) and dozens of medical and computer technology outfits. What do all these firms have in common? Each passed more than a dozen strict tests..."

Concept Development—The process of developing the "Plan" should allow for maximum input from all three groups. It should promote multiple iterations of concepts to emerge while providing ample opportunity for dialogue and debate over the issues, problems and concerns associated with each concept draft.

Furthermore, the process should resist external pressures to accelerate the timetable. Something this important should be permitted to evolve in a methodical, planned fashion.

End Product—The new higher education delivery system in Thief River Falls should be greater than the existing systems. Citizens within the Thief River Falls community should be able to pursue upper-level undergraduate and graduate-level education without leaving town.

While it is important to preserve the heritage of both of the existing institutions—Northland Community College and Northwest Technical College, Thief River Falls—the future demands that we create something new....an institution or a combination of institutions which can better serve the citizens of the community in a more efficient and effective manner.

The development of a plan to merely merge the two entities will not meet this challenge. We must extend ourselves and envision something greater.

"With these principles guiding the process," Dr. Cross said, "the Northwest Technical College Board is confident that the 'Plan' will produce a system which will better serve the higher education needs of the citizens of the Thief River Falls community."

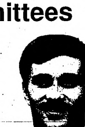
Appoint Finseth to committees

Rep. Tim Finseth of Warren, elected to succeed Rep. Wally Sparby of Thief River Falls in a special election this summer, has received his committee assignments for the 1994 legislative session.

Rep. Finseth has been appointed to the Judiciary Committee and its Judiciary Finance Division, Housing Committee and the Local Government and Metro Affairs Committee.

"I am looking forward to serving on these committees," he said. "I also plan to work closely with my fellow representatives who serve on the agriculture and environment committees to see that our concerns in those areas are addressed by the Legislature.

Finseth pointed out that legislative committee meetings are open to the public. During the legislative session the Judiciary Committee will meet at 10 a.m. Monday and Wednesday, the Housing Committee at 12:30 p.m. Monday and the Local Government and Metro Affairs Committee at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.



His assigned office is at 253 State Office Building and his phone number there is (612) 296-9918. He invites residents of District 1B to stop by, write or call with their questions or comments.

Dynamic Homes has $537,000 in earnings

Dynamic Homes, Inc. of Detroit Lakes reports third quarter earnings of $537,000 or 25 cents per share for the third quarter of 1993, up from $160,000 or eight cents per share a year ago. Total revenues for the current period were $3,153,000, an increase of 20 per cent from $2,627,000 in the third quarter of 1992.

The order backlog of single-family and multi-family/commercial construction totaled $4,472,000, an increase of 132 per cent from Sept. 30, 1992. Area builder/dealer is Anderson Construction of Newfolden.

St. Bernard's principal receives Doctorate

Dixie Eileen Lee Klein, principal of St. Bernard's school in Thief River Falls, received her Doctor of Education degree from the University of North Dakota in August.

A reception was held at the Chester Fritz on campus following the graduation. A party, hosted by friends and family, was later held at the Fairfield Inn in Grand Forks. Friends and family from North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming joined in celebrating the occasion with Dr. Klein and her husband and children.

Dr. Klein's undergraduate work was done both at the University of North Dakota and Valley City State University where she earned a degree in elementary education and music. She earned a Master of Education degree from the University of North Dakota in special education and administration in 1988.

"Transition Outcomes: The Relationship Between Special Education Services and the Quality of Life Experienced by Young Adults with Mental Handicaps who have Left School" is the title of her dissertation. The research for this quantitative study was done in cooperation with the Department of Public Instruction in Bismarck, ND, and the Bureau of Applied Research and Education Statistics at the University of North Dakota.

Dr. Klein plans to remain in Thief River Falls where she is principal of St. Bernard's school. She is also self-employed as an educational consultant to public schools and will continue her research in education for publication in education journals.

Miller attends training meet

David Miller of David Miller Agency in Thief River Falls recently attended the fall training meetings of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation in Alexandria. Training was provided on the new pilot group risk program for forage and the modified annual production history procedures and crop hail insurance.

Nick Harris and his grandpa give beverage can tabs

Many people have donated beverage can tabs to help raise funds for the Ronald McDonald House in Fargo, ND, but Nick Harris of Thief River Falls and his grandpa John Harris of International Falls recently made a substantial donation through the McDonald's restaurant in Thief River Falls.

Nick is the son of Greg and Sharon Harris and he has been helping his grandpa collect the pop and beer can tabs for less than two years. They recently donated their accumulation of tabs to the Thief River Falls McDonald's—an accumulation involving 34 boxes and a five-quart pail filled with the tabs.

Workers at the restaurant repackaged the tabs into 16 boxes weighing about 35 pounds each for transport to Fargo. The tabs are sold for recycling and the proceeds used to help support the Ronald McDonald house—a place to stay at low cost for people who have family members in long-term care at Fargo hospitals.

It takes about 70 tabs to equal an ounce of weight, or about 1,120 tabs per pound. Each of the boxes filled to 35 pounds would contain about 39,200 tabs. Nick's donation totaling 16 boxes would amount to about 627,000 tabs—well over half a million.

There are now 150 Ronald McDonald houses located in nine counties including the United States, Canada, Australia, the Netherlands, Germany, Austria, England, New Zealand and France. In total there are 2,200 bedrooms serving some 4,000 family members each night.

The houses average 15 bedrooms with the smallest (four bedrooms) located in Boise, ID and the largest (50 bedrooms) located in Indianapolis, IN.

The Fargo-Moorhead house is located at 1234 Broadway in Fargo, ND.

Nick Harris, son of Greg and Sharon Harris of Thief River Falls, and his grandfather, John Harris of International Falls, recently donated more than half a million beverage can tabs to the Ronald McDonald house in Fargo, ND, through the McDonald's restaurant in Thief River Falls. The tabs were delivered in 34 cardboard boxes and a five-quart plastic pail.

Wayward cattle brought back to processing plant

Law enforcement officials in Pennington county were involved in an old-fashioned round up last weekend. Fifty-eight cattle being held in a corral at Joppru's Meat Service, a processing plant, escaped sometime over the weekend.

Rather than making a concerted effort at an escape, Pennington county sheriff's deputies believe the cattle were being chased by dogs. In the deputys' report, credit for rounding up the cattle found along Highway 32 North in North township Saturday morning was given to Garrett Roierson, who by riding his horse was able to pen the wayward cows.

Higher Education Board candidates are being sought

Gail Butenhoff of Crookston, a member of the Higher Education Board candidate advisory council, has announced the beginning of the council's recruitment drive for four seats on the Higher Education Board—one each from the Second, Sixth and Eighth Congressional districts and one at-large.

Terms of four board members will expire July 1, 1994. By law, the board must have one member from each of the state's eight congressional districts, four members from the state at large and one student member who serves a two-year term. All other members of the board serve six-year terms.

Legislation passed in 1991 merged Minnesota's state universities, technical colleges and community colleges under the permanent 13-member Higher Education Board. The State Board of Technical Colleges, State Board for Community Colleges and the State University Board will be abolished July 1, 1995, and the Higher Education Board will assume all responsibility for the governance and administration of the three educational systems.

"The Higher Education Board will oversee 62 campuses and 130,000 students," Butenhoff said. "It will be crucial to the success of the merger to have board members who understand the broad reach of the Higher Education Board and its vision to serve the lifelong learning needs of all Minnesotans."

The law creating the 24-member advisor council directs it to develop selection criteria and descriptions of the duties of the Higher Education Board. In addition, the advisory council must recruit qualified candidates and recommend two to four candidates for each open position on the Board.

Governor Arne Carlson may appoint members from the lists submitted by the advisory council. Recommendations must be received by the governor by Jan. 2, 1994.

Information regarding nominations and applications for the Higher Education Board is available from the Higher Education Board Candidate Advisory Council office at 85 State Office Building, St. Paul, MN 55155, phone (612) 296-1121.

Flannel Board Pictures

Do you remember the wonderful flannelgraph stories you heard and saw as a child? Today's children also enjoy this and you can have a special time creating one for your special child. You will need a piece of felt to cut into various shapes, such as squares, circles and triangles. To "stick" these to a board, you can cover a small board with flannel and tape it to secure it. You now have an instant board and pieces. The children can use the shapes to make different designs and as they become more experienced, even characters. This is an excellent way to learn the various shapes and if you make them in a variety of colors, the children will learn color names as well.

PARENTING TIPS

Anger

Everyone gets angry. You do, and so does your child. But figuring out what to do with that anger is tough. It makes parenting one of the hardest jobs in the world, states the Minnesota Department of Public Welfare.

Most of us were not taught how to deal with anger, during our childhood. Often we were led to believe that to be angry was to be bad, and we were often made to feel guilty for expressing anger. It will be easier to deal with children's anger if we get rid of the notion that anger is bad. Try to treat it as a natural human feeling. Allow your child and yourself to feel the emotion of anger.

Strong feelings should not be denied. View angry outbursts as a sign of a serious problem. Recognize these strong feelings and treat them with respect.

Anger is often the result of another feeling that hasn't been identified. The real problem could be deeper and more frightening. If you can discover what feeling lies under the anger, you can talk about it and deal with the "real problem." If you use this process, the anger is likely to lessen or even disappear.

Next week we will look at some suggestions for dealing with an angry child.

(Contributed by the Early Childhood Family Education department of School District 564.)

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Try to discover the feelings that are causing your child's anger and help him/her to talk about it. "You get frustrated with your little brother when he walks through the middle of your toys."

Sedlacek cites Mexico market for sunflowers

Jerry Sedlacek of Warren, a member of the board of directors of the National Sunflower Association, believes that the United States' share of the Mexican sunflower oil market would increase under the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA).

"Mexico purchased one-third of the entire U.S. sunflower crop in the market year just completed," Sedlacek said. "Mexico's oil consumption is growing four per cent annually, one of the highest rates in the world.

"If NAFTA passes, a 10 per cent tariff on U.S. sunflower oil will be eliminated over 10 years, providing U.S. producers a very significant price advantage over competitor countries such as the European Community and Argentina. The 10 per cent tariff will remain in place on all other origins."

Another advantage, Sedlacek said, is that Mexico buys oil instead of seed. "That means that the seed is processed into 'value added' oil here, which keeps jobs in rural America," he said.

"Under NAFTA Mexico could take up to 50 per cent of all the sunflower oil we produce. We would simply look at Mexico as an extension of the domestic market because there would be no trade barriers."

Mexico has been an up-and-down market for U.S. sunflower producers but its importance continues to increase as traditional North African markets have become less dependable because of higher transportation costs and political instability.

Sedlacek said the National Sunflower Association is keying in on countries within our hemisphere that provide a natural market advantage. That includes the Central American countries, Venezuela and Mexico. The majority of these countries are now politically stable, have market economies and are experiencing strong economic growth.

Jerome Johnson heads Marshall Co. history group

Jerome Johnson of Strathcona was reelected president of the Marshall County Historical Society at the annual meeting held Thursday, October 21, at the Newfolden community center.

Other officers elected were Joyce Kron, Newfolden, vice president; Anna Lou Gordhamer, Argyle, secretary; and Kent Broten, Viking, treasurer.

Other members of the board of directors are Casper Martin and Max Campbell, Oslo; Minnie Haugen, Lucille Tunheim, Dennis Hjelle and Dennis Maurstad, Newfolden; Emil Kuznia and Marilyn Carlson, Stephen; Vangie Myhre, Art Kohlhase, David Judovsky and Delvin Potucek, Warren; Marie Steffen, Norman Hagen, Clayton Broten, Oliver Labine and Willard Johnson, Argyle; and Grant Satre, Grygla.

Honorary board of governors includes Hazel Ranstrom and Neil Mattson, Warren; Gladys Halfmann and Forrest Olson, Stephen; Martha Olson, Alvarado; and Thea Harstad, Thief River Falls.

During September the society hosted 200 Marshall county elementary school children for a cream separating demonstration and a guided tour of the museum.

The museum is closed until next May. Those who need assistance with information or other help from the historical society may contact Elaine Olson at 478-3882.

Lung Association gives ideas on burning wood

Although wood burning stoves are popular in Minnesota, there are health hazards that should be considered, according to the American Lung Association of Minnesota.

Wood is a natural fuel, but burning it creates air pollution and potential health hazards both indoors and out, especially if stoves aren't operated correctly.

Begin by buying and maintaining a wood stove the right size for your home, the association suggests. Also look for a stove with a U.S. Environmental Protection Agency certification label.

When starting a fire in a wood stove or fireplace, open the air controls and damper to increase the draft and make it easier for the fire to start. Once the fire is going, there should be a constant surface temperature in the range of 300 to 500 degrees Fahrenheit. Add small amounts of wood and empty ashes from the firebox into a metal container as needed.

Never burn green, wet, painted or treated wood or products that contain glue, binders or chemicals; trash or garbage; magazines, colored paper or gift wrap. All of these materials give off harmful chemicals, more smoke and pollution and less heat. Avoid burning coal in a wood burning stove.

Persons with questions about wood burning stoves or fireplaces are invited to call the American Lung Association of Minnesota at 1-800-642-5864.

Weight Loss Puzzles Researcher!

WASHINGTON -- A researcher at National Dietary Research was puzzled at how successful a natural food tablet had become in helping overweight people lose weight. Dr. William Morris was puzzled because the original chewable tablet formula was developed to help feed the world's undernourished people.

Some may say the weight loss is due to the natural plant colloids that Finnish scientists say interferes with the intestinal absorption of calories and Swedish scientists found to cause weight loss in spite of patients being instructed not to alter normal eating patterns. Others may say its the patented ingredient developed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture that burns the fat. But not all scientists agree with these theories so they must be considered speculation pending further study.

According to Dr. Morris, the improved formula's weight loss potential is no longer a mystery. The formula called Food Source II (FS-II) contains a powerful appetite blocker that decreases calorie absorption.

FS-II comes with a revolutionary diet plan that allows you to lose weight without giving up your favorite foods. With the FS-II Plan there are no forbidden foods and the special appetite control ingredient is one of the most effective available without a prescription.

Berkeley-Brown Labs has obtained exclusive distribution rights to FS-II. FS-II is available through pharmacies and other health care professionals.

Michelle Naplin

Naplin second in RRV Farm Woman event

Michelle Naplin of rural Red Lake Falls, representing Pennington county, placed second in the Red River Valley Farm Woman of the Year competition held Friday evening, November 5, at the agri-women's conference sponsored by Minnesota Agri-Women and North Dakota Agri-Women at the Westward Ho motel in Grand Forks, ND.

Cynthia Johnson of Fergus Falls won first place among 24 county winners entered in the competition. She and her husband Gordon have been in the dairy business since 1965 and since her children have grown she has become more active in community and agriculture organizations.

Michelle and her husband Mark have been farming for 18 years. They were the Pennington County King Agassiz couple last year.

Third place winner was Juanita Greening of Wales, ND, who has been in the farming business for 32 years and raises wheat, barley, sunflowers and flax.

First place winner receives a trip for herself and her spouse to the 1994 National American Agri-Women convention in Portland, OR. Second and third place winners received special prizes and all county winners received engraved watches.

Other county winners from this area who were among the 24 guests of honor at the conference were Debbie Ornquist of Marshall county and Genevieve Knott of Red Lake county.

44 tons of containers recycled

A total of 146,226 empty pesticide containers equaling 88,000 pounds of plastic were collected and recycled through the Minnesota Department of Agriculture's "Empty Pesticide Container Collection and Recycling Program, according to Elton R. Redalen, state commissioner of agriculture.

The total number of containers represented an increase of 50 per cent from the collections in 1992.

"The success of the program can be attributed to cooperation between the agriculture chemical dealers, governmental agencies and pesticide users all working together for the common goal of recycling pesticide containers," Commissioner Redalen said.

"Our thanks to the many people who have volunteered their time and energy to make this a successful program."

To participate, farmers, commercial applicators and others bring their empty, rinsed plastic pesticide containers to a designated collection site within the county. The recycled plastic is used in the manufacture of new pesticide containers and plastic pallets. Beginning next year many of the pallets used in the transportation of pesticide products will be made of recycled plastic pesticide containers.

Swift county led all counties by recycling 12,016 containers. Largest one-day collection was at the Renville county highway garage in Bird Island where 8,083 containers were collected.

In 1993 the collection program was offered in 43 of the 87 counties in the state. All counties will have the opportunity to participate in the program in 1994 when it will be available state-wide.

The collection is open to all farmers, commercial applicators and businesses. For more information contact Steven Poncin, Minnesota Department of Agriculture, 90 West Plato Blvd, St. Paul, MN 55107, phone (612) 296-5136.

Custom Training Serivces names Peyton manager

Custom Training Services, a division of Northwest Technical College, has announced the appointment of Peyton "Skip" Narum as regional site manager for the Thief River Falls area.

As regional site manager, Skip will be responsible for developing relationships with organizations, determining training and consulting needs and coordinating training resources. Skip has most recently been employed with the Crookston Daily Times/Valley Shopper. While with the newspaper, Skip was employed two and one-half years as the publisher/editor and four years as the advertising director. Skip is a graduate of the University of Iowa with a bachelor of science in mathematical sciences and has graduated from the Blandin Community Leadership program.

Custom Training Services (CTS) was created to offer customized educational and consulting services designed to close the skill gap between the abilities of today's workforce and the future needs of local business and industry. As a non-profit entity, CTS's mission is to provide sensitive, quality focused, services to business and industry. CTS is a regional approach to training and represents the merger of six colleges (Bemidji, Detroit Lakes, East Grand Forks, Moorhead, Thief River Falls, Wadena). The initial focus will be directed toward fulfilling employer enhancement for individual career alternatives, and training partnerships with business and industries unable to maintain internal resources.

Peyton "Skip" Narum
Regional Site Manager

Skip Narum is visiting with business and industry for the purpose of determining training needs and providing organizations with the best in training and consulting services. Organizations who are interested in training may contact Skip at 681-5424.

Wheat and barley associations make plans for convention in Fargo

Washington officials will discuss federal farm policies and many other events are planned for the annual convention of the Minnesota Association of Wheat Growers and the Minnesota Barley Growers Association Monday and Tuesday, November 29 and 30, at the Doublewood Inn in Fargo, ND.

A grain marketing workshop sponsored by the Minneapolis Grain Exchange will kick off the convention at 8 a.m. November 29. Weather and scab will be discussed and a new "research center" will showcase small grains management and utilization research presentations.

Grant Buntrock, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) administrator from Washington, DC, and Rep. Collin Peterson will discuss federal farm policies on the opening day. A panel including North Dakota and Minnesota ASCS administrators and the Minnesota federal crop insurance administrator will discuss new directions for farm policies, including federal crop insurance and disaster assistance measures.

North American Free Trade Agreement will be discussed along with other international trade changes. During the evening there will be a unique farm services auction and an address on overcoming adversity by Dick Beardsley, farm director of KNOX radio in Grand Forks, ND.

On November 30 state lawmakers will update growers on state issues and the Wheat Growers will discuss farm policy resolutions. The convention will adjourn by noon so growers may attend the North Dakota Agriculture Association's Northern Ag Expo to be held at the Fargodome in Fargo November 30 and December 1.

Information on the conventions is available by calling Carol or Lori at the Minnesota Association of Wheat Growers office in Red Lake Falls at 253-4311 or 1-800-242-6118.

Jamie Martell of the Prowlers tried to spike the ball past the blocking effort of the Spuds' Junell Krabbenhoft during Friday's North Sub-Section 8AA high school volleyball tournament semifinal match. Moorhead beat Thief River Falls 3-1.

Spuds upend Prowlers 3-1

■ North Sub-Section 8AA volleyball semifinal

It starts with serve reception. Without it, volleyball teams go nowhere, fast. That lesson was hammered home Friday when Thief River Falls had trouble picking up Moorhead serves in a 3-1 North Sub-Section 8AA tournament semifinal match at the Lincoln High School gym.

The No. 3-seeded Spuds avenged a 3-2 regular season loss to the No. 2-seeded Prowlers 8-15, 15-12, 15-6, 15-12.

Thief River Falls ended the 1993 season at 11-14, while Moorhead moved into the Saturday finals against highly-regarded Alexandria.

"We had trouble with serve reception," explained Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "When we had the chance to put it up, our setters and hitters did an nice job – we had the opportunity to put it away. But we just didn't handle the serves very well."

Thief River Falls started the night in fine fashion, running up a 10-3 first-game lead. The Spuds were within 13-8 before a side-out kill by Toni Chiodo, a point-producing block by Sarah Huschle and a Moorhead error closed out the Prowlers' seven-point win.

Moorhead came back to take a 7-3 lead in Game 2 before a strong Thief River Falls rally produced seven unanswered points and a 10-7 lead on a Kelly Skeim kill.

But just when it appeared the Prowlers would take charge with a 2-0 scoreboard advantage, the Spuds stormed back. They tied it 11-11 on back-to-back ace serves by Elizabeth Schellhase, went ahead 12-11 on a cross-court kill by Tara Anderson, and gained a 13-11 edge when Thief River Falls couldn't come up with a Angela Michels serve.

The Prowlers put a temporary stop to the Moorhead run when Chiodo found a hole in the Spuds' defense with a well-placed shot for a 14-12 game, but big-time hits by Anderson and Melinda Dickelman completed the Moorhead win.

Game 3 belonged to the Spuds 15-6. The Prowlers were able to regroup, however, and threatened to send the match into a fifth and deciding game by building a 12-6 Game 4 lead.

But strong team play, a key to whatever success the Prowlers enjoyed this year, did not come through this time. While holding on to a 12-10 edge, the Prowlers went through four scoreless service rotations. The Spuds tied in at 12-12 on consecutive aces by Anderson, went ahead 13-12 on a kill by Schellhase saw another Anderson serve fall in for a 14-12 advantage. A tie-up at the net fell in for the Spuds for the match-ending 15th point.

"It was a disappointing loss," said Anderson, "I was really disappointed by the lack of teamwork for the night. "I don't want to take anything away from the girls who were doing a good job, but we just didn't play well as a team."

One of the Prowlers' bright spot was the play of 6-0 junior hitter Sarah Huschle. "Sarah played very well at the net," said Anderson.

It was the final match for Chiodo and Jamie Martell, the only seniors on the Thief River Falls roster.

"I feel especially bad for Toni and Jamie since it was their last match," offered Anderson. "We really wanted a chance to play Alexandria."

The Cardinals wound up sweeping the Spuds in the title match 15-2, 15-9, 15-1.

Alexandria will meet South Sub-Section 8AA winner Sauk Rapids in the Section 8AA title match Saturday. Sauk Rapids defeated Rocori 15-7, 10-15, 15-3, 15-4 in the South finals Friday.

Rochester wins MCCC football semifinal match-up.:.

NCC falls 21-0 in playoffs

Northland Community College saw its 1993 football season end the same way it started Saturday when the Pioneers lost a 21-0 Minnesota Community College Conference state semifinal playoff game to host Rochester.

The Northern Division co-champion Pioneers finished the year 6-3. All three losses were shutouts at the hands of playoff teams, including a 21-0 season-opening decision to Fergus Falls. The Yellowjackets and Spartans finished 1-2 in the Southern Division this fall.

"It seems like we lose to the Southern Division teams 21-0," offered Northland coach Gene Klinke.

The third Northland setback was a mid-season 16-0 loss to Itasca. The Vikings, who shared the Northern Division title with the Pioneers this fall, lost to Fergus Falls 41-19 in Saturday's other MCCC playoff match-up.

Rochester took a 14-0 first quarter lead on a pair of 10-yard touchdown passes from Ryan Kelly to Dan Goodwin, then tacked on a 6-yard Sherman Anderson touchdown run in the fourth quarter.

Percentage-wise Kelly didn't have a great day, but his 15-for-43 showing did net 225 of the Yellowjackets' 318 yards. He was intercepted once.

"Defensively we played really well," said Klinke, "but he (Kelly) is a good quarterback – the best we've seen all year. He stood in there and found the open receivers. He's got good arm strength, and he has a good set of receivers."

Northland abandoned its ground game in an effort to match Rochester's passing attack. The Pioneers were 13-for-33 in the air for 229 yards, but also threw five interceptions. Starting quarterback Jason Svir was 6-for-16 before giving way to Greg Lien in the fourth quarter. Lien matched Svir's passing figures with a 6-for-14 showing. Svir was intercepted twice; Lien had three passes picked off.

"We were sputtering on offense," explained Klinke, "so we made the change (at quarterback) to see if we could get a spark – get something going. The five interceptions didn't help, obviously, but we felt we had to throw. We had people wide open; we just didn't connect. Mike Swanson, Lee Alfson and Maceo Butler (the Pioneers' primary receivers) all had good games, but we just didn't get the ball to them enough."

Northland mustered just 40 yards on 33 running plays. Alfson, a flanker, led the Pioneers with 24 yards on 5 carries. Fullback Sheldon Hinton was limited to 10 yards on 6 tries. Anderson carried 17 times for 88 yards for the winners.

"At times we moved the ball," noted Klinke, "but then we would shoot ourselves in the foot. We were inside their 20 a couple of times, but came up empty."

Best Northland scoring opportunity came in the final moments of the first half when the Pioneers reached the Yellowjackets' 5-yard line before a quarterback sack and a penalty pushed them back. The threat ended when a pass was bounced to an open receiver in the end zone.

"We're disappointed with the loss, of course," said Klinke, "but we gave it a good effort. We lost to a very good football team. We did some things well, but not often enough."

Poor condition of the snow-covered field, along with 12 penalties added to the Pioneers' frustration. The Yellowjackets had to contend with the same problems, including 12 penalties of their own, but the scoreboard made those situations tolerable for the winners, who will face Fergus Falls in the MCCC title game Saturday at 1 p.m. at St. Cloud State University.

The Pioneers, who went 5-3 in Klinke's first year as head coach in 1992, set a school record for wins this fall. "We had a very good season," he noted. "People didn't expect us to be in the playoffs, but nobody worked harder than our kids

Area teams take part in '93 state football playoffs

Six northwestern Minnesota teams will be involved in the 1993 state high school football playoffs that begin Friday statewide.

Area teams drawing local interest in the playoffs include Moorhead in Class AA; Detroit Lakes, Class A; Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton, Class B; Mahnomen, Class C; along with Kittson Central and Norman County East, Nine-Man.

The first round state match-ups for those teams Friday include Moorhead (11-0) at Rochester John Marshall (9-2), 7 p.m.; Detroit Lakes (10-0) at South St. Paul (5-6), 7:30 p.m.; Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton (9-2) vs. Deer River (11-0), 7 p.m.; Mahnomen (10-1) vs. Esko (9-1), 7 p.m.; Kittson Central (10-1) at Chokio-Alberta (11-0), 7 p.m.; Norman County East (8-3) at Clinton-Graceville (6-5), 1:30 p.m.

In sectional finals last week, Moorhead beat Cambridge 22-6 in Section 8AA; Detroit Lakes defeated East Grand Forks 39-12 in Section 8A; Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton stopped Agassiz Valley 47-18 in Section 8B; Mahnomen got by Red Lake Falls 35-24 in Section 8B; Kittson Central handled Stephen 32-13 in Section 8 Nine-Man; and Norman County East eliminated Fisher-Climax 34-20 in Section 6 Nine-Man.

Volleyball finals in Section 8A to be held at UMC

Section 8A high school volleyball tournament will be played Friday and Saturday at the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

First-round matches Friday will feature Cass Lake-Bena vs. Fisher-Climax at 6:30 p.m. and Fosston vs. Lake of the Woods at 8.

Third place and championship matches will be played the following night at 6:30 and 8 p.m., respectively.

The Section 8A champion will advance to the 1993 Class A state tournament Nov. 19-20 at the Met Center in Bloomington.

Tracy Olson of Marshall County Central bumped the ball in play on this serve reception against Lake of the Woods during Saturday's Section 8A Sub-Section 4 high school volleyball tournament championship match at Northland Community College. The Bears came from behind to beat the Nordics 3-2.

Bears' rally wins volleyball crown

Duplicating a come-from-behind effort from a Friday semifinal victory over Tri-County, Lake of the Woods rallied for a 3-2 win over Marshall County Central Saturday in Section 8A Sub-Section 4 high school volleyball tournament finals at North-land Community College.

Lake of the Woods snatched victory from the jaws of defeat by beating the Nordics 10-15, 15-17, 15-5, 15-12, 15-8.

The Bears faced a similar 0-2 deficit the previous night before overtaking Tri-County 9-15, 15-17, 15-8, 15-12, 15-10.

"Give Baudette (Lake of the Woods) credit," said disappointed Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson after the championship match setback. "They don't quit. Even when you think you have them on the ropes they keep coming back."

The loss ended a 24-3 season for the Nordics, who got by Roseau 15-9, 15-8, 1-15, 12-15, 15-9 in the Friday semifinals.

"We were a little shaky against Roseau," admitted Jorgenson. "We had a hard time with them. I was really kind of surprised we were even able to hold on for the win."

Saturday, Jorgenson was even more surprised by the loss.

After trailing 7-4 early, Marshall County Central came back for the 15-10 Game 1 win, catching the Bears at 9-9 on a kill by Shanon Magner, and winning it on a corner spike by Jenny Taggart.

The Nordics were impressive in building a 7-0 second-game lead. It was 14-8 before the Bears stormed back, tying it 14-14 on an ace by Erika Bailey. A block by Jenny Hancock put Lake of the Woods ahead 15-14, but a side-out hit by Tricia Pederson kept Marshall County Central going. Sara Lokstad made it 16-15, Nordics, with a block and a kill, then after a series of side-outs, an out-of-bounds Lake of the Woods spike ended it.

But the failure of the Game 2 rally to produce a win didn't discourage the Bears, who dominated play in their 15-5 third game decision.

Game 4 was a battle from start to finish. Magner put one away to put the Nordics up 12-10, but two serve receptions that were bumped back to the net resulted in consecutive kills by Hancock to tie it 12-12. Bailey then served two aces and a Hancock spike was blocked out of bounds for the 15-12 finish.

"We had a tough time with serve reception," said Jorgenson. "We didn't handle the serves very well at all."

Marshall County Central started the final game with 4-0 and 6-3 leads, but it was tied at 8-8 and Lake of the Woods controlled play down the stretch with a string of seven straight points against the clearly shaken Nordics.

Back-to-back aces by Kari Slick broke the tie. Bailey then found a hole with a spike, Jody LaValla came back with another ace; and Hancock drilled one through a blocker for a 13-8 game. A Marshall County Central error resulted in the Bears' 14th point and a double-block by LaValla and Slick finished the championship-clinching surge.

"It was a good match," said Jorgenson. "But when the match was on the line, we lost our composure. We started to play a little tentative. It got to the point where we played not to lose. We got away from our game. We just wanted to get it over the net instead of setting it up and attacking."

It was a disappointing finish to a season in which Marshall County Central lost to just two teams – Badger/Greenbush-Middle River and Lake of the Woods. The Nordics came back to beat the Gators 15-8, 15-8, 15-12 in the Sub-

Lake of the Woods hitter Jenny Hancock tried to drive the ball past a Marshall County Central blocker Saturday during the finals of the 1993 Section 8A Sub-Section 4 high school volleyball tournament at Northland Community College. The Bears won 3-2.

Girls head to Section 8 meet

Thief River Falls girls high school swimming coach Ryan Lokken will take 19 qualifiers – his largest delegation ever – to the 1993 Section 8 meet Friday and Saturday at the University of North Dakota Hyslop Pool in Grand Forks.

But simply having large numbers will not elevate the Prowlers among the team leaders. "We're still really young," pointed out Lokken. "We'll be somewhere in the middle of the pack."

Bemidji is the team favorite.

Top two finishers in each swimming event (or those matching state qualifying times), plus the top five divers, will advance to the state meet Nov. 23-24 at the University of Minnesota Aquatic Center in Minneapolis.

Best Thief River Falls state meet bets, according to Lokken, rest with swimmer Theresa Giauque and diver Jennifer Olin. Giauque is a junior; Olin is a sophomore.

A number of competitors qualify for the sectional meet in several different events. Lokken will make the final decision on the post-season entry list.

Youth Basketball

Practice starts Monday, Nov. 15, for the Thief River Falls Backcourt Club-sponsored youth basketball program.

All boys and girls in grades 4-5-6 interested in playing basketball this winter will receive handbooks in school this week listing team rosters and practice times.

Questions about the Backcourt Club program can be directed to Sylvia Sjoberg by calling 681-3533.

Hockey meetings scheduled tonight

A pair of hockey meetings are scheduled tonight (Wednesday) in the Lincoln High School cafeteria.

Head high school hockey coach Glenn Chiodo will address a player/parent meeting beginning at 6:30 p.m. that will be followed by a Blue Line Club meeting.

All Prowler hockey players and their parents should be on hand for the first meeting. The Blue Line Club meeting is open to all Thief River Falls hockey fans.

Sports Boosters to meet on Thursday

Lincoln High School boys and girls cross country coach Lynn Dyer will be the guest speaker Thursday at the weekly Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club 12-noon luncheon meeting at the Elks.

The public is invited.

Hunting Safety Campaign

Hunting is a cherished American tradition enjoyed by more than 15 million people each year. But, as with many sports, there are dangers if participants do not follow the rules.

To make hunting safer for everyone, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources sponsors advanced hunter education and firearm safety education classes to instruct hunters in safe and ethical hunting practices, including how to handle firearms properly, how to identify safe areas to hunt, and how to clearly identify targets before shooting.

And these hunter education classes are saving lives. In the past 20 years, the number of hunting accidents nationwide has declined dramatically.

This year, the Minnesota DNR is sponsoring a special campaign to encourage Minnesotans to make safety the number one priority of the fall hunting season.

The campaign includes a televised public service announcement entitled, "Hunting Safety Isn't Inherited—You Have to Teach It." The News from Minnesota DNR...

Spending by hunters helps state business

With most hunting seasons in full swing and the deer opener just around the corner, Minnesotans might want to know that hunters are doing more than just putting game on the table. They are also spending hundreds of millions of dollars for their activities and supporting nearly 7,000 jobs.

According to the 1991 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife Associated Recreation, released in March 1993, Minnesota's 600,000 hunters spent almost $300 million on food, lodging, gas, and especially equipment in 1991. Estimates of current license sales indicate 1993 expenditures should be near that figure. And because most hunting activity goes on in the farm and forest regions of Minnesota, most of these dollars are spent in the state's rural communities, many of which are economically depressed.

A 1992 study of the economic effects of hunting to Minnesota by Southwick Associates of Arlington, VA., showed that a smaller amount of expenditures in 1985 ($228 million) supported 6,800 full- and part-time jobs in Minnesota. These jobs are directly associated with hunting, such as ammunition manufacturing, and are also in industries that indirectly support hunting-related activities, such as rural motels and diners.

"There are more than half a million hunters in the state," said Tim Bremicker, Department of Natural Resources' Wildlife Section chief. "Obviously hunting is a big part of Minnesota's culture. But what's less well recognized is that the $300 million hunters spend each year makes hunting a big part of the state's economy, too."

Deer Hunting

As problems associated with high deer populations have increased in recent years, so have opportunities for hunters to assist in the management of the deer herd. Dave Schad, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Forest Wildlife Program Leader, explained that regulations and programs have become more complex as deer managers allow hunters to take additional deer in order to control or manage some deer populations, especially in urban areas.

"While the deer hunting regulations are getting more complicated, most of the new provisions are meant for a small number of hunters in limited areas of the state," Schad said. "For most hunters, the process of purchasing a license, applying for an antlerless permit, and taking part in the hunt has changed little in recent years."

So just how many deer can each hunter tag this fall? Basically, each person is restricted to tagging one deer per year except in the following situations:

1. Hunters may tag a deer with both their regular archery license and their regular firearms license (including the muzzleloader license) only in the experimental two-deer area, which consists of Kittson, Marshall, Roseau, and Lake of the Woods counties. A free permit is required before the second deer is taken.

2. In all other areas of the state, a firearms or archery management permit must be used if more than one deer is tagged. This year, persons authorized to obtain management permits can purchase them at any time, even after the opening of the firearms season. In most cases, management permits authorize hunters to tag a second, antlerless deer. Firearms hunters who apply for antlerless permits may be authorized to purchase a management permit valid in a specific undersubscribed antlerless permit area, while archers may purchase a management permit that is valid in any of 42 designated antlerless permit areas. In addition, management permits are authorized for participants in most special firearms and archery hunts.

3. This year for the first time, hunters may take more than two deer in Minnesota in some Twin Cities suburban areas where hunting opportunities are limited. Hunters may take a third deer in antlerless permit area 228; and a third, fourth, or fifth deer in antlerless permit area 337 and some special hunts. Firearms hunters eligible to tag a third, fourth, or fifth deer will be authorized to purchase additional management permits when they are sent their antlerless or special hunt permit. Archers can tag these additional deer by purchasing a new "Urban Archery Deer Management Permit" that is valid only in the selected areas. An individual may not tag more than a total of five deer by any means during the 1993 season.

While there are numerous combinations on how a third, fourth, and fifth deer may be tagged by an individual hunter, the DNR cautioned that lands open for hunting in many of these areas is limited. Interested hunters should check with local municipalities and obtain permission from property owners before inquiring about these opportunities.

REST INSURED
by Carol Nelson
TEENAGE DRIVERS
Do you have a teenage driver in your home?
Parents who do, often are shocked to find out the price of auto insurance for young drivers. For a teenage boy, the rate can be three-and-a-half times the rate an adult male pays.
Auto insurance rates are so high for drivers under 25 years of age because teenagers as a group are involved in more car crashes than people of other ages. This is true even though they drive less than older people.
Premiums are highest at age 17 and taper off gradually until age 30. There are some ways to reduce these premiums.
– Drive the family car. Premiums are lower on the family station wagon, for example, than a sporty 2-door model.
– Full-time students aged 16-25 who maintain a B average can be eligible for discounts up to 25%.
– Choose a higher deductible. Rates are lower if you choose a higher deductible for collision coverage. If you have an older car, you may wish to eliminate the collision coverage.
During the teenage years, one accident could cause insurance rates to skyrocket. Please remind your young drivers to drive defensively; don't speed; and never drink and drive.

Icy roads contribute to several accidents

Slippery roads caused by ice and snow contributed to several accidents last week. The first heavy snowfall of the year kept law enforcement officials busy. On Thursday, three minor accidents were recorded at the intersection of Third and Davis alone. Between 2:40 a.m. and 10 a.m. that day, eight accidents were reported to the law enforcement center.

On November 1 at 2:10 p.m. police received a report of an accident at First and LaBree. June Borgen, Thief River Falls, was traveling east on First Street, and Orlando Solberg, Plummer, was traveling west and making a left turn onto South LaBree when the vehicles collided, said a Law Enforcement Center spokperson. Damages were estimated at $1,500 to the Borgen vehicle and $1,400 to the Solberg vehicle. There were no injuries.

On November 3 at 2:44 p.m. police received a report of an accident at First and Spruce. Nancy Jo Gerszewski, route 2, Newfolden, was driving her car west on First Street, and Elving Nilson, Thief River Falls, was driving his car south on Spruce when the vehicles collided. Damages were estimated at $400 to each vehicle. There were no injuries, but the accident is still under investigation.

On November 2 at 8:32 a.m. the law enforcement center received a report of an accident at Arnold and Sixth street. Henry Hastad, Thief River Falls, was driving a pickup south on Arnold. At Sixth street he stopped his vehicle at the stop sign, and then proceeded into the intersection where his vehicle collided with a vehicle driven by Walter Czeh, route 2, Thief River Falls. The Hastad pickup was considered a total loss and he was cited for failure to yield. Damage to the Czeh vehicle was estimated at $1,000.

At 8:11 a.m. on November 4, the Minnesota State Patrol responded to a report of an accident at Horace and Third street because the local police were busy responding to other reports of accidents. A car driven by Bonnie Jean Jenson, Oklee, was making a right turn onto Horace from Third street when her car slid into a truck driven by John P. Mattson, which was slowing to stop at the stop sign at Horace and Third. No one was injured in the accident. Damage to both vehicles was considered moderate.

On November 4 at 7:52 a.m. police received a report of an accident at Eighth and LaBree. A truck owned by Dwayne Young Inc. of Bemidji and driven by Kory Young of Bemdji, was going north on LaBree and because of ice, was not able to stop for the stop sign, slid into the intersection and collided with a car driven by William James Hanson of Thief River Falls. Hanson was going east on Eighth street. Damages were estimated at $200 to the Young vehicle and $1,500 to the Hanson vehicle. There were no injuries.

On November 4 at 1:50 p.m. police received a report of an accident at Sixth and Knight. A car driven by Julie Stengrim, route 2, Newfolden was going north on Knight and a car driven by Tammy Gudmundson, route 5, Thief River Falls, was going west on Sixth when the vehicles collided in the intersection. Damage to each vehicle was estimated at $1,500. There were no injuries. Gudmundson was cited for no insurance.

On November 4 at 7:23 p.m. police received a report of a power line being blown down and causing damage to a vehicle owned by Kent Christenson of Thief River Falls. Christenson reported that while his vehicle was parked near First and Main an overhead power line snapped and struck his vehicle causing about $250 damage in scratches.

On November 4 at 2:41 a.m. the Pennington County sheriff's department received a report of an accident in which a woman's hand was caught under a spinning tire. Melody Kleven, Thief River Falls, age 21, was taken to Northwest Medical Center by ambulance with an injury to her hand. She was helping to push a car sliding on ice in a private drive near State Aid 18, two miles north of Highway 1 when her hand got caught under the spinning tire and pulled through. Jennifer Ann Redden of Thief River Falls, was driving the car at the time.

On November 6 at 1:28 a.m. police received a report of an accident on the South end of Kendall Avenue. According to the accident report, Aldon Iverson, Thief River Falls, was driving a vehicle west on County road 62 when he lost control and locked up the brakes. The vehicle went into the ditch and Iverson and his passenger, Gerrold Asp, hit their faces and heads on the windshield. Both had cuts to their faces and head. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at over $1,500. The accident is under investigation.

On November 5 at 11:35 a.m. police received a report of an accident in the Lincoln high school parking lot. Ryan Skibicki, route 4, Thief River Falls, was driving a pickup north in the parking lot and could not turn on the ice and collided with a parked vehicle owned by William Stock, Thief River Falls. Damages were estimated at over $500 to each.

Thefts. Several youths have been charged with theft following an investigation into thefts that occurred last Spring. A 16-year-old male of St. Hilaire and an 18-year-old male of Thief River Falls, who was a minor at the time, were charged with felony theft following an investigation into the theft of a radio from a truck belonging to Curt Thompson. The radio was valued at $560. Officials also charged four youth with misdemeanor theft in connection with the theft of a 24-inch crescent wrench from the Ernie Thune farm. Charged were a 15-year-old male from Salol, a 17-year-old male from Thief River Falls, an 18-year-old male from Thief River Falls (who was a juvenile at the time of the theft), and a 16-year-old male from St. Hilaire.

On November 1 at 10:56 a.m. Luke Noreen, route 6, Thief River Falls, reported that while his vehicle was parked in the American Legion parking lot during the night of the 30th someone stole a spare tire from the vehicle. The loss was estimated at $200.

On November 1 at 3:42 p.m. Kmart reported catching a 17-year-old male from Karlstad leaving the store without paying for four CDs, a wallet and buck knife. The total theft loss was estimated at $105. He is being charged with theft.

On November 3 at 9:08 p.m. Shawn Leach, route 1, Newfolden, reported that someone had removed a CD player and CD from his unlocked vehicle. The theft loss was estimated at $196.

On November 2 at 5:30 p.m. Keith Baune, Thief River Falls, reported that a pair of gloves and boots had been taken taken from his locker at Lincoln high school. The loss was estimated at $96.

On November 4 at 2:05 a.m. Don Pfaff, reported that a jacket had been taken from a local bar. There were keys in the pocket of the coat. The coat and keys were recovered later. The incident is under investigation.

On November 2 at 1:04 p.m. a local resident reported that somone had entered his apartment and had taken a checkbook. It was learned that a check for $2,100 had been cashed on the account in Red Lake Falls.

On November 5 at 10:15 a.m. Richard Beining, DePere, WI, reported the theft of a 1993 black leather ZR jacket valued at $400.

On November 3 at 8:20 p.m. law enforcement officers received information about a stolen cellular phone in a car at a local residence. The phone, which was then recovered, had been stolen from a car in Karlstad in October. The incident is still under investigation.

On November 7 at 10:48 a.m. police received a report that someone had attempted to take a snowmobile from South Markley. The vehicle was not in running condition and could not be started. There was no damage to the vehicle.

Terroristic threats. On November 4 at 10:10 p.m. Northwest Medical Center requested the assistance of a police officer. When the officer arrived a subject allegedly made known to the officer a threat on the life of the attending doctor. A Charge of terroristic threats is pending against James Clifford Kasper, 50, rural Thief River Falls.

Vandalism. On November 2 at 6:30 p.m. a local resident reported that two youth were shooting at a street light with a B-B gun. Police learned that the boys had taken the gun out of a playhouse. It was confiscated and returned to its owner. Damage to the street light was estimated at $75. Charges of criminal damage to property were pending against a 14-year-old and a 12-year-old boy.

On November 3 at 6:52 a.m. Lynda Smith, Thief River Falls, reported that someone had broken out the side window of her vehicle in the Northland Village parking lot. Damage loss was estimated at $125.

On October 30 at 9:49 a.m. John Houske, Wyandotte township, reported that someone had shot out a tractor window. Damage loss was estimated at $300.

Disorderly conduct. On November 2 at 9:24 p.m. police received a request for assistance from the Best Western lounge. A patron had become unruly and would not leave. James G. Disso, 33, Thief River Falls, was arrested and jailed and charged with disorderly conduct.

On November 1 police cited Margaret Ann Kaste, route 4, Thief River Falls, with fifth degree assault following an inviestigation into an incident at Northwest Medical Center in March.

Burglary. On November 3 at 2:30 p.m. a local resident reported that someone had entered an unlocked garage and removed tools and a tricycle. The loss was estimated at $400.

Assaults. On November 8 the sheriff's department received a report of a fight at Miz Ellies. A woman alleged that she had been struck. Richard Allen Nelson, 25, Thief River Falls, was taken into custody and charged with fifth degree assault.

On October 31, the sheriff's department received a report of an assault at Miz Ellies. Upon investigation, James Adam Bechard, 21, Goodridge, was cited with disorderly conduct.

On November 6 at 7:02 p.m. police received a report of an assault. A woman claimed she had been thrown on the floor and struck in the mouth. She had injuries to her hands and elbows. Patrick Cain, 33, Thief River Falls, was charged with fifth degree assault.

Hanson herd has DHIA's top average

Mark Hanson's dairy herd, which is milked three times a day, again had the top average of all herds on test with the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement Association during September.

The herd of 57 cows had 86 per cent of its producers in milk and averaged 68.9 pounds of milk and 2.21 pounds of butterfat.

Mylo Carlson herd was second with 90 per cent of the 70-cow herd in milk and averaging 68.3 pounds of milk and 2.38 pounds of butterfat per day.

Third place herd was Walter Bros. Farm with 81 per cent of the 135 cows in milk and averaging 53 pounds of milk and 1.95 pounds of butterfat.

Other herds in the top 10 for the Pennington county DHIA included the following with number of cows, percentage in milk, pounds of milk and pounds of butterfat listed respectively:

Lyle Swanson, 45, 84%, 52.2 and 1.95; Bob Schindler, 43, 86%, 51.9 and 1.64; Hamrick Farms, Inc., 83, 84%, 49.2 and 1.68; Ben Kleinwachter, 43, 86%, 44.1 and 1.61; Duane Krohn, 46, 96%, 43.6 and 1.67; Steve Nelson, 59, 88%, 43.1 and 1.75; and Tom Koop, 27, 100%, 42.8 and 1.42.

Since all cows are included in computing the average test, the number of dry cows adversely affects the average. Using all cows in the computation gives the dairyman a record of the herd's earning power for the month.

There were 24 official DHIA herds and two owner-sampler herds on test in the association during September, according to Randy and Margaret Rasmussen, county DHIA supervisors.

Rinowski gets Anniversary Medal for WWI

Lake Falls in addition to Thief River Falls.

For many years Rinowski has been a member of both American Legion Post 117 and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2793 in Thief River Falls, and is the only surviving World War I veteran in those posts.

He served as Buddy Poppy chairman at VFW Post 2793 for many years, selling his goal of 1,000 poppies each season. He continued that sales effort until three years ago when he broke his hip.

The anniversary medal is patterned after the World War I Victory Medal awarded to those who served in the way. It includes the dedication "A Grateful Nation Remembers," the dates 1918-1993 and the inscription "They Came on the Wings of Eagles."

Joining in celebration of the awarding of the medal at the home of Rinowski's daughter, Mrs. Donna Olson, were Commander Ned Blodgett of American Legion Post 117 and Commander Ike Hoglin of VFW-Post 2793.

Youth killed in snowmobile accident Sun.

Fourteen-year-old Brian Keith Balderston, Crookston, died Monday from injuries sustained in a snowmobile accident early Sunday morning in Crookston.

According to a Crookston police department spokesperson, the accident was reported at 1:36 a.m. Sunday. Balderston was riding a snowmobile near Highland Complex softball field when the accident happened. He was taken to Riverview Hospital in Crookston with head, neck and back injuries and later transferred to United Hospital in Grand Forks, ND. He died from his injuries at United on Monday, November 8. The accident is still under investigation.

A complete obituary appears in this issue of The Times.

Valley Housekeeping seeking coordinators to volunteer time

Volunteer coordinators are needed in each community in Pennington, Polk and Norman counties to provide information and act as a local resource for Valley Housekeeping Service (formerly Valley Chore Service).

Valley Housekeeping Service is a program of Tri-Valley Opportunity Council, Inc. in Crookston and is funded by the Area Agency on Aging through a grant from the Minnesota Board of Aging, the three counties themselves and participant contributions.

For 17 years the organization has been assisting the elderly, physically and mentally challenged and families with special needs in maintaining a healthy and clean home environment. For some it has meant being able to remain in their homes for longer periods of time, rather than entering a nursing home. For families with special needs, the purpose is to lessen the pressures surrounding them by completing daily housekeeping tasks.

Services provided include cleaning bathrooms, kitchens, cupboards, ovens, bedrooms, inside windows, changing bedding, grocery shopping, taking out garbage, washing floors, defrosting refrigerators, spring and fall housecleaning, vacuuming, dusting, washing walls and doing laundry.

Currently about 60 people, called "homemakers" under the program, are employed in the three counties.

"A key part of being able to provide quality services to the communities in these counties is through regular contact with the clients, families and possible employees. Volunteer coordinators are needed to provide information to those interested in services, act as a local resource and distribute Valley Housekeeping brochures and applications where needed," states Julie Smude, director of Valley Housekeeping.

"Each volunteer coordinator will work out of his or her own home and the time commitment is expected to be approximately one to two volunteer hours per week," she added.

Anyone interested in giving some time to benefit those who could use the housekeeping service in the community is encourged to contact Smude at 281-5831 or 1-800-584-7020.

Persons who are 55 or older are eligible to be enrolled as a volunteer with the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) which entitles the volunteer to accident and liability insurance coverage while volunteering, and an invitation to the annual banquet honoring volunteers. Information on the RSVP program can be received from Deanna Patenaude, director, at the University of Minnesota—Crookston, phone 281-8288

Student Senate membership means work

Membership in the Lincoln high school student senate isn't a club for people who think membership and its privileges should be automatically awarded to those who are popular. Membership in this exclusive club means making a time committment to many volunteer, and sometimes thankless, tasks.

Recently, the Lincoln high school student senate in Thief River Falls, donated funds for a light for the flag pole. Proper etiquette when displaying the flag is serious business to some individuals. A light on the flag pole now makes it possible and proper for the American flag to be flown during the night.

The committment to serve on the student senate in Thief River Falls also includes volunteer work on many other projects. In December the student senate sells designed Christmas cards to be delivered at school. Money collected through the effort goes to buy gifts for one high school-aged male and one female from the Angel Tree. Five students from the student senate serve on the Planning, Evaluation and Reporting (PER) organization. They give away five $200 scholarships to graduating seniors. They conduct a spirit day, attend a leadership workshop in the fall and a regional convention in the spring. Three members attend the state convention in the spring. They also sponsor Homecoming, Sno-Fest, and Spring Fling. Currently, they are collecting Campbell's Soup can labels.

In the past, they have also helped with Daffodil Days, and Pennies for Patients (a leukemia fund drive). This year, Dana McGeary, student senate treasurer, is also the secretary for the Northwest Division of the Minnesota Association of Student Councils.

Members of the student senate this year include the following: 9th grade — Jordan Goldesberry, Josh Clark, Danielle Goulet, Michelle Mattson, and Heidi Johnson; 10th grade — Anne Padilla, Myndy Olson, Jennifer Olin, Cami Sorenson, and Laura Williams; 11th grade — Mandy Johnson, Jana Johnson, Jeremi Hanson, Sarah Mugans, and Dustin Eddleman; 12th grade — Dana McGeary, treasurer, Carly Dee, secretary, Angelique Goulet, vice president, Kent Larson, president, and Danae Dekkers.

The advisor for the student senate is Elaine Grovum.

Lincoln high school student senate in Thief River Falls recently donated funds for the purchase of a light for the flag pole outside of the school. Students involved in the student senate are often involved in numerous activities during the year. The light for the flag pole will allow the school to fly the flag during nights. Pictured above are the students involved in the student senate: Danielle Goulet (seated); (second row, from left) Heidi Johnson, Myndy Olson, Cami Sorenson, Jennifer Olin, Michelle Mattson, Carly Dee, secretary, Sarah Mugans; (back row) Laura Williams, Anne Padilla, Angelique Goulet, vice president, Dana McGeary, treasurer, Danae Dekkers, Jana Johnson, Mandy Johnson, Kent Larson, president, Dusty Eddleman, Josh Clark, and Jordan Goldesberry.

Foundation awards grants to local groups

Grants have been awarded by the Otto Bremer Foundation to area organizations. Its giving is concentrated on programs that benefit communities in Minnesota, North Dakota and northwestern Wisconsin served by Bremer Financial Corporation, which is owned by the Otto Bremer Foundation and employees of Bremer First American banks, agencies and trusts. In genera, the foundation supports programs in the area of community affairs, human services, health and higher education.

Marshall County Social Services received a grant of $12,000 to help furnish a new group home for youth. Local students elected student senators at UMC

Kelly Swanson and Al Melvie of Theif River Falls were elected as senators of the student senate at the University of Minnesota at Crookston recently.

Swanson, son of Van and Deanna Swanson, is enrolled in animal science in the agricultural management division at the university. Melvie is enrolled in the natural resources in the agricultural management division at the university.

Son of former TRF resident fights cancer

David Bray, 13, son of Paul and Michelle Hartley of Warroad, has been in St. Mary's Hospital in Rochester since May 20, 1993 for treatment of osteosarcoma (bone cancer) and is expected to continue treatment there until at least April of 1994.

Paul Hartley is the son of L. L. and Dorothy Hartley, formerly of Thief River Falls, and went through the school system here.

David had surgery in late September to replace his knee with an artificial knee and do bone replacement for a portion of his femur—the main bone in the upper leg. "The miracles of drugs and surgery have brought him a long way," Dorothy Hartley said of her grandson.

A seventh grader at Warroad middle school, David was sent to Rochester after a growth was discovered near his knee on an x-ray at Northland Clinic. His father continues to work at Marvin Windows while his mother has taken a leave and is staying in Rochester. Paul calls his wife and son every other night and makes a trip to Rochester every other weekend.

Chances for recovery from the bone cancer are now about 80 per cent, compared to 20 per cent only 20 years ago. Even with successful treatment, Bray will have to get six-month treatments for five years. While chemotherapy has reduced David's weight by 25 pounds, he remains strong is his life-threatening situation.

Anyone who would like to send a card or encouragement can write to David Bray, Patient, St. Mary's Hospital, Sixth Floor Pediatric Unit, Rochester, MN 55902.

UMC gets $200,000 for technologies

University of Minnesota—Crookston has received a $200,000 grant from the Ford Foundation to fund a two-year project to build linkages among the telecommunications and workforce training sectors of the Red River region of Minnesota, North Dakota and Manitoba.

"It is critical to the future of rural regions that they participate in the global move to the information age," Chancellor Donald Sargeant of UMC stated in announcing the grant. "This grant will provide the Red River region with the opportunity to discuss what the implications of the new telecommunications technologies are for rural regions, how the Red River region can collaborate to ensure we do not become an 'information have not' region, and what steps we can take together to fully access the information age.

"It is equally critical that the region's workforce has the training opportunities to advance its skills and knowledge along with the changes and advancements in technologies," Sargeant added.

"With this project, the groups and organizations involved in workforce advancement in the region will be able to examine how they can collaborate to provide the best training services region-wide."

The project will seek input and advice from business, government, education and community leaders and work to ensure that everyone concerned about contributing to the region's economic future has an opportunity to participate in the discussions. The project will get underway in early November.

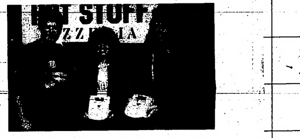
Medical Service in Fosston receives planning grant

First Care Medical Service of Fosston was among 11 rural Minnesota hospitals to receive planning and transition grants.

Minnesota Commissioner of Health Mary Jo O'Brien has announced that the hospital will receive grants from the Rural Hospital Planning and Transition Grant program, designed to preserve access to health care in rural areas of the state.

"Our rural hospitals are vital to maintaining the health of Minnesotans," said O'Brien. "They face problems associated with a shifting population base, the difficulty of recruiting and retaining health care personnel, obstacles to sharing the limited resources available, and finding innovative ways to deliver care to the people who need it. These grants will help local hospitals find ways to address those concerns."

First Care Medical Service in Fosston received a $10,000 grant to assist in planning for the development of a medical transportation system for the elderly in cooperation with the local Community Health Services Agency.



Lincoln high school students who will be making a trip to Washington, DC, for the "Close Up" program recently earned $280 toward trip expenses by selling pizza coupons for Pennington Square. Shown with Mike Berry of Pennington Square are Lincoln seniors Traci Lindberg and Ami Harbott (right).

Whole Wheat BIBLE STUDY

The great white hunter

After you read through this Bible study, go back and look up the Scriptures and highlight them in your Bible.

Many years ago, wild animals such as tigers, lions and large bears roamed all over the earth. It was even common to see people who were not sheep herders carrying a staff in their hands for protection from these wild animals. As time passed, hunters and trappers thinned out the animals in certain areas to make the land habitable for people. Mink, beaver, rabbit and fox coats were made from the bounties of hunters.

God told Moses to raise a contribution to Him in the form of goat hair, ram skins and porpoise skins (Ex. 26:7, 14). In order for this to happen, Moses had to instruct the people do some hunting and fishing. Yes, fishing is just as much hunting as is hunting animals on land. Leviticus 11 lists all the animals that may be hunted for food. Esau hunted for venison. Many people went partridge hunting in the mountains (1 Sam. 26:20). All these are God's creatures. They all have hearts, eyes and blood.

What is God's attitude about hunting? God eats meat and is not a vegetarian (Gen. 18:1, 8). God's word says that a slothful man does not use what he shoots, but he just lets it lay (Prov. 12:27). This does not please God. But if a man hunts and then uses it for food for himself or shares it with others, God is well-pleased. Perhaps he might even teach others to hunt, as a father teaches his children.

The attitude in which one goes to hunt is important. Will it do good? Will others benefit from it? Does your heart condemn what you are doing? If not, neither does God (1 John 3:21; Rom. 14:22). Let not man judge you in regard to hunting, whether it be for food or for the hide of the animals, but just make sure you are pleasing God, according to His word.

ACE Hardware store in Thief River Falls recently completed a major remodeling [illegible]. The last major remodeling project at the store was in 1969. Part of the remodeling involved moving the office to the basement. Staff also participated in the remodeling by undergoing product knowledge training in a new room in the store set aside for employees. The remodeling also included a color-match paint computer, and a large two-sided service desk at the rear entrance. The new store layout was designed to simplify things for the customer and make products more visible. Yet to be added is a new sign for the front of the building. That should be added soon. Thief River Falls chamber of Commerce Ambassadors, Karen Kirkeby and Dan Baumgartner, presented Ron Kalinoski with a More Progress award, which recognizes the completion of the remodeling project.

Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors saluted Everett Marshall by presenting him with a Hats Off award. The award recognizes outstanding dedication to a project that reflects well on the community. Marshall was recognizes for his work with the Thief River Falls Pageant. He started working with the pagent in 1966. Twenty-seven years ago, Karen Feber was Miss Thief River Falls. From 1966 to 1967 the pageant was held in the school gym. From 1968 until the present, the pageant has been held in the high school auditorium. Marshall also works with summer plays, musicals and pageants.

To The Editor:

The anti-gun politicians in the U.S. Congress, with Bill and Hillary Clinton leading the charge, are pressuring your Congressmen and Senators to ban and tax your guns out of existence. The vote will be taken in the next two weeks.

Congress will be deciding if the Second Amendment survives a powerful onslaught that includes:

- A ban on all semi-autos;
- A 25% tax on all guns ($300 gun = $75 tax).
- A potential 1,000% tax on ammo;
- Gun rationing (one purchase per month);
- Federal imposed delay on gun purchases.

No matter where you live or what guns you own, this will affect you. A box of shells could cost well over $100 if you're even allowed to buy them.

The whole idea behind all this is to get and keep guns out of the hands of the American citizens, but does nothing to the criminal. Taxes and bans will only get more restrictive in days ahead.

The next step will be a "needs-based licensing." You'll have to prove you need a rifle or other gun before they'll even consider your application.

Sarah Brady said that the passage of the Brady Bill is only the first step of what will be coming. Some Congressmen and Senators are pushing for an all out ban on gun ownership. Guys like Metzenbaum, Schumer and DeConnini, to mention a few, are doing this.

Write and call your Congressmen now and tell them to vote against any legislation that infringes on our Second Amendment rights to own firearms. Write or call:

Snowmobile trail Beltline a good idea

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Ron Nelson, Kevin Johnson and members of the Sno-Drifters snowmobile club need to be commended for their work on developing a plan to route safe snowmobile trails around and through the city.

Ron and Kevin and several others had the initiative to get people motivated behind the task and get the job done. Local officials also need to be commended for working with the club.

One of the ways people ward off the long cold winters in this part of the country is by riding snowmobiles. There are a great many people who enjoy this activity. It doesn't hurt that a major snowmobile manufacturer is located in this community. It's also big business because it attracts hundreds of people to the community where they spend money on food, fuel and motels. In the past, there have been problems where snowmobilers came into contact with the general public. When snowmobiling is that important to the community, however, you can't legislate it out of existence. You can find ways to make sure it is done safely and responsibly.

Although an ordinance is in place that restricts snowmobile use in the community, when the weather turns cold complaints about snowmobile traffic violations pour into the Law Enforcement Center. What is particularly annoying to law enforcement officials are those violations that involve snowmobile drivers riding over private property and on sidewalks. Property is damaged and the safety of citizens is threatened by a few uneducated or irresponsible snowmobile operators.

What's exciting about the new Beltline snowmobile trail is that it moves snowmobile traffic as far away from residential sections of the community as possible, but still allows snowmobile riders access to places in the community.

The Sno-Drifters have been working hard, saving dollars, collecting pledges and donations for the project. It appears now that everything is being done to make sure people know about the new trail. Signs will be installed, trail maps made and distributed. In addition, the Sno-Drifters have purchased a trail groomer, which will help make the trails safe. When they get the trail groomer ready for the season The Times hopes to have someone there to take a picture and give credit where credit is due.

As with any first year effort, there will be problems and no matter how hard people try there will be some people who just can't seem to follow rules. Whenever a violation is observed, make sure you have a good description, or better yet a license number, to give to law enforcement officials. Eventually, most of the trouble-makers will get the picture and shape up. In the mean-time give credit to the Sno-Drifters for trying to do everything possible to promote safe and responsible snowmobiling.

Mentors Help Youths Avoid Substance Abuse

Healthy interaction between youngsters and adults has long been acknowledged as valuable in positive development of youths, but that acknowledgment has recently been fortified by additional research.

Studies in resiliency show that some children have protective factors that carry them through adolescence and help them develop into happy, accomplished adults. One of the key factors that helps youngsters avoid chemical abuse and other risky behavior is the support and influence of a caring adult who acts as a mentor to guide the child.

This situation is pointed out in a report prepared by the Hazelden Foundation, a non-profit agency providing a range of services relating to chemical dependency.

Ideally the caring adult who provides the positive influence is a parent, but such is not always the case. When parents are irresponsible or a combination of factors reduces their abilities to be available or effective, a great deal of good can be done by another relative, neighbor, teacher or acquaintance who can act as a mentor to guide the child.

Paula Beugen, coordinator of a relatively new organization called the Minnesota Mentor Network, said that "Mentors are a wonderful resource. Having caring, responsible adults in the lives of young people makes a difference in how they do later in life. They help young people develop new skills, build confidence and inspire effort.

"The increase of one-parent families and two-parent working families and the breakdown of traditional support systems have increased the need for young people of all backgrounds to have adult mentors," she added.

A study by the Community Prevention Coalition of Hennepin county defined the risk factors that influence some children to use tobacco, alcohol and other drugs and defined protective factors that help others avoid those substances. It found that the positive influence of a parent or another trusted adult is one of the most important protective factors, confirming the results of other resiliency studies.

The task is enormous. More than one-third of Minnesota's adolescents have had to deal with the traumatic effects of abuse, family violence or alcohol/drug abuse in the family. The state department of education estimates there are at least 200,000 young people state-wide who especially need caring, mature adults to be their friends, tutors and role models.

Polly Roach, who heads the Two-Gether program at the St. Paul YWCA, says that women who mentor girls provide three crucial qualities: Listening and caring, role modeling and having fun. The mentors should not expect immediate dramatic changes in their young friends. Simple activities such as shooting baskets or visiting a museum provide the healthy recreational alternatives that help build meaningful relationships and inspire creativity.

The local Little Brother/Little Sister program is a form of mentoring that offers an opportunity to bring a positive adult role model into a young person's life. There are area young people waiting for an older person to take an interest in them and become their "brother" or "sister." It isn't necessarily that they are children at risk, just youngsters who could benefit from a male or female adult role model and/or friend. For information, call Bev Rupprecht, coordinator, at 681-8740.

"Mentoring is a win-win situation," Beugen says. "The young people learn new skills and gain self-confidence. The mentors learn that they can make a difference in young people's lives and also experience personal growth of their own."

LETTERS

To The Editor:

As the ever-approaching gift-giving season hurtles toward us, many of us are contemplating exactly how many paychecks we have before December 25. A very fortunate few are already, or almost, done with their Christmas shopping before deer season even ends. But if you're like me, I've just begun to start my lists of people to buy for, and of ideas of things I'd like to get them.

Which brings me to the crossroads of whether I should spend my hard-earned money here in town or go to Grand Forks or Fargo for larger selection and perhaps better prices.

This year my fiancee and I decided that we will buy one large item that the whole family can use, benefit from and learn from. And we decided to buy this item in town because we prefer the personal, friendly service of the small town business. It would be much easier to have it fixed if need be, we could add more to it down the road, and we wouldn't have to travel out of town where they don't know you, or care to know you.

So with this in mind we entered a local store to check out prices, styles and models. If they didn't have what we wanted, surely they would order it for us.

We did find exactly what we wanted, but unfortunately, before we could even ask about the price or options, we were rudely told: "Would you mind not playing with that? We just set it up!"

We immediately left, red-faced with embarrassment at the attention drawn to us. As we drove home, the embarrassment faced and I became angry. We had noted a sign above the door as we left that read: "Please ask permission before monkeying with the equipment."

What kind of sign is that? I called the store as soon as I got in the house. The man at the other end of the line did not apologize, but proceeded to lecture me about their policy of not touching their equipment in their store. I'm sorry, but that's like telling me at the car lot not to sit in the car before buying it.

I'm almost 26 years old, mother of two, and a very responsible swing shift manager at a local fast food restaurant. My bosses decided not to give us Sam's Club cards because we have to support our local businesses. I thought that was very honorable. But now I'm thinking that their loyalty was misplaced.

I will go out of town for this piece of equipment that we want, simply because there is no other store that offers it in Thief River Falls. And I, nor any of my friends, will ever step into that establishment again.

Just remember that old adage, business folks, that one happy customer tells few but an unhappy customer tells many!

May your holiday shopping experience be better than mine.

Sincerely,
Penny A. Palm
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

Recently I was very upset to learn that our school district had quietly decided that our public schools would no longer have Christmas programs (also known as winter concerts) in our elementary schools. The reasons I heard were "too much hassle" and "religious differences." Since none of the school programs are of a religious nature, that reason does not stand up.

Do we as parents think it is too much hassle to take an hour out of our busy holiday season to watch our children celebrate what is the most exciting time of the year for them? All of the programs I have attended have been standing room only, proving that lack of interest or participation is not the reason.

In fact, the Christmas program is the only activity that all children participate in. It doesn't matter if the child can't stay after school to practice, or can't afford a uniform or instruments, or if their parents don't have time to drive them; every child performs and is rewarded for his or her efforts by the enthusiastic applause of hundreds of parents and grandparents.

It also is a time for each of us to slow down and remember the most important part of the holidays—not the gifts or the decorations but our families, especially the children.

Those who presented the idea of a new school that would bring us into the 21st Century promised us that our children's self-esteem and individuality would be protected and nurtured—that we would not be trading humanity for high technology. It is certainly true that it will be difficult to plan Christmas programs in a school with over 1,000 children, and it may seem easier to just drop the programs now so that the new school is not blamed for doing away with a time-honored custom.

But it seems crazy not to even try! Is there no room in the 21st Century for tradition? For small children wearing reindeer antlers and singing loudly off-key while their parents try to catch the fleeting moment on film? Those moments are so precious and are gone so fast!

If the music teachers feel it is too much trouble to put together a Christmas program, maybe they need to ask for volunteers or just a little more teacher participation. It is just too cruel to take away such an important part of a kid's childhood because it is too much bother. Especially now with the new school the task may seem overwhelming, but it can and should be done and our children are worth the effort.

The school program is just as important in its own way as the Sunday School program. It is important in teaching our children that Christmas is not all about gifts they buy—that they can give joy and laughter with no money at all. And we as parents enjoy those gifts the most.

Our children's morals and values are so important and they need as much reinforcement as possible from every area of their lives. Our public schools cannot overlook these responsibilities when a child spends one-third of his day at school.

Show your concern for our children. Write to the schools or this paper and let our school district officials know what is important to our kids and to us as parents. Let them know that we are never too busy to do what is right for our children.

Sincerely,
Deanna and Tim Sorvig

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I have recently received correspondence from the Thief River Falls Education Foundation and was glad to hear that people were getting together to provide funds to help the school district in these hard times.

I was, however, very disappointed to find that these people are being paid to manage the revenues brought in through donations, memberships, memorials and grants. In fact, the administrative costs totalled 23 per cent of what was generated! Out of the $66,000 the Foundation brought in, they have spent $15,180 for salaries, taxes, advertising, accounting and printing! This is very disheartening to realize the money that we are giving to this organization is being used to pay salaries instead of buying books; media equipment, etc. I was even more disgusted when I read on to find only $7,595 had actually been spent on the school. This is only 11.5 per cent of what was raised—virtually half of what they have spent on administrative expenses!

Where is the rest of the money? What are they waiting to spend it on? What responsibilities do they have to be spending this money wisely and expediently? Should the money just sit there and collect interest or should it be spent as it is raised?

We live in the Twin Cities where things are done differently. I have volunteered in two different school organizations and have helped to raise more than $30,000 at one time to help our elementary school. It was a lot of effort and I did it for free, because I believed in what I was doing and knew the benefits would help the children to learn. We had an accountant who volunteered his time and many parents who spent countless hours on advertising, administration and paperwork. Nobody got paid. The kids reaped the harvest for our labors. And we spent the money as soon as we were able to identify the needs of the schools.

My point is, when money is raised, it should go to the children. It should not go to pay for services that could be donated, not charged for. Self-serving organizations with paid employees tend to have less motivation and dedication. It becomes a job they have to do rather than something they want to do for the children.

If they want my money, they need to use it wisely and frugally. If they need to pay people to volunteer, it may not be worth the effort.

Sincerely,
Norman L. Brown

To The Editor:

Many of us were surprised to read the Letter to the Editor in Saturday's "Northern Watch." Canceling the tradition of elementary Christmas programs was certainly news to us.

After talking with elementary music staff, I did not find a Grinch trying to steal our children's Christmas. I did find a lot of concern over lost classroom and music instruction time preparing for a program many parents find difficult to fit into a busy work schedule.

When was the last time your child's teacher had to wipe away a student's tears because his or her parents missed the Christmas program?

When was the last time you walked out right after your child performed, leaving the last group to play to a half-full gymnasium?

When was the last time you complained about the Christmas program—no place to sit, too hard to hear, didn't like the music, the schedule didn't fit yours....? Is it any wonder the music staff feels their time would be better spent preparing for one annual concert, a wrap-up at the end of the year? The real "Grinch" here could be ourselves.

Shelby's right: elementary Christmas programs are a tradition that should continue, for what they are and for what they could be—a time to set aside everything for our students, to share the holiday as a community, to help decorate, to participate, to stop by the classroom and see the decorations the children have toiled over, to say, "Merry Christmas!" to the janitor, the principal, your child's teacher, and to say "Thank you!" to the music teacher who has put so much time and effort into a single event.

Absolutely—Rally! Stamp your feet! Make your wishes known, and when the day of the program comes, remember the most important part. Set all the excuses aside and be there. Be part of your school's Christmas—no matter what.

Sincerely,
Key Teeters Asp

Snowmobile trail Beltline a good idea

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Ron Nelson, Kevin Johnson and members of the Sno-Drifters snowmobile club need to be commended for their work on developing a plan to route safe snowmobile trails around and through the city.

Ron and Kevin and several others had the initiative to get people motivated behind the task and get the job done. Local officials also need to be commended for working with the club.

One of the ways people ward off the long cold winters in this part of the country is by riding snowmobiles. There are a great many people who enjoy this activity. It doesn't hurt that a major snowmobile manufacturer is located in this community. It's also big business, because it attracts hundreds of people to the community where they spend money on food, fuel and motels. In the past, there have been problems where snowmobilers came into contact with the general public. When snowmobiling is that important to the community, however, you can't legislate it out of existence. You can find ways to make sure it is done safely and responsibly.

Although an ordinance is in place that restricts snowmobile use in the community, when the weather turns cold complaints about snowmobile traffic violations pour into the Law Enforcement Center. What is particularly annoying to law enforcement officials are those violations that involve snowmobile drivers riding over private property and on sidewalks. Property is damaged and the safety of citizens is threatened by a few uneducated or irresponsible snowmobile operators.

What's exciting about the new Beltline snowmobile trail is that it moves snowmobile traffic as far away from residential sections of the community as possible, but still allows snowmobile riders access to places in the community.

The Sno-Drifters have been working hard, saving dollars, collecting pledges and donations for the project. It appears now that everything is being done to make sure people know about the new trail. Signs will be installed, trail maps made and distributed. In addition, the Sno-Drifters have purchased a trail groomer, which will help make the trails safe. When they get the trail groomer ready for the season The Times hopes to have someone there to take a picture and give credit where credit is due.

As with any first year effort, there will be problems and no matter how hard people try there will be some people who just can't seem to follow rules. Whenever a violation is observed, make sure you have a good description, or better yet a license number, to give to law enforcement officials. Eventually, most of the trouble-makers will get the picture and shape up. In the mean-time give credit to the Sno-Drifters for trying to do everything possible to promote safe and responsible snowmobiling.

Mentors Help Youths Avoid Substance Abuse

Healthy interaction between youngsters and adults has long been acknowledged as valuable in positive development of youths, but that acknowledgment has recently been fortified by additional research.

Studies in resiliency show that some children have protective factors that carry them through adolescence and help them develop into happy, accomplished adults. One of the key factors that helps youngsters avoid chemical abuse and other risky behavior is the support and influence of a caring adult who acts as a mentor to guide the child.

This situation is pointed out in a report prepared by the Hazelden Foundation, a non-profit agency providing a range of services relating to chemical dependency.

Ideally the caring adult who provides the positive influence is a parent, but such is not always the case. When parents are irresponsible or a combination of factors reduces their abilities to be available or effective, a great deal of good can be done by another relative, neighbor, teacher or acquaintance who can act as a mentor to guide the child.

Paula Beugen, coordinator of a relatively new organization called the Minnesota Mentor Network, said that "Mentors are a wonderful resource. Having caring, responsible adults in the lives of young people makes a difference in how they do later in life. They help young people develop new skills, build confidence and inspire effort.

"The increase of one-parent families and two-parent working families and the breakdown of traditional support systems have increased the need for young people of all backgrounds to have adult mentors," she added.

A study by the Community Prevention Coalition of Hennepin county defined the risk factors that influence some children to use tobacco, alcohol and other drugs and defined protective factors that help others avoid those substances. It found that the positive influence of a parent or another trusted adult is one of the most important protective factors, confirming the results of other resiliency studies.

The task is enormous. More than one-third of Minnesota's adolescents have had to deal with the traumatic effects of abuse, family violence or alcohol/drug abuse in the family. The state department of education estimates there are at least 200,000 young people state-wide who especially need caring, mature adults to be their friends, tutors and role models.

Polly Roach, who heads the Two-Gether program at the St. Paul YWCA, says that women who mentor girls provide three crucial qualities: Listening and caring, role modeling and having fun. The mentors should not expect immediate dramatic changes in their young friends. Simple activities such as shooting baskets or visiting a museum provide the healthy recreational alternatives that help build meaningful relationships and inspire creativity.

The local Little Brother/Little Sister program is a form of mentoring that offers an opportunity to bring a positive adult role model into a young person's life. There are area young people waiting for an older person to take an interest in them and become their "brother" or "sister." It isn't necessarily that they are children at risk, just youngsters who could benefit from a male or female adult role model and/or friend. For information, call Bev Rupprecht, coordinator, at 681-8740.

"Mentoring is a win-win situation," Beugen says. "The young people learn new skills and gain self-confidence. The mentors learn that they can make a difference in young people's lives and also experience personal growth of their own."

To The Editor:

As the ever-approaching gift-giving season hurtles toward us, many of us are contemplating exactly how many paychecks we have before December 25. A very fortunate few are already, or almost, done with their Christmas shopping before deer season even ends. But if you're like me, I've just begun to start my lists of people to buy for, and of ideas of things I'd like to get them.

Which brings me to the cross-roads of whether I should spend my hard-earned money here in town or go to Grand Forks or Fargo for larger selection and perhaps better prices.

This year my fiancee and I decided that we will buy one large item that the whole family can use, benefit from and learn from. And we decided to buy this item in town because we prefer the personal, friendly service of the small town business. It would be much easier to have it fixed if need be, we could add more to it down the road, and we wouldn't have to travel out of town where they don't know you, or care to know you.

So with this in mind we entered a local store to check out prices, styles and models. If they didn't have what we wanted, surely they would order it for us.

We did find exactly what we wanted, but unfortunately, before we could even ask about the price or options, we were rudely told: "Would you mind not playing with that? We just set it up!"

We immediately left, red-faced with embarrassment at the attention drawn to us. As we drove home, the embarrassment faced and I became angry. We had noted a sign above the door as we left that read: "Please ask permission before monkeying with the equipment."

What kind of sign is that? I called the store as soon as I got in the house. The man at the other end of the line did not apologize, but proceeded to lecture me about their policy of not touching their equipment in their store. I'm sorry, but that's like telling me at the car lot not to sit in the car before buying it.

I'm almost 26 years old, mother of two, and a very responsible swing shift manager at a local fast food restaurant. My bosses decided not to give us Sam's Club cards because we have to support our local businesses. I thought that was very honorable. But now I'm thinking that their loyalty was misplaced.

I will go out of town for this piece of equipment that we want, simply because there is no other store that offers it in Thief River Falls. And I, nor any of my friends, will ever step into that establishment again.

Just remember that old adage, business folks, that one happy customer tells few but an unhappy customer tells many!

May your holiday shopping experience be better than mine.

Sincerely,
Penny A. Palm

To The Editor:

Recently I was very upset to learn that our school district had quietly decided that our public schools would no longer have Christmas programs (also known as winter concerts) in our elementary schools. The reasons I heard were "too much hassle" and "religious differences." Since none of the school programs are of a religious nature, that reason does not stand up.

Do we as parents think it is too much hassle to take an hour out of our busy holiday season to watch our children celebrate what is the most exciting time of the year for them? All of the programs I have attended have been standing room only, proving that lack of interest or participation is not the reason.

In fact, the Christmas program is the only activity that all children participate in. It doesn't matter if the child can't stay after school to practice, or can't afford a uniform or instruments, or if their parents don't have time to drive them; every child performs and is rewarded for his or her efforts by the enthusiastic applause of hundreds of parents and grandparents.

It also is a time for each of us to slow down and remember the most important part of the holidays—not the gifts or the decorations but our families, especially the children.

Those who presented the idea of a new school that would bring us into the 21st Century promised us that our children's self-esteem and individuality would be protected and nurtured—that we would not be trading humanity for high technology. It is certainly true that it will be difficult to plan Christmas programs in a school with over 1,000 children, and it may seem easier to just drop the programs now so that the new school is not blamed for doing away with a time-honored custom.

But it seems crazy not to even try! Is there no room in the 21st Century for tradition? For small children wearing reindeer antlers and singing loudly off-key while their parents try to catch the fleeting moment on film? Those moments are so precious and are gone so fast!

If the music teachers feel it is too much trouble to put together a Christmas program, maybe they need to ask for volunteers or just a little more teacher participation. It is just too cruel to take away such an important part of a kid's childhood because it is too much bother. Especially now with the new school the task may seem overwhelming, but it can and should be done and our children are worth the effort.

The school program is just as important in its own way as the Sunday School program. It is important in teaching our children that Christmas is not all about gifts they buy—that they can give joy and laughter with no money at all. And we as parents enjoy those gifts the most.

Our children's morals and values are so important and they need as much reinforcement as possible from every area of their lives. Our public schools cannot overlook these responsibilities when a child spends one-third of his day at school.

Show your concern for our children. Write to the schools or this paper and let our school district officials know what is important to our kids and to us as parents. Let them know that we are never too busy to do what is right for our children.

Sincerely,
Deanna and Tim Sorvig

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota — November 11, 1943

From The Times Files of Fifty Years Ago

Yule Cards For Soldiers To 1st Class

"The war department advises that Christmas greeting cards for soldiers overseas must be sent in sealed envelopes and prepaid at the first class rate, Postmaster Andy Anderson announced this week. The department farther urges that cards be mailed at once, stating that such cards mailed now will, according to army postal serice, reach remote APO's by December 25."

Further Plans Made For Home For Aged in City

"Rev. V. L. Peterson, superintendent of the Red River Valley Bible school home for the aged to be opened shortly in the former Central hotel here, announced this week that Rev. C. Wessman of Karlstad will serve as business manager, with Mr. and Mrs. Wolf of Karlstad as assistant business manager and matron respectively. It was also announced that steam radiators are being placed in each room, and that donations of funds, furniture and food will be appreciated."

Book Week 1943 To Be Observed Here

"'Build the Future with Books' is the slogan chosen for Book Week 1943, which will be observed the week of November 14-20, Mrs. Hazel Halgrim, Carnegie librarian, announced today. Special exhibits and other features are being arranged to celebrate the event at the local library."

Dr. Mellby Shows Movies At Rotary Club

"Members of the Rotary club at their luncheon meeting Tuesday noon in the Evelyn hotel enjoyed the presentation by Dr. O. F. Mellby of motion pictures of his recent moose hunting trip in Ontario, Canada."

Local Children Purchase $3,419 in War Stamps

"War savings stamp sales conducted one day each week since September 16 in the Thief River Falls public schools have netted the substantial total of $3,419.80, it was announced today by Mrs. Marjorie Kiland, vice chairman of the Pennington war finance committee. Sales in the various schools were as follows: Lincoln high school, $1,601.80; Knox, $778; Northrop, $542.20; and Washington, $497.80."

Last Minute Car License Rush in Prospect Here

"With motorists of this locality procuring their 1944 license plates at a slower rate than normal at this stage, a last-minute rush is in prospect at the office of A. F. Berge, deputy registrar in this city. A 25-cent penalty will be added for delinquents November 16, after which the penalty will be 50-cents until October 14."

"The town was taken completely by surprise today by the train coming in only one-half hour late. This is not able to happen very soon again, however."

Agder . . . .

Joan Nelson and Brandi Nelson accompanied Margaret and Leslie Nelson and Darrin to the Twin Cities where they visited with relatives until Sunday. On Sunday they attended Confirmation services where Joan's granddaughter, Christina Dahlquist was confirmed with a class of 31 confirmands. At noon, the Nelsons were dinner guests at the Emily and Glen Dahlquist home honoring their daughter, Sandra and Larry Prudon and family were also guests to dinner along with other relatives.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I have recently received correspondence from the Thief River Falls Education Foundation and was glad to hear that people were getting together to provide funds to help the school district in these hard times.

I was, however, very disappointed to find that these people are being paid to manage the revenues brought in through donations, memberships, memorials and grants. In fact, the administrative costs totalled 23 per cent of what was generated! Out of the $66,000 the Foundation brought in, they have spent $15,180 for salaries, taxes, advertising, accounting and printing! This is very disheartening to realize the money that we are giving to this organization is being used to pay salaries instead of buying books, media equipment, etc. I was even more disgusted when I read on to find only $7,595 had actually been spent on the school. This is only 11.5 per cent of what was raised—virtually half of what they have spent on administrative expenses!

Where is the rest of the money? What are they waiting to spend it on? What responsibilities do they have to be spending this money wisely and expediently? Should the money just sit there and collect interest or should it be spent as it is raised?

We live in the Twin Cities where things are done differently. I have volunteered in two different school organizations and have helped to raise more than $30,000 at one time to help our elementary school. It was a lot of effort and I did it for free, because I believed in what I was doing and knew the benefits would help the children to learn. We had an accountant who volunteered his time and many parents who spent countless hours on advertising, administration and paperwork. Nobody got paid. The kids reaped the harvest for our labors. And we spent the money as soon as we were able to identify the needs of the schools.

My point is, when money is raised, it should go to the children. It should not go to pay for services that could be donated, not charged for. Self-serving organizations with paid employees tend to have less motivation and dedication. It becomes a job they have to do rather than something they want to do for the children.

If they want my money, they need to use it wisely and frugally. If they need to pay people to volunteer, it may not be worth the effort.

Sincerely,
Norman L. Brown
Coon Rapids, MN

To The Editor:

Many of us were surprised to read the Letter to the Editor in Saturday's "Northern Watch." Canceling the tradition of elementary Christmas programs was certainly news to us.

After talking with elementary music staff, I did not find a Grinch trying to steal our children's Christmas. I did find a lot of concern over lost classroom and music instruction time preparing for a program many parents find difficult to fit into a busy work schedule.

When was the last time your child's teacher had to wipe away a student's tears because his or her parents missed the Christmas program?

When was the last time you walked out right after your child performed, leaving the last group to play to a half-full gymnasium?

When was the last time you complained about the Christmas program—no place to sit, too hard to hear, didn't like the music, the schedule didn't fit yours....? Is it any wonder the music staff feels their time would be better spent preparing for one annual concert, a wrap-up at the end of the year? The real "Grinch" here could be ourselves.

Shelby's right; elementary Christmas programs are a tradition that should continue, for what they are and for what they could be—a time to set aside everything for our students, to share the holiday as a community, to help decorate, to participate, to stop by the classroom and see the decorations the children have toiled over, to say, "Merry Christmas!" to the janitor, the principal, your child's teacher, and to say "Thank you!" to the music teacher who has put so much time and effort into a single event.

Absolutely—Rally! Stamp your feet! Make your wishes known, and when the day of the program comes, remember the most important part. Set all the excuses aside and be there. Be part of your school's Christmas—no matter what.

Sincerely,
Key Teeters Asp

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Truman Hemmestvedt, November 9, 1989.

This month came back with sad regret,
It brings a day we can't forget.
You fell asleep without goodbye,
But memories of you will never die.
We miss you more than anyone knows,
As each day passes our emptiness grows.
The tears we shed we wipe away,
But the ache in our heart will always stay.
You left so suddenly your thoughts unknown,
But the memories you left us we are proud to own.

The family of Truman Hemmestvedt

CARD OF THANKS

It is with gratitude in my heart, that I wish to thank those who remembered me with their prayers, cards, flowers, and visits. Also Pastors Raymond and Johnson for their words of comfort, while I was a patient at Northwest Medical Center. Words can not express the depth of my appreciation.

Idd Nelson

CARD OF THANKS

Thank you to all my family, friends and relatives for cards, flowers and telephone calls while I was in United Hospital. Also to Dr. Adams, Dr. Ashok Patel, Lorena Lasha, Doris Elsbrener, all the good people from Pine to Prairie and to Lori for always being there for rides to Grand Forks. A special thank you to everyone on 5th floor at Riverside Terrace for their kindness, concern, help and good food since I've been home. I appreciate it and know God will bless each one of you.

ORDER AND NOTICE OF HEARING ON PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE IN SUPERVISED ADMINISTRATION AND NOTICE TO CREDITORS

TO ALL INTERESTED PERSONS AND CREDITORS:

It is Ordered and Notice is hereby given that on the 29th day of November, 1993, at 10:30 o'clock A.M., a hearing will be held in the above named Court at Thief River Falls, Minnesota, for appointment of Glenn P. Erickson, whose address is R.R. 8, Box 10, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, as personal representative of the estate of the above named decedent in supervised administration, and that any objections thereto must be filed with the Court. That, if proper, and no objections are filed, said personal representative will be appointed to administer the estate, to collect all assets, pay all legal debts, claims, taxes and expenses, and sell real and personal property, and do all necessary acts for the estate. Upon completion of the administration, the representative shall file a final account for the allowance and shall distribute the estate to the persons thereunto entitled as ordered by the Court, and close the estate.

Notice is further given that ALL CREDITORS having claims against said estate are required to present the same to said personal representative or to the Court Administrator within four months after the date of this notice or said claims will be barred.

Dated: November 8, 1993.

SUMMONS MONEY JUDGEMENT #30301

THE STATE OF WISCONSIN

To each person named above as a defendant:

You are hereby notified that the plaintiff named above has filed a lawsuit or other legal action against you.

Within 40 days after October 27, 1993, you must respond with a written demand for a copy of the Complaint. The demand must be sent or delivered to the Court, whose address is Monroe County Clerk of Court, Monroe County Courthouse, Sparta, Wisconsin 54656, and to Curran, Hollenbeck & Orton, S.C., plaintiff's attorney, whose address is 111 Oak Street, P.O. Box 140, Mauston, Wisconsin 53948. You may have an attorney help or represent you.

If you do not demand a copy of the Complaint within 40 days, the Court may grant judgment against you for the award of money or other legal action requested in the Complaint, and you may lose your right to object to anything that is or may be incorrect in the Complaint. A judgment may be enforced as provided by law. A judgment awarding money may become a lien against any real estate you own now or in the future, and may also be enforced by garnishment or seizure of property.

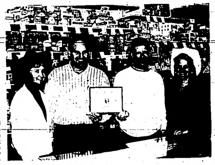
PROGRESS

Cathy Belmont Interiors has moved from its location next to Edward D. Jones on Main street Thief River Falls into office space a few doors away in the former Bethany Book Store. Cathy Belmont Interiors is your complete interior design store. Cathy, Marijo Schaffer, Kathi Jenkins and Tina Hagman will help customers deisgn their home or business from floor to ceiling. They carry a great deal of merchandice including China and Wedgewood. Recently, they added fireplaces. They have a great deal of experience. Cathy herself has 15 years of experience. Cathy Belmont Interiors is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturdays. Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors, Lee Ann Nelson and Michelle Benton, recently presented a More Progress Award to Cathy.



Sports Cards Inc. recently moved across LaBree Avenue in Thief River Falls and into the first floor of the Falls Mall. Duane Glass, owner, and Todd Peterson will buy, sell and trade sports cards and comics. They also carry beverage signs. Duane and Todd work hard to gain the trust and confidence of customers. When trading for sports cards and comics they often let customers look up the value of the cards so that they know they are being treated fairly. The store is open from 12 to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and until 9 p.m. on Thursday. On Saturday, they are open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors, recently presented a First Dollar award to Duane and Todd. Pictured from left above are Michelle Benton, chamber ambassador, Todd Peterson, Duane Glass, and Lee Ann Nelson, chamber ambassador.

A SALUTE TO SERVICE ON

VETERANS DAY

NOVEMBER 11, 1993

Tributes take on many forms—statues, plaques, ribbons, testimonials, and many others. We pay tribute to the accomplishments of persons from many walks of life, from movie stars to business leaders and community servants to heads of state.

But America's veterans bestow the greatest tribute of all upon their nation and their neighbors—the gift of service. When called to serve, they leave home and family to travel to remote and desolate places to preserve our precious heritage and lift the yoke of oppression for millions throughout the world.

On this Veterans Day, 1993, we join The American Legion Post 117, Auxiliary, Sons of The Legion and V.F.W. Post 2793 in paying tribute to the men and women who have honored our nation with service, sacrifice, and allegiance.

Conflict of good and evil is at the heart of the melodrama "Nicholas Nickleby," the Lincoln high school fall play to be presented Friday and Saturday, November 19 and 20, at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Wackford Squeers (Rod Joppru), the wicked schoolmaster, administers a beating to schoolboy Smike (Jeremi Hanson) with the encouragement of Mrs. Squeers (Kelly Gould) as the hero Nicholas Nickleby (Keith Baune) watches in horror and Fanny Squeers (Angie Hasnedl) swoons over the hero. School children at left are (front) ReAnn Dargus, Kiki Goddard and Kelsie Steiger; (back) Jaimie Smith, Andy Furuseth, Jeremy Swanson and Josh Melby. Connie Stock is director of the fall play.

Lincoln's fall play is a classic melodrama

by Connie Stock, Director
LHS Fall Play

Orphaned children, mean and greedy villains, sweet young things, kind and solicitous gentlemen, a dark and mysterious stranger, a colorful acting troupe, a few quirky characters plus a tragic heroine and dashing hero—this is the stuff of which melodramas are made.

On Friday and Saturday, November 19 and 20, at 7 p.m. the Lincoln high school drama department will present the melodrama "Nicholas Nickleby," based on the novel by Charles Dickens.

Set in 19th Century England, "Nicholas Nickleby" dramatizes Dickens' concern for the underprivileged, the need for social reform during the Industrial Revolution, the ability of common man to be a hero, the reward of good and the punishment of evil while poking fun at the foibles of humankind in true melodramatic form. Period costuming, musical underscoring from the Romantic Era and a stageful of memorable characters make this an entertaining evening of theatre.

More than 40 students are cast in this story of the life and times of Nicholas Nickleby, the dashing young hero played by Keith Baune. The show opens as Vincent Crummles (Josh Rose), a theatrical producer, his wife (Amber Peoples), their amazing daughter Ninetta (Vicki Bitzegaio) and a whole entourage of colorful actors find their way to London to attend the wedding of Nicholas Nickleby. Vincent then begins the story of young Nicholas, who is the sole support of his widowed mother (Megan Browning) and sister Kate (Heather Thornton), who come to London seeking happiness and good fortune.

Alas, fate is not kind when they meet with their greedy, hate-filled uncle, Frank Nickleby (Ryan Dupree). Nicholas eventually ends up in the employ of a wicked schoolmaster, Wackford Squeers (Rod Joppru) and his wife (Kelly Gould).

Here Nicholas meets Smike (Jeremi Hanson), a poor orphan boy mistreated by the Squeers who becomes Nicholas' companion in his further adventures. (He also meets the Squeers' daughter Fanny (Angie Hasnedl) who unsuccessfully and comically tempts Nicholas with her feminine wiles.

Meanwhile, the side of good is portrayed by the lawyer Charles Cheeryble (Ben Schmitz), his clerk Tim Linkinwater (Chris Tsukichi), his nephew Frank (Sam Adams).

Global Fair Thursday at Goodridge school

Students at the Goodridge school and community members who choose to join them will be able to choose from approximately 30 mini-sessions to attend during a Global Fair Thursday, November 18.

The event is part of the American Education Week observance which will also include noon lunches from various cultures, a student council sponsored food drive for the area food shelf, elementary students designing placemats for the Goodridge Cafe and appreciation sessions for school staff and administration.

Global Fair participation will involve a number of people from the Goodridge community as well as from Thief River Falls and other area communities.

The day's activities will open at 8:45 with a kick-off program in the school gymnasium featuring the "Morning Darkness " jazz band under the direction of Mike Lehrer and the "Sunrise Singers" jazz choir under the direction of Marcia Knuttila, all from Franklin middle school in Thief River Falls.

Eight periods of mini-sessions will be provided throughout the day with four to six sessions for students and community members to choose from during each of the periods.

From 9:33 to 10:18 a.m. the sessions scheduled include the following: "What Are You Really Like?" by Sue Schuler of Grygla; "A Breath of Fresh Air" by Deb Breuer from Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls; "Education in Czechoslovakia" by Jim and Phyllis Dalager of St. Hilaire; "Conservation Role of Forests" by John Faulkner of the Minnesota DNR; "Skin Care Make-up" by Rhonda Nelson of Hairlines Unlimited in Thief River Falls; and "Karate" by Tom Scheef and Gary Flynn of Thief River Falls.

From 10:21 to 11:06 a.m. the mini-sessions offered include: "Visit the Orient" by Judy Olson; repeat of "A Breath of Fresh Air," "Education in Czechoslovakia," "Conservation Role of Forests" and "Skin Care Make-up;" and "AIDS awareness" by Paula Mutnansky of Goodridge;

During the 11:09 to 11:54 mini-sessions, the presentations will include the following: Repeats of "Visit the Orient" and "What Are You Really Like?" "Scandinavian Traditions of Norway" and style show by Ethel Wiseth of Goodridge and Helen Chervestad of Oklee with Lori Olson of Thief River Falls narrating the style show and Chris Tveitbakk of Thief River Falls playing the eight-string fiddle; and "Achy-Breaky Heart" line dancing in the old gym by Nicole

Tom Risdal

Risdal heads adult farm management

Tom Risdal, who was an instructor in the adult farm management program at Barnesville for the past nine years, has succeeded Verne Spengler as manager of the regional program headquartered at the Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls.

Spengler retired on June 30 and Risdal began his work with the program on July 1. He supervises the work of 42 instructors including four working out of the Thief River Falls office, another four in area satellite operations attached to the Thief River Falls office, and the remainder in many communities in northwestern Minnesota from the Canadian and North Dakota borders south and east to Wadena.

Risdal said that his father was born in Thief River Falls in 1912 and lived here until he moved to Minot, ND, with his family at the age of three.

Tom grew up in the area south of Spokane, WA, and graduated from high school there. He has a Bachelor of Science degree in agricultural education from the University of Idaho in Moscow, a Master of Agricultural Education degree from North Dakota State University in Fargo, and a Master of Science degree in Education Administration from Tri-College, a consortium of NDSU, Moorhead State University and Concordia College in the Fargo-Moorhead area.

After several years of work in North Dakota in high school agriculture and adult farm management, he moved to Barnesville where he spent the past nine years working with about 45 farmers annually in the adult farm management program.

Tom and his wife Joanne have a son and four daughters. Judd, 19, is a private investigator in the Portland, OR area; Patti, 18, is a student at Northland Community College; twins Lis and Lori, 15, are sophomores at Lincoln high school; and Kristine, 13, is in seventh grade at Franklin middle school.

Risdal said his favorite hobbies are fishing and woodworking.

"Farmers and other small business in the area will need a lot of help in many areas following the bad crop year of 1993," Risdal said. "It will be a real challenge to our instructors to provide the necessary assistance to bring them through in

Concert series will offer Christmas opera Nov. 26

Described as "the perfect seasonal theatrical experience for the entire family," the opera "Amahl And The Night Visitors" will be presented Friday, November 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium in Thief River Falls.

The presentation will be the second in the 1993-1994 series of the Thief River Falls Concert Association and admission will be by season membership only.

The first opera commissioned and written specifically for television, "Amahl And The Night Visitors" was first televised on Christmas Eve in 1951 and thereafter was presented for 16 Christmases. David Aiken of the New York City Opera, who played King Melchior in the original cast, is directing the current international tour.

Aiken has an extensive oratorio and recital repertoire and sings each season with many symphonies and at colleges. He has been a leading singer with the New York City Opera, the Philadelphia Grand Opera and the Indiana University Opera Theater and until recently was a member of the voice faculty at the Indiana University School of Music.

The 22-member cast presents the complete production with soloists, chorus, dancers and instrumental ensemble. The evening's performance will also include a special program of "Christmas Around the World"—carols from many nations sung and played by the entire group.

Story of the musical production is as follows:

Somewhere in the world a little crippled shepherd boy named Amahl lives with his mother, an impoverished widow. Nothing is left to them of the little they ever had, and they are now faced with hunger and cold in their empty hovel.

Three kings on their way to Bethlehem stop at the tiny hut and ask to be taken in for the night. Amahl and his mother welcome them as best they can, while astonished at the splendor of the kings' robes and the wealth of their gifts.

When Amahl's mother realizes that the Three Kings are looking for a newborn child and that the expensive gifts are destined for the babe, she becomes bitter and envious. She cannot understand why at least some of these gifts can not be given to her own child, who is so poor and sickly.

Upon the arrival of the kings, Amahl leaves to summon other shepherds from the countryside who, in their great excitement, bring their humble gifts to the kings.

Under cover of darkness, while the kings are asleep, Amahl's mother tries to steal some of the gold and is caught. When she tells the kings that she needs the gold to feed her starving child, she is readily forgiven. With great tenderness the kings explain to her who the newborn child is, and how much he needs the love of every human being to build his coming kingdom.

Touched by their words, the poor widow not only gives back the stolen gold, but wishes she could add a gift of her own. Little Amahl comes to her rescue. He impulsively hands to the kings his most precious possession—his wooden crutch—and is miraculously cured of his lameness.

As dawn aproaches the kings make ready to resume their journey. Amahl begs his mother to let him join them, and he follows the kings to Bethlehem, to adore and give thanks to the Christ Child.

There was considerable damage to both of these vehicles. Both drivers escaped with only minor injuries. Police received the report of the accident at Tindolph and Michael at 7:54 a.m. November 15. According to the accident report, Steven Burslie, Thief River Falls, was driving a 1976 Blazer west on Michael, braked and skidded into the intersection at Tindolph where his vehicle collided with a car driven by Mark Spyhalski, Thief River Falls. After the collision, the Burslie vehicle went over the curb stuck a city street sign and a tree at 619 South Tindolph. Both drivers had minor injuries.

FAMILY HEALTH

Sherry LaCoursiere

November is National Alzheimer's Disease Month

As the number of elderly Americans continues to increase, so too has the impact of Alzheimer's disease, a progressive, irreversible, age-related brain disorder that impairs the brain's ability to function normally. And as the number of Alzheimer's victims pushes past the four million mark, the battle to find more effective means of care and treatment, and eventually a cure, continues.

First dicovered by a German doctor named Alois Alzheimer in 1906, Alzheimer's disease has become the fourth leading cause of death among the nation's elderly after heart disease, cancer and stroke.

One out of every 10 persons aged 65 and older is a victim of Alzheimer's disease; approximately 20 per cent of Americans between the ages of 75 and 84 have Alzheimer's; and almost half of those 85 and older suffer from the disease.

As the threat of Alzheimer's disease continues to escalate, scientists and medical researchers are working to unlock the mystery that surrounds this brain-destroyer. According to Eugene Michaels, president of the American Health Assistance Foundation (AHAF), a nonprofit organization committed to funding reasearch and educating the public about age-related illnesses, significant strides are being made in Alzheimer's disease research.

"In the last year or so, we have seen a number of announcements that indicate we are making headway in the battle against Alzheimer's disease," Michaels says. "The FDA recently approved tacrine, the first drug specifically targeted to treat symptoms of Alzheimer's; a genetic defect has been identified as a risk factor for late-onset Alzheimer's, which accounts for 90 per cent of all Alzheimer's cases; and a number of research investigations supported by our organization have made important contributions to the greater body of knowledge concerning better methods of care and treatment. However, we need to do more to educate the public about the terrible impact of this disease on our elderly populations — there's a lot they don't know."

More than 250,000 new cases of Alzheimer's disease are diagnosed every year, and that trend is expected to grow. In other words, by the year 2050, 14 million Americans could have the disease.

Even though the numbers are daunting, Michaels remains optimistic. "We may not have a cure yet, but I am confident we are heading in the right direction," he says. "Alzheimer's may be a mysterious and insidious disease, but the best scientific and medical minds in the world are working on this problem. The battle against Alzheimer's disease will continue until a solution is found."

"In the last year or so, we have seen a number of announcements that indicate we are making headway in the battle against Alzheimer's disease," Michaels says. "The FDA recently approved tacrine, the first drug specifically targeted to treat symptoms of Alzheimer's; a genetic defect has been identified as a risk factor for late-onset Alzheimer's, which accounts for 90 per cent of all Alzheimer's cases; and a number of research investigations supported by our organization have made important contributions to the greater body of knowledge concerning better methods of care and treatment. However, we need to do more to educate the public about the terrible impact of this disease on our elderly populations — there's a lot they don't know."

More than 250,000 new cases of Alzheimer's disease are diagnosed every year, and that trend is expected to grow. In other words, by the year 2050, 14 million Americans could have the disease.

Even though the numbers are daunting, Michaels remains optimistic. "We may not have a cure yet, but I am confident we are heading in the right direction," he says. "Alzheimer's may be a mysterious and insidious disease, but the best scientific and medical minds in the world are working on this problem. The battle against Alzheimer's disease will continue until a solution is found."

SPEAKING OF

Sherry LaCoursiere

....What About Thanksgiving?

Am I mistaken or is Christmas earlier every year? It seems to me that the pre-Christmas season is getting longer and longer each year.

Stores are filled with Christmas things right now. In fact, Christmas things began to appear about the time Halloween decorations disappeared. There were even some Christmas things out at the same time as Halloween decorations this year.

What happened to Thanksgiving, that poor little holiday sandwiched between Halloween and Christmas? Where is the pre-Thanksgiving hype?

In a previous column I mentioned that Halloween seems to be gaining in popularity and now nearly rivals Christmas and Easter. People have their houses all "Halloweened" up the first part of October. This means that Halloween is taking up nearly a whole month.

It would only be fair that Thanksgiving should be celebrated throughout the month of November right up to the big turkey day, wouldn't it? But it isn't.

Christmas has taken over Thanksgiving. The Christmas season now begins immediately after Halloween and ends late Christmas evening, never minding that Thanksgiving is in there somewhere.

You can see it in the stores right now. Have you tried to buy any Thanksgiving decorations, napkins or candles lately? Good luck at finding anything.

If you didn't buy your Thanksgiving stuff during or right after the Halloween rush, you are probably out of luck. There are no Thanksgiving things left in some stores, and in others the Thanksgiving things have been stuffed away in some corner hidden behind the Christmas decorations.

Is all of this extended Christmas season really being done to accommodate shoppers? Are there so many people out there who like to shop this early?

Well, I, for one, do not. I want to wait to do my shopping, at least until December comes. Some of my favorite memories are of doing my Christmas shopping shortly before Christmas, snow crunching underfoot and softly falling to leave a white cotton frosting on everything and everyone, cheerful sounds of Christmas carols wafting from within the stores as I pass by, the laughter of children.

People seem to get happier the closer it is to Christmas. They laugh and smile more, bundled warmly against the frosty winter air. They seem to dance along in time to the carols and yet have time to stop to greet and chat with old friends.

Don't get me wrong, I like Christmas. I just love it, in fact. I am the one who has so much Christmas spirit that I buy my real tree the first week of December and have so much faith in the power of Christmas that I believe the needles will stay stuck on the branches until our Christmas Eve celebration.

I am the one who made Christmas curtains for four rooms of my house and put them up every year, along with tons of trivial Christmas do-dads all over the house. I am the one who decorates my bathrooms for Christmas, for goodness sake!

However, the effect of all of this lengthy bombardment of Christmas makes me almost sick and tired of it before it gets here.

I guess I would like it starting this early all right if it didn't affect Thanksgiving, but it seems that Thanksgiving is a pretty important holiday, too. It is the day when families get together to celebrate the day and give thanks for what they have and for one another. This is a pretty good reason for Thanksgiving to be important. It shouldn't be ignored or shifted aside like an old shoe.

I have an idea. Maybe Thanksgiving should be moved up a couple of weeks, to the first part of November. Yes, that would make all of the early shoppers happy and all of the store owners happy, and it would also make people like me happy. Because then Thanksgiving could be properly celebrated and I could still have an extra two weeks to enjoy my Christmas curtains and decorations, as well as my Merry Christmas-y bathrooms.

Don and Lois Johnson were married November 19, 1943, and were both born and raised in Buffalo. The couple lived there for 24 years before moving to Thief River Falls, where Don worked for Arctic Enterprises and Johnson Jewelers and Lois was Avon district manager for 18 years. They retired to Arizona nine years ago.

At the present time, both are very active. They attend a Baptist church near their home where Lois sings in the choir and Don plays violin in an instrumental group. Lois likes oil painting, clogging and helping their son in his jewelry store. Don enjoys motorcycles, horseshoes, roller blading and hunting. On the day of their 50th anniversary, the Johnsons will be elk hunting in the hills of Arizona.

They have three children, 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Their address is 50 West Oro Viejo Drive, Queen Valley, AZ 85219.

Squarenaders to dance Nov. 19

Crookston Squarenaders will dance Friday, Nov. 19, at 8 p.m. at the Lincoln school gymnasium in Crookston with Jim Jirak calling the tips. Doris Muir will cue the rounds. All dancers and visitors are welcome.

Quilters guild will meet Nov. 23

The Thief River Falls Quilters Guild will meet Tuesday, Nov. 23, at 7 p.m. in room 101 of the Northwest Technical college. Challenge Project fabric and rules will be distributed. Bring your complete "Spider Web" blocks.

Plummer AAL to present program

Aid Association for Lutherans Plummer branch 244 will present the program, "Too Good to be True," at the Plummer hall following the Senior Citizen noon potluck lunch on Wednesday, Nov. 17.

"Eye of the Storm" to be shown Sun.

Our Saviour's Lutheran church will present the movie, "Eye of the Storm," on Sunday, Nov. 21, at 6 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend. For more information, call the church office at 681-4643.

Evening of gospel music Saturday

The First Baptist church in Thief River Falls will have an evening of gospel music with the Trochmann family, Rachel Forberg and Robin Asp on Saturday, Nov. 20, at 7:30 p.m. There will be a free will offering for Our Saviour's Christian academy.

Evangelist at Assembly of God

Rev. Dwight Fearing from Sisseton, SD, will have evangelistic meetings at the Assembly of God church at 7 p.m. November 21 through 23. He will also be sharing in a morning Bible study at 10 a.m. in the church November 22 and 23.

Rev. Fearing has ministered in Alaska and other states and in Canada. The public is cordially invited to come and share in the services.

Pennington County ADA to meet November 30 in Thief River Falls

Election of officers and discussion of promotion activities will take place when the Pennington County American Dairy Association holds its annual meeting Tuesday, November 30, at 11:30 a.m. at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls.

The meeting begins with a dinner with all dairy farmers in Pennington county and their spouses invited to take part in the dinner and meeting.

Following the dinner, ADA regional producer services coordinator Al Paulson will present a video program highlighting dairy promotion activities. In addition, a director from the Upper Midwest board of directors and a state ADA board member will update dairy farmers on Minnesota promotion programs.

General discussion and questions will be followed by county ADA board elections.

Currently representing Region I on the ADA Upper Midwest board are Norma Hanson of Goodridge and Lloyd Seter of Glyndon. Representing the region on the state ADA board are Sylvia Koch of Puposky and Roger Schaefer of Frazee.

Currently on the Pennington county ADA board are Lowell Peterson, Plummer, chairman; Mark Hanson, Thief River Falls, vice chairman; Howard Person, Thief River Falls, secretary-treasurer; Gary Lundeen, Oklee and Mark Hanson, Thief River Falls, delegates; and Perry Lundeen, Trail and Lyle Swanson, Thief River Falls, alternates.

First concert of the year for the Franklin Middle School Strings will be presented Thursday, November 18, at 7:30 p.m. at United Methodist Church in Thief River Falls. The strings are under the direction of Bonnie Knapp.

Works of McLeod, Mozart, Papini and others will be presented in the concert.

On December 13 all string instrument students in the district will be featured in a concert at the Lincoln high school auditorium. The Elementary Strings will open the program with "Jolly Old St. Nicholas."

Franklin Middle School Strings will perform several well-known carols and the Lincoln High School Strings will be joined by several wind ensemble students in selection from "The Messiah."

"The audience will be invited to sing along on the choruses to Handel's great work," Knapp said. "Bring your score and your voice and join us as we usher in the Christmas season."

Our Saviour's church to show Graham movie

"Eye of the Storm," a new movie from World Wide Pictures—the motion picture ministry of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association—will be shown Sunday, November 21, at 6 p.m. at Our Saviour's Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Rev. Del Palmer, pastor of Our Saviour's says that the film "addresses vital, timely issues very relevant in today's society. Families will be captivated by this contemporary story of what faces many single parents and their children as careers are juggled with personal relationships."

Public attendance at the film showing is invited.

It is the day when families get together to celebrate the day and give thanks for what they have and for one another. This is a pretty good reason for Thanksgiving to be important. It shouldn't be ignored or shifted aside like an old shoe.

I have an idea. Maybe Thanksgiving should be moved up a couple of weeks, to the first part of November. Yes, that would make all of the early shoppers happy and all of the store owners happy, and it would also make people like me happy. Because then Thanksgiving could be properly celebrated and I could still have an extra two weeks to enjoy my Christmas curtains and decorations, as well as my Merry Christmas-y bathrooms.

Don and Lois Johnson were married November 19, 1943, and were both born and raised in Buffalo. The couple lived there for 24 years before moving to Thief River Falls, where Don worked for Arctic Enterprises and Johnson Jewelers and Lois was Avon district manager for 18 years. They retired to Arizona nine years ago.

At the present time, both are very active. They attend a Baptist church near their home where Lois sings in the choir and Don plays violin in an instrumental group. Lois likes oil painting, clogging and helping their son in his jewelry store. Don enjoys motorcycles, horseshoes, roller blading and hunting. On the day of their 50th anniversary, the Johnsons will be elk hunting in the hills of Arizona.

They have three children, 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Their address is 50 West Oro Viejo Drive, Queen Valley, AZ 85219.

Newfolden - Elnora Williamson, 84, died November 10 while traveling in Van Horn, TX.

Funeral services for Elnora Williamson were held Monday at 2 p.m. at the First Congregational church in Baudette with Rev. Robert Haring officiating. Nancy Kriesel was organist, with Erle Guenin singing.

Active casketbearers were Roger, Donald and Gordon Routier, Keith and Brian Rud, Mike Coninx, Jay Birdsong and DeWayne Parker.. All grandchildren and spouses and great-grandchildren were considered honorary casketbearers. Interment was in the Oak Grove cemetery in Newfolden.

Elnora Noftsker was born September 9, 1909, in Minnesota Lake, the daughter of Samuel and Anna Wetzel Noftsker. At the age of nine months, she moved with her parents and grandparents to homestead south of Baker, Fallon county, Montana. They were among the early pioneers in that area and, after arriving by rail, they walked several miles in the dark and rain to reach a settlement.

She was baptized in the Wesleyan Methodist faith and attended rural school south of Baker and high school in Baker. On her 18th birthday, September 9, 1927, she was united in marriage to Presley Williamson at Medicine Rocks, MT. The couple resided there until 1933, when they moved to a farm near Wells.

In 1943, they purchased a grocery store in Frost. In 1947, they moved to the Carp area south of Baudette, where they farmed until he retired in 1973. From then until May of 1993, they resided in Baudette in the summer and Apache Junction, AZ, in the winter. In May, 1993, they moved to Newfolden to be near family. Presley Williamson died September 6, 1993.

She was active on the county extension board, in homemakers' club, 4-H and PTA. She was noted for her hospitality, her great cooking and her devotion to her family.

Elnora Williamson is survived by two daughters, Viola (Mrs. Arthur) Rud, Newfolden, and Helen (Mrs. Cecil) Routier, International Falls; two sons, Walter (wife: Mary Ann), Cypress, TX, and David (wife: Leanne), Belton, TX; 14 grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; three brothers, Raymond (wife: Margaret), Baker, MT, Irvin (wife: Evelyn), Watford City, ND, and Kenneth (wife: Dolores), Bonnie Lake, WA; and two sisters, Belva (Mrs. Ralph) Keech, Helena, MT and Pearl (Mrs. Clifford) Hanley, Whitefish, MT.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Presley; one brother, Charles; and a grandson, Steven Craig Rud.

Francis ("Fritz") Dagen, 87

Minneapolis - Francis ("Fritz") Dagen, 87, died November 10 at the Catholic Elder Care Home in Minneapolis where he had resided since 1986.

Funeral services for Francis Dagen were held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Collins Funeral Chapel in Karlstad. Rev. John A. Riveness officiated at the service, with Linda Peterson as organist and Mr. and Mrs. Ingolf Ingebrigtsen singing.

Active casketbearers were Jeffrey, Jon and Jerry Dagen, Mark Johnson, Gordon Thompson, Dennis Christensen, Neil Peterson and Virgil Poole. Honorary bearers were Benjamin Rastegari and Tom and David Johnson. Interment was at the Karlstad cemetery with the Collins Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Francis Stanley Benjamin Dagen was born February 14, 1906, in Springbrook township, Kittson county, near Karlstad, the son of Dave and Sarah Grose Dagen. He attended rural school near his home and was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith.

February 17, 1934, he was united in marriage to Anna Anderson at Hallock. The couple farmed west of Halma for many years. He served on the local school board and on the Oslo Lutheran church board and was active in the Farmers Union and the DFL party.

In 1949, he and his wife received an invitation to attend the inaugural ball for President-elect Harry S. Truman. In 1954, the couple moved to Minneapolis where he worked as a carpenter. He was a member of the Carpenters' Union and the Grace Lutheran church of Minneapolis. He had been ill for several years.

Survivors include three daughters, Frances (Mrs. Gordon) Thompson of Thompson, ND, and Cheryl Anderson and Holly Rastegari, both of Minneapolis; two sons, Dave, White Bear Lake, and Arlie, Aitkin; nine grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; two brothers, Lyle, Hallock, and Luverne, Karlstad; one sister, Lyla Bofferding, Minneapolis, and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by four brothers, Reuben, Ervin, Roy and Lawrence, and four sisters, Gladys, Violet, Betsy and Lydia.

Newfolden - Elnora Williamson, 84, died November 10 while traveling in Van Horn, TX.

Funeral services for Elnora Williamson were held Monday at 2 p.m. at the First Congregational church in Baudette with Rev. Robert Haring officiating. Nancy Kriesel was organist, with Erle Guenin singing.

Active casketbearers were Roger, Donald and Gordon Routier, Keith and Brian Rud, Mike Coninx, Jay Birdsong and DeWayne Parker. All grandchildren and spouses and great-grandchildren were considered honorary casketbearers. Interment was in the Oak Grove cemetery in Newfolden.

Elnora Noftsker was born September 9, 1909, in Minnesota Lake, the daughter of Samuel and Anna Wetzel Noftsker. At the age of nine months, she moved with her parents and grandparents to homestead south of Baker, Fallon county, Montana. They were among the early pioneers in that area and, after arriving by rail, they walked several miles in the dark and rain to reach a settlement.

She was baptized in the Wesleyan Methodist faith and attended rural school south of Baker and high school in Baker. On her 18th birthday, September 9, 1927, she was united in marriage to Presley Williamson at Medicine Rocks, MT. The couple resided there until 1933, when they moved to a farm near Wells.

In 1943, they purchased a grocery store in Frost. In 1947, they moved to the Carp area south of Baudette, where they farmed until he retired in 1973. From then until May of 1993, they resided in Baudette in the summer and Apache Junction, AZ, in the winter. In May, 1993, they moved to Newfolden to be near family. Presley Williamson died September 6, 1993.

She was active on the county extension board, in homemakers' club, 4-H and PTA. She was noted for her hospitality, her great cooking and her devotion to her family.

Elnora Williamson is survived by two daughters, Viola (Mrs. Arthur) Rud, Newfolden, and Helen (Mrs. Cecil) Routier, International Falls; two sons, Walter (wife: Mary Ann), Cypress, TX, and David (wife: Leanne), Belton, TX; 14 grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; three brothers, Raymond (wife: Margaret), Baker, MT, Irvin (wife: Evelyn), Watford City, ND, and Kenneth (wife: Dolores), Bonnie Lake, WA; and two sisters, Belva (Mrs. Ralph) Keech, Helena, MT and Pearl (Mrs. Clifford) Hanley, Whitefish, MT.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Presley; one brother, Charles; and a grandson, Steven Craig Rud.

Francis ("Fritz") Dagen, 87

Minneapolis - Francis ("Fritz") Dagen, 87, died November 10 at the Catholic Elder Care Home in Minneapolis where he had resided since 1986.

Funeral services for Francis Dagen were held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Collins Funeral Chapel in Karlstad. Rev. John A. Riveness officiated at the service, with Linda Peterson as organist and Mr. and Mrs. Ingolf Ingebrigtsen singing.

Active casketbearers were Jeffrey, Jon and Jerry Dagen, Mark Johnson, Gordon Thompson, Dennis Christensen, Neil Peterson and Virgil Poole. Honorary bearers were Benjamin Rastegari and Tom and David Johnson. Interment was at the Karlstad cemetery with the Collins Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Francis Stanley Benjamin Dagen was born February 14, 1906, in Springbrook township, Kittson county, near Karlstad, the son of Dave and Sarah Grose Dagen. He attended rural school near his home and was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith.

February 17, 1934, he was united in marriage to Anna Anderson at Hallock. The couple farmed west of Halma for many years. He served on the local school board and on the Oslo Lutheran church board and was active in the Farmers Union and the DFL party.

In 1949, he and his wife received an invitation to attend the inaugural ball for President-elect Harry S. Truman. In 1954, the couple moved to Minneapolis where he worked as a carpenter. He was a member of the Carpenters' Union and the Grace Lutheran church of Minneapolis. He had been ill for several years.

Survivors include three daughters, Frances (Mrs. Gordon) Thompson of Thompson, ND, and Cheryl Anderson and Holly Rastegari, both of Minneapolis; two sons, Dave, White Bear Lake, and Arlie, Aitkin; nine grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; two brothers, Lyle, Hallock, and Luverne, Karlstad; one sister, Lyla Bofferding, Minneapolis, and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by four brothers, Reuben, Ervin, Roy and Lawrence, and four sisters, Gladys, Violet, Betsy and Lydia.

Regional forum, tour planned in RLF

Through its Upper Midwest Manufacturing Technology Center, Minnesota Technology, Inc. is sponsoring a regional forum and plant tour December 3 in Red Lake Falls.

The forum program will run from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Homark Company located at 100 Third Street in Red Lake Falls. Robert Peldo, sales consultant, will cover steps companies can take to ensure more consistency in performance among their sales people.

Small and medium-sized companies interested in learning what steps they can take to ensure they are receiving peak performance from their sales staffs are invited to attend. Participants will learn who wins in selling, steps to successful sales, how to identify their customers, the importance of a positive mental attitude and goals for a winner.

"It's a well-known fact that in almost all sales organizations, 20 per cent of the sales people generally complete 80 per cent of the business," Peldo said. "This forum will help companies understand why this happens and give them a better understanding of what it takes to win in business—now and in the future."

After the forum, Herb Johanneck, general manager of The Homark Co., will talk about his company's sales strategies and tactics.

"Homark is an employee-owned company and sells its products in seven states," he said. "We feel fortunate to have a highly qualified sales team and are happy to share our experiences with other area manufacturers."

After the presentation, persons attending will tour facilities of the mobile home manufacturer.

A similar format is planned for a forum to be held Friday, November 19, at the Rapat Corporation in the industrial park in Hawley. To register for either forum contact Minnesota Technology's Moorhead office at 236-8584. Cost is $50 per person.

Regional forums and plant tours are held quarterly throughout the state by Minnesota Technology offices. They are intended to expose companies to modern technologies and competitive strategies that will assist them in meeting their quality, productivity and profitability goals. Plant tours, an integral part of the regional forums, show manufacturers the benefits—and the problems—associated with applying these strategies in an actual production setting.

Minnesota Technology, Inc. is a non-profit corporation established to assist Minnesota companies in becoming more competitive. It is part of the state's strategy to strengthen its economy and preserve and increase jobs in Minnesota.

Established in August of 1992, the Upper Midwest Manufacturing Technology Center was formed through a cooperative agreement with Minnesota Technology, Inc. and the U.S. Department of Commerce's National Institute of Standards and Technology.

City Calendar parking went into effect Mon.

Over 200 warnings for violating the calendar parking ordinance were written Monday morning by Thief River Falls police.

Calendar parking went into effect Monday morning. That means no parking on Avenues Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and no parking on Streets Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday between 6 a.m. and 9 a.m. until March 15.

Police Chief Ken Froschheiser said the policy is to issue warning tickets to every vehicle found in violation for the first two days. Otherwise, violation of the ordinance is a $5 ticket. Froschheiser added that if a person receives a ticket and hasn't received a warning, the ticket may be reduced to a warning.

Froschheiser also noted that if the street department has to remove snow with the motorgrader, cars found in the way will be towed after every attempt at locating the owner has been made.

Franklin art students have public display

Visual arts students from Franklin Middle School in Thief River Falls have arranged a display at First National Bank in Thief River Falls.

The collection includes clay sculpture "Fimo People" and work in linear ink drawing. Each piece was fashioned by a Franklin student and each displays fascinating detail and coloring, according to Carol Ihle, volunteer coordinator with the Thief River Falls public schools.

The public is welcome to view the display in the lobby of the bank on highway 59 south in Thief River Falls.

Education, according to my dictionary, is the "process of training and developing the knowledge, skill, mind, character, etc., especially by formal schooling..."

Our schools here in Thief River Falls do an admirable job of educating our students. They impart knowledge. They develop skills: They help in the developing of the minds of the students. They impart the means for developing character of lasting integrity. Our schools are not perfect, but our schools are doing a pretty good job of educating our children.

But, education is not limited to school. Education begins in the home. Formal schooling is good. Formal schooling develops those particular skills needed to become an educated person. But, formal schooling is not the only form of education. To educate is to train. To educate is to develop knowledge and skills. To educate is to develop character. To educate is to develop the mind. To educate is then also what a parent does.

Sometimes we parents fail to appreciate the importance of who we are in our children's lives. We tend to think that in school they will learn all that they need to know to get by in life. We forget our influence upon them. We forget that in spite of the schooling a child receives, his home and his family are integral parts of his education.

Teachers are trained in the particulars of how to educate a student in their areas of expertise. Teachers are not trained to be the parent to the student. That job is reserved specifically for us parents. Consider for a few moments how you are accomplishing the parenting of your children.

Children need to know that their parents care for them – no matter what they do. Children need to know that their parents will love them – no matter what they do. Children need to know the limits their parents place for them. Children need to know that their parents are truthful with them. Children need to know that their parents do not always expect perfect papers from them, but that they instead expect effort. Children need to know that parents respect them for being the individuals they are. Children need to know that they can also respect their parents.

Notice that I have not said that children need the biggest and best of every material possession they could possibly want. Material possessions are not what children need. Children can thrive minus the addition to their lives of everything their little hearts desire. Children need only to know that they are loved, unconditionally. This love does not mean that they can do anything they may want to do, for love does have boundaries. Don't be afraid to set down family rules for your family to follow. Children thrive when they know their limits. Family rules are sometimes the means for developing character.

Expect your children to respect themselves. Teach them by your example that kindness and patience and self-control are desirable qualities to learn. Teach them by your example to use the minds that they are given. Don't let them simply float along in life without using their capacity for thinking. Teach them by your example the things you know – show them how to catch a ball or bake a cake or read a book. Spend time with your children. Don't wake up the morning of their high school graduation and wonder with regret for times not shared, where the years have gone.

Know that every day of their life is a gift. Guide them in the best ways you know how. Cherish them. And then, when you know that you have begun their education in the best way you know how, send them to school for that other aspect of their education – the formal education. But, as you send your children to school to learn the particulars of this formal education, continue to be the loving, caring influence in your child's life. For with the unconditional love of a parent behind a child, a child can become a person of integrity as well as an educated person.

Education begins at home and extends to school. Would that all children in our school system would have positive nurturing at home so that in school they could learn to the best of their capabilities.

Goodridge bar owner faces charges in court

Miz Ellies owner and operator Lonnie Watne was charged in Ninth District court in Thief River Falls Monday with furnishing alcohol to persons under 21 and selling alcohol without a license authorizing sale of alcohol (selling off-sale).

A Pennington county sheriff's department spokesperson said the charges against Watne stem from an investigation that began sometime last February or March. At that time, it was reported that Watne had served alcohol to a minor on two separate occasions. The charge of selling off-sale without a license stems from reports that he had been observed selling 12-packs and cases of beer to individuals even though he didn't have a license to do so.

Dear Supporters of Megan Steiger Benefit,

First of all, the Megan Steiger Family would like to thank the people who planned and worked at the Benefit Soup Luncheon for Megan Steiger. Without you we would have not experienced the heartwarming response to the benefit for Megan Steiger. It is so neat to know so many people care about us, it really warms all of our hearts. We thank you for the generous support you gave us.

We are still in the waiting period for a donor for Megan Steiger, at present we are enjoying Megan at home now because she is in good status. Only time will tell what happens next, but we will take it a day at a time like we have been taking it for the past four-and-half years. We again thank you for your prayers, cards, and the generous support giving us the support we need. Thank you!

Megan Steiger Family

Seventh-day Adventist schools hold Veterans Day program

Veterans Day observance at the Seventh-day Adventist school in Thief River Falls last Thursday included a patriotic play, "A Dish of Green Peas" by Aileen Fisher.

Under the direction of teacher Mrs. Margie Stevenson, students re-enacted the true story of how two loyal domestic helpers saved Gen. George Washington from a plot on his life. Student actors included Annie Forbes as Mattie, Heather Forbes as Miss Fraunces, Steven Umber as the orderly, Cody Frame as Mr. Van Starn and Matthew Forbes as Mr. Thomas Hickey. Also participating were Benji and Danny Sayler playing "The Star Spangled Banner".

Later in the program, Danny and Benji Sayler dressed as military personnel, and drum-marched their way into the program. Danny honored fallen veterans by presenting the poem "In Flander's Fields" by John McCrae. Benji honored living veterans by presenting the poem "In Flander's Fields, An Answer" by C.B. Galbreath.

At the conclusion of the program, punch and cake (decorated as the American Flag) was served to parents, students and guests.

Tracks on ice prompt warnings

Residents are being asked to stay off the ice. Tracks were observed on the Red Lake river in Thief River Falls recently, which prompted warnings from the sheriff's department and police department.

Police Chief Ken Froschheiser said he never says it's safe to be on the ice. At this time of year when water can be observed around the banks and at spots on the river, the ice is dangerously thin.

Froschheiser asks that parents set an example for young people by staying off of the ice.

Boy shot in heel at Fourtown

Thirteen-year-old Douglas Paul Dehnert was taken to Northwest Medical Center early Sunday morning after a bullet fired at the Fourtown store struck him in the heel.

On November 14 at about 2:30 a.m., Beltrami County Deputies responded to a complaint of a shooting at the Fourtown store, located in northern Beltrami county. Deputies were informed that four males had been asked to leave the store and the bar at closing time. Upon leaving these three individuals entered a vehicle and allegedly went to a nearby roadway where they fired several shots from the vehicle. One of these shots struck Douglas Dehnert in the heel. The suspect vehicle left the area and Dehnert was brought by private vehicle to a hospital in Thief River Falls. Dehnert was treated and released.

A short time later, officers of the Red Lake police department did stop the suspect vehicle and took four males into custody.

Beltrami county authorities are still investigating the matter.

Fire damages Silverton Twp. residence

Fire caused extensive damage to the Jack Hageman residence in Silverton township Monday night.

Thief River Falls Fire department received a report of the fire east of Thief River Falls at 6:56 p.m. According to a fire department spokesperson, a woman resident came home to find the house full of smoke. She then went to a neighbor's house to call the fire department. Firemen were at the fire until 11:30 p.m.

The fire department spokesperson said there was extensive damage to the inside of the house but not to the outside of the house. Cause of the fire has not been determined. The assistant state fire marshall is investigating the fire. No one was injured in the fire, but a couple of pets did die in the fire.

Thompson family aids in donation to McIntosh Manor

Family of Robert and Delores Thompson, long time residents of Thief River Falls, has assisted in having a grant of $7,500 made by the AT&T Family Care Development Fund to McIntosh Manor nursing home at McIntosh.

Robert Thompson has been a resident of the home for the past year and a half while his wife Delores continues to live in Thief River Falls. The grant application process was started by the Thompsons' daughter, Geraldine Bell, who has been an AT&T employee in Denver, CO, for a number of years.

Geraldine was aware of the Family Care Development Fund and decided to make application for McIntosh Manor due to her father's residency there. Delores represented the family during a check presentation recently at the home.

The $7,500 grant is to be used to support the purchase of equipment for therapy, sensory stimulation, transportation and outdoor area enhancements. McIntosh Manor is the first Minnesota area agency to be awarded an elder care grant by the AT&T Family Care Development Fund.

The fund has awarded child care grants totaling $39,000 to four organizations in Minneapolis, St. Cloud, Burnsville and Hopkins. AT&T has about 2,600 employees in Minnesota and the grants were sponsored by AT&T employees with children or parents involved in the centers.

The Family Care Development Fund is a joint project of AT&T, the Communications Workers of America and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. It was created to increase the supply and to improve the quality of elder and child care services in communities across the country. Since 1990, a total of 390 child and elder care projects have received about $10 million in grants.

"McIntosh Manor nursing home appreciates the opportunity AT&T has provided us," said Carrie Welin, social services designee at the home. "This grant will enable us to enhance the quality of services for our residents and the families we serve."

Initiative Fund elects officers and directors

Kathleen Craddock of Park Rapids was elected president of the Northwest Initiative Fund at the annual meeting recently.

Other officers elected were Patricia Swanson, Hallock, vice president; Bruce Hamnes, Stephen, secretary; and John Ostrem, Bemidji, treasurer. Reelected to four-year terms as directors were Gary Torfin and Ranae Womack, Bemidji.

The Northwest Initiative Fund is a charitable foundation committed to improving the qualify of life for residents of northwest Minnesota.

TIMES FOR TODDLERS

ACTIVITIES

Tasting Party

Everyone likes to have a party, and one idea that is a lot of fun is to have a tasting party. Collect a lot of different flavors and textures to taste. Raw fruits and vegetables work very well for this. You could also include interesting items such as pickles, lemons or grapefruit, candy, chips and unsweetened chocolate. Then it is time to taste. Identify the different tastes and categorize them into salty, sweet, bitter and sour. Adults may have a tough time with this at times, too.

SCAVENGER HUNT

For next week's Activities feature, you will need pumpkin pie, cream cheese, cream and a piece of paper.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

The Thief River Falls public library invites you to browse through its new selection of children's books including the following about Thanksgiving:

Stevenson, James. Fried Feathers for Thanksgiving. Two witches are planning the perfect Thanksgiving complete with buttered turkey beak, candied claws and fried feathers. But when Young Emma and her friends have other ideas, the magic of friendship saves the day.

Nielsen, Shelly. Celebrating Thanksgiving. Colorfully illustrated poems cover the whole Thanksgiving celebration from the pilgrims to Grandma's house.

VIDEO VARIETY

Hansel and Gretel. This video is a heart-warming feast you'll enjoy time and again as you share the adventures of two little siblings who come close to becoming dinner for a hungry witch.

Don't forget to attend Storytime every Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. at the Thief River Falls public library.

Anger (Continued)

Here are some suggestions for dealing with an angry child. Some of them are designed to help the child avoid unnecessarily frustrating situations. Some are on-the-spot actions you can take when you see your child is having a problem.

*Be a good model. Children will follow your example and likely express their feelings and anger as you do.

*Teach your child to express anger and feelings in words. If Susie is free to say, "I don't feel like sharing just now" and if that desire is respected, chances are she isn't going to slug him the minute you turn your back and she will probably be ready to share within a few minutes.

*Catch your child being good. Find lots of ways to praise your child's good behavior and give him or her attention. (Some children seek parents' attention through negative behavior.)

*Make it easy for your child to be good. Give him or her plenty of opportunity for physical exercise to use up extra energy. Keep sleep times and meal times regular so that their physical needs are met.

*Use closeness and touching. Sometimes a sudden hug will help an angry child regain control. You can also just move closer to a child to help him/her curb an angry impulse.

*Set clear limits. A child needs a clear idea of what he can and can't do. "You may tell your brother you are angry but you may not hit him."

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Encourage your child to talk about frustrations when they are small before they become big angry situations.

TRF woman receives award

Karen Biever-Forsgken of Thief River Falls was among 14 members of Minnesota's nursey and landscape industry who was awarded the designation, "Certified Nursery Professional" by the Minnesota Nursery and Landscape Association (MNLA) during a testing session at the University of Minnesota recently.

Biever-Forsgken is a former University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) student who studies under Roger Wagner, associate professor of agriculture.

The comprehensive examination consists of plant identification, landscape planning, sales and marketing procedures, general knowledge of horticulture and practical application of these skills. Developed with the assistance of faculty members of the Department of Horticulture at the University of Minnesota, members of the certification committee and the MNLA board of directors, the test is designed to measure the skills of practicing nursery professionals and improve the quality and standards of industry.

The testing session, and all phases of the certification program, were coordinated by the MNLA staff and the University of Minnesota under the general direction of Gary Switzer, Switzer's Nursery and Landscaping, Northfield, chairman of the MNLA certification committee.

Citing the certification program as a major effort to enhance the quality of the Minnesota nursery industry, Switzer said it had taken MNLA officials a number of years to implement a sophisticated program, which he labeled one of the most significant accomplishments of the 750-plus member firm trade association, with member firms in more than 220 Minnesota communities.

Tim Altepeter is appointed postmaster at Middle River

Tim Altepeter has been appointed postmaster for the city of Middle River by Joleen Baxa, Dakota District customer services manager of the United States Postal Service.

Installation ceremony for Altepeter, who assumed his duties effective October 30, will be held Wednesday, November 24, at 3 p.m. at the American Legion club rooms in Middle River. Dick McCloskey, postmaster at Thief River Falls, will administer the oath of office. The ceremony is open to the public and refreshments will be served.

As postmaster, Altepeter will be responsible for all customer service functions such as retail operations and delivery of mail in the city of Middle River.

Altepeter's appointment is one of many in the North Dakota, South Dakota and western Minnesota area related to the reorganization of the postal service which began in July of 1992. Customer services in Middle River will report to the Dakota District which has replaced the former management sectional centers in Sioux Falls, Bismarck and Fargo.

RANDOM THOUGHTS

Sara Tyler
Lincoln High School

Our dog Sebastian has been part of the family for nine years. He has become as important as any other member of the family. We haven't gone overboard and give him his own place at the table, but he has all the perks of being a member of our family.

I wanted a dog for years before Sebastian joined us. I begged but was told by my dad, "There will never be a dog in this house." Never giving up, I pretended I was a dog, and at times I would put a bowl on the floor and eat out of it. This all occurred when I was four through eight years old, so no teasing me now. I haven't pretended to be a dog for nine years.

When we finally decided to get a puppy, we planned it before our vacation. We had the Grand Forks Humane Society hold one for us until we got home. My mom, sister and I went over to pick him up and tried to think of names all the way home. I admit I came up with some stupid suggestions, but I was only eight years old. "Shyie" is the one my sister likes to haunt me with. At the time our furry little critter was mute. I assumed he would stay relatively shy. Evidently, I did not know our dog very well. Anyone who has visited my house will testify that my dog is anything but shy.

Sebastian enjoys jumping on everyone that enters our house. As soon as the door opens, he goes crazy. He jumps and wriggles until I'm sure his fur is going to fall off his squirming body. He halfway sits and trembles if the person stoops to pet him. As soon as he loses his attention, he is back on his hind legs. This is a minor show of affection for our dog. He becomes calm while the person is in the house, but as soon as they threaten to leave . . . As much of a scene it is to enter our house, it is nothing compared to leaving.

When someone heads for the door, Sebastian will come running from anywhere in the house. I guess he wants to say goodbye. Immediately, he starts barking in his most threatening voice. The shrillness of his bark makes everyone hesitate, but he does not attack. The only time my dog does attack is when the mail comes.

I don't know where Sebastian got the idea that anything coming through the mail slot is evil, but he must have acquired it somewhere. When either the morning paper or mail comes, he rushes to the slot. If the paper or mail did not fall to the floor, he would pull it out of the slot and shake it. Dragging it with him he runs to the window, drops whatever is in his mouth so he can bark, picks it up again, and runs back to the door to bark some more. I'm not sure how many pieces of the mail I have received with his blood on them. I'm sure paper cuts in his mouth must hurt, but he doesn't stop.

Our dog became so well known for this, that a mail carrier once asked my dad where Sebastian was. He hadn't grabbed the mail for a couple days. We recently bought a baby gate for my sister's child and inserted it in front of the slot. This spoils my dog's game somewhat, but he still runs back and forth between the gate and the window barking.

Believe it or not, these antics are calmer than they used to be. Sebastian is actually slowing down. I'm not worried about him getting old yet. When he stops jumping and barking I'll wonder if his age has gotten to him. Somehow, I don't think it will happen for a number of years.

HAVE YOU REVIEWED YOUR HOME-OWNERS INSURANCE LATELY?
Your home is probably the single largest purchase you will make in your lifetime. It needs to be well-protected. So from time to time it's wise to evaluate your insurance to be sure you have the proper coverage.
There are many good reasons to review your homeowners.
1). You're remodeling. The typical homeowners policy is based on the cost of replacing your home if it's destroyed. When you add space - the home becomes more expensive to replace,
2). You work at home. The standard homeowners policy may not cover your home-based business. Standard homeowners policies provide no liability insurance for a home business; so if a client were injured in your at-home office, you could be liable for any damages awarded.
3). You live in a flood-prone area. Homeowners policies do not include flood insurance. If you live in a flood-prone area, ask your agent about adding this coverage.
4). Other reasons might include; earning credit for adding a smoke alarm or security system; changing to a higher deductible to save premium; getting a discount for having auto and homeowners with the same company.

Members of the Lincoln High School boys cross country team display the banner they received recently after being named the 1993 Class AA academic state cross country champions. The award was announced during the Section 8AA meet and the Prowlers were presented with individual medals when they were introduced at a banquet on the eve of the Nov. 6 state meet in Northfield. However, the banner wasn't ready at the time. It was delivered to the school last week. The award is based on the accumulative grade point average of the seven runners competing in the sectional meet. The Prowlers had a 3.95 GPA on a 4.0 scale. The group included, left to right, eighth grader Brian Unbehaun, freshman Stefan Ronchetti, sophomore Nick Dee, senior David Johnson, senior Jon Hendrickson, junior Dan Bjerknes, and junior Nathan Anderson.

Volleyball awards presented at NCC

Post-season team honors were distributed to seven different players as Northland Community College put the finishing touches on its 1993 volleyball season.

Sophomores receiving awards included Kathy Kvick (Thief River Falls), Most Valuable Player; Lisa Verbout (Grygla), Most Improved Player; Ranada Erickson (Thief River Falls), Sportsmanship Award; Ronda Olson (Valley North), Best Team Player; and Tia Hietala (Badger), Coaches Award.

Freshmen picking up the honors were Kyoko Kino (Osaka, Japan), Team Hustle Award; and Charitie Dalzell (Hallock), Team Spirit Award.

Northland fielded a competitive team this fall, but still struggled in the record column with a 10-23 finish.

"It was a difficult season," acknowledged Northland coach Deb Jacobson. "But through all the trials and tribulations, we became a team – which in the end is the ultimate compliment."

Jacobson remains convinced the Pioneers weren't that far from being a contender, despite an 0-6 showing in the Minnesota Community College Conference Northwest Division.

"I was reading over the pre-season article from The Times," explained Jacobson, "and I still have to agree with many things I said then."

Jacobson, for example, said back in August that the 1993 Pioneers might be one of the best teams she has ever coached. "Skill, talent, determination, spirit, tenacity...when you consider all these areas, it is the best team I have had," she confirmed.

Northland's depth also drew preseason praise, with Jacobson saying any of the Pioneers would be capable starters. "Because of the substitution rule in college volleyball (only 12 substitutes per game), it makes it difficult to get everyone into the game," she explained, "but it sure was nice to look down the bench and have choices!"

The record didn't take anything away from the Pioneers' efforts, according to Jacobson, who said: "This was a good bunch of players – not only on the court, but off the court as well. I was proud to be their coach. They handled themselves all season long as caring, cooperative, mature individuals."

Giauque, Olin qualify for state meet

Ryan Lokken was right on when he predicted the Prowlers' chances heading into the 1993 Section 8 girls high school swimming and diving championships at the University of North Dakota's Hyslop Pool.

The Thief River Falls coach anticipated a "middle of the pack" finish for his team, and said the Prowlers' best bets for state meet advancement would be Theresa Giauque and Jennifer Olin.

He was correct on both accounts. Thief River Falls wound up eighth in the 16-team field, while Giauque and Olin both turned in state meet-qualifying efforts during the Friday/Saturday competition in Grand Forks.

Giauque, a junior who had qualified for the Section 8 meet in every individual event during the course of the 1993 regular-season schedule, won two races – the 200 and 500-yard freestyle. Olin, a sophomore, was third in the 1-meter diving competition.

Top two finishers in each swimming event and top five divers earned spots in the state meet, scheduled to be held Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 23-24, at the University of Minnesota Aquatic Center in Minneapolis.

"The results were pretty much as I expected," said Lokken. We had some real good swims, and some not-so-good swims. We tried a different taper this year. It worked for some and not for others."

Giauque swam a 2:02.57 in the 200 and had a 5:29.33 in the 500. "Theresa swam well," said Lokken. "She was right on line with the time we figured in the 500. We were a little disappointed in her 200, but she was just a little tight there; nothing to be alarmed about. She'll be okay at the state meet.".

Olin led a group of three Thief River Falls divers turning in strong sectional performances. Sophomore Becky Mattson finished 15th and eighth grader Beth Mattson was 20th. "Our divers had a good meet," noted Lokken. "All three made the top-20 cut after five dives – that was a nice accomplishment."

The Prowlers' relays also had solid post-season showings, according to Lokken, who also cited the effort of senior Lisa Ulrich, who was sixth in the 100-yard freestyle and ninth in the 50 freestyle.

Top eight times in the Friday prelims made up the Saturday championship finals. The No. 9-through-16 prelim times swam the Saturday consolation finals.

Alexandria won team honors with 370 points, followed by Bemidji with 334.5, Brainerd 251, Melrose 229, Moorhead 223, Fergus Falls 179, Detroit Lakes 152.5, Thief River Falls 134, Little Falls 95, Park Rapids Area 91, Holdingford 87.5, Crookston 84, Sauk Centre 20.5, Minnewaska Area 18, Morris Area 14, Albany 12.

Only other swimmers matching Giauque as a double-event individual winner were Melrose senior Lois Klaphake, who won the 50 and 100-yard freestyle races, along with Detroit Lakes junior Sarah Kohler, who took the 200 I.M. and 100 butterfly.

Alexandria won Section 8AA honors and Fosston took the Section 8A title to qualify for the 1993 Minnesota state high school volleyball tournaments this week.

The Cardinals swept Sauk Rapids 15-0, 15-2, 15-7 in a match-up of North and South Sub-Section 8AA champions.

In Section 8A semifinals Friday, Fosston got by Lake of the Woods 15-1, 14-16, 15-2, 13-15, 15-3 and Fisher-Climax defeated Cass Lake-Bena 15-2, 15-12, 10-15, 15-5.

The Greyhounds beat the Knights 15-6, 7-15, 15-10, 15-8 in the Saturday title match, with the Bears taking the consolation title 15-9, 15-3, 15-7.

Rochester claims state football title over Fergus Falls

Rochester defeated Fergus Falls 27-12 Saturday in the finals of the Minnesota Community College Conference state football playoffs at St. Cloud State University.

The Yellowjackets advanced to the title game with a 21-0 semifinal win over Northland the previous week. Ironically, the Pioneers lost to Fergus Falls by the same 21-0 score to open the 1993 season.

Northland went 6-3 this year fall, winning a share of the MCCC Northern Division title.

Youth Basketball

Northland scrimmage will be held Thursday

Northland Community College men's basketball team will be on display Thursday when the public is invited to watch the Pioneers' 7 p.m. Blue-and-White intrasquad scrimmage.

Second-year Northland head coach Mark Dannhoff will watch the game from the scorers' table as he turns the Pioneers over to the media who cover the team – Thief River Falls Times/Northern Watch Sports Editor Mike Lundgren, who will coach the Blue Team, and KTRF Sports Director Denny Minks, who will coach the White Team.

The Blue Team will feature Chad Kujava, Warren; Ryan Rislov, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River; Scott Rindahl, Grygla; Gary Carey, a native of England; Anthony Kallod, Fargo, ND; Antonio Parker, Chicago, IL; and Ron Northup, Thief River Falls.

Bernstein, Parker and Hardy played regularly a year ago when the Pioneers struggled to a 4-18 finish.

"I think we'll be much improved this year," offered Dannhoff. "Just how much, in terms of wins and losses, we don't really know until we see what everybody else has. But I think we have more talent this year; we're more athletic."

Dannhoff put much of his recruiting efforts into landing area basketball talent, and was successful in signing the likes of Kujava, Rislov, Hirst, Olson, and Rindahl.

"We stressed recruiting area kids, and I think we got some of the best basketball players in northwestern Minnesota," said Dannhoff.

At 6-8, Kallod is the tallest of the Pioneers. "We're not real big, but we got a lot of good guards – kids who are quick and who can shoot," explained Dannhoff. "We're going to press and run; we're going to have some fun."

Dan Hoffard and Tyson Treat are serving as Northland student assistant coaches this winter.

The Pioneers open their season with a Wednesday, Dec. 1, game against North Dakota State College of Science in Wahpeton.

Pioneers will field improved product

Rick Nikunen begins his second year as Northland Community College women's basketball coach looking to improve upon last year's 8-13 record.

A full recruiting season – something he didn't have last year – should help Nikunen reach that goal.

Returning sophomores include Holly Gram and Kim Peterson of Middle River, along with Renae Blazejewski from Karlstad.

Other sophomores on hand include Lisa Verbout, Grygla; Ronda Olson, Alvarado; and Fay Cassavant, Red Lake Falls. Olson is a transfer from the University of Minnesota-Crookston, where she was all All-Northwest Division point guard.

Freshmen on the preseason roster include Tia Hietala, Badger; Alana Spilde, Karlstad; Carlene Jadrny, Hawley; Tracy Anderson, Stephen; Sandi Gustafson, Newfolden; Kelli Kronschnabel, Fertile; and Denise Johnson, Middle River.

"We'll be much improved over last year," predicted Nikunen. "We've got decent size, which will make us stronger right there." Kronschnabel is 6-0, Cassavant and Gustafson are both 5-11.

With Olson at the point and Johnson shooting the outside shot, the Pioneers should have a versatile attack.

Northland opens the season Wednesday, Dec. 1, at NDSCS-Wahpeton.

Lakers, Indians advance in football

Detroit Lakes and Mahnomen were the area sectional champions to survive the first round quarterfinals of the 1993 Minnesota state high school football playoffs Friday.

The Lakers shut out host South St. Paul 27-0 in Class A action, while the Indians got by visiting Esko 10-8 in Class C.

Semifinal play will move into the Metrodome in Minneapolis this weekend.

Detroit Lakes will take on International Falls Saturday at 5 p.m. The Broncos advanced with a 22-14 victory over Hutchinson.

Mahnomen will have a 12-noon Saturday semifinal game against Browerville, a team that beat Hawley 28-6 in the quarterfinals.

Area teams losing first round state playoff games included Kittson Central – 14-0 at the hands of Chokio-Alberta; Moorhead, 23-7 to Rochester John Marshall; Norman County East – 18-14 against Clinton-Graceville; and Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton, 28-19 to Deer River.

District 16 Jamborees

Annual MAHA District 16 Bantam and Pee-Wee Jamborees will be held in Warroad for the first time this weekend. Coaches throughout the district agreed to switch the event from its usual Thief River Falls site to Warroad for a first-hand look at the new arena in that community.

Bantam and Pee-Wee A scrimmages will take place Saturday, Nov. 20. Bantam and Pee-Wee B match-ups will be on Sunday, Nov. 21.

The Thief River Falls schedule for Saturday includes: 9:30 a.m. - Pee-Wee A vs. Red Lake Falls; 1 p.m. - Bantam A vs. Bemidji; 4:30 p.m. - Pee-Wee A vs. Baudette; 8 p.m. - Bantam A vs. Warroad.

Thief River Falls' Sunday schedule includes: 9 a.m. - Pee-Wee B vs. Hallock; 9:30 a.m. - Bantam B vs. Hallock; 3 p.m. - Pee-Wee B vs. East Grand Forks; 3:30 p.m. - Bantam B vs. Bemidji.

Both the new Gardens and the Olympic Arena will be used for the event.

Squirt Jamboree

Second annual TRFAHA Squirt In-House Jamboree will be held Saturday, Nov. 20, at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

The schedule includes: 2 p.m. - Hardee's vs. Pepsi; 3 p.m. - Bridgeman's vs. Pizza Hut; 4 p.m. - Pizza Hut vs. Pepsi; 5 p.m. - Bridgeman's vs. Hardee's; 6 p.m. Hardee's vs. Pizza Hut; 7 p.m. - Bridgeman's vs. Pepsi.

Pizza Fund-Raiser

A reminder to all players and parents that money and tickets for the TRFAHA Pizza Hut fund-raiser should be turned in as soon as possible.

Return the tickets and money to Harriet Worker or Julie Lendobeja at Laundryland.

Squirt Rosters Picked

Rosters have been selected for the 1993-94 TRFAHA Squirt In-House League.

Regular season league games will begin Saturday, Dec. 4, and continue through Tuesday, March 1. Playoffs will be held March 14-15 to complete the schedule.

Members of the Lincoln High School boys cross country team display the banner they received recently after being named the 1993 Class AA academic state cross country champions. The award was announced during the Section 8AA meet and the Prowlers were presented with individual medals when they were introduced at a banquet on the eve of the Nov. 6 state meet in Northfield. However, the banner wasn't ready at the time. It was delivered to the school last week. The award is based on the accumulative grade point average of the seven runners competing in the sectional meet. The Prowlers had a 3.95 GPA on a 4.0 scale. The group included, left to right, eighth grader Brian Unbehaun, freshman Stefan Ronchetti, sophomore Nick Dee, senior David Johnson, senior Jon Hendrickson, junior Dan Bjerknes, and junior Nathan Anderson.

Post-season team honors were distributed to seven different players as Northland Community College put the finishing touches on its 1993 volleyball season.

Sophomores receiving awards included Kathy Kvick (Thief River Falls), Most Valuable Player; Lisa Verbout (Grygla), Most Improved Player; Ranada Erickson (Thief River Falls), Sportsmanship Award; Ronda Olson (Valley North), Best Team Player; and Tia Hietala (Badger), Coaches Award.

Freshmen picking up the honors were Kyoko Kino (Osaka, Japan), Team Hustle Award; and Charitie Dalzell (Hallock), Team Spirit Award.

Northland fielded a competitive team this fall, but still struggled in the record column with a 10-23 finish.

"It was a difficult season," acknowledged Northland coach Deb Jacobson. "But through all the trials and tribulations, we became a team – which in the end is the ultimate compliment."

Jacobson remains convinced the Pioneers weren't that far from being a contender, despite an 0-6 showing in the Minnesota Community College Conference Northwest Division.

"I was reading over the pre-season article from The Times," explained Jacobson, "and I still have to agree with many things I said then."

Jacobson, for example, said back in August that the 1993 Pioneers might be one of the best teams she has ever coached. "Skill, talent, determination, spirit, tenacity...when you consider all these areas, it is the best team I have had," she confirmed.

Northland's depth also drew preseason praise, with Jacobson saying any of the Pioneers would be capable starters. "Because of the substitution rule in college volleyball (only 12 substitutes per game), it makes it difficult to get everyone into the game," she explained, "but it sure was nice to look down the bench and have choices!"

The record didn't take anything away from the Pioneers' efforts, according to Jacobson, who said: "This was a good bunch of players – not only on the court, but off the court as well. I was proud to be their coach. They handled themselves all season long as caring, cooperative, mature individuals."

Ryan Lokken was right on when he predicted the Prowlers' chances heading into the 1993 Section 8 girls high school swimming and diving championships at the University of North Dakota's Hyslop Pool.

The Thief River Falls coach anticipated a "middle of the pack" finish for his team, and said the Prowlers' best bets for state meet advancement would be Theresa Giauque and Jennifer Olin.

He was correct on both accounts. Thief River Falls wound up eighth in the 16-team field, while Giauque and Olin both turned in state meet-qualifying efforts during the Friday/Saturday competition in Grand Forks.

Giauque, a junior who had qualified for the Section 8 meet in every individual event during the course of the 1993 regular season schedule, won two races – the 200 and 500-yard freestyle. Olin, a sophomore, was third in the 1-meter diving competition.

Top two finishers in each swimming event and top five divers earned spots in the state meet, scheduled to be held Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 23-24, at the University of Minnesota Aquatic Center in Minneapolis.

"The results were pretty much as I expected," said Lokken. We had some real good swims, and some not-so-good swims. We tried a different taper this year. It worked for some and not for others."

Giauque swam a 2:02.57 in the 200 and had a 5:29.33 in the 500. "Theresa swam well," said Lokken. "She was right on line with the time we figured in the 500. We were a little disappointed in her 200, but she was just a little tight there; nothing to be alarmed about. She'll be okay at the state meet."

Olin led a group of three Thief River Falls divers turning in strong sectional performances. Sophomore Becky Mattson finished 15th and eighth grader Beth Mattson was 20th. "Our divers had a good meet," noted Lokken. "All three made the top-20 cut after five dives – that was a nice accomplishment."

The Prowlers' relays also had solid post-season showings, according to Lokken, who also cited the effort of senior Lisa Ulrich, who was sixth in the 100-yard freestyle and ninth in the 50 freestyle.

Top eight times in the Friday prelims made up the Saturday championship finals. The No. 9-through-16 prelim times swam the Saturday consolation finals.

Alexandria won team honors with 370 points, followed by Bemidji with 334.5, Brainerd 251, Melrose 229, Moorhead 223, Fergus Falls 179, Detroit Lakes 152.5, Thief River Falls 134, Little Falls 95, Park Rapids Area 91, Holdingford 87.5, Crookston 84, Sauk Centre 20.5, Minnewaska Area 18, Morris Area 14, Albany 12.

Only other swimmers matching Giauque as a double-event individual winner were Melrose senior Lois Klaphake, who won the 50 and 100-yard freestyle races, along with Detroit Lakes junior Sarah Kohler, who took the 200 I.M. and 100 butterfly.

State meet qualifiers/TRF places

Sections 8AA, 8A volleyball titles go Alex and Fosston

Alexandria won Section 8AA honors and Fosston took the Section 8A title to qualify for the 1993 Minnesota state high school volleyball tournaments this week.

The Cardinals swept Sauk Rapids 15-0, 15-2, 15-7 in a match-up of North and South Sub-Section 8AA champions.

In Section 8A semifinals Friday, Fosston got by Lake of the Woods 15-1, 14-16, 15-2, 13-15, 15-3 and Fisher-Climax defeated Cass Lake-Bena 15-2, 15-12, 10-15, 15-5.

The Greyhounds beat the Knights 15-6, 7-15, 15-10, 15-8 in the Saturday title match, with the Bears taking the consolation title 15-9, 15-3, 15-7.

Rochester claims state football title over Fergus Falls

Rochester defeated Fergus Falls 27-12 Saturday in the finals of the Minnesota Community College Conference state football playoffs at St. Cloud State University.

The Yellowjackets advanced to the title game with a 21-0 semifinal win over Northland the previous week. Ironically, the Pioneers lost to Fergus Falls by the same 21-0 score to open the 1993 season.

Northland went 6-3 this year fall, winning a share of the MCCC Northern Division title.

Youth Basketball

Thief River Falls Backcourt Club-sponsored youth basketball program began its 1993-94 season Nov. 15 with 194 players and 29 coaches.

All of the gyms are being used for practice from 3 to 8 p.m. each week day.

Teams organized this winter include:

- Sixth grade boys - Bulls, Warriors, Celtics.
- Sixth grade girls - Hornets, Suns, Knicks, Bullets.
- Fourth/fifth grade boys - Pistons, Trailblazers, Lakers, Hawks, 76'ers, Bucks, Timberwolves.
- Fourth/fifth grade girls - Magic, Supersonics, Pacers, Jazz, Spurs, Heat, Rockets, Mavericks.

Northland scrimmage will be held Thursday

Northland Community College men's basketball team will be on display Thursday when the public is invited to watch the Pioneers' 7 p.m. Blue and White intrasquad scrimmage.

Second-year Northland head coach Mark Dannhoff will watch the game from the scorers' table as he turns the Pioneers over to the media who cover the team – Thief River Falls Times/Northern Watch Sports Editor Mike Lundgren, who will coach the Blue Team, and KTRF Sports Director Denny Minks, who will coach the White Team.

The Blue Team will feature Chad Kujava, Warren; Ryan Rislov, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River; Scott Rindahl, Grygla; Gary Carey, a native of England; Anthony Kallod, Fargo, ND; Antonio Parker, Chicago, IL; and Ron Northup, Thief River Falls.

Bernstein, Parker and Hardy played regularly a year ago when the Pioneers struggled to a 4-18 finish.

"I think we'll be much improved this year," offered Dannhoff. "Just how much, in terms of wins and losses, we don't really know until we see what everybody else has. But I think we have more talent this year; we're more athletic."

Dannhoff put much of his recruiting efforts into landing area basketball talent, and was successful in signing the likes of Kujava, Rislov, Hirst, Olson, and Rindahl.

"We stressed recruiting area kids, and I think we got some of the best basketball players in northwestern Minnesota," said Dannhoff.

At 6-8, Kallod is the tallest of the Pioneers. "We're not real big, but we got a lot of good guards – kids who are quick and who can shoot," explained Dannhoff. "We're going to press and run; we're going to have some fun."

Dan Hoffard and Tyson Treat are serving as Northland student assistant coaches this winter.

The Pioneers open their season with a Wednesday, Dec. 1, game against North Dakota State College of Science in Wahpeton.

Pioneers will field improved product

Rick Nikunen begins his second year as Northland Community College women's basketball coach looking to improve upon last year's 8-13 record.

A full recruiting season – something he didn't have last year – should help Nikunen reach that goal.

Returning sophomores include Holly Gram and Kim Peterson of Middle River, along with Renae Blazejewski from Karlstad.

Other sophomores on hand include Lisa Verbout, Grygla; Ronda Olson, Alvarado; and Fay Cassavant, Red Lake Falls. Olson is a transfer from the University of Minnesota-Crookston, where she was all All-Northwest Division point guard.

Freshmen on the preseason roster include Tia Hietala, Badger; Alana Spilde, Karlstad; Carlene Jadrny, Hawley; Tracy Anderson, Stephen; Sandi Gustafson, Newfolden; Kelli Kronschnabel, Fertile; and Denise Johnson, Middle River.

"We'll be much improved over last year," predicted Nikunen. "We've got decent size, which will make us stronger right there." Kronschnabel is 6-0, Cassavant and Gustafson are both 5-11.

With Olson at the point and Johnson shooting the outside shot, the Pioneers should have a versatile attack.

Northland opens the season Wednesday, Dec. 1, at NDSCS-Wahpeton.

Lakers, Indians advance in football

Detroit Lakes and Mahnomen were the area sectional champions to survive the first round quarterfinals of the 1993 Minnesota state high school football playoffs Friday.

The Lakers shut out host South St. Paul 27-0 in Class A action, while the Indians got by visiting Esko 10-8 in Class C.

Semifinal play will move into the Metrodome in Minneapolis this weekend.

Detroit Lakes will take on International Falls Saturday at 5 p.m. The Broncos advanced with a 22-14 victory over Hutchinson.

Mahnomen will have a 12-noon Saturday semifinal game against Browerville, a team that beat Hawley 28-6 in the quarterfinals.

Area teams losing first round state playoff games included Kittson Central – 14-0 at the hands of Chokio-Alberta; Moorhead, 23-7 to Rochester John Marshall; Norman County East – 18-14 against Clinton-Graceville; and Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton, 28-19 to Deer River.

District 16 Jamborees

Annual MAHA District 16 Bantam and Pee-Wee Jamborees will be held in Warroad for the first time this weekend. Coaches throughout the district agreed to switch the event from its usual Thief River Falls site to Warroad for a first-hand look at the new arena in that community.

Bantam and Pee-Wee A scrimmages will take place Saturday, Nov. 20. Bantam and Pee-Wee B match-ups will be on Sunday, Nov. 21.

The Thief River Falls schedule for Saturday includes: 9:30 a.m. - Pee-Wee A vs. Red Lake Falls; 1 p.m. - Bantam A vs. Bemidji; 4:30 p.m. - Pee-Wee A vs. Baudette; 8 p.m. - Bantam A vs. Warroad.

Thief River Falls' Sunday schedule includes: 9 a.m. - Pee-Wee B vs. Hallock; 9:30 a.m. - Bantam B vs. Hallock; 3 p.m. - Pee-Wee B vs. East Grand Forks; 3:30 p.m. - Bantam B vs. Bemidji.

Both the new Gardens and the Olympic Arena will be used for the event.

Squirt Jamboree

Second annual TRFAHA Squirt In-House Jamboree will be held Saturday, Nov. 20, at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

The schedule includes: 2 p.m. - Hardee's vs. Pepsi; 3 p.m. - Bridgeman's vs. Pizza Hut; 4 p.m. - Pizza Hut vs. Pepsi; 5 p.m. - Bridgeman's vs. Hardee's; 6 p.m. Hardee's vs. Pizza Hut; 7 p.m. - Bridgeman's vs. Pepsi.

Pizza Fund-Raiser

A reminder to all players and parents that money and tickets for the TRFAHA Pizza Hut fund-raiser should be turned in as soon as possible.

Return the tickets and money to Harriet Worker or Julie Lendobeja at Laundryland.

Squirt Rosters Picked

Rosters have been selected for the 1993-94 TRFAHA Squirt In-House League.

Regular season league games will begin Saturday, Dec. 4, and continue through Tuesday, March 1. Playoffs will be held March 14-15 to complete the schedule.

Outdoor News

Gov. Arne Carlson is urging Minnesota hunters to take the necessary precautions to have another safe hunting season. He has proclaimed November to be Safe Hunting Month in Minnesota.

The Governor, in his proclamation, noted that Minnesotans have a tradition of ethical behavior championed by their own conservation organizations. Many hunters help advance the skill, ethics and safety of their own sport as volunteer instructors in the DNR-sponsored Firearms Safety, Bowhunting Safety, and Advanced Hunter Education courses.

Minnesotans have long been among the national leaders in safe hunting practices, noted the Governor. Hunting, in fact, ranks as one of the safest active recreational activities, according to data compiled by the National Safety Council in 1991.

and boarding house owner Miss LaCreevy, (Jill Dekkers). The tragic heroine of the play is Madelaine Bray (Wendy Walton) and her hardened mother is portrayed by Sally Hagen.

Other members of the acting troupe are Miss Snevellicci (Shawna Lee), Miss Petowker (Meagan Miller), Miss Bravassa (Kate Ihle), Miss Folair (Lana Rodahl) and three additional actresses including Stephanie DuRose, Marisa Toren and Joni Larson.

School children are played by Josh Melby, Andy Furuseth, Kiki Goddard, ReAnn Dargus, Jaimie Smith, Kelsie Steiger and Jeremy Swanson. The servant Phoebe is Lauren Lavalier, hat model in the dress shop is Sally Hagen, waitresses are Joni Larson and Stacey Jensen, the Magistrate is Ryan Browning, the Policeman is Chris Olson and the townspeople are Stephanie Henney and Shannon Keller.

Come prepared for an evening of 19th Century entertainment complete with suspense, comedy and an array of colorful characters to the Lincoln high school production of "Nicholas Nickleby" on Friday and/or Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. Tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for students and will be available at the door.

Nicholas Nickleby (Keith Baune), hero of the melodrama bearing his name, steps in to save the heroine, Madelaine Bray (Wendy Walton), from marriage to the decrepit Arthur Gride (Chris Tveitbakk) as Mrs. Bray (Sally Hagen) listens nearby. "Nicholas Nickleby," the Lincoln high school fall play, will be presented Friday and Saturday, November 19 and 20, at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The play is under the direction of Connie Stock.

The plot thickens as Wackford Squeers (Rod Joppru) confronts the kind Mr. Cheeryble (Ben Schmitz) in an attempt to regain possession of the orphan boy Smike (Jeremi Hanson) during a party at the home of Miss LaCreevy (Jill Dekkers). The scene is from the Lincoln high school fall play "Nicholas Nickleby" to be presented Friday and Saturday, November 19 and 20, at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium. Cast members (left to right) are Danae Dekkers, Sam Adams, Heather Thomton, Ben Schmitz, Keith Baune, Rod Joppru, Chris Tsukichi, Jill Dekkers, Megan Browning and Jeremi Hanson. The play is directed by Connie Stock.

Blood drive Nov. 23-24 at chapel

American Legion Auxiliary in Thief River Falls will sponsor the November blood collection drive to be held Tuesday and Wednesday, November 23 and 24, in the C&NC chapel at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls.

To make appointments to donate, contact Sharon Odegaard at 681-6637 during the day or Rhonda Joppru during the evening at 681-4423.

Generally, most healthy people who are over 17 and weight at least 110 pounds may donate. People who are taking vitamins, hormones, birth control pills, diet pills, high blood pressure medication or antibiotics for acne "may" donate, according to United Blood Services, the blood collection agency.

People who are otherwise eligible to donate may be unable to give at this drive because of the following circumstances: Blood transfusion within the past 12 months, last dosage of antibiotics for an infection in the last week, any dental work (including cleaning) within the previous 24 hours or a flu shot within the previous 24 hours.

Ear piercing not done with an air gun and tattoos defer a donor for 12 months.

"These changes may have some effect on persons who plan on donating blood at the next blood drive in Thief River Falls," Joppru and Odegaard said. "We encourage other citizens to take the place of donors unable to give at this time."

Council reviews study proposal

Thief River Falls city council held a special meeting Monday, November 15, to review proposals to conduct management studies for the city.

Four proposals from companies interested in conductiung a management study were received by the city. Each council member was given the opportunity to review the proposals before the Monday afternoon meeting.

The city received proposals from the following: Larry Thompson representing Public Management Associates of Minneapolis; Wesley A. Masco of David M. Griffith and Associates Ltd. of St. Paul; John Coskey of Ernst and Young of Minneapolis, and Roy Lunde of Brady Martz and Associates.

The council had pretty much settled on interviewing three of the four proposals when MAS (management) employees convinced them that since it wouldn't cost anything other than time, that they should interview all four.

The four companies will have an opportunity to present their proposals individually on December 1 or 2. The proposals are from firms interested in recommending plans for the re-structuring of city government.

Accidents listed in local law enforcement reports

Area law enforcement officials received numerous reports of accidents during the past week.

Accidents. On November 8 at 2 p.m. police received a report of an accident at Kneale and Third. According to the accident report, Kenneth Halldin, Thief River Falls, was going east on Third and making a right turn to go south on Kneale from the left lane when a car driven by Michelle Wilson, Thief River Falls, who was also going east, changed lanes to make a right turn also and the vehicles collided. Damages were estimated at $1,600 to the Halldin vehicle and $956 to the Wilson vehicle.

On November 9 at 4:55 p.m. police received a report of an accident at the entrance to Kmart. According to the accident report, Rochelle Chapa, Thief River Falls, was driving her car north on Highway 59, and Jeannette Ann Lane, route 3, Wannaska, was going south and making a left turn into the driveway to Kmart when the vehicles collided. Damages were estimated at $1,500 to the Chapa vehicle and $850 to the Lane vehicle. Christy Chapa, 14, Thief River Falls, complained of a bump to her head. Jeannette Lane was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

On November 10 at 11:36 p.m. police received a report of an accident in the Arctco parking lot. Darren Seaverson, Thief River Falls, was backing his vehicle east out of a parking spot when he struck a parked car owned by Delray Offerdahl, Thief River Falls. Damages were estimated at over $500 to the Offerdahl vehicle and the damage loss to the Seaverson vehicle was unknown.

On November 11 at 3:11 p.m. police received a report of an accident on Conley Avenue. Brent Kragness, Thief River Falls, was driving a pickup south on Conley and tried to slow on an icy road for a person walking in the middle of the road. He was unable to prevent the vehicle from sliding into the old Forsberg building. There was an estimated $50 damage to the pickup after the driver and pickup were located, and $1,000 damage to the building.

On November 10 Pennington county sheriff's department responded to a report of an accident at 6:15 p.m. at the intersection of Riverbend Trail and County road 17. Rory Keith Anderson, Thief River Falls, was driving a 1990 Dodge Caravan east on Riverbend Trail and in the process of stopping for a stop sign when Richard Sculthorp, Thief River Falls, who was driving a 1978 Chevrolet pickup was attempting to turn west onto Riverbend Trail from County road 17. Sculthorp could not turn his vehicle on the icy road and collided with the Anderson vehicle. Damages were estimated at $1,000 to the Anderson vehicle and $200 to the Sculthorp vehicle.

On October 14 at 10:34 a.m. Lu Olson, Thief River Falls, reported that on the 12th at 2:50 p.m. while her car was parked on LaBree Avenue near Northrop school two vehicles came by and splashed slush and rocks on her car causing about $400 damage. The incident is under investigation.

On November 13 at 1:07 a.m. police received a report of an accident on Third street. According to the accident report, a pickup was driving down the wrong side of the double-lane of Third street and collided with a car driven by Jennifer Twait, Wannaska. Damage to the Twait vehicle, which was traveling west on Third, was estimated at $700. Police received a description and a license number for the pickup which left the scene. At about 4 a.m. officers on patrol came upon the pickup stopped in the driver's lane between Main and LaBree on First street. The driver, Lyle Jason Miller, 21, route 2, Goodridge, was cited for leaving the scene of an accident and gross driving while intoxicated. Damage to the pickup was estimated at $50.

Thefts. On November 9 at 1:53 p.m. police received a report of a theft from Arctco. An employee reported that her XL Team Arctic racing jacket valued at $65 had been taken. The coat also contained her car keys.

On November 11 at 8:57 a.m. Steve Breiland, Thief River Falls, reported that his 1977 Yamaha three-wheeler had been taken from the back yard of his residence. The theft loss was estimated at $450. It was located undamaged at 9:30 p.m. November 12 in Circle Drive. The incident remains under investigation.

On November 12 at 12:44 p.m. Hugo's reported catching a juvenile shoplifter who had taken a sandwich and carton of milk. The 15-year-old male from Thief River Falls, faces a charge of theft in juvenile court.

Burglary. On November 14 at 8:56 a.m. the sheriff's department received a report that someone had taken a .270 Remington Model 7600 rifle equipped with a Tasco scope from a residence in Sanders township. The rifle was valued at $650. On November 15, the same person reported that a .22 calibre handgun valued at $140 had been taken.

Vandalism. On November 9 at 12:16 p.m. a local resident reported that someone had attempted to break into her apartment. Damage to a door was estimated at $100.

On November 13 at 5:34 p.m. Heather Wolbeck reported that someone had slashed the left front tire of her car with a knife. Damage loss was estimated at $50. The incident is under investigation.

Disorderly conduct. On November 11 at 9:40 p.m. police received a report of a subject trying to get into an apartment. The female occupant went to another address. The subject, Fayyaad Mureed Abdul-Mateen, also known as Glen Arnold Fowler, age 40, was held on a citizen's arrest for disorderly conduct.

Violation of protection order. On November 11 at 11:20 a.m. police received a complaint. Steven Panek, route 1, Goodridge, age 30, was cited for violation of a protection order.

Assault. On November 11 at 1:30 a.m. police received a call to the Best Western regarding a fight. One man was found lying on the ground with a cut on his head. He was transported to Northwest Medical Center by EMS ambulance of Thief River Falls. Brian Sims, route 1, Deer River Falls, age 42, and Brenton Swentkofske, Grand Rapids, 24, were cited for fifth degree assault.

Driving while intoxicated. On November 14 at 2:04 a.m. police arrested Kurt Greggory Nelson, route 3, Thief River Falls, for gross driving while intoxicated.

On November 13 at 1:26 a.m. while enroute to checking an accident, a car was observed in front of a police squad car weaving in traffic. Brian Gillespie, 20, Thief River Falls, was cited for gross driving while intoxicated.

On November 12 Minnesota State Patrol turned over Gene Vernon Glander, 39, Goodridge, for holding on a charge aggravated driving while intoxicated.

Knife and gun confiscated in incident Sat.

Two people were arrested and a knife and a gun confiscated in an incident near Miz Ellies in Goodridge Saturday morning.

On November 13 at 1:50 a.m. the sheriff's department received a report that someone was waving a knife around in a fight outside Miz Ellies in Goodridge. When deputies arrived they discovered that a man had a three-inch knife cut on the side of his stomach. The man did not require hospitalization. David John Wallenberg, 34, Goodridge, was arrested and taken into custody. The knife he allegedly used to cut the victim with was confiscated. Assault charges are pending against Wallenberg.

While the deputy was at that incident he learned that someone had fired one shot into the air and then had allegedly pointed the rifle at someone. While enroute to Goodridge, a second deputy discovered a pickup in the ditch on Highway 1 east. The pickup belonged to the individual who allegedly had fired the shots. When the deputy got out of his squad car and walked to one side of the pickup, the occupant got out of the truck and jumped into the squad car. The deputy reached through the window of the squad car and grabbed the steering wheel and eventually stopped the vehicle, but not before being dragged a short distance. At that time, Richard Shane Paulson, 34, Goodridge, was taken into custody. Charges of assault, attempted theft, fleeing, driving while intoxicated, and other charges are pending against Paulson.

Wallenberg then filed a complaint of assault against Roger Daniel Wold, 24, Goodridge, and Lonnie LeRoy Watne, 38, Goodridge.

Deputies confiscated a knife and a 30-06 Remington rifle. The deputy who was dragged about 100 feet, was treated for minor cuts and bruises at Northwest Medical Center.

Paulson and Wallenberg appeared in a Ninth District courtroom Monday and were charged with one count of second degree assault each. The charges did not include the incident with the deputy on Highway 1. Both men were released on their own personal recognizance. Their next appearance has been scheduled for November 22.

Forged check case is under investigation

Red Lake County Sheriff's department is investigating a forgery written on the account of Alvin Fore for $2,100.

A sheriff's department spokesperson said Security State Bank in Oklee reported that a $2,100 check had been forged on Fore's account. Check blanks were apparently stolen in Thief River Falls. There is a suspect in the case, but it remains under investigation.

Unemployment in region continues to decline

While Minnesota unemployment rate was up from 4.2 per cent in August to 4.5 per cent in September, Pennington county's unemployment rate dropped from 5.4 per cent to 5.3 per cent during the same period.

Unemployment in Region 1, which includes the counties of Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau, also decreased from August to September. Unemployment for the region was measured at 5.9 per cent in August and 5.1 per cent in September. In September of 1992, unemployment was at 5.7 per cent.

Declines in unemployment between August and September were also recorded Marshall, Norman, Polk and Red Lake counties. Increases in unemployment were reported in Roseau and Kittson counties.

For the record, unemployment increased from 5.9 per cent to 6.1 per cent in Kittson county, dropped from 8.5 per cent to 8 per cent in Marshall county, dropped from 5.6 per cent to 4 per cent in Norman county, dropped from 5.4 per cent to 5.3 per cent in Pennington, dropped from 6.7 per cent to 4.6 per cent in Polk county, dropped from 11.8 per cent to 9.1 per cent in Red Lake, and increased from 3.1 per cent to 3.7 per cent in Roseau county.

The highest unemployment rate in September was 9.1 per cent in Red Lake county. The lowest unemployment rate was recorded in Roseau county at 3.7 per cent.

The number of people in the labor force in Region 1 also increased between August and September. Labor Force estimates place the number of people in the labor force in Region 1 at 44,174, an increase from 42,807. The number of people employed in the region was estimated at 41,918, an increase from 40,260.

The Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training announced that unemployment was up from 4.2 per cent to 4.5 per cent in September. The national rate was 6.4 per cent in September, down from 6.5 per cent in August. A year ago, Minnesota's rate was 4.6 per cent while the U.S. rate was 7.2 per cent.

Seasonally adjusted, Minnesota's unemployment rate increased from 4.6 per cent in August to 4.9 per cent in September, the same as a year ago. The seasonally adjusted national rate was 6.7 per cent in September, unchanged from August and down from 7.5 per cent a year ago.

"Minnesota's unemployment rate is about the same as last September," said Brown. "While certain areas of the state and particular industries have experienced job losses, the state as a whole continues to out-perform the nation in job growth."

the Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan unemployment rate went from 3.8 per cent in august to 4.2 per cent in September. the northeast region, which had the highest unemployment rate, also had the largest increase in average unemployment rates from August to September, up from 6.3 per cent to 7.5 per cent. The southwest

Piano students from all parts of northwestern Minnesota filled the First Baptist church with music here in Thief River Falls on Saturday, November 6, during the Minnesota Music Teachers Association Northwest District Piano Ensemble Festival. Duets and duos were performed by students from as far away as Warren, Detroit Lakes and Hawley. Forty-one performers from Thief River Falls, all students of Marcia Knuttila, made up the largest group represented at the festival. The festival was performed in three recitals held at 10 a.m., 11:30 a.m. and at 1 p.m.

Local participants and the selections they performed included the following: 10 a.m. recital — Jacob Jacobson and Amanda Rodahl, "Doxology/Make His Praise Glorious" by Robin and Bill Wolover, arranged by Bruce Greer; John Mickelson and Adam Knott, "Turkey in the Straw" arranged by Jane S. Bastien; Chris Michelson and Christine Anderson, "Forward March" by Jane S. Bastien; Jami Dehnert and Melissa Lampe, "God and God Alone" by Phil McHugh, arranged by Bruce Greer; Jim and Nikolas Kotz, "Canon in D" by Johann Pachelbel, arranged by Robert Schultz; Matthew Dimich and John Mickelson, "Emerald Sonata" by Robert Vandall; D. Paul Dehnert and Nikolas Kotz, "He" by Mullan and Richards, arranged by Ferrante and Teicher; Rochelle Fitzloff and Amanda Rodahl, "How Excellent Is Thy Name" by Smith, Melodie and Dick Tunney, arranged by Bruce Greer; Matthew and Peter Johnson, "In the Name of the Lord" arranged by Bruce Greer; Kendra Dimich and Heidi Johnson, "Down from His Glory" by E. DiCapau, arranged by Dino Kartsonakis.

11:30 a.m. recital — Mike and Jim Langland, "The All-American Hometown Band" by Carol and Walter Noona; Steve and Eeva Young, "He" by Mullan and Richards, arranged by Ferrante and Teicher; Karen and Kelsey Christensen, "Panis Angelicus" by C. Franck, arranged by Rob Roy Peery; Judeen and Kathryn Engen, "It Is Well With My Soul" arranged by David T. Clydesdale; Ron Stordahl and Bob Ekeren, "Hungarian Dance No. 5" by Johannes Brahms; Kathryn Engen and Amy Dahle, "My Tribute" by Andrae Crouch, arranged by David T. Clydesdale.

1 p.m. recital — Erin Melby and Charity Wicks, "Shine Down" arranged by Bruce Greer; Kari and Kimberly Knuttila, "Let There Be Praise" by Melodie and Dick Tunney, arranged by Bruce Greer; Jillian Larson and Kathryn Knuttila, "When the Saints Go Marching In" arranaged by Lynn Freeman Olson; Steve Young and Jim Langland, "Remeber When" by Robert Vandall; Jessica Krankkala and Eeva Young, "Come Celebrate Jesus" by Rosacca and Claninger, arranged by Bruce Greer; Tevia Reese and Jane Buzzell, "March" by Carol and Walter Noona; Janese Thatcher-Buzzell and Shelly Robb-Aubey, "Polanaise" by Frederic Chopin; Heidi Young and Brittany Larson, "Two Pieces, Allegretto" by Johann B. Vanhal; Jessica Krankkala and Charity Wicks, "Battle Hymn of the Republic" arranged by Clydesdale, George and Kartsonakis.

This enjoyable event was noncompetitive. Kay Carlson was the adjudicator. She is a member of the music faculty at the University of Minnesota, Morris. Ms. Carlson wrote a critique for each ensemble piece. All 25 ensembles received the highest rating of "Superior".

The festival is part of the Minnesota Music Teachers Association program in which students gain teamwork skills by playing duets and duos (Duets are performed on one piano, and duos are performed on two pianos).

Accidents listed in local law enforcement reports

Accidents. On November 8 at 2 p.m. police received a report of an accident at Kneale and Third. According to the accident report, Kenneth Halldin, Thief River Falls, was going east on Third and making a right turn to go south on Kneale from the left lane when a car driven by Michelle Wilson, Thief River Falls, who was also going east, changed lanes to make a right turn also and the vehicles collided. Damages were estimated at $1,600 to the Halldin vehicle and $956 to the Wilson vehicle.

On November 9 at 4:55 p.m. police received a report of an accident at the entrance to Kmart. According to the accident report, Rochelle Chapa, Thief River Falls, was driving her car north on Highway 59, and Jeannette Ann Lane, route 3, Wannaska, was going south and making a left turn into the driveway to Kmart when the vehicles collided. Damages were estimated at $1,500 to the Chapa vehicle and $850 to the Lane vehicle. Christy Chapa, 14, Thief River Falls, complained of a bump to her head. Jeannette Lane was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

On November 10 at 11:36 p.m. police received a report of an accident in the Arctco parking lot. Darren Seaverson, Thief River Falls, was backing his vehicle east out of a parking spot when he struck a parked car owned by Delray Offerdahl, Thief River Falls. Damages were estimated at over $500 to the Offerdahl vehicle and the damage loss to the Seaverson vehicle was unknown.

On November 11 at 3:11 p.m. police received a report of an accident on Conley Avenue. Brent Kragness, Thief River Falls, was driving a pickup south on Conley and tried to slow on an icy road for a person walking in the middle of the road. He was unable to prevent the vehicle from sliding into the old Forsberg building. There was an estimated $50 damage to the pickup after the driver and pickup were located, and $1,000 damage to the building.

On November 10 Pennington county sheriff's department responded to a report of an accident at 6:15 p.m. at the intersection of Riverbend Trail and County road 17. Rory Keith Anderson, Thief River Falls, was driving a 1990 Dodge Caravan east on Riverbend Trail and in the process of stopping for a stop sign when Richard Sculthorp, Thief River Falls, who was driving a 1978 Chevrolet pickup was attempting to turn west onto Riverbend Trail from County road 17. Sculthorp could not turn his vehicle on the icy road and collided with the Anderson vehicle. Damages were estimated at $1,000 to the Anderson vehicle and $200 to the Sculthorp vehicle.

On October 14 at 10:34 a.m. Lu Olson, Thief River Falls, reported that on the 12th at 2:50 p.m. while her car was parked on LaBree Avenue near Northrop school two vehicles came by and splashed slush and rocks on her car causing about $400 damage. The incident is under investigation.

On November 13 at 1:07 a.m. police received a report of an accident on Third street. According to the accident report, a pickup was driving down the wrong side of the double-lane of Third street and collided with a car driven by Jennifer Twait, Wannaska. Damage to the Twait vehicle, which was traveling west on Third, was estimated at $700. Police received a description and a license number for the pickup which left the scene. At about 4 a.m. officers on patrol came upon the pickup stopped in the driver's lane between Main and LaBree on First street. The driver, Lyle Jason Miller, 21, route 2, Goodridge, was cited for leaving the scene of an accident and gross driving while intoxicated. Damage to the pickup was estimated at $50.

Thefts. On November 9 at 1:53 p.m. police received a report of a theft from Arctco. An employee reported that her XL Team Arctic racing jacket valued at $65 had been taken. The coat also contained her car keys.

On November 11 at 8:57 a.m. Steve Breiland, Thief River Falls, reported that his 1977 Yamaha three-wheeler had been taken from the back yard of his residence. The theft loss was estimated at $450. It was located undamaged at 9:30 p.m. November 12 in Circle Drive. The incident remains under investigation.

On November 12 at 12:44 p.m. Hugo's reported catching a juvenile shoplifter who had taken a sandwich and carton of milk. The 15-year-old male from Thief River Falls, faces a charge of theft in juvenile court.

Burglary. On November 14 at 8:56 a.m. the sheriff's department received a report that someone had taken a .270 Remington Model 7600 rifle equipped with a Tasco scope from a residence in Sanders township. The rifle was valued at $650. On November 15, the same person reported that a .22 calibre handgun valued at $140 had been taken.

On November 12 Minnesota State Patrol turned over Gene Vernon Glander, 39, Goodridge, for holding on a charge aggravated driving while intoxicated.

Knife and gun confiscated in incident Sat.

Two people were arrested and a knife and a gun confiscated in an incident near Miz Ellies in Goodridge Saturday morning.

On November 13 at 1:50 a.m. the sheriff's department received a report that someone was waving a knife around in a fight outside Miz Ellies in Goodridge. When deputies arrived they discovered that a man had a three-inch knife cut on the side of his stomach. The man did not require hospitalization. David John Wallenberg, 34, Goodridge, was arrested and taken into custody. The knife he allegedly used to cut the victim with was confiscated. Assault charges are pending against Wallenberg.

While the deputy was at that incident he learned that someone had fired one shot into the air and then had allegedly pointed the rifle at someone. While enroute to Goodridge, a second deputy discovered a pickup in the ditch on Highway 1 east. The pickup belonged to the individual who allegedly had fired the shots. When the deputy got out of his squad car and walked to one side of the pickup, the occupant got out of the truck and jumped into the squad car. The deputy reached through the window of the squad car and grabbed the steering wheel and eventually stopped the vehicle, but not before being dragged a short distance. At that time, Richard Shane Paulson, 34, Goodridge, was taken into custody. Charges of assault, attempted theft, fleeing, driving while intoxicated, and other charges are pending against Paulson.

Wallenberg then filed a complaint of assault against Roger Daniel Wold, 24, Goodridge, and Lonnie LeRoy Watne, 38, Goodridge.

Deputies confiscated a knife and a 30-06 Remington rifle. The deputy who was dragged about 100 feet, was treated for minor cuts and bruises at Northwest Medical Center.

Paulson and Wallenberg appeared in a Ninth District courtroom Monday and were charged with one count of second degree assault each. The charges did not include the incident with the deputy on Highway 1. Both men were released on their own personal recognizance. Their next appearance has been scheduled for November 22.

Forged check case is under investigation

Red Lake County Sheriff's department is investigating a forgery written on the account of Alvin Fore for $2,100.

A sheriff's department spokesperson said Security State Bank in Oklee reported that a $2,100 check had been forged on Fore's account. Check blanks were apparently stolen in Thief River Falls. There is a suspect in the case, but it remains under investigation.

Unemployment in region continues to decline

While Minnesota unemployment rate was up from 4.2 per cent in August to 4.5 per cent in September, Pennington county's unemployment rate dropped from 5.4 per cent to 5.3 per cent during the same period.

Unemployment in Region 1, which includes the counties of Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau, also decreased from August to September. Unemployment for the region was measured at 5.9 per cent in August and 5.1 per cent in September. In September of 1992, unemployment was at 5.7 per cent.

Declines in unemployment between August and September were also recorded Marshall, Norman, Polk and Red Lake counties. Increases in unemployment were reported in Roseau and Kittson counties.

For the record, unemployment increased from 5.9 per cent to 6.1 per cent in Kittson county, dropped from 8.5 per cent to 8 per cent in Marshall county, dropped from 5.6 per cent to 4 per cent in Norman county, dropped from 5.4 per cent to 5.3 per cent in Pennington, dropped from 6.7 per cent to 4.6 per cent in Polk county, dropped from 11.8 per cent to 9.1 per cent in Red Lake, and increased from 3.1 per cent to 3.7 per cent in Roseau county.

The highest unemployment rate in September was 9.1 per cent in Red Lake county. The lowest unemployment rate was recorded in Roseau county at 3.7 per cent.

The number of people in the labor force in Region 1 also increased between August and September. Labor Force estimates place the number of people in the labor force in Region 1 at 44,174, an increase from 42,807. The number of people employed in the region was estimated at 41,918, an increase from 40,260.

The Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training announced that unemployment was up from 4.2 per cent to 4.5 per cent in September. The national rate was 6.4 per cent in September, down from 6.5 per cent in August. A year ago, Minnesota's rate was 4.6 per cent while the U.S. rate was 7.2 per cent.

Seasonally adjusted, Minnesota's unemployment rate increased from 4.6 per cent in August to 4.9 per cent in September, the same as a year ago. The seasonally adjusted national rate was 6.7 per cent in September, unchanged from August and down from 7.5 per cent a year ago.

"Minnesota's unemployment rate is about the same as last September," said Brown. "While certain areas of the state and particular industries have experienced job losses, the state as a whole continues to out-perform the nation in job growth."

the Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan unemployment rate went from 3.8 per cent in august to 4.2 per cent in September. the northeast region, which had the highest unemployment rate, also had the largest increase in average unemployment rates from August to September, up from 6.3 per cent to 7.5 per cent. The southwest

Piano students from all parts of northwestern Minnesota filled the First Baptist church with music here in Thief River Falls on Saturday, November 6, during the Minnesota Music Teachers Association Northwest District Piano Ensemble Festival. Duets and duos were performed by students from as far away as Warren, Detroit Lakes and Hawley. Forty-one performers from Thief River Falls, all students of Marcia Knuttila, made up the largest group represented at the festival. The festival was performed in three recitals held at 10 a.m., 11:30 a.m. and at 1 p.m.

Local participants and the selections they performed included the following: 10 a.m. recital — Jacob Jacobson and Amanda Rodahl, "Doxology/Make His Praise Glorious" by Robin and Bill Wolover, arranged by Bruce Greer; John Mickelson and Adam Knott, "Turkey in the Straw" arranged by Jane S. Bastien; Chris Michelson and Christine Anderson, "Forward March" by Jane S. Bastien; Jami Dehnert and Melissa Lampe, "God and God Alone" by Phil McHugh, arranged by Bruce Greer; Jim and Nikolas Kotz, "Canon in D" by Johann Pachelbel, arranged by Robert Schultz; Matthew Dimich and John Mickelson, "Emerald Sonata" by Robert Vandall; D. Paul Dehnert and Nikolas Kotz, "He" by Mullan and Richards, arranged by Ferrante and Teicher; Rochelle Fitzloff and Amanda Rodahl, "How Excellent Is Thy Name" by Smith, Melodie and Dick Tunney, arranged by Bruce Greer; Matthew and Peter Johnson, "In the Name of the Lord" arranged by Bruce Greer; Kendra Dimich and Heidi Johnson, "Down from His Glory" by E. DiCapau, arranged by Dino Kartsonakis.

11:30 a.m. recital — Mike and Jim Langland, "The All-American Hometown Band" by Carol and Walter Noona; Steve and Eeva Young, "He" by Mullan and Richards, arranged by Ferrante and Teicher; Karen and Kelsey Christensen, "Panis Angelicus" by C. Franck, arranged by Rob Roy Peery; Judeen and Kathryn Engen, "It Is Well With My Soul" arranged by David T. Clydesdale; Ron Stordahl and Bob Ekeren, "Hungarian Dance No. 5" by Johannes Brahms; Kathryn Engen and Amy Dahle, "My Tribute" by Andrae Crouch, arranged by David T. Clydesdale.

1 p.m. recital — Erin Melby and Charity Wicks, "Shine Down" arranged by Bruce Greer; Kari and Kimberly Knuttila, "Let There Be Praise" by Melodie and Dick Tunney, arranged by Bruce Greer; Jillian Larson and Kathryn Knuttila, "When the Saints Go Marching In" arranged by Lynn Freeman Olson; Steve Young and Jim Langland, "Remeber When" by Robert Vandall; Jessica Krankkala and Eeva Young, "Come Celebrate Jesus" by Rosacca and Claninger, arranged by Bruce Greer; Tevia Reese and Jane Buzzell, "March" by Carol and Walter Noona; Janese Thatcher-Buzzell and Shelly Robb-Aubey, "Polanaise" by Frederic Chopin; Heidi Young and Brittany Larson, "Two Pieces, Allegretto" by Johann B. Vanhal; Jessica Krankkala and Charity Wicks, "Battle Hymn of the Republic" arranged by Clydesdale, George and Kartsonakis.

This enjoyable event was non-competitive. Kay Carlson was the adjudicator. She is a member of the music faculty at the University of Minnesota, Morris. Ms. Carlson wrote a critique for each ensemble piece. All 25 ensembles received the highest rating of "Superior".

The festival is part of the Minnesota Music Teachers Association program in which students gain teamwork skills by playing duets and duos (Duets are performed on one piano, and duos are performed on two pianos).

While enroute to Goodridge, a second deputy discovered a pickup in the ditch on Highway 1 east. The pickup belonged to the individual who allegedly had fired the shots. When the deputy got out of his squad car and walked to one side of the pickup, the occupant got out of the truck and jumped into the squad car. The deputy reached through the window of the squad car and grabbed the steering wheel and eventually stopped the vehicle, but not before being dragged a short distance. At that time, Richard Shane Paulson, 34, Goodridge, was taken into custody. Charges of assault, attempted theft, fleeing, driving while intoxicated, and other charges are pending against Paulson.

Deputies confiscated a knife and a 30-06 Remington rifle. The deputy who was dragged about 100 feet, was treated for minor cuts and bruises at Northwest Medical Center.

Paulson and Wallenberg appeared in a Ninth District courtroom Monday and were charged with one count of second degree assault each. The charges did not include the incident with the deputy on Highway 1. Both men were released on their own personal recognizance. Their next appearance has been scheduled for November 22.

Forged check case is under investigation

Red Lake County Sheriff's department is investigating a forgery written on the account of Alvin Fore for $2,100.

A sheriff's department spokesperson said Security State Bank in Oklee reported that a $2,100 check had been forged on Fore's account. Check blanks were apparently stolen in Thief River Falls. There is a suspect in the case, but it remains under investigation.

The Second Section

Unemployment in region continues to decline

While Minnesota unemployment rate was up from 4.2 per cent in August to 4.5 per cent in September, Pennington county's unemployment rate dropped from 5.4 per cent to 5.3 per cent during the same period.

Unemployment in Region 1, which includes the counties of Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau, also decreased from August to September. Unemployment for the region was measured at 5.9 per cent in August and 5.1 per cent in September. In September of 1992, unemployment was at 5.7 per cent.

Declines in unemployment between August and September were also recorded Marshall, Norman, Polk and Red Lake counties. Increases in unemployment were reported in Roseau and Kittson counties.

For the record, unemployment increased from 5.9 per cent to 6.1 per cent in Kittson county, dropped from 8.5 per cent to 8 per cent in Marshall county, dropped from 5.6 per cent to 4 per cent in Norman county, dropped from 5.4 per cent to 5.3 per cent in Pennington, dropped from 6.7 per cent to 4.6 per cent in Polk county, dropped from 11.8 per cent to 9.1 per cent in Red Lake, and increased from 3.1 per cent to 3.7 per cent in Roseau county.

The highest unemployment rate in September was 9.1 per cent in Red Lake county. The lowest unemployment rate was recorded in Roseau county at 3.7 per cent.

The number of people in the labor force in Region 1 also increased between August and September. Labor Force estimates place the number of people in the labor force in Region 1 at 44,174, an increase from 42,807. The number of people employed in the region was estimated at 41,918, an increase from 40,260.

The Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training announced that unemployment was up from 4.2 per cent to 4.5 per cent in September. The national rate was 6.4 per cent in September, down from 6.5 per cent in August. A year ago, Minnesota's rate was 4.6 per cent while the U.S. rate was 7.2 per cent.

Seasonally adjusted, Minnesota's unemployment rate increased from 4.6 per cent in August to 4.9 per cent in September, the same as a year ago. The seasonally adjusted national rate was 6.7 per cent in September, unchanged from August and down from 7.5 per cent a year ago.

"Minnesota's unemployment rate is about the same as last September," said Brown. "While certain areas of the state and particular industries have experienced job losses, the state as a whole continues to out-perform the nation in job growth."

the Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan unemployment rate went from 3.8 per cent in august to 4.2 per cent in September. the northeast region, which had the highest unemployment rate, also had the largest increase in average unemployment rates from August to September, up from 6.3 per cent to 7.5 per cent. The southwest

Piano students from all parts of northwestern Minnesota filled the First Baptist church with music here in Thief River Falls on Saturday, November 6, during the Minnesota Music Teachers Association Northwest District Piano Ensemble Festival. Duets and duos were performed by students from as far away as Warren, Detroit Lakes and Hawley. Forty-one performers from Thief River Falls, all students of Marcia Knuttila, made up the largest group represented at the festival. The festival was performed in three recitals held at 10 a.m., 11:30 a.m. and at 1 p.m.

Local participants and the selections they performed included the following: 10 a.m. recital — Jacob Jacobson and Amanda Rodahl, "Doxology/Make His Praise Glorious" by Robin and Bill Wolover, arranged by Bruce Greer; John Mickelson and Adam Knott, "Turkey in the Straw" arranged by Jane S. Bastien; Chris Michelson and Christine Anderson, "Forward March" by Jane S. Bastien; Jami Dehnert and Melissa Lampe, "God and God Alone" by Phil McHugh, arranged by Bruce Greer; Jim and Nikolas Kotz, "Canon in D" by Johann Pachelbel, arranged by Robert Schultz; Matthew Dimich and John Mickelson, "Emerald Sonata" by Robert Vandall; D. Paul Dehnert and Nikolas Kotz, "He" by Mullan and Richards, arranged by Ferrante and Teicher; Rochelle Fitzloff and Amanda Rodahl, "How Excellent Is Thy Name" by Smith, Melodie and Dick Tunney, arranged by Bruce Greer; Matthew and Peter Johnson, "In the Name of the Lord" arranged by Bruce Greer; Kendra Dimich and Heidi Johnson, "Down from His Glory" by E. DiCapau, arranged by Dino Kartsonakis.

11:30 a.m. recital — Mike and Jim Langland, "The All-American Hometown Band" by Carol and Walter Noona; Steve and Eeva Young, "He" by Mullan and Richards, arranged by Ferrante and Teicher; Karen and Kelsey Christensen, "Panis Angelicus" by C. Franck, arranged by Rob Roy Peery; Judeen and Kathryn Engen, "It Is Well With My Soul" arranged by David T. Clydesdale; Ron Stordahl and Bob Ekeren, "Hungarian Dance No. 5" by Johannes Brahms; Kathryn Engen and Amy Dahle, "My Tribute" by Andrae Crouch, arranged by David T. Clydesdale.

1 p.m. recital — Erin Melby and Charity Wicks, "Shine Down" arranged by Bruce Greer; Kari and Kimberly Knuttila, "Let There Be Praise" by Melodie and Dick Tunney, arranged by Bruce Greer; Jillian Larson and Kathryn Knuttila, "When the Saints Go Marching In" arranaged by Lynn Freeman Olson; Steve Young and Jim Langland, "Remeber When" by Robert Vandall; Jessica Krankkala and Eeva Young, "Come Celebrate Jesus" by Rosacca and Claninger, arranged by Bruce Greer; Tevia Reese and Jane Buzzell, "March" by Carol and Walter Noona; Janese Thatcher-Buzzell and Shelly Robb-Aubey, "Polanaise" by Frederic Chopin; Heidi Young and Brittany Larson, "Two Pieces, Allegretto" by Johann B. Vanhal; Jessica Krankkala and Charity Wicks, "Battle Hymn of the Republic" arranged by Clydesdale, George and Kartsonakis.

This enjoyable event was non-competitive. Kay Carlson was the adjudicator. She is a member of the music faculty at the University of Minnesota, Morris. Ms. Carlson wrote a critique for each ensemble piece. All 25 ensembles received the highest rating of "Superior".

The festival is part of the Minnesota Music Teachers Association program in which students gain teamwork skills by playing duets and duos (Duets are performed on one piano, and duos are performed on two pianos).

Unemployment in region still shows decline region has the lowest rate at 3.4 per cent.

By county, Stevens and Cook counties each had the lowest unemployment rate of 2.3 per cent. Itasca county, in what may reflect cutbacks related to the mining labor dispute, had the highest rate at 12.2 per cent.

From a separate monthly survey of employers, there was an increase of 21,400 non-agricultural wage and salary jobs in September over August. While greater than the average increase over the past 10 years, much of the increase is attributable to the re-opening of schools, colleges, and universities along with the return of school bus drivers to their jobs. Minnesota experienced a one per cent increase in non-agricultural wage and salary employment compared to a 0.8 per cent increase for the United States. On a seasonally adjusted basis, Minnesota's employment increased by 0.5 per cent compared to 0.1 per cent for the nation.

The number of non-agricultural wage and salary jobs in Minnesota was up by 45,000 from a year ago, a two per cent increase. Nationally, the corresponding increase was 1.6 per cent. Over the past year, increases of over 4,000 jobs occurred in business services, health services, and local government in Minnesota. Due to job losses in air transportation, employment in transportation has declined 1.2 per cent.

Thea Anderson went to Young America to visit with Elaine Barclay, and Deanna and Christina, foreign exchange student from Spain. She attended a high school play in which Deanna and Christina took part on Friday evening. From there, she went to Minneapolis to attend the baptism of her grandson, Eric Manley Benjamin, son of John and Kari Benjamin of Eden Prairie. The baptism was held at Mt. Olive Lutheran Church in Minneapolis. Pastor Paul Youngdahl officiated. He, also officiated at John and Kari's wedding. The baptismal gown worn by Eric Manley was over 100-years-old and has been used by Anderson family members through several generations. It was also used in the baptism of Savannah Thea Gobelman, daughter of Gary and Glenda Gobelman of Reno, NV. These baptismal rites were held in Salt Lake City, UT recently. Following the baptism several relatives gathered at the John and Kari Benjamin home.

Roger Anderson of Edina spent the weekend deer hunting in the area.

Sunday dinner guests at the Ray Bakken home were: Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Warne, Jason, Denjon and Kelsie, Scott Bakken; Ryan Bakken of Thief River Falls and Ray and Blanche Bakken. The men were deer hinting in the area. In the afternoon, Casanda Bakken, Kallie and Whitney Schulz visited at the Ray Bakken home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Larson of Duluth spent the weekend deer hunting in the area and visiting at the Mel Wilkens, Dale Wilkens and Sheldon Peterson homes.

Last week, Mr. and Mrs. John Harris of International Falls, Oliver Howland, Doris Cleven and Blanche Bakken went to Harton, ND and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Grande. They went on to Northwood, ND were they visited with Mrs. Melvina Anderson, a cousin, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Saude, Mrs. Saude is a sister of Myrtle Homme. They also visited Mrs. Grace Holland, a cousin, in Hillsboro, ND and spent the night at a motel in Hillsboro.

On Monday night, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Holte, Hilma Hanson of Osakis and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grabowska of Goodridge brought birthday greetings to Steven Holte.

Whole Wheat BIBLE STUDY

Let God help you quit smoking for good

After you read through this Bible study, go back and look up the Scriptures and highlight them in your Bible.

Most people smoke because they are nervous, anxious, restless, bored, scared, worried, insecure or lonesome. They don't realize that this gnawing, restless, anxious feeling that causes depression is the same thing that makes people want to drink, take drugs or smoke marijuana. They want to feel good instead of feel bad. It's good ol' human nature; but there is no good in it at all (Rom. 7:18)! In fact, all people are wretched before they know how to obey God and begin living a life of service to others.

Even Jesus Christ knew that He was not good as long as He had a human nature to overcome (Luke 18:19). No one is righteous or good before God (Psalm 143:2). We must all put to death our human natures, which are consumed in fleshly lust (Rom. 8:13).

How do we put our old natures to death? The only way is to live to the Spirit. We live to the Spirit when we overcome evil by doing good (Rom. 12:21). Doing good deeds or good works can be saying good words, thinking good thoughts and doing good things.

Once our old natures are crushed by God and we cast all our anxieties on Him, He gives us peace for our souls and there is no reason to continue to smoke (Rom. 16:20; 1 Peter 5:7). That old nature, that once drove us to do wrong, is now put to death by doing right, or practicing righteousness for God. We discover that practicing righteousness is fun, enjoyable, pleasant and easy (Matt. 11:30). It is the way to find rest. However, we must come to Jesus Christ (Matt. 11:28).

If you want to quit smoking for good, live for Jesus Christ daily by keeping His works (Rev. 2:26; Luke 9:23; John 14:12). They are easy and they glorify God. Worship and serve only Him with good works, as Jesus did (John 9:4; Matt. 4:10; 5:16). If God will provide His disciples with the strength to move mountains, He will surely give you the strength to quit the smoking habit, as well as any other bad habit (Matt. 17:20).

Please send your comments and Bible questions to: Whole Wheat, PO Box 26217, Minneapolis, MN 55426.

Visiting Him can be Music to your Ears.

If you've ever had trouble hearing or experienced pain in your ears, you know how much we take our senses for granted.
At the offices of Stephen Asp, MD, we understand. We've seen countless patients who dream of the simple pleasure of something most people take for granted...good hearing. Many ear problems can be easily corrected with proper medical attention. And now, you can see Dr. Asp in our Grand Forks office.
Dr. Asp, a Minnesota native and UND Medical School graduate, is an Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist who has practiced for several years in Fargo. He also sees patients in our Grand Forks satellite office.
If you're experiencing problems with your ears, hearing, breathing, voice, nose, allergies, mouth, throat, or sinuses, don't delay proper medical care. Music to your ears may be closer than you think.

The Times' Editorial Opinion

This Weekend Is For "Crafty" People In Thief River Falls

Anyone who has an interest in hand crafted items should have a great time in Thief River Falls Saturday when crafts and related items will be on display and for sale at half a dozen different locations.

Anchoring the Saturday activities is the 17th annual Holiday Fair in the city auditorium, the most long-standing of the events, but by no means the only show in town. Additional shows are scheduled at the National Guard armory, Eagles hall, VFW club rooms, American Family Insurance building at First Street and Highway 59 and Depot Junction Antiques.

If it would seem that half a dozen shows might get a little confusing, it is true that they certainly do. Each is arranged by a separate group or individual and the only connection among them is an interest in crafts and a common date for the shows. We think it is a good idea to have all of the shows on the same date since it provides a greater community attraction and should be a greater convenience for "crafty" shoppers.

But the local craft shows have increased to the extent that there should perhaps be a central contact point where interested persons can get information. A likely place would be the Chamber of Commerce—which receives a number of calls for information anyway—or a committee or person designated to serve in a clearinghouse capacity.

Holiday Fair committee members note that they frequently receive calls regarding booth space and must refer the callers to sponsors of other shows. And other show sponsors note that they have requests far exceeding the space available at the locations they use.

Craft shoppers may be interested in knowing that each show has its own selection process and operational system. The original Holiday Fair, for instance, is operated by a five-member board, and accepts applications for booth space until May 15 for that fall's show. Information and photos of the craft items are requested because there is no guarantee of space being available on successive years.

Donna Koehmstedt is listed as the contact person for the Holiday Fair in the statewide directory of craft fairs. Her phone number is 681-2921. Other members of the board are Renee Lutovsky, Nancy Hendrickson, Jane Reuter and Deb Zak. Each member of the board reviews the applications and votes for the applications she thinks should be accepted. Those that receive the majority of votes are notified of their acceptance.

This procedure assures quality and variety of exhibits, gives new craftspeople an opportunity to secure booth space and usually means that visitors to the show will find new exhibitors and new items along with some familiar and favorite ones each year.

Separate stories in today's issue of "The Times" list the exhibitors at each of the shows and a brief description of the items they make and have for sale. Anyone who has an interest in crafts should find a number of items of interest to them in the listing.

The Brady Bill—All Bluster And No Benefits

Much has been in the national TV news and daily papers in the last few days about what has been dubbed the "Brady Bill," a piece of federal legislation that is heralded by its proponents as a means of controlling crime and criticized by its detractors as an ineffective intrusion on law-abiding citizens.

We have difficulty believing that it would be a major time inconvenience to most average citizens to wait a few days between purchasing and receiving a handgun. The five-day waiting period for handgun purchase is the main item talked about in the bill which passed the House of Representatives last week. The legislation now trundles along to the Senate where it will likely undergo some major attempts at change through a couple of dozen amendments.

While many felons don't have the IQ of rocket scientists, most aren't complete idiots, either. If they want or need a handgun for their criminal pursuits, they aren't likely to purchase one through legitimate channels. They will steal one or buy or trade for it through a black market dealer. If the waiting period is the only concern addressed in the bill, it has no real value as a crime deterrent.

What concerns us more is the statement by Rep. Butler Derrick, South Carolina Democrat. "The Brady Bill is a drop in the bucket to solving our problems," he said, "but it is a step in the right direction."

It is the "nibble" method of taking control that always concerns us about government intrusion into private lives. Each little bite takes away a small piece of freedom until nothing is left but the hole in the doughnut. Witness Minnesota's seat belt law: First it was voluntary compliance, then it was required without penalty, then it was with penalty if incidental to being stopped for another violation, and now it is sufficient violation for arrest on its own.

In the Senate the handgun purchase waiting period is sure to be the least of the restrictions awaiting introduction. A ban on so-called "assault weapons" is expected, along with a number of other proposals that are aimed at gun ownership and use rather than specifically at crime reduction. Most of these amendments will be by and on behalf of people in selected areas of the country where the problems are significantly different from the rest of the nation.

Federal legislation blankets the entire country, subjecting all to the restrictions which some believe will have benefit to their specific areas. We believe those problems should be addressed at the local level rather than by all-encompassing federal laws. The basics of the Brady Bill passed by the House, while no major threat to private handgun ownership on their own, are also no real deterrent to crime or criminals. There is more bluster than benefits to that legislation.

To The Editor:

In response to Penny Palm's letter in "The Times" November 10, we at Kezar Music would like to apologize to her and her fiance for any embarrassment or hard feelings they experienced while shopping at our store. Miss Palm makes a very good point when she quotes the adage "one happy customer tells few but an unhappy customer tells many." Therefore, we would like to take this opportunity to clarify the situation in Miss Palm's mind, as well as in the minds of the many others that read her letter.

First of all, the item Miss Palm was interested in was a keyboard not yet on our display floor. The instrument was partially set up and in the back part of the store where our assembly is usually done. Well into the setting-up process we found the keyboard had been damaged during shipping and was not playable. When Miss Palm and her friend arrived, we had yet to disassemble and re-package it. The cover was closed and the power turned off.

We realize that it would have been impossible for her to know that this particular keyboard was damaged. Had she asked before removing the cover, our employee would have been happy to explain the condition of the keyboard to her.

When our employee heard the keyboard being played, he asked that she please not play the instrument as it was not completely assembled. As she stated, she would not buy a car she could not sit in first; I'm sure she would not help herself to the keys to test drive it either.

Being in a managerial position in the community herself, I'm sure Miss Palm understands the importance of good public relations. As owners and managers we sincerely wish Miss Palm would have called us directly to discuss our policies. Instead, when she called the store, she spoke directly to the employee who waited on her. He is not responsible for the decisions made at our store, only implementing them. To this day, she has not spoken to either one of us regarding her situation. The best solution would have been to request to speak directly to the owners, not to take her frustrations out on the employee.

Concerning the "Please ask permission before handling" signs, they are not meant to offend anyone and if they have, we apologize. We have some very expensive equipment in the store, such as stereos, guitars, keyboards, etc. We encourage customers to come in and try the equipment. Nobody wants to purchase something they haven't been able to try out first. That is not the point behind our signs. We would just like to be aware of who is trying out what piece of equipment. That way we are available to answer any questions that customers may have and to also insure proper handling of the equipment.

The first two years we were open we didn't have signs up, but after having a few guitars dropped and more remote controls stolen than we care to count, we decided to do as most music stores do and display signs requesting customers to please ask for assistance.

We commend Miss Palm's employer for encouraging people to shop locally. We hope her opinion of us has not caused others to opt for out-of-town shopping for their holiday gift-giving. We would also like to think this isolated instance was a misunderstanding and can be corrected. We would like to encourage her to give us another chance.

Another adage I would like to quote is, "Support your local businesses and they will support you." I hope if Miss Palm's children are looking for donations or sponsorships for various activities they might be involved in, they don't have to go to the businesses in Grand Forks or Fargo to get them.

Again, we apologize for this misunderstanding and we encourage you, Miss Palm, to stop in any time. Happy Holidays!

Sincerely,
Joe and Marsha Kezar

To the Editor,

I have been making a monthly trip to Bemidji for grocery shopping. They have double coupons at all of their grocery stores. So does Fargo, Ada, and countless other towns. I have asked both of our local grocery stores why we don't have double coupons here. They both have said they can't afford it. Then how can these other towns, many smaller than Thief River Falls? I would much rather keep my money local, but until we are offered double coupons here, I will continue to make a monthly trip to Bemidji. (So do many of my friends and family).

Sincerely,
Colleen Bergeron

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. This Weekend Is For "Crafty" People In Thief River Falls

Anyone who has an interest in hand crafted items should have a great time in Thief River Falls Saturday when crafts and related items will be on display and for sale at half a dozen different locations.

Anchoring the Saturday activities is the 17th annual Holiday Fair in the city auditorium, the most long-standing of the events, but by no means the only show in town. Additional shows are scheduled at the National Guard armory, Eagles hall, VFW club rooms, American Family Insurance building at First Street and Highway 59 and Depot Junction Antiques.

If it would seem that half a dozen shows might get a little confusing, it is true that they certainly do. Each is arranged by a separate group or individual and the only connection among them is an interest in crafts and a common date for the shows. We think it is a good idea to have all of the shows on the same date since it provides a greater community attraction and should be a greater convenience for "crafty" shoppers.

But the local craft shows have increased to the extent that there should perhaps be a central contact point where interested persons can get information. A likely place would be the Chamber of Commerce—which receives a number of calls for information anyway—or a committee or person designated to serve in a clearinghouse capacity.

Holiday Fair committee members note that they frequently receive calls regarding booth space and must refer the callers to sponsors of other shows. And other show sponsors note that they have requests far exceeding the space available at the locations they use.

Craft shoppers may be interested in knowing that each show has its own selection process and operational system. The original Holiday Fair, for instance, is operated by a five-member board, and accepts applications for booth space until May 15 for that fall's show. Information and photos of the craft items are requested because there is no guarantee of space being available on successive years.

Donna Koehmstedt is listed as the contact person for the Holiday Fair in the statewide directory of craft fairs. Her phone number is 681-2921. Other members of the board are Renee Lutovsky, Nancy Hendrickson, Jane Reuter and Deb Zak. Each member of the board reviews the applications and votes for the applications she thinks should be accepted. Those that receive the majority of votes are notified of their acceptance.

This procedure assures quality and variety of exhibits, gives new craftspeople an opportunity to secure booth space and usually means that visitors to the show will find new exhibitors and new items along with some familiar and favorite ones each year.

Separate stories in today's issue of "The Times" list the exhibitors at each of the shows and a brief description of the items they make and have for sale. Anyone who has an interest in crafts should find a number of items of interest to them in the listing.

The Brady Bill—All Bluster And No Benefits

Much has been in the national TV news and daily papers in the last few days about what has been dubbed the "Brady Bill," a piece of federal legislation that is heralded by its proponents as a means of controlling crime and criticized by its detractors as an ineffective intrusion on law-abiding citizens.

We have difficulty believing that it would be a major time inconvenience to most average citizens to wait a few days between purchasing and receiving a handgun. The five-day waiting period for handgun purchase is the main item talked about in the bill which passed the House of Representatives last week. The legislation now trundles along to the Senate where it will likely undergo some major attempts at change through a couple of dozen amendments.

While many felons don't have the IQ of rocket scientists, most aren't complete idiots, either. If they want or need a handgun for their criminal pursuits, they aren't likely to purchase one through legitimate channels. They will steal one or buy or trade for it through a black market dealer. If the waiting period is the only concern addressed in the bill, it has no real value as a crime deterrent.

What concerns us more is the statement by Rep. Butler Derrick, South Carolina Democrat. "The Brady Bill is a drop in the bucket to solving our problems," he said, "but it is a step in the right direction."

It is the "nibble" method of taking control that always concerns us about government intrusion into private lives. Each little bite takes away a small piece of freedom until nothing is left but the hole in the doughnut. Witness Minnesota's seat belt law. First it was voluntary compliance, then it was required without penalty, then it was with penalty if incidental to being stopped for another violation, and now it is sufficient violation for arrest on its own.

In the Senate the handgun purchase waiting period is sure to be the least of the restrictions awaiting introduction. A ban on so-called "assault weapons" is expected, along with a number of other proposals that are aimed at gun ownership and use rather than specifically at crime reduction. Most of these amendments will be by and on behalf of people in selected areas of the country where the problems are significantly different from the rest of the nation.

Federal legislation blankets the entire country, subjecting all to the restrictions which some believe will have benefit to their specific areas. We believe those problems should be addressed at the local level rather than by all-encompassing federal laws. The basics of the Brady Bill passed by the House, while no major threat to private handgun ownership on their own, are also no real deterrent to crime or criminals. There is more bluster than benefits to that legislation.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

In response to Penny Palm's letter in "The Times" November 10, we at Kezar Music would like to apologize to her and her fiance for any embarrassment or hard feelings they experienced while shopping at our store. Miss Palm makes a very good point when she quotes the adage "one happy customer tells few but an unhappy customer tells many." Therefore, we would like to take this opportunity to clarify the situation in Miss Palm's mind, as well as in the minds of the many others that read her letter.

First of all, the item Miss Palm was interested in was a keyboard not yet on our display floor. The instrument was partially set up and in the back part of the store where our assembly is usually done. Well into the setting-up process we found the keyboard had been damaged during shipping and was not playable. When Miss Palm and her friend arrived, we had yet to disassemble and re-package it. The cover was closed and the power turned off.

We realize that it would have been impossible for her to know that this particular keyboard was damaged. Had she asked before removing the cover, our employee would have been happy to explain the condition of the keyboard to her.

When our employee heard the keyboard being played, he asked that she please not play the instrument as it was not completely assembled. As she stated, she would not buy a car she could not sit in first; I'm sure she would not help herself to the keys to test drive it either.

Being in a managerial position in the community herself, I'm sure Miss Palm understands the importance of good public relations. As owners and managers we sincerely wish Miss Palm would have called us directly to discuss our policies. Instead, when she called the store, she spoke directly to the employee who waited on her. He is not responsible for the decisions made at our store, only implementing them. To this day, she has not spoken to either one of us regarding her situation. The best solution would have been to request to speak directly to the owners, not to take her frustrations out on the employee.

Concerning the "Please ask permission before handling" signs, they are not meant to offend anyone and if they have, we apologize. We have some very expensive equipment in the store, such as stereos, guitars, keyboards, etc. We encourage customers to come in and try the equipment. Nobody wants to purchase something they haven't been able to try out first. That is not the point behind our signs. We would just like to be aware of who is trying out what piece of equipment. That way we are available to answer any questions that customers may have and to also insure proper handling of the equipment.

The first two years we were open we didn't have signs up, but after having a few guitars dropped and more remote controls stolen than we care to count, we decided to do as most music stores do and display signs requesting customers to please ask for assistance.

We commend Miss Palm's employer for encouraging people to shop locally. We hope her opinion of us has not caused others to opt for out-of-town shopping for their holiday gift-giving. We would also like to think this isolated instance was a misunderstanding and can be corrected. We would like to encourage her to give us another chance.

Another adage I would like to quote is, "Support your local businesses and they will support you." I hope if Miss Palm's children are looking for donations or sponsorships for various activities they might be involved in, they don't have to go to the businesses in Grand Forks or Fargo to get them.

Again, we apologize for this misunderstanding and we encourage you, Miss Palm, to stop in any time. Happy Holidays!

Sincerely,
Joe and Marsha Kezar

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota   November 18, 1943

From The Times Files of Fifty Years Ago

Mayor-Elect Douville to Reorganize Police

"Mayor-elect Wm. J. Douville late last week revealed his plans to effect a thorogoing reorganization of the Thief River Falls police department immediately following his assumption of office early in January. He stated that he intends to appoint a new chief of police and three patrolmen, in addition to appointing a woman to fill the new office of police matron; as well as a patrolwoman.

"The women members of the force, he explained, will deal with enforcement of the curfew ordinance and, in general, the curbing of child delinquency."

4,800 License Plates Issued Here

"During the registration period from October 1 to November 15, approximately 4,800 motor vehicle license plates were issued here, it was announced today by A. F. Berge, deputy registrar. Of the total, 641 were issued Monday, the last day before the penalty became effective. Delinquents will be required to make an additional payment of fifty-cents up to December 14, following which a $1 penalty will be imposed."

Noted Here

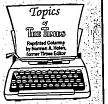
"Residents of this community, in common with the entire nation, will pause in their labors next Thursday, November 25, for the time-honored observance of Thanksgiving Day. Business will be suspended for the occasion, and there will be many family gatherings. Public offices and the postoffice will be closed, while pupils in the public schools will enjoy a two-day holiday."

Junior C.C. to Stage Wild Game Dinner in Pine Cave

"The Junior Chamber of Commerce will stage its second annual wild game dinner next Wednesday evening, November 24, at 7 o'clock in the Pine Cave of the Palm Garden cafe, it was announced today, with members, their wives and other guests present for the occasion."

Teachers Institute in Progress

"The annual institute for teachers in Pennington county rural schools is in progress today and Friday in the district court room in the court house. Conducting the institute is Miss Grace Nordgaard of the state department of education, assisted by Mrs. A. C. Matheson, county superintendent of schools.



Topics of The Times
Reprinted Columns by Norman A. Holen, former Times Editor

—The newspapers aren't supposed to print anything that will give aid and comfort to the enemy, but we read plenty about workers going on strike.

—Remember way back when, we are reminded, a woman's place was in the home.

—With all due respect to the big game hunters, we hope a lot of deer will live to observe Thanksgiving Day.

—If affairs went smoothly last week in the Washington office of Congressman Harold Hagen, it may have been due to the fact that Editor Wes Meyer of the Detroit Lakes Tribune was serving as secretary pro tem.

—The Mahnomen Pioneer wonders what the silkworms are doing with their leisure time these days.

—Only five weeks left. Get busy, you slowpokes, and attend to your Christmas shopping.

—Henrik Shipstead recently was one of five senators who voted against the Connally resolution designed to promote a postwar understanding. When it comes to statesmanship, the senator is a good dentist.

—Lake of the Woods county is getting dry again. Liquor stores there are rationing the stuff at the rate of one pint per person per week.

—Chairman Cannon of the house appropriations committee warned in Washington last week that domestic expenditures have been cut to the bone. To the funny bone, presumably.

—It isn't the brightest youngster who tries to be the first to walk across the ice on the river pool.

—Turkeys may be cheap in terms of ration points, but they won't be exactly a poor man's dish on Thanksgiving Day.

—When a man reaches for his hip at a dance, says Billy Noonan, you can't tell whether it's hostility or hospitality.

—There are people in the United States, says a commentator, who still think of war in terms of the eight-hour day.

—The Dine-a-Mite grill blew out of Detroit Lakes last week.

—New item: Thanksgiving Day falls on a Thursday this year.

—With the increasing shortage of wearables, the war effort may be said to encourage the cult of nudism.

—In view of the current discussion around town, wonder who it was that said, "Curfew shall not ring tonight."

Social News

"Skating on the river has been good the past week and many have enjoyed it but yesterday's snow has stopped the amusement.

"The Ladies Sewing Society social at the Lutheran church last Friday evening was well attended and both the auction and supper were successful. Carl Johnson was auctioneer and disposed of the goods at fair prices.

"We understand that a Club has been started in town recently. Called the Owl Club. The club holds frequent meetings and it is said that their rules are that the first man to suggest going home is to be fined and the first man to fall asleep will be expelled."

"THANK YOU"
to all the nurses at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls, MN and Dakota Hospital in Fargo, ND, for all the good care I received while a patient.

Many thanks to the Ruth Circle, First Lutheran Ladies Aid of Middle River, Fraternal Order of Eagles and V.F.W. Post 2793 of Thief River Falls and also the Senior Citizens group of Middle River.

Special thanks to relatives, neighbors, friends, and visitors for all the beautiful flowers, plants, telephone calls, get-well-cards and most of all your prayers.

Sincere thanks to Doctor Russell Troutman, of Dakota Hospital for performing very serious surgery for me on October 18, 1993.

I thank David Engstrom of Fargo, and my only daughter Susan Majjala of Hartland, MN for their may faithful visits. And to Rev. Ed Ullrich Chaplain of Dakota Medical Center for his comforting words and prayers.

I can't forget my brother, Ed of Tacoma, WA, who came to help my son Harold with fall work and Bernice Klank for assistance.

May God's richest blessings abide with each and every one of you.

REGULAR BOARD MEETING
October 25, 1993, 5:00 p.m.
S.D.S.C. Conference Room

A Regular Board Meeting of Independent School District #564 was held on Monday, October 25, 1993, at 5:00 p.m. in Conference Room A of the School District Service Center.

The following Board members were present: Maryel Anderson, Larry Belmont, Carl Clark, Hank Hallstrom, and Dennis Kiesow. Also present was Dr. Robert Duncan, Superintendent of Schools.

Chair Larry Belmont called the meeting to order and established that a quorum was present.

A motion was made by C. Clark and seconded by M. Anderson to approve the agenda as amended. Motion carried unanimously.

Information was distributed concerning the MSBA 1993-94 School Board Member Inservice and Awards Program.

Senior Kent Larson was recognized for his selection as Lincoln's representative in the US Senate Youth Program. He will be competing for one of two students in the state to go to Washington, DC.

Jean Heinrichs, Chair of the Thief River Falls Education Project 2000 Steering Committee, presented the Strategic Plan for the district which was put together by a group of about 25 individuals including a school board member, staff, parents, and community members. The plan which focuses on "A Community Partnership Focused on Quality Learning" includes a mission statement, beliefs, outcome indicators, parameters and strategies and calls for the formation of six teams to work on the strategies. These strategies include the creation of a TRF Partnership Center for Learning, expansion of the technology network to include community access and utilization, creation of a safe and caring community environment, the design of varied educational opportunities to meet individual needs of our learners, the design of a quality learning system, and the provision of resources and opportunities for youth within our community.

Northwest Area Learning Center staff members Wayne Johanson, Audrey Burda, Sue Dupree and Peter Solem presented the center's goals and action plan for the 1993-94 school year.

Student Activities Director Lee Alger updated the Board on participation and grade point averages for students involved in district activities in addition to activities of the Minnesota State High School League.

Jim Haspas, Challenger Elementary Project Superintendent, updated the Board on progress of the project and Steve Porkkonen, Lincoln High School Project Superintendent, updated the Board of that project as well. Both indicated projects are progressing as scheduled.

Business Manager Harry Nelson reviewed investments as of October 21 as well as the bids recommended to be accepted. Harry indicated the Proposed Property Tax Public Hearing is scheduled for Monday, November 29, at 7:00 p.m. in the School District Service Center. Harry also indicated the tax shift information had been received.

Superintendent Bob Duncan reviewed the October 1 enrollment report as well as a history of enrollments including what is projected through the year 2003. Bob reported the following individuals have consented to serve on the Shared Decision Minnesota Team: Darla Twomey, Bob Duncan, Judy Lindquist, Jeff Mumm, Mary Follett, Cheryl Lee, Peter Solem and Geri Stocks. The first session for this group is scheduled for November 4 and 5 in Minneapolis.

CONSTRUCTION OF
GOOD LAKE PROJECT,
NO. 67, STAGE 3A
BIDS CLOSE 10:00 A.M.
DECEMBER 9, 1993
Thief River Falls, Minnesota
ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

The Board of Managers of the Red Lake Watershed District will receive bids at the office of the Red Lake Watershed District, 102 North Main, P.O. Box 803, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 until 10:00 a.m., December 9, 1993, for the construction of the Good Lake Project Stage 3A, Red Lake Watershed District Project No. 67.

The job is located in the Red Lake Indian Reservation. The proposed work includes, but is not limited to the following major quantities: 60,000 cu. yd. Common Excavation; and 98 feet 103 Span CSP-Arch Culvert.

Bids will be received for the entire work as one job. Bid forms are furnished with the specifications and all bids will be submitted in a sealed envelope marked: Bids for construction of the Good Lake Project Stage 3A, Red Lake Watershed Project No. 67; and accompanied by a certified check or bidder's bond for not less than 10% of the amount of the bid as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract and furnish bond as required by law.

Contractors should be aware that the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians require a Special Business License of all prime contractors. The fee for this license is $50.00 plus two percent (2%) of the project cost. Securing this license is the responsibility of the Contractor.

At the time and place specified, the bids will be publicly opened and read at the office of the Board of Managers. The job will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, subject to the requirements that a performance and payment bond be furnished to the District in the amount of 100% of the contract price. The District reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to make the award in the best interest of the District. Plans and specifications are on file and can be obtained at the Watershed District office at Thief River Falls, address above. Plans are $15.00 per set.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within thirty (30) days after the actual date of the opening thereof.

ORDINANCE NO. 228 2ND SERIES

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA, AMENDING CITY CODE CHAPTER 3 ENTITLED "MUNICIPAL AND PUBLIC UTILITIES-RULES AND REGULATIONS, FRANCHISES AND RATES" BY ADDING A PROVISION RELATING TO NONCONFORMING SEWAGE TREATMENT SYSTEMS WITHIN SHORELAND, AND BY ADOPTING BY REFERENCE CITY CODE CHAPTER 1 AND SECTION 3.99, WHICH, AMONG OTHER THINGS, CONTAIN PENALTY PROVISIONS.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THIEF RIVER FALLS ORDAINS:

Section 1. The City Code Section 3.20 entitled "Rules and Regulations Relating to Sewer Service" is hereby amending by adding Subd. 10. to read:

Subd. 10. Nonconforming Sewage Treatment Systems Within Shoreland.

A. A sewage treatment system within shoreland not meeting the requirements of this Chapter must be upgraded, at a minimum, at any time a permit or variance of any type is required for any improvement on, or use of, the lot. For the purposes of this provision, a sewage treatment system shall not be considered nonconforming if the only deficiency is the sewage treatment system's improper setback from the ordinary high water level.

B. Nonconforming sewage treatment systems within shoreland will be upgraded or replaced within a reasonable period of time after their discovery, not to exceed two years. Sewage systems installed according to all applicable local shoreland management standards adopted under Minnesota Statutes, Section 105.485, in effect at the time of installation may be considered as conforming unless they are determined to be failing, except that systems using cesspools, leaching pits, seepage pits, or other deep disposal methods, or systems with less soil treatment area separation above groundwater than required by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency's Chapter 7080 for design of on-site sewage treatment systems, shall be considered nonconforming.

Section 2. City Code Chapter 1 entitled "General Provisions and Definitions Applicable to the Entire City Code Including Penalty for Violations" and Section 3.99 entitled "Violation A Misdemeanor" are hereby adopted in their entirety, by reference, as though repeated verbatim herein.

Section 3. This ordinance shall be in force and effect from and after its passage, approval, and publication.

Passed by the City Council of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, on the 9th day of November, 1993.

Voting Aye : Barron, Burstad, Carlson, Hamerlinck, Anderson, Wennberg and Mayor Reeve.

Area residents complete NWIF leaders program

Thief River Falls residents Diane Baume, Joanne Fletcher, Roger Schmitz and St. Hilaire resident Sandra Gessler recently completed the leadership development program sponsored by the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund (NWMIF).

They were among a group of 22 northwest Minnesotans who attended the NWMIF's latest leadership development program held at the Vacationaire Resort in Park Rapids.

To date, over 250 residents have taken the four and a half-day program that is conducted by Personnel Decisions, Inc. (PDI), a nationally recognized management and training firm. The Initiative Fund worked with PDI to develop this special program for rural Minnesota. It offers participants new ways to identify and fulfill leadership roles in their home communities. The program is designed to reflect northwest Minnesota's rural lifestyle and economy.

The program tuition, meals and lodging are paid for by the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund. "Quality leadership training that is available right in our area, is a high priority of the NWMIF," said Executive Director Ruth Edevold. "Strong local leadership is necessary to create a high quality of life and economic vitality for northwestern Minnesota," said Edevold.

The Initiative Fund sponsors several leadership sessions each year for emerging and current leaders in the region. One of NWMIF's goals is to assist people in developing their skills to become even more active and capable leaders in their communities.

The next leadership program will be held January 17-21. Contact either Initiative Fund Office at Bemidji at 759-2057 or Crookston at 281-6528 for more information and/or a registration form.

Is not a guessing game!!

Most occasional gamblers are unaware of the tremendous amount of research that has been done to provide Blackjack players with a winning strategy. This research has been performed, with the aid of high-speed computers, by some of the best mathematical minds in the country. The end result is an identical set of rules which tell us the best way to play Blackjack hands.

Take this research, make it easy to understand and simple to use, and you have Blackjack's little black book and Instruction Manual. These two books show you everything you need to know to beat a Blackjack dealer without counting cards.

Find out what questions to ask a casino, how to bet and manage your money, when to hit, stand, double down, and split pairs and much, much more.

The little black book is pocket size, both covers are plain black, pages are coated for long life and contains multi-colored charts with all the information you need to be a winner!

REGULAR BOARD MEETING
October 25, 1993, 5:00 p.m.
S.D.S.C. Conference Room

A Regular Board Meeting of Independent School District #564 was held on Monday, October 25, 1993, at 5:00 p.m. in Conference Room A of the School District Service Center.

The following Board members were present: Maryal Anderson, Larry Belmont, Carl Clark, Hank Hallstrom, and Dennis Kiesow. Also present was Dr. Robert Duncan, Superintendent of Schools.

Chair Larry Belmont called the meeting to order and established that a quorum was present.

A motion was made by C. Clark and seconded by M. Anderson to approve the agenda as amended. Motion carried unanimously.

Information was distributed concerning the MSBA 1993-94 School Board Member Inservice and Awards Program.

Senior Kent Larson was recognized for his selection as Lincoln's representative in the US Senate Youth Program. He will be competing for one of two students in the state to go to Washington, DC.

Joan Heinrichs, Chair of the Thief River Falls Education Project 2000 Steering Committee, presented the Strategic Plan for the district which was put together by a group of about 25 individuals including a school board member, staff, parents, and community members. The plan which focuses on "A Community Partnership Focused on Quality Learning" includes a mission statement, beliefs, outcome indicators, parameters and strategies and calls for the formation of six teams to work on the strategies. These strategies include the creation of a TRF Partnership Center for Learning, expansion of the technology network to include community access and utilization, creation of a safe and caring community environment, the design of varied educational opportunities to meet individual needs of our learners, the design of a quality learning system, and the provision of resources and opportunities for youth within our community.

Northwest Area Learning Center staff members Wayne Johanson, Audrey Burda, Sue Dupree and Peter Solem presented the center's goals and action plan for the 1993-94 school year.

Student Activities Director Lee Algor updated the Board on participation and grade point averages for students involved in district activities in addition to activities of the Minnesota State High School League.

Jim Haspas, Challenger Elementary Project Superintendent, updated the Board on progress of the project and Steve Porkkonen, Lincoln High School Project Superintendent, updated the Board of that project as well. Both indicated projects are progressing as scheduled.

Business Manager Harry Nelson reviewed investments as of October 21 as well as the bids recommended to be accepted. Harry indicated the Proposed Property Tax Public Hearing is scheduled for Monday, November 29, at 7:00 p.m. in the School District Service Center. Harry also indicated the tax shift information had been received.

Superintendent Bob Duncan reviewed the October 1 enrollment report as well as a history of enrollments including what is projected through the year 2003. Bob reported the following individuals have consented to serve on the Shared Decision Minnesota Team: Darla Twomey, Bob Duncan, Judy Lindquist, Jeff Mumm, Mary Follett, Cheryl Lee, Peter Solem and Geri Stocks. The first session for this group is scheduled for November 4 and 5 in Minneapolis.

A motion was made by D. Kiesow and seconded by H. Hallstrom to approve the Minutes of the October 11, 1993, Regular Board Meeting. Motion carried unanimously.

A motion was made by D. Kiesow and seconded by H. Hallstrom to approve the bills as submitted and on file in the School District Business Office. Motion carried unanimously.

A motion was made by D. Kiesow and seconded by H. Hallstrom to accept the resignation of Caara Holmstrom as Middle School Girls Tennis Coach effective August 30, 1993. Motion carried unanimously.

A motion was made by D. Kiesow and seconded by H. Hallstrom to approve an emergency leave of absence for Sharon Baron effective approximately November 15, 1993, to February 4, 1994. Motion carried unanimously.

A motion was made by D. Kiesow and seconded by H. Hallstrom to approve a maternity leave request for Kelly Desrosier, Administrative Support Person at Washington, effective approximately March 23-May 18, 1994. Motion carried unanimously.

A motion was made by D. Kiesow and seconded by H. Hallstrom to approve the employment of June Borgen as Crossing Guard for noon Kindergarten at Mark Twain; 1 hour/day effective October 4, 1993. Motion carried unanimously.

ORDINANCE NO. 228 2ND SERIES

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA, AMENDING CITY CODE CHAPTER 3 ENTITLED "MUNICIPAL AND PUBLIC UTILITIES-RULES AND REGULATIONS, FRANCHISES AND RATES" BY ADDING A PROVISION RELATING TO NONCONFORMING SEWAGE TREATMENT SYSTEMS WITHIN SHORELAND, AND BY ADOPTING BY REFERENCE CITY CODE CHAPTER 1 AND SECTION 3.99, WHICH, AMONG OTHER THINGS, CONTAIN PENALTY PROVISIONS.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THIEF RIVER FALLS ORDAINS:

Section 1. The City Code Section 3.20 entitled "Rules and Regulations Relating to Sewer Service" is hereby amending by adding Subd. 10. to read:

Subd. 10. Nonconforming Sewage Treatment Systems Within Shoreland.

A. A sewage treatment system within shoreland not meeting the requirements of this Chapter must be upgraded, at a minimum, at any time a permit or variance of any type is required for any improvement on, or use of, the lot. For the purposes of this provision, a sewage treatment system shall not be considered nonconforming if the only deficiency is the sewage treatment system's improper setback from the ordinary high water level.

B. Nonconforming sewage treatment systems within shoreland will be upgraded or replaced within a reasonable period of time after their discovery, not to exceed two years. Sewage systems installed according to all applicable local shoreland management standards adopted under Minnesota Statutes, Section 105.485, in effect at the time of installation may be considered as conforming unless they are determined to be failing, except that systems using cesspools, leaching pits, seepage pits, or other deep disposal methods, or systems with less soil treatment area separation above groundwater than required by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency's Chapter 7080 for design of on-site sewage treatment systems, shall be considered nonconforming.

Section 2. City Code Chapter 1 entitled "General Provisions and Definitions Applicable to the Entire City Code Including Penalty for Violations" and Section 3.99 entitled "Violation A Misdemeanor" are hereby adopted in their entirety, by reference, as though repeated verbatim herein.

Section 3. This ordinance shall be in force and effect from and after its passage, approval, and publication.

Passed by the City Council of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, on the 9th day of November, 1993.

Area residents complete NWIF leaders program

Thief River Falls residents Diane Baume, Joanne Fletcher, Roger Schmitz and St. Hilaire resident Sandra Gessler recently completed the leadership development program sponsored by the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund (NWMIF).

They were among a group of 22 northwest Minnesotans who attended the NWMIF's latest leadership development program held at the Vacationaire Resort in Park Rapids.

To date, over 250 residents have taken the four and a half-day program that is conducted by Personnel Decisions, Inc. (PDI), a nationally recognized management and training firm. The Initiative Fund worked with PDI to develop this special program for rural Minnesota. It offers participants new ways to identify and fulfill leadership roles in their home communities. The program is designed to reflect northwest Minnesota's rural lifestyle and economy.

The program tuition, meals and lodging are paid for by the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund. "Quality leadership training that is available right in our area, is a high priority of the NWMIF," said Executive Director Ruth Edevold. "Strong local leadership is necessary to create a high quality of life and economic vitality for northwestern Minnesota," said Edevold.

The Inititive Fund sponsors several leadership sessions each year for emerging and current leaders in the region. One of NWMIF's goals is to assist people in developing their skills to become even more active and capable leaders in their communities.

The next leadership program will be held January 17-21. Contact either Initiative Fund Office at Bemidji at 759-2057 or Crookston at 281-6528 for more information and/or a registration form.

Is not a guessing game!!

Most occasional gamblers are unaware of the tremendous amount of research that has been done to provide Blackjack players with a winning strategy. This research has been performed, with the aid of high-speed computers, by some of the best mathematical minds in the country. The end result is an identical set of rules which tell us the best way to play Blackjack hands.

Take this research, make it easy to understand and simple to use, and you have Blackjack's little black book and Instruction Manual. These two books show you everything you need to know to beat a Blackjack dealer without counting cards. Find out what questions to ask a casino, how to bet and manage your money, when to hit, stand, double down, and split pairs and much, much more.

The little black book is pocket size, both covers are plain black, pages are coated for long life and contains multi-colored charts with all the information you need to be a winner!

Order yours today! Skip the expensive lose & learn process.
Send only $15.00 (plus $.97 sales tax for MN residents) for each set to:

Lakehead company to bring pipleline through Pennington

Lakehead Pipeline is planning to bring a 20-inch pipe through Pennington county next summer.

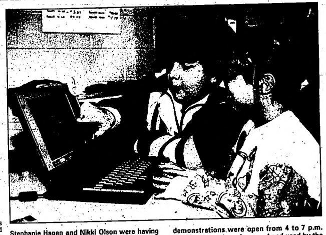
If approved by the county and Minnesota Public Utilities Commission, Lakehead Pipeline will bring a 20-inch pipe through 19 miles of Pennington county. The pipeline will be along existing right of way through the townships of Numedal, Norden, Sanders, Rocksbury and River Falls.

The company answered questions and presented the proposal to the Pennington county board last week. The proposal has to be approved by the Minnesota Public Utilities Commission and a public hearing will have to be held in Pennington county. The hearing is tentatively being scheduled for sometime in February.

If approved, Lakehead Pipeline will pick up a bigger share of the tax levy — an amount that could reach $250,000. Pennington County Auditor Ken Olson said company representatives presented the numbers.

Construction has been tentatively scheduled for next summer (June to September). Lakehead Pipeline will also be paying for a County Highway department safety inspector to follow construction crews as they install the pipeline.

Kevin Hatfield, district office representative from Lakehead Pipeline said the pipeline will carry natural gas from western Canadian oil fields. There are three lines already in the ground along the route. Those lines carry crude oil. The majority of oil and natural gas carried in the lines is eventually shipped to Chicago.



Stephanie Hagen and Nikki Olson were having a good time with this computer game during the "Celebrate Learning '93" Education Fair Thursday, November 18, at Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden. The event was arranged in conjunction with American Education Week and booths, displays and demonstrations were open from 4 to 7 p.m. The computer above is owned and used by the Head Start program and was one of the attractions at a booth arranged by Head Start, Early Childhood Special Education (ECSE) and Early Childhood Family Education (ECFE) for the Education Fair.

"Fimo People" is the name given to clay sculpture figures created by Franklin middle school students and exhibited through November 26 at the First National Bank lobby on highway 59 south in Thief River Falls. This detailed character was created by Jessica L. Nelson. The display was arranged by School District 564 volunteers and also includes selected linear ink drawings.

'93 Christmas tree lighting on Nov. 28

Annual lighting of the Christmas tree in Thief River Falls will be held 5 p.m. Sunday, November 28, in Elk's Park.

Lighting of the Christmas tree offers residents and visitors to Thief River Falls an opportunity to get in the Christmas spirit. The community band brass ensemble will perform musical selections and the Lincoln high school carolers will ask everyone to join in the singing of traditional Christmas carols conducted by Mrs. Darcy Reese.

Master of ceremonies will be Thief River Falls Mayor Bob Reeve, who will also give a welcome address. Reading of the Christmas story will be done by Heidi Hoks. Megan Steiger, who was recently featured in The Times, will light the Christmas tree. The prayer will be given by Rev. Neil Gladden.

Following the ceremony, refreshments will be served at the Eagles club by the Eagles Auxiliary.

Three injured in construction accident Thurs.

Three people were injured Thursday at 11:01 a.m. in a construction accident in Thief River Falls.

Emergency personnel responded to the accident and learned that Tony Lowell, Kevin Holms, and Kevin Sorter of Thief River Falls, were on a farm hand mounted on a tractor at a construction site near Nelson Drive when the hydraulic ram bent sending the three men and 18 sheets of sheet rock tumbling to the ground. Lowell was said to have some broken ribs. Holms had an injury to his left ankle. Sorter had a sore rib. All three were taken to Northwest Medical Center. Lowell remained hospitalized over night.

St. Hilaire Co-op largest shipper to Harvest States

St. Hilaire Co-operative Elevator Association was the largest volume shipper of grain to Harvest States Cooperatives during the past year by a wide margin, according to information published in the annual report of the Harvest States regional cooperative.

St. Hilaire Co-op Elevator shipped 16,500,997 bushels of grain to Harvest States, nearly four million bushels more than the second place elevator, Southwest Grain Co-op of Gladstone, ND.

Third place elevator was the Mahnomen co-op with 10,847,110 bushels; fourth was South Dakota Wheat Growers of Aberdeen, SD, at 9,445,181 bushels; and fifth was Farmers Union Elevator Company of Minot, ND, with 8,771,436 bushels.

Total number of bushels handled by Harvest States during the past year was 759,236,000 as the cooperative had total revenues of $3,482,260,956 and net earnings of $36,114,704.

Representing the St. Hilaire Co-op Elevator board at the annual meeting of Harvest States in St. Paul November 16 and 17 were Arlo and Erna Scholin, Donald and Ruthie Mosbeck, Ron Anderson, Charles and Mae Naplin and Jerry and Ruth Hasnedl.

New Young Leader representatives for St. Hilaire were Jerry and Ruth Hasnedl, Ross and Glenda Olson and John and Tammy Houske. Elevator manager Bob Miller and his wife Phyllis and Country Hedging branch manager Darryl Breitenfeldt and his wife Patty were also in attendance at the annual meeting.

In its annual report, Harvest States Cooperatives notes that its mission is to be a producer-owned cooperative. The mission statement is as follows:

"Harvest States Cooperatives, a producer-owned and operated regional cooperative, is committed to providing members with markets for grain and grain products, as well as farm and ranch-related supplies. Value-added businesses will be used to capitalize on opportunities that strengthen its financial position and complement grain-based operations.

"Harvest States believes a cooperative presence is extremely important in today's competitive marketplace. We will strengthen that cooperative presence by providing related services to the producer, the local elevator and the agricultural community.

"Harvest States Cooperatives has a continuing mission to strengthen the economic base of member-patrons through effective commercial, legislative and educational programs."

Manager Bob Miller said the large volume of grain shipped by the St. Hilaire elevator is the result of loyal patronage by area farmers who have chosen to market their grain through the St. Hilaire co-op.

NCC History professor participates in seminar

Dr. Jack Haymond, history professor at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls, participated in the National Endowment for the Humanities sponsored seminar "The Making of Modern American, 1918-1941." The six-week event included a $3,200 professional stipend and was held in the City University of New York Graduate Center in midtown Manhattan.

Dr. Haymond was one of 13 college and university faculty selected from the United States and overseas to participate and make presentations on the subject of immigration and the United States during the period between the two World Wars (1918-1941). Dr. Thomas Kessner, co-chair of the CUNY history department and an authority on American immigration policy and patterns, presided over the seminar. Dr. Kessner, whose parents were Nazi concentration camp survivors, has written several books on the subject of immigration history as well as the definitive work on New York City's most famous mayor. The best selling book it titled "Fiorella H. LaGuaradia and the Making of Modern New York".

The 13 selected faculty came from throughout the country including Columbia University, the University of Indiana, the University of Michigan, and the University of California at Berkeley as well as from abroad. Dr. Haymond recalled; "It was an interesting situation for me — all the other faculty members were from large population centers, and we were meeting in the center of the largest metropolis in the nation. Area women have special interest in Olympic torch

Grand champion exhibit at the science fair and open house held November 16 at Our Saviour's Christian Academy in Thief River Falls was created by Jonathan Lee. His exhibit was on light refraction and reflection, using water, salad oil and alcohol as substances at which focal points of light were directed. He and reserve champion exhibitors are eligible to participate in the science fair at the Accelerated Christian Education convention to be held in April in Minneapolis. Jonathan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Lee of Thief River Falls.

Ethel Wiseth of Goodridge and Helen Chervestad of rural Oklee have a special interest in the Olympic torch which will be carried 5,000 miles in relays to arrive in Lillehammer, Norway, for the opening of the Winter Olympic games.

Their cousin, Eivind Strondi, carried the flame of the 1952 Olympic games on skis from Morgedal in Telemark county, Norway, to Oslo. The flame for the 1994 Olympic games will also be lit at the same farm and begin its 5,000 mile journey there this Saturday, November 27.

The farm was where Sondre Norheim, considered the founder of the modern sport of skiing, was born in 1825. Eivind Strondi now owns the Norheim home where Ethel and Helen's grandmother, Hege Ofte, was also born.

"News of Norway," a publication issued by the Royal Norwegian Embassy for November of 1993, reports the following about the Olympic torch relay:

An Olympic torch relay is one of the biggest single events planned in connection with next year's Winter Games in Norway. Combined with cultural activities, the event is expected to involve some 15,000 participants of all ages. The theme of the national relay is "United for the Olympics" and its objective is to promote a spirit of national participation and involvement in the Games.

On November 27, the Norwegian Olympic torch will be lit at the farm in Morgedal in Telemark

DeLaine Knutson weds Michael Augustson September 18

DeLaine Ruth Knutson and Michael Ray Augustson were united in marriage September 18 at Grace Lutheran church in Hallock. Rev. Robert Ludwig officiated at the 4 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Berdean and Louise Knutson of Greenbush. Parents of the groom are Rose Augustson and the late Harry Augustson of Lake Bronson.

She wore a fingertip veil with scattered seed pearls falling from a tiara, accenting her ensemble with earrings of pearls and rhinestones.

The bridal bouquet was composed of fresh white and candia roses, alstroemeria and bravia with green ivy and golden ribbon.

Wedding music was provided by Jeanne Novacek and Deland Elseth singing solos and duets. Songs performed were "Love Me Tender," "I'll Always Love You," "Only God Could Love You More," "He Has Chosen You for Me," and "I've Had the Time of My Life."

Barb Geer presided at the organ. "Turn Around" was played as the mothers were ushered to their seats, and "Through the Eyes of Love" was the selection played when the bride was given away.

Bonnie Swantek and Melanie Krepp were violinists, playing "Canon in D."

LaNelle Blawat, Greenbush, served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were LoRinda Swinda, Chisholm, and Nicole Logan, Morris, both nieces of the bride, Kimberly Olson, Karlstad, and Jennifer Grimm, Grand Forks, ND, both friends of the bride, and Alana Matthew, Fargo, ND, niece of the groom.

They wore old gold tea length taffeta gowns with organza overlays. Dresses featured off-the-shoulder pleated shawls and empire waists with rhinestone buttons.

Paula Anderson, sister of the bride, and Kate Johnson, friend of the bride, were her personal attendants.

The groom was attired in a black, double-breasted tuxedo with shawl collar, complemented by a white shirt, handkerchief and bow tie. His boutonniere was a candia rose.

Lance Balderston, friend of the groom from Lake Bronson, served as best man. Groomsmen were Jamie Pearson and Jeffrey Englund, both from Lake Bronson, Steve Olson, Karlstad, and Mark Lanceman, White Bear Lake, all friends of the groom, and Bernal Knutson, Greenbush, brother of the bride.

The best man and groomsmen wore black, double-breasted tuxedoes with shawl collars and white shirts, handkerchiefs and bow ties.

Ushering the guests were Robert Blawat, brother-in-law of the bride and friend of the groom, and Darrin Peterson, Lance Stewart, and Daniel Stall, all friends of the groom.

Program attendants were nephews of the bride, Casey Anderson and Beau Johnson.

Ushers and program attendants wore black, double-breasted tuxedoes with shawl collars.

Guests of honor at the ceremony were the bride's grandmother, Bessie Lorenson from Strathcona; godparents of the groom, Martin and Cheryl Anderson of Halma; and Dianna Matthew, Lancaster, and Cindy Adams, Lake Bronson, sisters of the groom.

Presiding at the guest book was Sherree Burstad, sister of the bride. Flower hostesses were LaDora Johnson, sister of the bride, and Diane Rogers, cousin of the groom.

Candle lighters were Sandy and Terry Olson, sister and brother-in-law of the groom. In charge of gifts was Amy Stewart, friend of the bride, and gift carriers were nephews of the bride, Brady Anderson and Cody Johnson, and nephews of the groom, Jarod Matthew and Kyle Stallock. The ceremony was videotaped by Michael Anderson, brother-in-law of the bride, Terry Olson, brother-in-law of the groom.

A reception was held for the couple in Lake Bronson following the ceremony. The bride and groom were brought to the reception by limousine. Hosts and hostesses were LuAine and Jim Logan, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, and Pat and Tom Stallock, sister and brother-in-law of the groom. Distributing wedding favors were Tanya Logan and Seth Burstad, niece and nephew of the bride, and Ashley Matthey, niece of the groom.

Violinists provided music during the reception.

The wedding cake was baked and decorated by the mother of the bride, and a banner in honor of the couple was made by the bride's sister. In charge of the reception and dinner was A Touch of Magic of Grand Forks, ND.

Following a western Caribbean cruise, the couple is at home in Greenbush. The bride, a 1988 graduate of Greenbush high school and a 1989 graduate of Moorhead Technical College, is presently employed as Deputy Court Administrator in Pennington County. The groom, a 1984 graduate of Tri-County high school and a 1987 graduate of Moorhead Technical College, is employed at Motor Coach Industries, Inc., in Pembina, ND.

Deanna Bluemke and Marty Peterson united in marriage October 16

Deanna Bluemke and Marty Peterson were united in marriage October 16, at St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Joe DeCrans officiated at the 2:30 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Richard and Sandi Bluemke of Thief River Falls. Parents of the groom are Ronnie and Sheila Peterson of Middle River.

Presiding at the organ was Judy Jones, friend of the couple. Jodi Melby, friend of the groom, sang special selections of "We've Only Just Begun," "On Eagles' Wings" and "One Hand, One Heart."

For her wedding, the bride chose a white taffeta gown with long sleeves, a traditional sweetheart neckline and beaded bodice, and ruffled train. Her headpiece was a pearl-beaded crown with flowing fingertip veil. Her bouquet consisted of fuschia and white silk roses highlighted with pearls, matching ribbons and babies' breath.

Serving as maid of honor was Shelly Vedbraaten of Moorhead, friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Cherie Steigen, Thief River Falls, friend of the bride, Jana Klegstad, Middle River, friend of the couple, and Vonda Johnson, Golden Valley, sister of the groom.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore tea-length gowns with pearl-beaded bodices in fuschia. They carried bouquets of pink gardenias and white carnations interspersed with pearls and matching ribbons.

Regina Sanders, friend of the bride, served as her personal attendant. Terri Okins, aunt of the bride, was flower hostess.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails. His boutonniere was made up of one white and one fuschia rosebud.

Serving as best man was Kevin Sorter of Thief River Falls, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Lance Peterson, Middle River, brother of the groom, Bob Bluemke, Thief River Falls, brother of the bride, and Phillip Johnson, Golden Valley, brother-in-law of the groom.

All wore black short-jacket tuxedoes with boutonnieres of two fuschia rosebuds.

Ushers were Jake Peterson and Jason Wagner, both of Middle River, Dan Audette, Thief River Falls, and Blair Klamar, Gatzke. All are friends of the groom. They wore black tuxedoes with boutonnieres of a single rosebud.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride wore an ivory and green dress with three-quarter jacket of hunter green with ivory pinstripes. The mother of the groom also wore a gown of hunter green, which was trimmed in white. The mothers of the couple were presented with corsages of white and fuschia roses.

Fathers were attired in black tuxedoes and wore boutonnieres of a single white rose with two fuschia rosebuds.

Honored guests were Florence Peterson and Eunice Larson, grandmothers of the groom; Robert and Alice Bluemke and Ben and Marge Martell, grandparents of the bride; and Bonnie and Virgil Wagner, godparents of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the couple. Serving as host and hostess were Jon and Junelle Looker, friends of the bride, and James and Sandy Sorter, friends of the groom.

Highlighting the serving table was the three-tiered wedding cake topped with hand blown glass heart and bells. Five side cakes were placed around the wedding cake.

Sandy Severts, friend of the groom and Marilyn Freeman, aunt of the bride, were in charge of cutting the cake. Margaret Johnson, aunt of the groom, and Linda Skibicki, friend of the bride, served coffee.

Evie Volkes, friend of the bride, and Keli Gustafson, cousin of the groom, served punch to the guests. In charge of gifts were Rachael Scramstad, friend of the groom, Dan and Ben Freeman, cousins of the bride, and Jazin and Donnie Peterson, cousins of the groom.

Waitresses were Deirdre Dally and Jenny Gonsorowski, friends of the bride, Jessica Altendorf, cousin of the bride, and Debbie Peterson and Kari Sutterland, cousins of the groom.

Distributing programs were Lindsay Okins, cousin of the bride, and Casey Engelstad, friend of the groom. Distributing candy kisses and roses were Michael Okins, cousin of the bride, and Jacob Engelstad, friend of the groom.

Following a wedding trip to Bemidji, the couple is at home in Middle River. The bride is a 1990 graduate of Lincoln high school and the groom is a 1988 graduate of Middle River high school. Both are employed at Digi-Key in Thief River Falls.

Lynnette Haugen taught crafters how to make this Christmas angel with a wooden spoon and scraps of fabric at Price World's Lock-In held for area craftswomen November 12.

Deanna Bluemke and Marty Peterson united in marriage October 16

Deanna Bluemke and Marty Peterson were united in marriage October 16, at St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Joe DeCrans officiated at the 2:30 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Richard and Sandi Bluemke of Thief River Falls. Parents of the groom are Ronnie and Sheila Peterson of Middle River.

Presiding at the organ was Judy Jones, friend of the couple. Jodi Melby, friend of the groom, sang special selections of "We've Only Just Begun," "On Eagles' Wings" and "One Hand, One Heart."

For her wedding, the bride chose a white taffeta gown with long sleeves, a traditional sweetheart neckline and beaded bodice, and ruffled train. Her headpiece was a pearl-beaded crown with flowing fingertip veil. Her bouquet consisted of fuschia and white silk roses highlighted with pearls, matching ribbons and babies' breath.

Serving as maid of honor was Shelly Vedbraaten of Moorhead, friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Cherie Steigen, Thief River Falls, friend of the bride, Jana Klegstad, Middle River, friend of the couple, and Vonda Johnson, Golden Valley, sister of the groom.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore tea-length gowns with pearl-beaded bodices in fuschia. They carried bouquets of pink gardenias and white carnations interspersed with pearls and matching ribbons.

Regina Sanders, friend of the bride, served as her personal attendant. Terri Okins, aunt of the bride, was flower hostess.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails. His boutonniere was made up of one white and one fuschia rosebud.

Serving as best man was Kevin Sorter of Thief River Falls, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Lance Peterson, Middle River, brother of the groom, Bob Bluemke, Thief River Falls, brother of the bride, and Phillip Johnson, Golden Valley, brother-in-law of the groom.

All wore black short-jacket tuxedoes with boutonnieres of two fuschia rosebuds.

Ushers were Jake Peterson and Jason Wagner, both of Middle River, Dan Audette, Thief River Falls, and Blair Klamar, Gatzke. All are friends of the groom. They wore black tuxedoes with boutonnieres of a single rosebud.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride wore an ivory and green dress with three-quarter jacket of hunter green with ivory pinstripes. The mother of the groom also wore a gown of hunter green, which was trimmed in white. The mothers of the couple were presented with corsages of white and fuschia roses.

Fathers were attired in black tuxedoes and wore boutonnieres of a single white rose with two fuschia rosebuds.

Honored guests were Florence Peterson and Eunice Larson, grandmothers of the groom; Robert and Alice Bluemke and Ben and Marge Martell, grandparents of the bride; and Bonnie and Virgil Wagner, godparents of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the couple. Serving as host and hostess were Jon and Junelle Looker, friends of the bride, and James and Sandy Sorter, friends of the groom.

Highlighting the serving table was the three-tiered wedding cake topped with hand blown glass heart and bells. Five side cakes were placed around the wedding cake.

Sandy Severts, friend of the groom and Marilyn Freeman, aunt of the bride, were in charge of cutting the cake. Margaret Johnson, aunt of the groom, and Linda Skibicki, friend of the bride, served coffee.

Evie Volkes, friend of the bride, and Keli Gustafson, cousin of the groom, served punch to the guests. In charge of gifts were Rachael Scramstad, friend of the groom, Dan and Ben Freeman, cousins of the bride, and Jazin and Donnie Peterson, cousins of the groom.

Waitresses were Deirdre Dally and Jenny Gonsorowski, friends of the bride, Jessica Altendorf, cousin of the bride, and Debbie Peterson and Kari Sutterland, cousins of the groom.

Distributing programs were Lindsay Okins, cousin of the bride, and Casey Engelstad, friend of the groom. Distributing candy kisses and roses were Michael Okins, cousin of the bride, and Jacob Engelstad, friend of the groom.

Following a wedding trip to Bemidji, the couple is at home in Middle River. The bride is a 1990 graduate of Lincoln high school and the groom is a 1988 graduate of Middle River high school. Both are employed at Digi-Key in Thief River Falls.

Lymnette Haugen taught crafters how to make this Christmas angel with a wooden spoon and scraps of fabric at Price World's Lock-In held for area craftswomen November 12.

NEW BIRTHS

Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls has reported the following births since last week's edition of The Times:

Jason Alby and Ginger Eriksen of Thief River Falls are the parents of a baby girl born November 12. She has been named Brittany Lynn Alby.

David Vaselka and Kristin Etienne are the parents of a baby boy, Devin James Vaselka, born November 15.

A baby boy was born to Michael and Carla Torgerson of Thief River Falls on November 15. His name is Kaleb Isaac.

A baby boy, Brady Alexander, was born to David and Sara Osterloh of Thief River Falls on November 18.

Crafters are locked in to an evening of fun

Price World's innovative six hours of craft fun Lock-In appeared to be a huge success for those participating. Held during deer hunting season with an eye toward providing something fun for wives and girlfriends of hunters, several area women from as far away as Moorhead and Stephen took part in the Lock-In.

What is a Lock-In? It is just what it sounds like. Crafters came to Price World at 6 p.m. and the doors were locked until they emerged, crafts in hand, more than six hours later. Only the craftswomen were allowed in the store for the Lock-In.

All of the women participated in creating four different crafts, which were taught by area crafters. They were taught how to make a Christmas angel from a wooden spoon and scraps of fabric and trim by Lynnette Haugen, the technique of glass etching by Linda Timm, how to make a fabric-covered dressing table tray with a mirrored bottom by Cathy Miramontes, and how to make a southwestern-style beaded necklace by Linda Otteson.

Drawings for door prizes were held each hour and a buffet-style luncheon was provided for snacking at any time during the Lock-In. Those who finished with a particular craft could move on to another craft or sit down for a snack and chat.

As you can imagine, the atmosphere became less like a carft session and more like that of a slumber party as the evening progressed. By the time the Lock-In was finished, crafters had a good head start on the Christmas gifts they will be making for others and had made several new friends, as well. All said they plan to take part in another Lock-In when it is held.

Foot care clinic in Grygla

Foot care clinic is scheduled for Grygla area residents on Wednesday, Nov. 24, at 9:30 a.m. at the Grygla Community Center. Nurses from Marshall County Nursing Service will soak feet and trim nails. There is a $6 charge per person. For appointments call Mrs. Aune at 294-6200. Appointments are necessary for foot care.

Square dance lessons in TRF

Square dance lessons will begin December 1 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Franklin school cafeteria. Classes will meet for nine sessions, but the first lesson is free. Come and see how you like it. Cost will be $35 per couple.

Lori Harder weds Thomas Race Oct. 2 at Ekelund Lutheran

Lori Jean Harder and Thomas Joel Race were united in marriage October 2 at Ekelund Lutheran church in Goodridge. Rev. Robert W. Dahlen officiated at the 4 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Wayne and Donna Harder of Thief River Falls and Ernest and Junes Race of Goodridge.

Rynae Haugen and Kathleen Navarre, friends of the couple, provided special music. Marian Marquis, friend of the groom, served as organist.

Jodi Harder of Thief River Falls was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Julie Heaton and Kathy Kvick, both friends of the bride, and Tonya Fiedler, cousin of the bride. All are from Thief River Falls.

Jennifer Heaton was flower girl and miniature bride was Tricia Heaton. Both are friends of the bride from Thief River Falls. Nancy Osbjornson and Janet Reed, friends of the bride, served as her personal attendants.

Joel Stolaas, friend of the groom, Oklee, was best man. Groomsmen were David Race, Goodridge, brother of the groom, and friends, David Marquis and Terry Drangstveit, both of Goodridge.

Brady Fiedler of Thief River Falls was ring bearer and Jonathan Presler, nephew of the groom, was miniature groom.

Ushering the guests were Jamie and Rodney Harder, both brothers of the bride, Mike Hemmestvedt of Goodridge and Dale Coan of Embarrass, both friends of the groom.

Honored guests at the ceremony were the bride's grandmothers, Mary Baker of Goodridge and Gladys Harder of Thief River Falls.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in honor of the couple. Hosts and hostesses were Sherri and Mark Harder, brother and sister-in-law of the bride; Cheryl and Duane Presler, sister and brother-in-law of the groom; and Karen Race, sister of the groom.

Ardice Race, aunt of the groom, and Yvonne Bidwell, aunt of the bride, were in charge of cutting the cake. The bride's aunt, Betty Harder, and the groom's aunt, Myrtle Sunsdahl, served coffee.

Presiding at the punch bowl were Shannon Bidwell, cousin of the bride, and Penny Harder, aunt of the bride. Flower hostesses were Janelle Homme and Barb Hanson, friends of the bride.

Bryan and Bryce Bolstad and Casey Enge, friends of the couple, were in charge of the gift table and programs. Videographer was Jeff Poole, friend of the couple.

Waitresses were Aereal Haugen and Casey Reed. Bonnie Mullen served as head table waitress.

The couple is at home in rural Goodridge. The bride is employed at Creative Clippers in Thief River Falls and the groom is a self-employed dairy and small grain farmer.

Crop outlook meetings are set for Warren and Middle River

Crop decision making workshops will be conducted by the University of Minnesota Extension Service Monday, November 29, at 9 a.m. in the Middle River community center and 1 p.m. at the First American Bank community room in Warren.

"Scab, vomitoxin, other diseases and weather factors turned an above average crop into one of northwest Minnesota's worst crop disasters," says Ray Thompson, Marshall county extension educator. "Looking at how to deal with this situation now and into 1994 will be the subject of these decision-making workshops."

Both crop and livestock producers are encouraged to attend the informational meetings. Extension educators from the Northern Lites Cluster will offer tips on varietal selection, discuss scab resistance, effects of volunteer seed germination on the 1994 crop, seedling blight and seed treatments and make recommendations and suggestions regarding tillage, nitrogen and fertilizer application and other production management options.

In addition, discussions will center on marketing the 1993 crop and ag outlook observations for crops and livestock. Crop Decisions '94 will also discuss livestock producers' questions on how to feed infected grains and use of straw, as well as alternative feedstuffs.

Conducting the workshop will be extension educators Curtis Nyegaard of Kittson county, Howard Person of Pennington county, Dale Carter of Roseau county and Ray Thompson of Marshall county.

All sessions are open to the public and free of charge.

Saturday visitors at the Shirley and Darrow Lundeen home to bring birthday greetings to Shirley and help her celebrate were Connie, Kelly, Adam, Brian, Nate, and Kyla Lundeen, Tim Nelson, Gary, Tasha and Kelsey Lundeen and Lori Reinbold.

Jenny Mack was a patient at Northwest Medical center recently and is home now. We all hope Jenny is feeling much better now.

On Sunday the 4-H members from the area were recognized for their efforts and achievements at the 4-H Achievement Day at the Plummer hall. Mark Erikson from Fertile, the 4-H State President, was the guest speaker and gave a very interesting talk. Jimmy Dulka received a Junior Leadership award.

Fr. Duane Pribula was a guest recently at the Jim and Kathy Dulka home.

Monday evening supper guests at the John and Darlene Elsbroner home were Bob and Anne Kraemer from Thief River Falls.

WHAT IS WATER SURFACE TENSION

Karie Johanning was awarded a Reserve Champion ribbon for her exhibit on water surface tension at the annual science fair held November 16 at Our Saviour's Christian Academy in Thief River Falls. Her demonstration showed that if the surface tension of water is broken, objects no longer floated. Karie is the daughter of Arlene Johanning of Thief River Falls and Bob Johanning of rural Red Lake Falls.

Ag Activities Day Dec. 3

Ag Activities Day, sponsored by the agricultural management division at the University of Minnesota—Crookston is scheduled for Friday, December 3. All members of 4-H clubs, high school agriculture departments and FFA chapters from Minnesota and eastern North Dakota are invited to participate.

Judging contests and workshops will be held during the morning in the areas of consumer products, crops, dairy judging, general livestock horses, agricultural mechanics, dairy products, farm management, wildlife, forestry, horticulture, meats, soils and ag sales.

There is no limit to the number of students participating from any one school in each contest, but the team score will be tabulated from the top three individuals.

Awards will be presented in Lysaker gymnasium at 1 p.m. with Ag Activities Day scholarships of $750 awarded for high individual performance, $600 for second high individual and $450 for third high individual in each contest.

Last year nearly 800 students from area schools competed in the annual event, according to Roger Wagner, associate professor of horticulture and coordinator of Ag Activities Day. In addition to local area schools, registrations for the year's Ag Activities Day have already been received from as far away as the Twin Cities.

There is a $1 registration charge per student and pre-registration is required.

DeLap attends Concordia's Scholars Day

Lori DeLap, daughter of Roger and Carol DeLap of Thief River Falls, attended Christian Scholars Day recently at Concordia College in Moorhead. She is a student at Lincoln high school and a member of Trinity Lutheran Church.

In its 15th year, Christian Scholars Day recognizes outstanding high school seniors who are leaders in their churches, schools and communities and provides an opportunity to experience the activities and atmosphere of a Christian college.

While on campus, students stayed in a residence hall with student hosts. They visited classes, attended worship services, spoke with faculty and administrators and were honored at a luncheon.

Beef Cattle day set for Dec. 7

The 26th annual Beef Cattle Day at the Northwest Experiment Station has been scheduled for Tuesday, December 7. Registration and refreshments begin at 9:30 a.m. in the auditorium of the Agricultural Research Center, University of Minnesota at Crookston. The meeting will run from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Lunch will be available at the Conference Center at 12:30 p.m. for $4.

FEMA extends deadline

Jim Strandlie, flood recovery coordinator for northwest Minnesota, announced a 30 day extension on the application deadline for victims of flood and water related damages during the summer of 1993. James Lee Witt, head of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), extended the application deadline to Wednesday, December 15, instead of the previous deadline of November 15.

Strandlie encourages all people with flood losses or water related damages who have not yet applied to call his office at (218) 681-2637 or 1-800-450-2637. Assistance available to individuals and families can include grants for serious disaster related needs, as well as low interest loans to help cover uninsured private and business property.

NEW BIRTHS

Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls has reported the following births since last week's edition of The Times:

Jason Alby and Ginger Eriksen of Thief River Falls are the parents of a baby girl born November 12. She has been named Brittany Lynn Alby.

David Vaselka and Kristin Etienne are the parents of a baby boy, Devin James Vaselka, born November 15.

A baby boy was born to Michael and Carla Torgerson of Thief River Falls on November 15. His name is Kaleb Isaac.

A baby boy, Brady Alexander, was born to David and Sara Osterloh of Thief River Falls on November 18.

Crafters are locked in to an evening of fun

Price World's innovative six hours of craft fun Lock-In appeared to be a huge success for those participating. Held during deer hunting season with an eye toward providing somothing fun for wives and girlfriends of hunters, several area women from as far away as Moorhead and Stephen took part in the Lock-In.

What is a Lock-In? It is just what it sounds like. Crafters came to Price World at 6 p.m. and the doors were locked until they emerged, crafts in hand, more than six hours later. Only the craftswomen were allowed in the store for the Lock-In.

All of the women participated in creating four different crafts, which were taught by area crafters. They were taught how to make a Christmas angel from a wooden spoon and scraps of fabric and trim by Lynnette Haugen, the technique of glass etching by Linda Timm, how to make a fabric-covered dressing table tray with a mirrored bottom by Cathy Miramontes, and how to make a southwestern-style beaded necklace by Linda Otteson.

Drawings for door prizes were held each hour and a buffet-style luncheon was provided for snacking at any time during the Lock-In. Those who finished with a particular craft could move on to another craft or sit down for a snack and chat.

As you can imagine, the atmosphere became less like a carft session and more like that of a slumber party as the evening progressed. By the time the Lock-In was finished, crafters had a good head start on the Christmas gifts they will be making for others and had made several new friends, as well. All said they plan to take part in another Lock-In when it is held.

Lori Harder weds Thomas Race Oct. 2 at Ekelund Lutheran

Lori Jean Harder and Thomas Joel Race were united in marriage October 2 at Ekelund Lutheran church in Goodridge. Rev. Robert W. Dahlen officiated at the 4 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Wayne and Donna Harder of Thief River Falls and Ernest and Junes Race of Goodridge.

Rynae Haugen and Kathleen Navarre, friends of the couple, provided special music. Marian Marquis, friend of the groom, served as organist.

Jodi Harder of Thief River Falls was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Julie Heaton and Kathy Kvick, both friends of the bride, and Tonya Fiedler, cousin of the bride. All are from Thief River Falls.

Jennifer Heaton was flower girl and miniature bride was Tricia Heaton. Both are friends of the bride from Thief River Falls. Nancy Osbjornson and Janet Reed, friends of the bride, served as her personal attendants.

Joel Stolaas, friend of the groom, Oklee, was best man. Groomsmen were David Race, Goodridge, brother of the groom, and friends, David Marquis and Terry Drangstveit, both of Goodridge.

Brady Fiedler of Thief River Falls was ring bearer and Jonathan Presler, nephew of the groom, was miniature groom.

Ushering the guests were Jamie and Rodney Harder, both brothers of the bride, Mike Hemmestvedt of Goodridge and Dale Coan of Embarrass, both friends of the groom.

Honored guests at the ceremony were the bride's grandmothers, Mary Baker of Goodridge and Gladys Harder of Thief River Falls.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in honor of the couple. Hosts and hostesses were Sherri and Mark Harder, brother and sister-in-law of the bride; Cheryl and Duane Presler, sister and brother-in-law of the groom; and Karen Race, sister of the groom.

Ardice Race, aunt of the groom, and Yvonne Bidwell, aunt of the bride, were in charge of cutting the cake. The bride's aunt, Betty Harder, and the groom's aunt, Myrtle Sunsdahl, served coffee.

Presiding at the punch bowl were Shannon Bidwell, cousin of the bride, and Penny Harder, aunt of the bride. Flower hostesses were Janelle Homme and Barb Hanson, friends of the bride.

Bryan and Bryce Bolstad and Casey Enge, friends of the couple, were in charge of the gift table and programs. Videographer was Jeff Poole, friend of the couple.

Waitresses were Aereal Haugen and Casey Reed. Bonnie Mullen served as head table waitress.

The couple is at home in rural Goodridge. The bride is employed at Creative Clippers in Thief River Falls and the groom is a self-employed dairy and small grain farmer.

Crop outlook meetings are set for Warren and Middle River

Crop decision making workshops will be conducted by the University of Minnesota Extension Service Monday, November 29, at 9 a.m. in the Middle River community center and 1 p.m. at the First American Bank community room in Warren.

"Scab, vomitoxin, other diseases and weather factors turned an above average crop into one of northwest Minnesota's worst crop disasters," says Ray Thompson, Marshall county extension educator. "Looking at how to deal with this situation now and into 1994 will be the subject of these decision-making workshops."

Both crop and livestock producers are encouraged to attend the informational meetings. Extension educators from the Northern Lites Cluster will offer tips on varietal selection, discuss scab resistance, effects of volunteer seed germination on the 1994 crop, seedling blight and seed treatments and make recommendations and suggestions regarding tillage, nitrogen and fertilizer application and other production management options.

In addition, discussions will center on marketing the 1993 crop and ag outlook observations for crops and livestock. Crop Decisions '94 will also discuss livestock producers' questions on how to feed infected grains and use of straw, as well as alternative feedstuffs.

Conducting the workshop will be extension educators Curtis Nyegaard of Kittson county, Howard Person of Pennington county, Dale Carter of Roseau county and Ray Thompson of Marshall county.

All sessions are open to the public and free of charge.

Saturday visitors at the Shirley and Darrow Lundeen home to bring birthday greetings to Shirley and help her celebrate were Connie, Kelly, Adam, Brian, Nate, and Kyla Lundeen, Tim Nelson, Gary, Tasha and Kelsey Lundeen and Lori Reinbold.

Jonny Mack was a patient at Northwest Medical center recently and is home now. We all hope Jonny is feeling much better now.

On Sunday the 4-H members from the area were recognized for their efforts and achievements at the 4-H Achievement Day at the Plummer hall. Mark Erikson from Fertile, the 4-H State President, was the guest speaker and gave a very interesting talk. Jimmy Dulka received a Junior Leadership award.

Fr. Duane Pribula was a guest recently at the Jim and Kathy Dulka home.

Monday evening supper guests at the John and Darlene Elsbrener home were Bob and Anne Kraemer from Thief River Falls.

WHAT IS WATER SURFACE TENSION

Karie Johanning was awarded a Reserve Champion ribbon for her exhibit on water surface tension at the annual science fair held November 16 at Our Saviour's Christian Academy in Thief River Falls. Her demonstration showed that if the surface tension of water is broken, objects no longer floated. Karie is the daughter of Arlene Johanning of Thief River Falls and Bob Johanning of rural Red Lake Falls.

Ag Activities Day Dec. 3

Ag Activities Day, sponsored by the agricultural management division at the University of Minnesota —Crookston is scheduled for Friday, December 3. All members of 4-H clubs, high school agriculture departments and FFA chapters from Minnesota and eastern North Dakota are invited to participate.

Judging contests and workshops will be held during the morning in the areas of consumer products, crops, dairy judging, general livestock horses, agricultural mechanics, dairy products, farm management, wildlife, forestry, horticulture, meats, soils and ag sales.

There is no limit to the number of students participating from any one school in each contest, but the team score will be tabulated from the top three individuals.

Awards will be presented in Lysaker gymnasium at 1 p.m. with Ag Activities Day scholarships of $750 awarded for high individual performance, $600 for second high individual and $450 for third high individual in each contest.

Last year nearly 800 students from area schools competed in the annual event, according to Roger Wagner, associate professor of horticulture and coordinator of Ag Activities Day. In addition to local area schools, registrations for the year's Ag Activities Day have already been received from as far away as the Twin Cities.

There is a $1 registration charge per student and pre-registration is required.

DeLap attends Concordia's Scholars Day

Lori DeLap, daughter of Roger and Carol DeLap of Thief River Falls, attended Christian Scholars Day recently at Concordia College in Moorhead. She is a student at Lincoln high school and a member of Trinity Lutheran Church.

In its 15th year, Christian Scholars Day recognizes outstanding high school seniors who are leaders in their churches, schools and communities and provides an opportunity to experience the activities and atmosphere of a Christian college.

While on campus, students stayed in a residence hall with student hosts. They visited classes, attended worship services, spoke with faculty and administrators and were honored at a luncheon.

Beef Cattle day set for Dec. 7

The 26th annual Beef Cattle Day at the Northwest Experiment Station has been scheduled for Tuesday, December 7. Victor Franson, 84

Thief River Falls - Funeral services for Victor Franson were held Monday at the Evangelical Covenant church in Thief River Falls. Victor Franson died Thursday at Northwest Medical Center at the age of 84.

Rev. Neil Bonkoski officiated at the funeral service, with Helen Dahlstrom serving as organist and Chuck and Nona Erickson and Nathan and Karen Langager singing.

Interment was at Greenwood cemetery in Thief River Falls. Casketbearers were Rodney Brodin, Don Thyren, Orville Dahl, Roger Shafer, Kenny Swanson and Dale Stark. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Victor Anton Franson was born December 21, 1908, at Viking, the son of Charley and Gerda Carlson Franson. He attended grade school and high school at Viking, finishing up his education at Coyne Electrical school in Chicago, IL.

His early yars were spent working on farms in the North Dakota area during the summers and working in the lumber camps in International Falls in the winters. He began working at Brodin Sheet Metal in Thief River Falls in 1941 and worked there until he was inducted into the United States Army during Worl War II. He was a technician fourth grade with the medical company and was honorably discharged on October 31, 1945.

He was united in marriage to Edythe Styrlund on June 14, 1947, in Viking. The couple made their home in Thief River Falls and he continued to work at Brodin Sheet Metal until his retirement 40 years later. He was a member of the Evangelical Covenant church of Thief River Falls and served on several church boards.

Survivors include his wife, Edythe; a son, Gary (wife: Susan), Rosemount; daughter-in-law; Marci (Mrs. Roger) Shafer, and grandson, Jeffrey Franson, all of Thief River Falls; two sisters, Mabel Anderson, Thief River Falls, and Ethel Fluge, Cando, ND; and several nieces and nephews.

Preceding him in death were a son, Derald in 1981 and two brothers, Thorvald and Carl.

Morris Efteland, 69

Thief River Falls - Morris Efteland, 69, died at his home in Thief River Falls on Sunday.

Funeral services for Morris Efteland will be Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls with Rev. Dennis Raymond officiating.

Ida Nordvall will serve as organist and Rev. and Mrs. Dennis Raymond will provide vocal selections.

Visitation was scheduled for Tuesday from 1 to 9 p.m. at the Green Funeral home and for one hour prior to the service at the church on Wednesday.

Casketbearers will be Paul Bedard, Del Harbott, Harlan Huseth, Bennie Johnson, Arnold Kelly and John Peterson. Military honors were provided by the American Legion and VFW posts of Thief River Falls. Interment will be at Greenwood cemetery with the Green Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Morris Ruben Efteland was born January 28, 1924, in Thief River Falls, the son of Palmer and Ragna Swensrud Efteland. He was baptized and confirmed at Zion Lutheran church and attended the Thief River Falls schools, graduating from Lincoln high school.

He entered the United States Army and served in the engineering corps in the Burma theater during World War II. After being discharged, he returned to Thief River Falls where he and his brother, Myles, operated a turkey farm. For the past year he has been a deliveryman for the Grand Forks Herald.

He was united in marriage to Barbara Smith in 1981. He coached youth hockey in Thief River Falls, had been a member of the Prowler hockey team and played on the Thief River Falls Thieves hockey team. He was an avid hunter and fisherman. He was a member of the VFW and American Legion posts and the Eagles club.

Morris Efteland is survived by one brother, Earl (wife: Eunice) of Thief River Falls, as well as several nieces, nephews, great-nieces and nephews and great-great-nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents and two brothers, Myles and John.

Olaf Olson, 87

Thief River Falls - Olaf Olson, 87, died Monday at Valley Home in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services for Olaf Olson will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Green Funeral Home in Thief River Falls. Visitation is pending. A complete obituary will be in the December 1 edition of The Times.

Albert Hegland, 83

Oklee - Albert Hegland, 83, died Thursday at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services for Albert Hegland will be held at 2 p.m. Friday, Nov. 26, at Ebenezer Lutheran church, rural Oklee. Rev. Clarence Johnson will officiate at the service, with Mrs. Grace Hammer serving as organist and soloist.

Visitation will be at the Green Funeral Home in Thief River Falls Friday from 8 to 11 a.m. and at the church for one hour prior to the service.

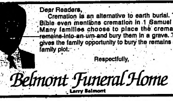
Serving as casketbearers will be Gene Gunstenson, Melvin Johnson, Frank Marquette, Keith and Roman Radniecki and Fred Wilde. Interment will be at Ebenezer Lutheran cemetery, Mayfield township, Pennington county.

Albert Hegland was born April 18, 1910, in Fosston, the son of Olaf Olson Hegland and Torbjor Austad Hegland. At the age of one year, he moved with his family to Mayfield township, Pennington county, where he attended school and grew to adulthood.

He entered the United States Army during World War II and served in the European theater, where he was an ambulance driver during the war. After his discharge, he was a butter maker at the Highlanding Creamery and farmed in Mayfield township. During his later years he spent his winters in Thief River Falls and lived on the farm in the summer. He became a resident of Oakland Park Nursing Home in February of 1993.

Albert Hegland is survived by two sisters, Joren Baird of Roseville, CA, and Bessie Gunstenson of Fargo, ND, as well as nine nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by four sisters, Sarah Swanson, Emma Bowman, Ann Hegland and Ella Hegland; two brothers, Ole and Knute O.; and two half sisters, Bergit and Annie.



Dear Readers,

Cremation is an alternative to earth burial. The Bible even mentions cremation in 1 Samuel 31. Many families choose to place the cremated remains into an urn and bury them in a grave. This gives the family opportunity to bury the remains in a family plot.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

Larry Belmont

Ida Weckwerth, 68

St. Hilaire - Ida Weckwerth died Wednesday at her home in St. Hilaire at the age of 68. Funeral services for Ida Weckwerth were held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Belmont Funeral Home with Rev. Clifford Kalmoe officiating. Music was provided by Mrs. Arnold Hammer.

Interment was in the St. Hilaire community cemetery with the Belmont Funral Home in charge of arrangements.

Ida Brekke was born May 5, 1925, at Bottineau, ND, the daughter of Henry and Betsy Gulstad Brekke. She grew up in the Bottineau area and later moved to the Grafton, ND, area. In 1952, she moved to Plummer where she operated a tavern for a short time. In 1959, she moved to River Falls township where she lived until the time of her death. She worked for Land O'Lakes for several years.

Ida Weckwerth is survived by a daughter, Claudia Wien, Fargo, ND; a son, Galen, Glenwood; three grandchildren, Brent, Dawn and Jodine; two great-grandchildren; one brother, Ed, Bottineau; and one sister, Myrtle Schei, Dryden, Ontario.

Dear Readers,
Cremation is an alternative to earth burial. The Bible even mentions cremation in 1 Samuel 31. Many families choose to place the cremated remains into an urn and bury them in a grave. This gives the family opportunity to bury the remains in a family plot.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home
Larry Belmont

Dear Readers,

Cremation is an alternative to earth burial. The Bible even mentions cremation in 1 Samuel 31. Many families choose to place the cremated remains into an urn and bury them in a grave. This gives the family opportunity to bury the remains in a family plot.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

Larry Belmont

Seaman Pagnac completes navy basic training

Navy Seaman Recruit Daniel M. Pagnac, son of Becky Pagnac of route 6, Thief River Falls, recently completed basic training at the Recruit Training Command, San Diego, CA.

During the cycle, recruits are taught general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the navy's 85 occupational fields. Studies include seamanship, close order drill, naval history and first aid.

A 1992 graduate of Lincoln high school, Pagnac joined the navy in May of 1993.

SPEAKING OF

Sherry LaCoursiere

. . . "We Always"

Thanksgiving is the time for tradition at most houses, and especially at our house. If I overhear my children talking about how we celebrate Thanksgiving, the most often-used words I hear at the beginnings of their sentences are "We always."

Little do my children realize, but what "we always" do and cook and bake and eat are many of the same things "we always" did and cooked and baked and ate at my home when I was a little girl.

"We always" have a certain kind of stuffing, a very ordinary, rather bland stuffing with just a touch of celery and onion and sage. This is the same kind of stuffing we had in our turkeys when I was little, and I make it exactly the same way my mother and grandmother did - never measuring, just dumping in the ingredients and finally taking a taste of the raw stuffing, just to make sure it has enough salt and seasoning.

Once I tried to sneak more elegant things into the stuffing, like little pieces of cooked liver. This was not acceptable. Every year since I tried the elegant addition, I hear them ask, "Are we having the kind of stuffing 'we always' have, or are you putting something funny in it again this year?" I don't even bother to try to make elegant stuffing any more.

"We always" have three specific vegetables for Thanksgiving. That's what we had when I was little, and that's what I have now. If I didn't make all three vegetables, and even though all five children do not like all three vegetables, they would be sure to ask, "Why aren't we having the (baked corn and/or cheese beans and/or candied sweet potatoes) that 'we always' have?"

"We always" have black olives, green olives, pickles and raw celery and carrots for our relish tray. Frankly, hardly anyone eats the raw celery and carrots - they all seem to zero in on the black olives so I must constantly refill that little spot on the relish tray. But we always had those five things when I was little and that's what I continue to have.

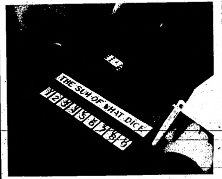
"We always" have mashed potatoes. My goodness, if I tried to have scalloped potatoes or baked potatoes you would know it was the end of the world. "But 'we always' have mashed potatoes, Mom!"

"We always" have lefse. We have lefse because they had it at my house when I was little. We don't have any of the other Scandinavian delicacies at Thanksgiving - just lefse. Some of the children eat it with butter and sugar, some with just butter, and some dip it into their gravy. No matter how it is eaten, it just isn't Thanksgiving without that little bit of my Scandinavian heritage.

"We always" have "Grandma's Cranberry Dessert." This yummy concoction is made with layers of home-cooked cranberry sauce (nothing else will do but that it is home-cooked), finely ground cinnamon toast (this is the hard stuff babies like to gnaw on and it must have the cinnamon on it and graham cracker crumbs will just not do) and whipped cream (nothing else will do but that it is real cream and not that stuff you can buy in the grocery store freezer).

This wonderful dessert has been in our family for years and I and nearly all of my cousins make it for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. I bet you haven't noticed, but don't try to buy the cinnamon toast in the stores right before the holidays - I and my cousins have bought them all. It just wouldn't be a holiday for any of us without Grandma's Cranberry Dessert. "We always" have Cranberry Dessert.

And as I prepare all of these wonderful, traditional dishes "we always" have, "I always" remember the holidays I had when I was a little girl and I think, I hope, that my children will some day be making the very same traditional dishes for their children and grandchildren so that they can say "We always," too.



THE SUM OF WHAT DICE

Family mathematics booth at the Education Fair Thursday at Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden used a pair of dice in one of its games. Among the visitors to the booth were Noel Labine and his daughter Kathy, age five. While Noel discussed the game with Bonnie Bjorsness, who was operating the booth, Kathy pondered what the next move would be. "Celebrate Learning '93" was the theme of the Education Fair which included booths, displays, demonstrations, pancake and sausage-supper, concessions and a program with Merrilyn Belgum as speaker. Free child care for children ages two to six was provided during the program.

Haymond attends seminar

uate Center was not a campus at all but was located in a 50-story skyscraper in the middle of Manhattan. No one had even heard of Thief River Falls. For most, Thief River Falls was an unusual or "charming" name, and naturally, they wanted to know how the city got its exotic title."

Dr. Haymond related that he was chosen to participate on the basis of research he is working on related to Native Americans. "New York City has the largest number of research facilities in the world concerning my topic, so it was a wonderful opportunity," noted Haymond. "We were certainly surrounded with eminent faculty members during our stay. The seminar meeting center was just a few doors form the office of Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., the Pulitzer Prize winning historian and writer of such books as "The Age of Jackson" and "A Thousand Days: John F. Kennedy in the White House." Though best known as an old friend and confidante of the Kennedy family, the unpretentious Dr. Schlesinger is also the holder of the Albert Schweitzer professorship at CUNY.

Dr. Haymond presented a paper critiquing the historiography of the limits of Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal program. Dr. Haymond also co-presented a paper on the development persistence of two urban ghettos in the U.S. Haymond's co-presenter, Louis Cantor of the University of Indiana, also did work of a different sort while participating in the N.E.H. seminar.

Dr. Cantor helped operate a Memphis, TN, radio station during the 1940s. He witnessed and was part of the early years of the first black radio station in the nation to have black announcers, "disc jockeys," and technical operations. Cantor, who is white, noted that while black music had long been played on radio, segregation had kept the station operators, announcers, and technical aspects away from black employment. This would change when WDIA radio moved to integrate.

Cantor who worked with the station on both sides of the microphone during this period of transition recalled that, due to rigid race codes, he could not be addressed by his first name. To avoid problems, he got the over-the-air nickname "Cannonball" and the title of "Deacon."

In 1992, Professor Cantor wrote a book of his experiences called "Wheelin' on Beale". While at the N.E.H. seminar, this ex-radio station DJ received a possible movie offer for a screenplay based on his book. A hefty retainer was offered to Cantor by the negotiating movie company to reserve their option for a future script. This retainer dwarfed the modest pay of Indiana educator salary scales.

Besides research and scholarly presentation, the seminar participants were given tours each week relating to ethnic minorities and immigration. One week the group toured the Ellis Island immigration complex — the disembarkation point for millions of people arriving in the United States starting in the late 19th century. The unique Tenement Museum was also a stop on a tour. This new museum constitutes a time capsule of life in New York's Lower East Side a century ago.

An evening excursion included walking across the Brooklyn Bridge. Dr. Haymond said that it was twilight when they arrived, and a brilliant carmine and gold sunset silhouetted the lower Manhattan skyline. It was a majestic sight. They also watched as several advertising agency and fashion photographing teams with elaborately dressed models used the bridge as an accent for their subjects. New York City is the fashion and advertising center of the nation.

A tour of City Hall and a courtesy meeting with the mayor was cancelled at the last minute because of the then breaking story of terrorists conspiring to blow up key sites in New York. Undeterred, the CUNY urban historian who doubled as a tour guide, steered the group from the new federal building, where they almost bumped into one of Richard Nixon's secret service men as the ex-president left his limo, to his office housed in this NYC complex. The historian/tour guide regaled the group with fascinating stories of the grim "Tombs" prison (no tours here) and of a nearby site — what was once the murderous "Five Points" district, the most lethal slum in New York's history, now safe due to successful urban renewal.

The tour of Harlem was an astonishing study of contrasts ranging from disheartening poverty to wonderfully attractive homes and condos made with black pride. Seminar participants respectfully toured the famous Abyssinian Baptist church of civil rights history. They also walked along the edge of a bit of history as it came down. The building where Malcolm X was assassinated was being demolished with a "Skull cracker" wrecking ball. The site, by community choice, was being converted into a hospital building.

Dr. Haymond said that seminar members of the group organized excursions to other sites when not working at the seminar. The Empire State Building was a high point, complete with King Kong kitsch souvenirs. The World Trade Center added a bit of a thrill since not all of the damage from last spring's terrorist explosion had been repaired. Times Square featured a wide variety of entertainment as "Crossroads of the world."

The United Nations building led up to "museum mile". Haymond noted that it was interesting to examine Van Gogh and Rembrandt paintings worth tens of millions of dollars each, but as an historian, it was even more fascinating to view such famous works as the huge and dramatic "Washington Crossing the Delaware" and the more recent works depicting Native Americans and the western frontier.

About half of the seminar members lived in New York University housing (15 stories high) located in Greenwich Village. Dr. Haymond recalled that although the area is considered a "good address" there was a certain culture shock to living in a city teeming with 7 million people.

One overseas faculty member participating in the N.E.H. seminar was from the Canary Islands (off the Atlantic coast of Spain). This visitor to America was more than a bit nerve-wracked by life in the big city. haymond recounted that this Canary Islander took to wearing a cheap plastic watch over his very nice solid gold wristwatch. He explained nervously that he did this to thwart New York muggers. When it was gently noted that it would be better to wear his cheap watch only, he responded that he feared leaving the "good watch" in his room lest it be stolen. He explained that in the Canary Islands it was so safe that people rarely locked their doors at night even in the capital city.

Still, it wasn't all bad for this Canary Islander as he did manage to brace Macy's, Toys-R-Us and other American children's stores. "He lugged over 40 pounds of stuff back to his kids at the conclusion of the seminar. Dr. Haymond joked that even though New York City was quite a change from Thief River Falls, he did manage to get along with just one wristwatch. All in all, it was a wonderful experience.

This was Dr. Haymond's third N.E.H. Summer Seminar. The two previous seminars were at the University of Rochester in New York and the University of Washington in Seattle, WA.

RANDOM THOUGHTS

Sara Tyler
Lincoln High School

It is still before Thanksgiving, but a person would never know it by driving through town. Driving under the huge swaying Christmas tree, I can't help but wonder if it always goes up so early. I don't remember ever seeing it before Thanksgiving, but maybe I'm just unobservent.

Every time I force myself to go under that tree, I am positive it will fall on me. I picture the whole incident – cables snapping the the giant green monster crashing onto the roof of my car. I can hear my windshield shattering, and feel my face getting cut by glass. It would be embarrassing to explain my accident was caused by a Christmas tree. I do like the tree, it adds life to the grayness of the sky, but seeing it sway in the wind terrifies me.

Why do stores display Christmas items so early? I love Christmas. I love the season and the joy it brings. I love giving and receiving presents. But I love Halloween and Thanksgiving, too. It is upsetting to walk into a store before Halloween and see Christmas items being stocked. Why don't stores allow their customers to enjoy one holiday at a time?

Halloween gets more attention than Thanksgiving. Costumes and candy are sold and advertised ahead of time, but Thanksgiving gets left out. No one dresses up in crazy costumes for this holiday, and the only items that are regularly sold are food. Maybe that's the reason grocery stores are more excited about Thanksgiving than other retail stores.

I feel sorry for Thanksgiving. It is a wonderful holiday in its own way. It may not have any fancy costumes, expensive presents, or wild parties, but it is a time for families to gather and be close, even if only for a day. It is a day for feasting and bellyaches, for laughter and tears, for complaints that pants no longer fit and promises of diets before Christmas. Thanksgiving, as its name implies, is a time for thanking God for blessings He has bestowed upon us. It is a time for quiet reflection on how lucky we all actually are.

We are preparing our Thanksgiving meals in a town that has begun decorating for Christmas. Does anyone else feel we're missing a wonderful holiday?

Gas prices on Thanksgiving expected higher than Labor Day

According to a fuel forecast by AAA, Minnesota motorists will pay more for gasoline over the long Thanksgiving holiday than they did during Labor Day weekend. A recent survey shows the average price of self-serve unleaded gasoline is $1.168. According to AAA Minnesota, this is four cents higher than Labor Day, and one cent lower than last Thanksgiving.

Of the 131 stations surveyed, 86 said they would be open Thanksgiving Day. Most of these were in the metro area, so AAA advises motorists traveling in other areas to fill their tanks before the holiday.

AAA reminds drivers to help ensure a safe holiday by buckling up and making sure all passengers do the same. Don't drink and drive. Be prepared for bad weather by equipping your car with winter survival gear.

Fuel data has been provided to AAA by Computer Petroleum Corporation (CPC), the nation's only electronic information and trading network, located in St. Paul.

Congratulations Adam Lundeen!

Many parents and students from the area attended the Fall Sports banquet held Thursday evening at the Plummer school. Special congratulations go to Adam Lundeen who was honored with the very prestigious Academic All-State award. This is given to only 12 students in the state and is based on achievements in athletics, leadership, and a high grade point. Adam received many other awards but the Academic All-State award brought the crowd to their feet in a standing ovation for a very deserving young man.

Oliver Holstad was a visitor at the Fred Lundeen home last Thursday.

Sarah Huschle

Sarah Huschle takes part in zoo program

Sarah Huschle, daughter of Gary and Kathleen Huschle and a junior a Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls, spent much of this past summer as one of 10 students participating in the 1993 Zooschool Young Scholars program at the Minnesota Zoo in Apple Valley.

Sarah and the other students spent five days a week at the zoo, attending classes, seminars and tours including animal behavior, conservation biology, zoo biology and research methodology.

Zooschool students also traveled to research sites such as the Raptor Center and the Wildlife Science Center to meet professionals in animal-related fields and to examine the broad range of conservation-related work being conducted in the Twin Cities area.

Sarah spent most of her time this summer conducting her independent research study which documented the behavioral development of a pair of young fishers and their reactions to changes in their exhibit. Over 40 hours were spent in data collection, with additional time involved in library research, study design, computer analysis and interpretation of her study results. Sarah's study this summer will help the Minnesota Zoo determine the best management strategies for its fishers to provide a good exhibit for both the animals and the zoo visitors.

Sarah presented her findings to a group of parents, teachers and zoo staff late in August on Zooschool Night, during which each of the 10 students gave an oral slide presentation of his or her research study.

Sarah also prepared a research paper outlining her study which will be published in the "Zooschool Journal" for 1993 this winter. By following the same steps as professional researchers, such as manuscript revision and publication in a research journal, the Zooschool students are encouraged and prepared to pursue a career in scientific research.

An optional component of the Zooschool program is competition in one of Minnesota's regional science fairs in the spring. In the past 12 years Zooschool students have received approximately 400 awards and honors, including awards received at International Science and Engineering Fairs and college scholarships.

Zooschool is currently funded by the National Science Foundation's Young Scholars Program, designed to encourage science interest in the nation's junior and senior high school students. Next summer will mark the sixth year of NSF support for Zooschool.

Once again it is time for Thanksgiving. Thanksgiving is not simply the time when we tend to indulge ourselves in too much food or too much football. Thanksgiving is the time when we remember that the giving of thanks is extremely important. It's the time when we give thanks for all of those times we forget to give thanks. It's the thanks giving time for all of the neglected thanks giving times.

For what are your giving thanks this year? To whom are you giving thanks? Why are you giving thanks this year? Have you forgotten how to be thankful? Now is the time to once again remember how to be thankful. Now is the time to not neglect your thanks giving.

Perhaps you should start with your family. How many times have you neglected to give the simple "thank you" to a member of your family? We can so often take each other for granted in a family. We assume that the other person in our family knows that we are thankful for what they have done, or for simply who they are. We forget that it's nice to not assume thankfulness – it's nice to hear "thank-you" from those you love.

In a family kindnesses may abound. In a family thoughtfulnesses may be many. In a family, good times may be shared. In a family, difficult times are also shared. In a family, time can be spent especially listening to one another. In a family, time can be spent helping one another to do the simple homey chores. In a family, time can be spent encouraging one another through the difficult tasks of life. All of our families have some of these times. All of these times are times that deserve thanks giving. Give thanks to your family this Thanksgiving.

Perhaps I was wrong, though, in suggesting that we begin our thanks giving with our families. Perhaps we should instead begin our giving of thanks to our Creator. I believe in God. I believe that He cares for me as not even my family can. I should be giving thanks to this Creator and Carer of my life this Thanksgiving. As you have your faiths, give thanks.

Besides family and Creator, there are many people to whom each one of us should give thanks. Each of us has our own life stories, so each of us will have different people to whom we should give thanks. Some people we can only remember, and give thanks for the remembrance of times past. It doesn't always matter that someone hears your thankfulness. Sometimes its enough to have the personal attitude of gratefulness.

This week we have been reminded of events in our nation's history. We have once again watched the replaying of the assassination events of our President. But, in the remembering of those tragic days, there is a sense of thanks giving. We can truly give thanks that we live in a country that has the internal resources of its people and its government to continue governing in spite of the disastrous loss of the leader of the nation. Most nations of this world can not boast of such power. We can give thanks to our leaders who have consistently through the years attempted to govern us to the best of their abilities. We can give thanks that in spite of the human frailties of our leaders, we, the people of this land have been blessed.

Family, Creator, other people, and our government are just the places where we my begin to give our thanks this Thanksgiving. We also need to give thanks for good health and beautiful days. We need to give thanks for the abundance we have. We need to perhaps show some of our thanksgiving by sharing this abundance with the less fortunate. We need to give thanks for peace. We need to give thanks for our environment. We need to give thanks for the ability to get up in the morning and go about our daily duties, whatever they may be. We need to give thanks for warm homes on these cold days. We need to give thanks for minds that can learn. We need to give thanks for our jobs.

This Thanksgiving Day spend a bit of time reflecting on your thankfulness. And, after the turkey has been eaten and the football games are over, don't forget that every day can be a day in which to give thanks for your many blessings. Happy Thanksgiving.

Visual arts department at Franklin middle school has a student art display at First National Bank in Thief River Falls. Arranged by the School District 564 volunteer program, the display includes clay sculpture figures called "Fimo People" as well as work in linear ink drawing. The public is welcome to view the display through November 26 in the bank lobby on highway 59 south. Each of the clay figures displays interesting detail and coloring. Art instructor at Franklin is Don Fugleberg.

Little boys as well as moms and dads and grandmas and grandpas found the crafts at this table facinating. Christmas things and cheerful holiday items were displayed at wall-to-wall booths in at least five locations around Thief River Falls Saturday and several stores had special promotions and open houses in connection with the craft fair.

Ray Paulson

Ray Paulson retires from State Patrol

Ray Paulson, dispatcher at the Minnesota State Patrol office in Thief River Falls since August of 1964, has retired from the patrol effective November 17 and will begin a new career as a rural mail carrier.

Originally from the Roseau area, Paulson started work with the State Patrol at the Virginia station in February of 1962. He had previously served for four years in the U.S. Air Force as an interceptor radio operator. He transferred to Thief River Falls in 1964 and was advanced to radio communications supervisor in 1981.

Ray and his wife, the former Evelyn Novotny of Badger, have four children: Michael, Thief River Falls; Eric, Olympia, WA; Bruce, Thief River Falls; and Kristine, a junior at Minot State University in North Dakota.

Paulson has been a substitute rural mail carrier and expects to become a full-time carrier on a local rural route in the near future.

FERMENTATION

Cassie Stevenson used fermentation as her topic for the annual science fair November 16 at Our Saviour's Christian Academy in Thief River Falls. She was awarded a reserve championship for the exhibit which showed six different combinations of ingredients and techniques in baking bread. Her experiment showed that warm water, sugar and yeast produced the best product. Cassie is the daughter of Sandy and Kathy Stevenson of Thief River Falls.

Karen Wilson gets Navy good conduct medal

Navy Dentalman Karen C. Wilson, daughter of Anne C. Traxler of Plummer, recently received the Navy Good Conduct Medal.

The Good Conduct Medal recognizes the service members' honest and faithful service during a four-year period. To earn it, Wilson achieved and maintained a satisfactory level of performance and an unblemished conduct record for the entire period.

The 1988 graduate of Pershing High School of Plummer joined the Navy in May of 1989.

Heidi Shafland joins honorary college society

Heidi Shafland, daughter of Daniel and Jane Shafland of Thief River Falls, is among 42 students at Wartburg College in Waverly, IA, to be inducted into the college's chapter of Alpha Chi, a national honorary scholarship society.

In order to be considered for membership, students must rank in the top 10 per cent of the junior or senior class. Members come from all academic disciplines at the college.

Andrew Dulka on yearbook staff at St. John's

Andrew Dulka, son of James and Kathleen Dulka of Trail, is a member of the Saints yearbook staff at Saint John's University and the College of Saint Benedict. The Saints is the year-book published jointly by students at both colleges.

Students at Saint John's University, a men's college, and the College of Saint Benedict, a nearby women's college, share an academic and social environment on their two central Minnesota campuses.

Kading accepted at Concordia

Angela Kading of St. Hilaire has been offered admission to Concordia College in St. Paul for the fall quarter of 1994. Angela is a senior at Our Saviour's Christian Academy in Thief River Falls.

Representing Lincoln high school at the fourth annual Students Are Concerned conference in St. Cloud recently were Kelly Liden and Maja Turenne, accompanied by Dale Carlson (right). They are shown with Minnesota Attorney General Hubert H. Humphrey III who originated the conference in 1989.

Liden, Turenne represent LHS at conference

Kelly Liden and Maja Turenne represented Lincoln high school at the fourth annual Students Are Concerned Conference held recently at St. Cloud. The approximately 360 students participating set an attendance record since Attorney General Hubert Humphrey III originated the conference in 1989.

"Take the Challenge: Add a Little Magic to Your Life!" was the theme for this year's two-day gathering. Students and their advisors learned how to make the most of their lives by standing up to the negative peer pressure that leads to problems of violence or drug and alcohol abuse. The Lincoln students were accompanied to the conference by Dale Carlson.

In welcoming the students to the conference, the Attorney General commended school officials who have made attendance at the conference a priority for their students each year.

"Four years ago, students came together to learn how to avoid the pitfalls of drug and alcohol abuse," Humphrey said. "The conference has now grown to allow students to discuss other frightening problems facing them today. Conferences like this are essential for giving students the confidence they need to maintain a chemical-free, non-violent lifestyle."

Students were given advice on positive lifestyles from three nationally-recognized motivational speakers.

Mary Jo Palornanta energized and entertained the students with her presentation "The Magic of You." Steve Floyd, who grew up on Chicago's South Side, encouraged students to lead a peaceful and loving life by respecting others and avoiding violence and gangs. Joe Cavanuagh, founder of Youth Frontiers, spoke on leadership and self-esteem.

Conference highlights also included a performance by the American Variety Theatre Company of Minneapolis, a group of teenage actors and actresses that creates plays based on issues important to today's teenagers. The company has toured Minnesota with presentations on cultural diversity, HIV and AIDS awareness, racism and teenage pregnancy.

Students and advisors also participated in a number of workshops with topics addressing healthy relationships among young men and women, respecting peers from different races and building support networks to help students maintain a positive lifestyle.

The Students Are Concerned Conference is based on the premise that students themselves are best at finding solutions to the problems they face. Attorney General Humphrey and his Alliance for a Drug-Free Minnesota began the conference in 1989. Humphrey created the Alliance in 1987 to bring communities together to expand drug and alcohol abuse prevention initiatives and encourage and reward Minnesota's young people for living chemical-free, non-violent lifestyles.

21 boxes of food to make a complete Thanksgiving dinner were provided by employees of Kmart in Thief River Falls and distributed to low income women and their families through the Crossroads Displaced Homemaker and Violence Intervention Project programs. Pictured with some of the boxes are (left to right) Kmart employees Sharon Cameron, Mark Little (manager), Loraine Steiger, Marilyn Hoglo, Lana Sandahl of Crossroads, Kelly Rogalla of VIP and Joy Elseth, Kmart employee.

Grant for training announced

A major grant to the Northwest Technical College and University of Minnesota—Crookston (UMC) will be announced by the Job Skills Training Partnership Monday, November 29, at 10:30 a.m. in the conference center on the UMC campus.

Taking part in the official announcement will be Roger Hughes, director of Minnesota Job Skills Partnership; Sen. Roger Moe, Erskine, Minnesota Senate Majority Leader; Ray Cross, Bemidji, president and chief executive officer of the Northwest Technical College; and Donald Sargeant, UMC chancellor.

The grant will be a major step in developing a link between higher education an industry, according to Chancellor Sargeant.

ACTIVITIES

Name Tag Pumpkin Pies

Wouldn't it be fun to have a piece of pumpkin pie with your own name on it? Well, this is the way you can create this very special dessert.

You will need cream cheese and cream. Soften the cream cheese, and add several tablespoons of cream to the cheese. Mix it until it looks like a soft frosting. Roll a piece of paper into a cone shape and cut a tiny hole in the point of the cone. Fill the cone with the cheese mixture. Gently squeeze the cone and write names on your baked pumpkin pie servings.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

The Thief River Falls public library invites you to browse through its new selection of children's books including the following:

Soto, Gary. Too Many Tamales. This is a story about a desperate and funny attempt by Maria and her cousins to eat their way out of trouble when a diamond ring is thought to be lost in a batch of tamales.

Devlin, Wende and Harry. Cranberry Autumn. It's autumn in Cranberryport and the whole town becomes enthusiastically involved in a rollicking Antique Sale. A simple recipe for yummy cranberry squares is the perfect ending to this delightful story.

PARENTING TIPS

Traditions Can Strengthen Families

It is the holiday season again and here we are doing a lot of the same holiday-type things we've done for the past umpteen years and we will keep doing them over and over and... over again.

Psychologists says, there are important reasons why we do such things every year as decorate evergreen trees and light candles. These and other traditions help us define who we are. They give us a sense of belonging and therefore a sense of well-being. They link us to the past and help us transfer our spiritual, religious and cultural values and our history to our children.

Kids especially need rituals. As they grow, rituals become symbols that give reassurance of their safety, their own self-worth and the dependability of their parents' love and protection.

So spend some time thinking about and creating traditions for your family. Traditions can be as simple as putting up a homemade decoration each year or they can be as elaborate as a family meal at Grandma's house.

Girls basketball...

Scrimmages will preceed TRF opener

Scrimmage sessions for six girls high school basketball teams will be held Saturday in Thief River Falls.

The host Prowlers will be joined by Kittson Central, Cass Lake-Bena, Red Lake Falls, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River, and Warroad.

Scrimmages will be held in both Lincoln High School gyms.

Half-court scrimmages will be held from 9:30-10:20 a.m. Full-court, running-time scrimmages will be staged from 10:30 a.m. to 1:20 p.m.

There will be a $1 admission fee at the door for fans.

It will be the second preseason outing of the year for the Prowlers, who were part of a jamboree at Warren Tuesday. They will open regular season play Tuesday, Nov. 30, against Warren-Alvarado in Warren.

Thief River Falls lost just one senior to graduation off last year's 10-14 team, but that lone graduate was Amy Adams, who averaged a team-leading 15.3 points and 10.2 rebounds per game.

Eight letter winners return, including seniors Toni Chiodo, Lori DeLap, Lisa Ulrich, Nicky Armstrong, and Stef Swanson, along with juniors Carrie Lawrence, Kelly Skeim, and Lisa Rendulich.

DeLap (8.0 points per game), Chiodo (7.7) and Ulrich (6.5) were starters last year. Chiodo led the team with 109 assists and 68 steals.

Sophomore Lisa Swanson will likely join that cast as a varsity candidate.

Head coach Sally Wiltse is banking on the seniors to provide a solid nucleus to a team that lost to Alexandria in the North Sub-Section 8AA semifinals last spring.

"Two years ago we had only one senior, last year we had one, and this year we have five" noted Wiltse. "They (seniors) should give us some stability – both physically and emotionally – experience, and leadership."

Shooting proved to be a major problem for the Prowlers last year, and until Wiltse sees the ball going through the hoop with some regularity, it remains a major question mark heading into the 1993-94 season. "The jury is still out," she said. "We shot 30 percent last year, and it (shooting) is still a concern. The bottom line is putting the ball in the basket. For our mental sanity, we have to shoot better. If we don't, it'll be a long year."

Headed by quick backcourt players like Chiodo, Skeim and Swanson, the Prowlers' pressure-type defense should be solid, explained Wiltse. They also have good depth and decent size in the 5-11 Lawrence and 5-10 DeLap.

"Defensively, we should be tough," said Wiltse. "We'll have to be able to rebound if we want to get our offense going."

A tall, talented Alexandria team is the preseason North Sub-Section 8AA favorite, with Bemidji and Moorhead expected to be top contenders. Thief River Falls, Detroit Lakes and Fergus Falls may have to come up with a surprise or two if they want to be among the leaders.

"I think we can play with people," said Wiltse, "but we'll have to work hard every time we take the court. We can't afford to take any nights off."

Mustangs name award winners

■ 1993 Red Lake County Central football recap

Most valuable player honors went to Adam Lundeen (defense) and Darrin Hofstad (offense) as Red Lake County Central handed out its 1993 high school football awards.

Hofstad was also presented with the Back Award, Chad Pahlen received the Lineman Award, Bryce Huotari was named the most improved player, and Ryan Salberg was presented with the Mustang Award.

Pahlen and Lundeen were named to the Valley Plains All-Conference team, with Hofstad and Shannon Willett gaining honorable mention status.

Huotari is a sophomore; the other special award winners are seniors.

Juniors Aaron Rosten, Eric Reinbold, Scott Lorenson, and Matt Kolstoe were named captains of the 1994 Mustangs, succeeding Willett, Hofstad, Lundeen, and Pahlen.

Red Lake County Central went 2-7 this fall after being moved up from Nine-Man to Class C status because of enrollment figures in the Oklee/Plummer cooperative. The Mustangs beat Badger/Greenbush-Middle River 22-13 in Week 2 and defeated Fertile-Beltrami 18-13 to close out the regular season.

Four of the losses were by a single touchdown margin as the Mustangs fell to Ada-Borup 14-7, Waubun 12-6, Lake Park-Audubon 6-0, and Warren-Alvarado 21-15. They also lost regular season games to Hawley 28-0 and Red Lake Falls 42-6, then dropped a post-season rematch with the Eagles, 34-6.

"We were very competitive in the new conference," noted Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brantl, who said the string of close losses were "very frustrating."

Defensively the Mustangs held their own in the new Class C 11-man surroundings, explained Brantl, but they had a tough time on offense.

"If our offense would have played as well as our defense, we would have been in good shape," he said. "It just took us a little longer to adjust offensively then we thought it would."

An inexperienced offensive line, along with a season-long series of nuisance injuries, slowed the Mustangs' progress, pointed out Brantl.

"We learned a lot this year," said Brantl. "We're going to have to become physically stronger up front if we want to be competitive in that league."

Top area girls basketball teams meet in opener...

Gators, Nordics square off

The area girls high school basketball schedule will start with a bang Tuesday, Nov. 30, when preseason Section 8A Sub-Section 4 favorites Badger/Greenbush-Middle River and Marshall County Central tangle in Newfolden.

Both teams reached the tournament semifinals last spring, and figure to compete with the likes of Roseau, Kittson Central, Tri-County, and Stephen for top honors this time around.

The Gators have six full or part-time starters back from last year's 19-6 team – including third-year starters Krissi Super and Sara Melby. Super joined the 1,000-Point Club last year as a freshman when she averaged a North Border Conference-leading 21.1 points per game.

Seniors Robyn Iverson and Sheree Nelson, along with juniors Jessica Borgen and Heather Anderson have also been employed as full or part-time starters in the past. Borgen has been slowed by foot problems in preseason work.

Junior SueAnn Hemp; sophomores Jill Wilhelmi and Kara Reese; plus freshmen Nikki Wahl and Robin Kilen will be called upon to provide the depth needed to be a contender.

"I don't know if we're going to win it, but no one is going to blow us out," said Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Tom Neibauer, who looks for the Gators to feature a more balanced attack this winter. "I think our kids have improved a lot. I don't think teams will be able to gang up on Krissi like they have in the past."

Marshall County Central coach Tom Mjelde is also looking for that type of balance to help support the efforts of Sara Lokstad, a senior forward who joined Super in the 1,000-Point Club last year when she averaged 19.3 points per game for a 14-10 team that returns four starters.

Seniors Shanon Magner and Tara Underdahl, along with sophomore Tricia Pederson joined Lokstad in the Nordics' 1992-93 starting line-up.

"We got lots of experience coming back, but we need more than just one person to score if we're going to be successful," explained Mjelde. "If we can come up with a balance attack to take some of the pressure off Sara, then we should have a respectable season."

The Nordics have solid size in 5-11 senior Wendy Inman, 5-10 Pederson and 5-10 Sara Hodny, a junior transfer student from Kittson Central. Another newcomer is 5-6

Five Pioneers are All-Division picks

Five Northland Community College football players were First-Team Minnesota Community College Conference All-Northern Division selections, and two others earned National Junior College Athletic Association All-Region 13 honors when 1993 post-season awards were announced recently.

Pioneers who were named First Team MCCC All-Northern Division included defensive back Jay Cooper (Jacksonville, FL); linebackers Brandon Blaine (Goodridge) and Rick Anteau (Toledo, OH); plus defensive tackles Jeremy Rychlock (Grygla) and John Hardy (Chicago, IL).

Northland Second Team MCCC All-Northern Division picks included offensive tackles Darren Brein (Leonard) and Galen Brantley (Soldonta, AK); fullback Sheldon Hinton (Edmonton, AB); quarterback Jason Svir (Thief River Falls); and defensive back Craig Carey (Lowell, IN).

Cooper and Rychlock received additional honors when they were named to the NJCAA All-Region 13 squad.

Prowlers host 8A hockey jamboree

First Section 8A high school hockey jamboree will be held Saturday at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center in Thief River Falls.

Nine of the teams who will compete in the Class A portion of Section 8 high school hockey this year will be on hand for the event, a continuation of the annual preseason gathering that used to take in as many as 18 teams under the old single-class system.

For the first time this winter, the Minnesota State High School League will sponsor enrollment-based two-class hockey that will supplant the two-tier playoff system employed the past two years.

Match-ups for the 22-minute scrimmages featured in the Section 8A Jamboree include Kittson Central vs. the Thief River Falls junior varsity at 4:50 p.m.; Indus vs. Lake of the Woods at 6 p.m.; Crookston vs. Red Lake Falls at 7:10 p.m.; Roseau vs. East Grand Forks at 8:20 p.m.; and Warroad vs. Thief River Falls at 9:30 p.m.

Many teams will have a steady diet of scrimmage activity Friday and Saturday.

Thief River Falls, Crookston, Warroad, Roseau, and East Grand Forks will be paired against Willmar, White Bear Lake, South St. Paul, Cloquet, and Duluth Denfeld in the two-day Crookston Turkey Shoot.

The Prowlers' Friday ice times at Crookston be 11 a.m. - vs. Willmar; 1:45 p.m. - White Bear Lake; 5:15 p.m. South South Paul; and 6:45 p.m. - Willmar.

Thief River Falls' Saturday sessions at Crookston include 1:10 p.m. - vs. South St. Paul; 1:45 p.m. - Cloquet; and 3:15 p.m. - Denfeld.

Meanwhile, junior varsity teams from Thief River Falls; Roseau and Crookston will be joined by the Indus varsity for a series of scrimmages Saturday beginning at 8:15 a.m. at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

The busy Thief River Falls preseason schedule began with scrimmages vs. Coleraine, Elk River, Grand Rapids, and Cloquet Friday and Saturday in Coleraine and Cloquet.

"The scrimmages are certainly beneficial," said Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo. "It gives us a real good opportunity to see how our kids handle themselves against some real quality opposition. I think we saw some real progress from both our young kids and our older kids over the weekend. We saw some positive things."

Twelve seniors were lost to graduation off last year's 12-11-1 team that fell to eventual champion Moorhead 8-3 in the Section 8 Tier I semifinals.

Seven returning lettermen on hand for the start of practice Nov. 15 included defensemen Brent Kleinvachter and Joby Looker; goalie Eric Dowers; and forwards Corey Olson, Marc Seaverson, Kaine Martell, and Jeff Twomey. Martell is a sophomore; the others are seniors.

Chiodo said he would continue the try-out process through the scrimmages before announcing rosters prior to the Dec. 2 season and home opener vs. Bemidji.

Section 8A Jamboree

Saturday, Nov. 27 - (Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center) 4:50 p.m. - Kittson Central vs. Thief River Falls JV; 6 p.m. - Indus vs. Lake of the Woods; 7:10 p.m. - Crookston vs. Red Lake Falls; 8:20 p.m. - Roseau vs. East Grand Forks; 9:30 p.m. - Warroad vs. Thief River Falls.

Young Wolverines have familiar team

A familiar cast will lead the Goodridge/Grygla girls high school basketball team this winter. And next.

The Wolverines had only two seniors on last year's 6-16 team – a part-time starter and a reserve. This year they're down to one senior – Kristy Johnson, who led a balanced 1992-93 group with a 9.5 scoring average.

Six others who also played extensively a year ago were juniors Brandi Stratton and Amber Wilkens, along with sophomores Deanna Kotrba, Andrea Pittman, Jamie Berndt, and Melissa Bernstein.

"We've got lots of experience coming back, but we're still awfully young," pointed out Goodridge/Grygla coach Mike Gast. "We feel we should be better than last year, but there are a lot of strong teams around. I don't know how many more games we'll actually win."

It's a group of good athletes, who should be strong defensively, noted Gast. Shooting problems that raised havoc with the Wolverines' offensive production in the past still have to be addressed if they are to move up in the North Border Conference standings, he said.

Goodridge/Grygla will open the season Tuesday, Nov. 30, at Argyle.

Mustangs looking for inside/outside attack

Red Lake County Central will be trying to complement an established inside game with an outside scoring threat when the Mustangs open their 1993-94 girls high school basketball season Tuesday, Nov. 30, at Tri-County.

Angel Mickelson, a 5-10 senior center, will be a force on the inside – if she can get some help from the outside. Farrah Brantl, a 5-5 senior, and Rachel Demarais, a 5-4 junior, will be called upon to do just that.

Mickelson and Brantl were full-time starters on last year's 12-9 team, while Demarais was in and out of the starting line-up as a sophomore.

"Angel gives us a strong inside game," noted Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto, "and right now, our outside shooting looks good."

Top candidates for the rest of the spots in the Mustangs' line-up include 5-7 senior Amy Arlt, 5-5 senior Karlene Jolly, 5-9 sophomore Meckenzie Malwitz and 5-10 sophomore Marci DuChamp, who has been slowed by an ankle injury.

Youth Basketball

Practice sessions for the Thief River Falls Backcourt Club youth basketball program has been suspended this week due to the Thanksgiving break at the schools.

Practice for all Backcourt Club teams will resume Monday, Nov. 29.

The Backcourt Club will be sponsoring the Prowler girls high school basketball scrimmages, scheduled to be held from 9:30 a.m. to 1:20 p.m. Saturday in the Lincoln gyms. Admission will be $1. The concession stand will be open.

Notes...

■ Tim Bergland of Thief River Falls is back with Atlanta of the International League after being sent down to the minors last week by the National Hockey League Tampa Bay Lightning. Bergland started the 1993-94 season at Atlanta before being called up by Tampa Bay.

■ There will not be a Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club meeting this week because of the Thanksgiving holiday. The group will resume its weekly 12-noon Thursday luncheon meeting schedule Dec. 2, when the guest speakers will be School District 564 Activities Director Lee Alger and Northland Community College Athletic Director Rick Nelson.

DNR looks into beaver control

It's a familiar type of vandalism – one that townships, counties, and farmers are seeing with alarming frequency. Water begins creeping onto a road or crop field, and within a few days the entire area is flooded. A quick search reveals the culprits; beavers. A dam built by the buck-toothed busybodies has clogged a road culvert or stream, blocking water that is supposed to drain.

In the past, people had few choices to handle beaver woes; either blow up the dam or hire trappers to remove the animals. But dam destruction without trapping is short-term because the industrious rodents immediately repair damaged dams. And trapping, though it gets rid of the offending beavers, must be ongoing to keep out new beavers.

Fortunately for those suffering beaver dam woes, there is a new device that keeps water flowing through culverts while sparing the dam and its paddle-tailed architect. Called the Clemson Leveler, the device is already being used by several counties that have found it solves many of their beaver problems for just a few hundred dollars.

"Our first leveler has saved us more than twice its cost this summer," says Norm Moody, land commissioner for Cass County. Moody says Cass County has installed five of the devices, primarily in small culverts, and will put in another three this fall.

The Clemson Leveler, developed by Clemson University in South Carolina, is basically a 20-foot, 10-inch-diameter PVC pipe punched through the dam. Unlike old drainage systems tried over the years, the Clemson Leveler can't be plugged by silt or beavers. Its intake device is covered by a screen box that keeps the flow from being detected by beavers. Field tests in South Carolina showed that beavers couldn't figure out that the submerged device was the source of water loss in their pond. As a result, they didn't plug it up.

According to Bill Berg, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources wildlife research scientist, the 30 Clemson Levelers currently installed in Minnesota are showing great results. "In every case so far, the leveler has fooled the beaver," he says. "They can't figure out how to plug it up." The levelers are also placed in dams blocking ditches or streams and are installed by state and federal conservation officials on plugged water control structures at state wildlife management areas or federal waterfowl production areas.

Mike DonCarlos, DNR furbearer and wildlife depredation specialist, says the device might be the least expensive way for a county or township to solve some of its beaver problems. The material for a typical leveler runs about $300, and two people can install it in one to two days. "Clemson Levelers can operate for years with little or no maintenance," he says. "They have the potential to eliminate the repetitive cost of beaver and dam removal, and even more significantly, the cost of constantly maintaining culverts."

Moody says the low-maintenance levelers free up Cass County crews for other projects. "The savings are in man-hours and travel," he says. "Thanks to the levelers, we've been able to complete additional trail work we couldn't get to before and concentrate on other productive activities."

Though the DNR does not actually install or buy the levelers, it does provide specifications and technical advice on building and installing the device. For more information on beaver control and Clemson Levelers, call your local DNR wildlife office, or DonCarlos at (612) 297-3208, or Berg at (218) 327-4432.

Beaver numbers are on the rise in Minnesota after years of stability. The biggest reason has been the drop in fur prices over the past five years.

Photo Contest

Photographers who have captured the beauty of Minnesota's state parks could win prizes in the 1995 Minnesota state parks calendar photo contest.

The contest generates photos that will be selected for use in the annual Minnesota state parks calendar, which displays the beauty of Minnesota's state parks, the dates of state parks special events, and other notes of interest such as when wildflowers are in bloom or the berry season begins at various parks.

Winners of the photo contest will have their work published in the 1995 calendar, along with a photo credit. They will also receive a cash prize of $25 and five complimentary copies of the calendar.

Entries may be photos of scenery, wildlife, plants or flowers, historic sites, or people enjoying outdoor recreation in the parks. Only original, horizontal 35mm slides will be accepted. Entries must be received by Jan. 14, 1994.

Entry forms and contest guidelines are available at state parks. They may also be obtained from the DNR Information Center in St. Paul by calling toll free in Minnesota at 1-800-766-6000.

Entries should be mailed to Minnesota State Parks Photo Contest, DNR Parks and Recreation Division, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155-4039.

Wildlife Food Planting Stock

Minnesota landowners who value wildlife have an opportunity to develop habitat on their lands through the purchase of a special tree and shrub planting stock packet available from the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

DNR's Forestry Division nursery program offers the wildlife planting stock in packets of 500 seedlings for $185, plus tax.

The packets are comprised of species most suitable for the northern or southern portions of the state. Species for the northern part of Minnesota are wild plum, chokecherry, red osier dogwood, juneberry, mountain ash, sugar maple, white pine, white spruce, and white cedar.

The seeling packets were developed by the DNR Forestry and Wildlife divisions and the Minnesota Nursery and Landscape Association. The seedling packets were developed by the DNR Forestry and Wildlife divisions and the Minnesota Nursery and Landscape Association. The seedling packets are designed to provide food and cover for a variety of wildlife.

Seedling packets ordered now will be delivered in the spring of 1994.

Orders for most of the state will be accepted until April 1, 1994, or until supplies are exhausted.

Price lists and order forms for the four-season wildlife food planting stock, as well as a variety of other deciduous and coniferous seedlings, are available from DNR Forestry Offices; Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) offices; Soil Conservation Service (SCS) offices; County Extension Service offices; and Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) offices. They are also available by contacting the DNR's General Andrews Nursery at P.O. Box 95NC, Willow River, MN 55795, phone (218) 372-3183; or by contacting the DNR Forestry Division, DNR Building, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155-4044, phone (612) 296-4480.

State Bookstore

More than 1,700 national wetlands maps, 130 protected water maps, and 45 public recreation information maps are available to the public through Minnesota's Bookstore, operated by the State of Minnesota's Department of Administration.

Whether the map-user is seeking a recreational pursuit, researching a development site, planning for community expansion, or assessing land use in light of the "Great Flood of 1993," federal and state government agencies offer a wide selection of maps to help answer queries. Minnesota's Bookstore is the key contact for these maps.

National wetland inventory (NWI) maps chart areas throughout Minnesota following a grid similar to the U.S. Geological Survey quadrant format. These maps use the classifications defined by Cowardin, et. al., to identify habitats. Wetland and deepwater habitats are charted according to system, subsystem, class, subclass, and modifiers. Each map includes a chart/legend outlining the various systems depicted by coding. Most maps measure 24 inches by 36 inches and cover an area of approximately 53 square miles or 33,000 acres. All maps are printed on a scale of 1:24,000 and are available on standard bond paper for $5 each or on waterproof, tear-resistant teslin for $6.50 each. Wetland maps might prove particularly helpful to developers, planners, conservationists, communities affected by the 1993 floods, and others concerned about the preservation of Minnesota's resources. Minnesota's Bookstore has a free brochure that includes an index map to help identify which quadrant to order.

Most of Minnesota has been charted by the Department of Natural Resources to produce 45 public recreation information maps (PRIM). People seeking a snowmobile or cross country ski trail, a deer hunting area, or almost any other recreational venture should find the full-color maps useful in planning their outings. PRIM maps sell for $3.95.

Protected water maps offer state residents charting of protected waters on the same format as county maps. Most counties are printed on one sheet, although larger counties are available on two or more sheets. These maps are also available on bond paper for $4 each or teslin for $5.50 each. Call for information.

A statewide, full-color groundwater susceptibility map, produced by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency, charts potential groundwater contamination susceptibility throughout the state. Four components contributing to susceptibility are diagramed: aquifer materials, recharge potential, soil materials, and vadose zone materials. This map measures approximately 48 inches by 32 inches and sells for $4.95.

Minnesota's Bookstore also offers more than 4,000 lake-depth maps produced by the Minnesota DNR. Lake maps are available on paper for $4 each and teslin for $5.50 each. In addition, customers can purchase county maps, highway maps, fishing maps, and legislative congressional district maps through the bookstore. A catalog listing all maps is available at no cost.

For ordering information or to receive a free catalog or brochure, contact Minnesota's Bookstore, 117 University Ave., St. Paul, MN 55155; call toll free 1-800-657-3757. Persons with a hearing impairment may reach the bookstore directly via TDD by dialing (612) 282-5077 or 1-800-657-3706. The fax number is (612) 296-2265.

Johnson gets promotion with FmHA

Greg Johnson, construction analyst for the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) in Huron, SD, has recently received a promotion.

A native of Crookston, Johnson has been employed with FmHA for one year. His wife Claudia and their seven children live in Thief River Falls.

Johnson travels state-wide to analyze construction work for the FmHA loan programs. He is also active as the South Dakota FmHA Disabled Employment Program manager.

Interest in Olympic torch

county where the founder of the modern sport of skiing, Sondre Norheim, was born in 1825. Modern slalom skiers are indebted to Norheim for his pioneering development of ski bindings and skiing techniques. The flame of the 1952 Olympic Winter Games in Oslo was also lit in Morgedal.

By the time the torch reaches the host town of Lillehammer for the February 12 opening of the Winter Games, it will have passed from hand to hand in a 5,000-mile relay stretching the entire length of Norway. It will have touched the Arctic island group of Svalbard as well as a North Sea oil rig. The torch will be transported by runners mostly, though other carriers will be employed as well: among them skiers, reindeer sleighs, boats and aircraft. A week prior to the opening of the Lillehammer Games, the Norwegian torch will be merged with the flame lit in Olympia, Greece.

The Norwegian oil company Statoil considered different fuels and found that paraffin pollutes the least and burns the brightest. The choice of paraffin for the torch is a symbolic gesture that recognizes the Olympic organizers' goal of making environmental concerns the third dimension of the Games after sports and culture.

One of the torch's stops on its way through Norway is the Arctic city of Tromso where it arrives on New Year's Eve, marking the official opening of the Olympic year.

"You can see the northern lights up here," said Tromso Mayor Erland Rian. "We can only hope they light up the Tromso skies on the night the Olympic flame is in our charge," he said.

The New Year's celebration in Tromso also marks the start of the city's Bicentennial celebrations.

Eivind Strondi and his wife Borgny came to the United States in 1987 to try and locate the farm where his great-grand uncle Sondre Norheim lived near Oslo after coming to the United States in 1884. An article in the Dec. 23, 1987 edition of the Warren Sheaf, gave the following account:

Eivind Strondi, great-grand nephew of the father of modern skiing, Sondre Norheim, has had some luck in locating some of his relatives' history in this country. He would like to find more.

Norheim was born June 10, 1825, in Morgedal, Telemark, Norway. Skiing in Norway had been confined to practical use for centuries because skiers used only a toe strip. Norheim soaked thin shoots of birch roots in hot water so they would be flexible, then twisted them together so they would fit around his heel and hold it in place (on the ski). He also made slight changes in the shape of the ski and then demonstrated that he could control his runs.

Eventually, ski competitions were held. In 1866, Norheim won the first ski jumping competition ever held in Telemark. he won a skiing event held in 1868 in Oslo, Norway, as the king applauded. He developed the slalom and introduced the Telemark and Christiania turns.

In 1884, when he was 59, Norheim took his family to the United States, settling first near Oslo. Strondi says the Norheims had two boys already in the United States when he and his wife and three more children came over. They were in the Oslo area only a short time and in 1888 the family moved to a homestead near Villard, ND. He failed to do well financially and died before his claim was proved up in the winter of 1897.

His family moved away, leaving Norheim in an unmarked grave in the Norway Church Cemetery near Denbigh, ND, 30 miles east of Minot. Later his grave was located and a plaque was placed on it. Norheim was unanimously elected to the National Ski hall of Fame in 1974.

In 1980, Mr. and Mrs. Strondi were in North Dakota and helped dedicate a bronze statue of Sondre Norheim at Minot, ND. He says he will put up a marker if the location of the Norheim farm near Oslo can be found.

MINNESOTA NORTH STARS

Daren Asp used a current question in his experiment at the annual science fair for Our Saviour's Christian Academy November 16. His exhibit, which received a reserve champion ribbon, showed that wheat infected with vomitoxin had a 90 per cent germination while healthy wheat kernels had a germination of 99 per cent. Daren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Asp of Thief River Falls.

Paul Phelps certified in civil trial law

Attorney Paul Phelps, a 1978 graduate of Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls, has become board certified in civil trial law by the National Board of Trial Advocacy. He is one of 1,700 lawyers nationwide who have become certified by NBTA.

Paul is the son of Joe and Reta Phelps, formerly of Thief River Falls and now living in Brainerd. He is married to Tracy Kertz, daughter of Bob and Donna Kertz of Thief River Falls.

The National Board of Trial Advocacy was developed out of concern over the quality of trial advocacy in the courtroom and is a non-profit consumer advocacy group dedicated to aiding the public in finding experienced and highly qualified trial attorneys to assist them through the court system.

Requirements for certification include numerous trials to jury verdict or judgment; continuing legal education; submission of a trial court brief for review; attorney and judicial references; proof of good standing in the legal profession; and a day-long examination on trial techniques, evidence and ethics.

Juveniles involved in several LEC incidents

Juveniles were involved in a number of incidents during the past week.

Thefts. On November 12 at 7:50 p.m. Jeff Brouse, Thief River Falls, reported that someone attempted to take a new 1993 Jag Special from his yard. It was pulled to an alley and taken south two blocks where it was left. It was found in the back yard of another residence and it would not start. It was valued at $4,500.

On November 16 at 7:03 a.m. a loal resident reported that someone took a VCR valued at $210 and caused $25 damage to a door.

On November 16 at 11:37 a.m. police received a report stating that someone had taken three tires and rims from a Honda three-wheeler, valued at $225, from the School District Service Center.

On November 16 at 5:56 p.m. police received a report that Black Hills gold pendants belonging to Tiffany Brouse had been taken from a Lincoln high school gym locker. The loss was estimated at $300.

On November 5 at 7 p.m. Kmart reported that someone attempted to cash a check belonging to another party. An investigation showed that the owner of the checks had moved from one location to another and had left some check blanks behind. Checks were written on the account at Hugo's, 7-11, Kmart, and Pamida. The total amount written on the account was estimated at $203. Charges are pending against Melissa Ann Brazier, 18, Thief River Falls, and a 17-year-old female from Thief River Falls.

Charges are pending against a 14-year-old male from Thief River Falls who allegedly attempted to take $96 in cassette tapes from Kmart on November 19.

A juvenile petition for charges of theft have been requested against 11-year-old and 12-year-old boys accused of taking a bottle of liquor and cigarettes from the front seat of a vehicle. While attempting to remove the liquor, the bottle was dropped.

Charges are being prepared against a 16-year-old male following an investigation into the theft of a tennis racket last May. The racket was valued at $120.

A juvenile petition against a 17-year-old male from Strathcona for theft of firearms is being prepared by the sheriff's department. The youth is accused of taking a rifle and handgun from a Sanders township residence on November 14 and 15.

Terroristic threats. On November 17 at 12:59 p.m. police received a report that a Lincoln high school teacher had been threatened by a juvenile boy. A petition for making terroristic threats has been requested against the youth.

Assaults. On November 21 at 1 p.m. the sheriff's department received a report of a domestic incident. Charges are pending against Greg Randy Johnson, Thief River Falls, age 31. A woman reported having a swollen jaw, cut hand and sore ribs. She was checked at the hospital.

Accidents. On November 18 at 3:30 p.m. police received a report of an accident at Duluth and Third. According to the accident report, Avis Hjelle, route 2, Newfolden, was going south on Duluth and turning east onto Third and then entered the intersection after stopping. In the intersection her car collided with a car driven by John Strub of Roseville who was driving a vehicle west on Third. Damages were estimated at over $500 to each vehicle. Hjelle was cited for failure to yield.

On November 19 at 3:23 p.m. police received a report of a car and pedestrian accident at Third and Main. Michael Swanson, route 1, Thief River Falls, was driving a vehicle south on Main and turning west onto third when his car collided with a pedestrian. Lorna Lee Hanson, 45, Thief River Falls, was taken to the hospital where she was checked for injuries. Swanson did not see the pedestrian because the sun was in his eyes.

On November 21 at 1:41 a.m. police received a report of an accident at Horace and Third street. Jeremy Lund, 24, route 1, Middle River, was going north on Horace and stopped for the stop sign and then proceeded into the intersection. A car driven by Brett Torkelson, route 3, Thief River Falls, was traveling east on Third at the time and the vehicles collided. An ambulance was called for Lund who complained of a neck and back injury. Lund was cited for failure to heed a stop sign and more charges are pending following the completion of the accident investigation. Charges of driving while intoxicated are also pending against Torkelson. Damages were estimated at $2,500 to the Lund vehicle and $650 to the Torkelson vehicle.

Driving while intoxicated. On November 20, the Minnesota State Patrol turned Marc Horien, route 2, Thief River Falls, over to the law enforcement center for holding on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

On November 20 the Minnesota State Patrol turned over Peter Converse, 23, Thief River Falls, over to the law enforcement center on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

On November 20 at 8:45 p.m. Joseph Lamb, Thief River Falls, was charged with aggravated driving while intoxicated by the police department.

On November 19 at 7:39 p.m. the sheriff's department stopped Kurt Allen Konickson, 30, St. Hilaire. Charges of driving while intoxicated are pending.

Consumption under age. On November 19 at 10:35 p.m. police received a report of a loud party. Upon investigation three people, Timothy Rosene, 19, West Fargo, ND, Jason Roth, 19, Bismarck, ND, and a 16-year-old female from Lengby, were cited for consumption under age.

Vandalism. On November 19 at 3:47 p.m. Mark Johnson, Thief River Falls, reported that someone had broken all the windows of a small house on Cartway Drive. Damage loss was estimated at $190.

Local man sentenced in theft case

Scott Alan Strande, Thief River Falls, was sentenced Monday in a Ninth District courtroom in Pennington county on a charge of theft over $500 and under $2,500. The charge against Strande stems from a report of a theft from ProLawn Inc.

Strande was the manager of the ProLawn office in Thief River Falls and is alleged to have taken over $8,700 from the firm, mainly by charging customers and not reporting all of the charges to the company. On Monday, Strande was sentenced by Ninth District Judge James R. Wilson. Imposition of a prison term was stayed. He was sentenced to six months in county jail with five months stayed on condition he pay $8,700 restitution by December 1, 1993 along with a $360 fine and costs. He was ordered to report to jail on January 3, 1994, to serve the remaining 30 days. He was also placed on supervised probation for two to five years. A charge of theft over $2,500 and under $35,000 was dismissed.

Strande was represented in court by Kevin Duffy. Assistant Pennington County Attorney Alan Rogalla prosecuted the case for the county.

MEA and MFT may unite

Minnesota technical college instructors may soon be represented by an organization called the United Technical College Educators — a merged group formed by the Minnesota Education Association (MEA) and the Minnesota Federation of Teachers (MFT).

The MFT executive council and MEA board of directors unanimously approved plans recently to proceed with creation of a cooperative unit. These actions followed earlier votes by the Minnesota Technical College Faculty Association (an MEA affiliate); the MFT vocational committee; the National Education Association; and the American Federation of Teachers.

A vote by the 2,500 technical college instructors on adopting the United Technical College Educators organization as their official representative is scheduled for early December with the votes to be counted December 10. MFT and MEA each represent approximately 50 per cent of the technical college faculty in the state.

Discussions on merging the technical college units of the MFT and MEA began five months ago.

"We realized that with the combining of the state's higher education system, technical college instructors needed to be working together, not separately," states Robert E. Astrup, MEA president.

"If this merger is approved, technical college instructors will stand united on issues that impact their students, their jobs and vocational education," added Sandra Peterson, MFT president.

If technical college instructors approve the constitution and bylaws of UTCE, it will mark the second time MFT and MEA affiliates have joined forces. In October of 1992, teachers in K-12 at Rosemount-Apple Valley-Eagan merged to form a new group called Dakota County United Educators. Talks also continue on the state and national levels to merge the two teacher organizations.

Rhineberger awarded Alliss scholarship

Gayle Marie Rhineberger is a recipient of an Alliss scholarship for the 1993-94 academic year at the College of St. Benedict at St. Joseph. She is the daughter of Karen Rhineberger of 522 West Second Street and Stephen Rhineberger of 214 Maple Avenue North, both in Thief River Falls.

The scholarship is part of a charitable trust funded under the wills of Charles and Ellora Alliss. Awards are given to students with high academic achievement and range from $500 to $2,000. Gayle is a sophomore social work major at CSB.

CORRECTION:

In the last edition of The Times, an accident reported in the law enforcement news incorrectly identified Richard Scullhorp as the driver of a vehicle involved in an accident. The driver was Tony Sculthorp.

Duray takes CISR program

Judy Duray
Norwest Insurance

Judy Duray of Norwest Insurance, Inc. of Thief River Falls, has successfully completed the education requirements of the Society of Certified Insurance Service Representatives (CISR) of Austin, TX.

In order to earn the designation of CISR, each individual must have attended five courses covering all phases of the insurance business and passed five comprehensive examinations. Additionally, the National Society requires annual attendance in the program to maintain the designation.

Judy believes insurance consumers are best served by those who acquire and maintain a high level of professional excellence by meeting the continuing education requirements of the CISR program.

SBA extends disaster application deadline

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) District Director Edward A. Daum announced recently that the November 15, 1993 deadline for submitting physical damage disaster loan applications has been extended to December 15, 1993.

Daum said that the extension will provide more time for people to apply for disaster assistance. It will also provide more time for people to complete their SBA disaster loan applications.

SBA continues to staff a temporary office at the Minnesota State Patrol, 1800 East College Drive in Marshall. This office is open Monday through Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., until further notice. Assistance in completing disaster loan applications and answers to program-related questions are available. The telephone number is (507) 537-6279.

SBA offers loans of up to $100,000 to repair disaster-damaged homes. Homeowners and renters are eligible for up to $20,000 to replace personal property. Loans to businesses and nonprofit organizations of up to $1.5 million are also available to repair disaster-related damages. Economic injury loans are available to small businesses having difficulty paying bills or meeting expenses because of the disaster.

Residents, businesses, and other organizations located in the declared counties can still register for various types of assistance, including SBA disaster assistance by calling the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Teleregistration Unit toll-free at 1-800-462-9029.

Applications post-marked later than December 15, 1993, will not be accepted.

Wreath-making program at Old Mill State Park

Old Mill State Park will host the fourth annual wreath making program December 4 and 5, at 1 p.m. each day. Participants will have the opportunity to make a holiday wreath or spray out of natural evergreen boughs of balsam firm, pine, cedar and pine cones. The program will be held in the picnic shelter and parking will be in the main parking area.

Those wishing to make a wreath should pre-register by calling the park at (218) 437-8174 before December 3 and should specify which day they plan to attend. Because of the popularity of the program, we ask that one wreath be made per household, although family participation is encouraged. Participants are asked to bring a wire coat hanger or another type of wreath base, a pair of pliers or wire utters and a spool of thin flexible craft wire. Hot coffee and cocoa will be provided.

The workshop is free of charge, but all vehicles will need a daily or annual State Park sticker to enter the park. The new 1994 sticker is available and features Whitewater State park's brook trout.

The sliding hill will be open depending on snow conditions.

AAUW plans guest night dinner Nov. 29

Thief River Falls branch of the American Association of University Women will host a guest dinner night at Evergreen Eating Emporium on Monday, November 29 at 6:30 p.m. AAUW members are encouraged to bring a guest to hear the program, "Czeching Out Slovakia," which will be presented by Jim and Phyllis Dalager, who recently spent a year in Czechoslovakia.

AAUW members will be contacted by the hostesses for November regarding dinner reservations.

Franklin Middle school plans annual book fair

Books of every kind will be featured during the Franklin Middle School Scholastic Book Fair, November 29 to December 3, in Thief River Falls.

Marilyn Adams, with the Franklin English department, says the books are provided through the Scholastic Book Company, with a variety of titles for sale, including classics, sports, historical fiction, mysteries, contemporary literature, humor, and science fiction. Adams says books make wonderful Christmas gifts for friends and family, and she says the Book Fair is a fun community effort, coordinated through the District 564 Volunteer Program. Proceeds support the Sixth Grand Twin Cities History Tour next spring.

Book Fair hours will be Tuesday and Wednesday, November 30 and December 1, from 7:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday, November 2 and 3, before school (7:45 a.m. to 8:30 a.m.) during lunch (11 a.m. to 1 p.m.) and after school until 3:330 p.m. The Book Fair will also be open the evening of the Franklin Choral Christmas Concert, Tuesday, November 30, from 7 to 9 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

Tim Altepeter appointed Postmaster for Middle River

Story courtesy Middle River Record

Tim Altepeter was appointed Postmaster for the City of Middle River, effective October 30. Appointed by Dakota District Customer Services Manager Joleen Baxa, Altepeter will be responsible for all customer service functions such as retail operations and delivery of mail in the city of Middle River. Altepeter replaces Paulette Nelson, who was the officer in charge upon the retirement of Grace Lindquist.

The installation ceremony for Tim will be on November 24 at 3 p.m. at the American Legion in Middle River. Dick McCloskey, Postmaster at Thief River Falls, will administer the oath of office. The ceremony is open to the public and refreshments will be served.

Tim was born and raised in Red Lake Falls and graduated from high school there in 1973. He entered the Army that year. Tim served the bulk of his two years in the service in Korea, and was a Nuclear Weapons Maintenance Specialist.

When Tim returned from the armed services, he attended Northland Community College in Thief River Falls for two years. Prior to his entry into the postal service in 1985, he worked various construction jobs.

Tim's first position in the postal service was a part-time flexible clerk in Thief River Falls for two years. He was then promoted to regular clerk.

Tim and his wife Deb live in Thief River Falls and have two children: Erika, a ninth grade student at Lincoln and Jared, a third grade student at Northrup. Deb is employed at Digi-Key.

Tim is in Company B 136th Infantry National Guard and is a squad leader in the mortar section. His duty involves two weeks in the summer and one weekend a month. He is a member of the Middle River American Legion and has coached youth basketball in the past. The Altepeters are active in the Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Tim's love of fishing, hunting, snowmobiling and the outdoors in general has made his appointment to the Middle River Post Office especially inviting. "I am just a hometown boy, and it makes me glad to be in a small community. I look forward to getting to know everyone and being an active part of this town."

Tim was quick to add with a smile, "Please, bear with me! I am new to this community, please use your full address." He invited all to attend his installation at the American Legion on Wednesday, November 24.

Former Goodridge resident named Walcott Postmaster

Dakota District Customer Services Manager Joleen Baxa, has appointed Anne Manderud, formerly of Goodridge, Postmaster of Walcott, ND, effective November 13. As Postmaster, Anne will be responsible for all customer service functions such as retail operations and delivery of mail in the Walcott community.

Manderud's appointment is one of many in the northwestern Minnesota and the North and South Dakota areas related to the reorganization of the postal service that began in July of 1992. Customer Services in Walcott will report to the Dakota District which has replaced the former Management Sectional Centers in Sioux Falls, Bismarck and Fargo.

The installation ceremony for Anne will be held on Friday, November 26, at 2 p.m. in the lobby of the Walcott Post Office, John Behan, manager, Post Office Operations for the Dakota District, will administer the oath of office. The ceremony and open house following will be open to the public.

Whole Wheat BIBLE STUDY

All about God's nature

After you read through this Bible study, go back and look up the Scriptures and highlight them in your Bible.

There are three natures mentioned in God's word: God's nature, Satan's nature and human nature.

Satan's nature controls human nature, so there is no good thing in human nature (Luke 18:19; Rom. 7:18; John 7:7). Human nature is being held captive by Satan to do Satan's will (2 Tim. 2:26). Satan's will is put to death in our bodies when we do only God's Will daily in our lives.

Jesus Christ came to tell us about the Father's nature. He said it is very easy for us to acquire the Father's nature (Matt. 11:30). All we need to do is forsake our human nature by imitating Him (1 Cor. 11:1; Eph. 5:1).

The Lord is righteous in all His Ways and kind in all His deeds (Psalm 145:17). When we practice righteous deeds for God, we are obedient to Jesus Christ and we allow the Spirit of God to dwell in us (1 John 3:10; Acts 5:32). We are keeping His Ways because we are doing His Will. The Spirit of God then reveals God's nature in us (Rom. 8:29; Gal. 1:16; 4:19). This is called the doctrine that conforms one to godliness (1 Tim. 6:3).

Human nature will not die without a fight. That's why you must fight the good fight of faith, and have faith that God will implant His nature in you (Psalm 4:5; Phil. 2:12). You will then be a new creature in Christ Jesus (Col. 1:28).

When you have this new godly nature, then you will be righteous in all you do. You'll be like Jesus because you will be keeping His deeds (Rev. 2:26). When all you do is righteous, then all you'll reap will be blessings. You will be living the abundant life, full of joy and peace, that Jesus Christ came to show you (John 10:10; Acts 3:19, 26). You will understand that you were created to do good works and that the message of eternal life is righteousness (Eph. 2:10; John 8:51).

Satan hates it when you practice righteousness for God's glory because this is how he is put to death in your flesh (Matt. 5:16). Don't let him stop you! Be zealous for good deeds and overcome your human nature (1 Peter 3:13; Rom. 12:21; Psalm 37:27). That's how you resist Satan and have God's nature formed in you (James 4:7; Eph. 6:11, 13). The God of peace and love, who is calling you to this holy Way of life, will soon crush Satan under your feet, and after you have suffered a little, God will perfect His nature in you (Rom. 16:20; 1 Peter 5:10; Gal. 4:19).

Independent Living Best, And Preferred, By Elderly

Almost eight per cent of Minnesota residents over the age of 65 live in nursing homes, compared with the national average of five per cent. The state ranks third in the nation in nursing home spending per person and the age group of people 85 years of age and older is the fastest growing age group in the state. Minnesota leads the nation in the number of nursing home beds per 100,000 population and 85 per cent of these beds are occupied at public expense.

These statistics combine to illustrate a situation which is presently expensive and which has the potential to become an almost unbearable tax burden in the near future if the trend continues. Nursing home care and attendant costs average $25,000 to $50,000 per year—certainly making it understandable that most Minnesotans, even after a lifetime of saving and converting assets, could only pay for such care on a private basis for a relatively short time.

It is estimated that at least one in five of present nursing home residents would prefer to live independently if they could have the help available to make that possible. When people are capable of independent living with only a degree of professional assistance, it is certainly cost effective for the public to pay for that service in preference to full custodial care in a nursing home or other home for the aged. Just as important is the fact that it is better for the individual to live independently for as long as possible.

Progress is being made in devising methods to provide such service and deferring full nursing home care—important as that is when it becomes necessary. Six projects serving a total of 36 counties have been started under a program called Seniors' Agenda for Independent Living. They have been working on local long-term care strategies since 1992.

"The goal is to move toward more community-based long-term care to help the elderly remain independent as long as possible, " states Sen. Duane Benson of Lanesboro, a member of the Minnesota Senate Health Care committee.

"We need to increase the use of low-cost home care. It's not just less expensive—it's usually better care. We must develop a better supply of these alternatives to keep pace with the growing elderly population. We cannot just keep building more nursing homes. We need attractive, cost-effective alternatives so we can do more with less."

We don't think Sen. Benson was being critical of nursing home care when he said home care is usually better care. We think he meant that home care is better for those who are able to maintain their independence. We salute the state's nursing home workers who do their best to make nursing home stays as pleasant and comfortable as possible for residents who are not always the easiest or most cooperative to serve.

Any health care system must address the long term care of the elderly, and home care should be a primary consideration in any program. The longer that quality independent living can be maintained, the longer more costly nursing home care can be avoided or postponed and the elderly can live happier, more contented and comfortable lives.

U.S. Style Democracy Not Best For All Nations

As much as Americans prize our freedom and the governmental system under which we live, we probably should recognize that it has evolved over a couple of centuries and may not be the best method for all countries and all cultures.

Efforts of the United States government to direct other nations to adopt similar forms of democratic government have met with little success. This has been due to a failure to recognize that citizens of other nations have grown up under a myriad of other types of leadership and control and are not prepared to undertake the responsibilities of representative government.

Cases in point are Haiti and Somalia where U.S. involvement in attempts to establish or change governments have been met with rejection and violence.

James Tyson, author and president of the Council for the Defense of Freedom, notes that the United States, with laudable intentions, has led the Western powers in promoting democracy in many of the world's newly-independent nations.

"But in a majority of cases," he adds, "the results have been disappointing and democracy has failed to take hold effectively." He suggests that what might be needed is an alternative form of democracy , more like the Swiss Confederation structure. "It has worked well for more than a century in a country with religious and language differences that would make the Anglo/American model almost intolerable," he said.

"Many of the 22 Swiss states, or cantons, are the oldest democracies still in operation in the world. Originally they were small independent identities, some of which had been making democracy work at the local level for centuries. In 1848, they drew up their first federal constitution."

"The founders of this confederation were faced with problems similar to those of many of the present new democracies. The population was divided into three language groups: German, French and Italian (and even a fourth lesser-known: Romansh). If they had adopted the Anglo/American system with national parties, nationwide elections, a national legislature and a powerful chief executive, then one language group, almost certainly the Germans, would have won the majority in parliament, elected the chief executive, and wielded power that would have been intolerable to the other communities.

"Instead, they developed the federal cantonal system with many functions reserved for the cantons and the powers of the central executive limited to certain essentials like foreign affairs, security, international trade and finance.

"The result of this structure," Tyson concludes, "has been that the four language communities have lived in peace and prosperity for more than a century—and with one of the most stable societies and currencies in the world."

While it seems to be in the United States' interest to have emerging nations take the path to democracy, perhaps a path that leads to a solution similar to that of Switzerland is the one to promote.

CAPITOL COMMENTARY

LeRoy Stumpf
State Senator, District 1

Some laws get tougher every year. One that seems to fall into this category is the Minnesota law against drunk driving. Here are a few of the changes made by the 1993 Legislature.

One amendment affects people under age 21. Anyone in this group caught driving after consuming any alcohol will face a 30-day mandatory license suspension. In other words, they will be subject to a much stricter limit than the .10 blood-alcohol level that usually applies to people over age 21.

The idea behind this change is that the under-21 group often faces more trouble behind the wheel. Inexperience with alcohol and inexperience with driving make a lethal mix.

People under age 21 who get a second conviction will face license suspension for six months.

This age group was also targeted by an amendment to the law's implied consent section: If they refuse to take a blood alcohol test they will lose driving privileges for six months.

Violators over age 21 also face changes related to blood-alcohol limits. While the legal level for intoxication will stay at .10, prosecutors will have the option of introducing levels as low as .04 as evidence. (Previously this figure was .05).

This amendment was adopted to give county attorneys more flexibility in dealing with repeat offenders or unusually violent cases.

Another amendment you may have heard about involves endangering young passengers. If there is a passenger who is under age 16, and at least three years younger than the drunk driver, the driver is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Someone who violates this provision a second time within five years, or a third time within fifteen years, could get his license plates taken away by the court.

Education about DWI and its consequences will get a boost from another law change. When vehicles forfeited by repeat DWI offenders are sold, the State Patrol will use the money for public education on DWI laws. In the past, the proceeds had to go to the general fund.

All of these changes have taken effect in the past few months. All of them give people more reasons to not drink and drive.

NW Minnesota youth participate in ELCA meet

Seventh and eighth grade youth from Redeemer Lutheran, Zion Lutheran, Holt, Viking and Trinity Lutheran churches will participate in the "I Call You Friends" 1993 Junior high gathering of the Northwestern Minnesota Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, November 19-20 and November 20-21 at the Holiday Inn in Bemidji. They will join the anticipated 1400 participants attending the gathering. The event is scheduled twice to accommodate the large registration from the 10 conferences of the synod, which have been assigned to one of the two dates.

Main speaker is the Rev. Dennis "Tiger" McLuen, director of Youth Leadership, a graduate school of youth ministry at Luther Northwestern Theological Seminary in St. Paul. McLuen is a popular speaker at youth gatherings around the country and is a regular workshop leader.

Other program features will include dramatic presentations by the "Skitsos", a group of high school and college youth from Hudson, WI, who use drama to portray the struggles facing teenagers. Small-group discussions, Karaoke, Bible study, pizza and worship will also be part of the program at the gathering.

Weather Report

"Some fellow has given it out that we are now to have the most severe winter since 1883, because the husks on corn are much thicker than usual, the hog's meat runs jagged instead of smooth, the goose bone taken from May-raised fowl shows larger and whiter spots than customary, the crop of nuts of all kinds is immense, ducks are flying in U-shaped, instead of V-shaped flocks toward the south, and the green frogs are changing their coats. The poor fellow has just found this out, after it has been 30 below and after the geese and ducks have been south for weeks."
